Tokio, June 15.—The entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur, having been cleared of obstructions, is now open for the passage of ships in and out. Yesterday the Russian protected cruiser Novik steamed out to sea and engaged with vessels of the Japanese blockading fleet.

DAILY SKIRMISHES.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—A despatch from Mukden says that the Japanese army besieging Port Arthur is in line at Yang Ching Tse, and Wang Fang Tien, and that there are daily skirmishes between the outposts. The correspondent says that the rumors of an assault on Port Arthur have not been confirmed.

A RUMOR DENIED.

Chefoo, June 15.—A letter received here from Liao Yang says that the Russians are not downcast over recent reverses. The Russian report that the Japanese had suffered a reverse north of Kin Chou has not been confirmed.

A Russian merchant who was at Kin Chou at the time of the recent battle there, and who accompanied the Russian army on its retreat to Port Arthur, has arrived here in a junk. He states that, as far as he could see and learn, all the crippled Russian warships at Port Arthur, with the exception of the battleship Pobedia, had been repaired. Whether the repairs were permanent he was unable to say.

RUSSIANS ARE STRICTER

New Chwang, June 14.—There are persistent rumors here of severe fighting south of Kai Chou, which it is impossible to confirm. Two messengers sent out on the night of June 12 have returned, having been unable to pass the Russian lines at Kai Chou. They say that the Russians are becoming more strict about allowing natives to pass their lines.

It is believed here that the Russians are moving a force of 65,000 men south, only to make it appear as though they were attempting to relieve Port Arthur, and that upon the first encounter with the enemy it will be withdrawn north again.

KUROPATKIN'S FORCE.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The appointment of Lieut.-Gen. Leonides Dembowski as commander of the Fifth East Siberian Army Corps, is evidence that larger reinforcements are to be placed at Gen. Kuropatkin's disposal. The four corps originally formed of Siberian troops are mobilized in Manchuria, and other drafts have been sent out to the Far East. The organization of the new corps independent of the Russian corps now ordered out from European Russia shows that Kuropatkin now has almost 200,000 troops, irrespective of frontier and railroad guards, and that probably he has an effective army of 160,000 men at Liao Yang. Gen. Dembowski is a distinguished strategist. He participated in the Russo-Turkish War, and was commander of the Grenadier Corps after the war. Later he became head of the Pauline Infantry School, and held that position till two years ago. Since then, he has been on the personal staff of the War Minister.

THE ARRIVAL OF STEAMER TURBINA

First Merchant Turbine Vessel to Cross the Atlantic

CROSSED SEA IN SIX DAYS

Some Particulars as to the Machinery by Which the Vessel is Propelled

Montreal, June 18—The Turbina, the first turbine vessel to enter this port and the first merchant turbine to cross the Atlantic, has arrived at Allan pier. The vessel had a stormy passage. It made the crossing in six days, though running almost at half speed the entire voyage. The salt water has left its mark on the funnels and upper woodwork, yet the vessel has stood the strain remarkably well.

In addition to the crew, the president of the company, Mr. J. Moody, was on board. Mr. Allan made the run from Father Point, and inspected her throughout.

The new steamer, which was built by Messrs. R & W. Hawthorne, Leslie & Co., Newcastle-on-Tyne, for the Turbine Steamship Company (Ltd.), Hamilton, Ontario, is 260 feet in length, 33 feet in breadth, 20 feet 9 inches in depth, measures 1,000 tons gross and will carry 2,000 passengers.

Her engines consist of three Parsons turbines, supplied by the Parsons Marine Steam Turbine Company, Wallsend-on-Tyne, which mechanism is fitted to all the turbine steamers built in Britain.

Lord Kelvin has said that the Parsons steam turbine is the greatest advance made since the days of Watt and engineers all round have hailed it as something entirely new and revolutionary, something with a future of which no one can indicate the possibilities.

THE TURBINE PRINCIPLE.

To begin as concisely and simply as possible. Suppose the sails of a windmill, in a compact form, were fixed on a shaft, that shaft enclosed in a tube, and wind drawn at high pressure through the tube, what would happen? The shaft would, of course, revolve. It would not be able to do any practical work of value, but the illustration is apt and clear.

THE STEAM MARINE TURBINE.

If steam be substituted and the shaft clothed with thousands of small "sails" or vanes, as they are called in turbine phraseology, set in rows round about, then when the steam is let in at one end of the tube it strikes the sides of the vanes and forces the shaft round, just as the wind drives the axis of a windmill. But the steam after striking the first row of vanes would have no further power and would escape to the other end of the tube and out at the exhaust without doing any more work. This would be so wasteful of steam as to be totally impractical as an engine, so the contrivance is elaborated still more. Behind the first row of vanes is placed not on the shaft but on the inside of the tube, a row of vanes similar to those on the shaft, and going down behind the latter in a sort of dovetail. The result of this arrangement is that the steam after striking on and glancing off the vanes on the moving shaft, strike on the stationary vanes on the inside of the tube or cylinder and off them strike on the second row of vanes on the moving shaft, and so on off through many rows of vanes, until it reaches the other end of the cylinder, where it escapes into the exhaust. In its course through the cylinder it describes a zig-zag line continuously striking off a line of fixed vanes on to a line of moving vanes and in its endeavor to rush straight along, drives the shaft round.

This in its essence is the Parsons steam turbine. Of course, it has to be made with the most extreme accuracy and in its manufacture there are secrets known only to the patentee—the Hon. C. A. Parsons—and his staff but this description will help the unitechnical to see that the turbine is totally different from the reciprocating engine. It works by the rushing power of the steam towards the line of least resistance.

THE QUESTION OF REVERSING.

The great difficulty with the turbine so far has been the question of reversing. This difficulty is overcome by fitting on each shaft an "astern turbine" with the blades set the opposite way to those on the other, and an arrangement of valves for letting the steam in at the other end of the cylinder. So that when the vessel has to go suddenly astern the engineer has to first shut off steam from the head turbine and then allow it into the astern turbine. This, it must be admitted, is but a crude contrivance and even when it works well and the engineer is thoroughly expert, the vessel cannot be stopped or manoeuvred at piers as smartly as a steamer with the old type of engines. But this difficulty, too, will be overcome as the invention is developed still further.

ADVANTAGES OF TURBINE VESSELS.

The new engine is by its very nature a high speed engine. It must run fast or not at all. So as shafts with propellers of ordinary size could not be driven so fast as the turbine runs—the propellers would be smashed up in the shortest time—the power is distributed over three shafts—one in the centre of the boat and one on each side, and each shaft carries a small propeller. The result of this distribution of power, of the high speed at which the shafts run, and of the lack of heaving, throbbing cranks, is that there is practically no vibration, and owing to the high speed there is no "racing" of the engines when the stern of the vessel lifts out of the water.

A BLOODY FIGHT ON TUESDAY LAST

Gen. Kuropatkin Sends Report to the Czar

EARLY MORNING AFFRAY.

"The following night was quiet until two in the morning, when a fusillade began on our right flank, along the line of our outposts. At 5.30 in the morning the Japanese artillery opened on our left flank. Shortly before this hour cavalry discovered on our right flank the presence southward of Fafun Chou of a considerable force of the enemy. The Japanese infantry open fire on our cavalry occupying the heights between Tafun Chou and Lan Chou, on the edge of a wood. Towards 6.30 the enemy, consisting of a regiment of infantry with artillery attacked from these woods. At the same time the cannonade on our left flank became heavier. At 6.30 General Baron Stakelberg passed with part of his force to the attack, turning the right flank of the enemy towards Wa Fang Tien Chow, and directing the other part of his force against the enemy's the enemy's front

RUSSIANS OUTFLANKED.

Towards ten in the morning the enemy sent a brigade of infantry, cavalry and a battery of artillery against our right flank and, having repulsed our detachments of cavalry proceeded through Hun Chou, turning the right flank of our position. Gen. Stakelberg at 10.30 in the evening advanced his reserves to check this movement.

Port Arthur Russian Relief Column Almost Wiped Out--Japs Captured 13 Guns.

The Russians Fought Stubbornly Before Retreating Hastily to the Northward.

Tokio, June 16.—The Russian hope of relieving the pressure on Port Arthur by threatening the rear of Gen. Oku, the commander of the Japanese forces investing the Russian stronghold, came to an end yesterday at Telissu, a point on the railroad 50 miles north of Kinchau and 35 miles north of Vafangow, when the Russians were outmanoeuvred, enveloped and sweepingly defeated. They left more than 500 dead on the field, and the Japanese captured 300 prisoners and 14 quick-firing guns. The Russians retreated hastily to the northward.

The Japanese charge that the Russians violated the Japanese flag. Certain officers aver that during the fighting a body of Russian soldiers appeared carrying a Japanese flag, and that the Japanese artillery, deceived by this flag, ceased firing on that particular body of Russians. Official dispatches from the Japanese commanders made specific charges of this flag violation.

Early estimates of the Japanese losses at Telissu say that 1,000 men were killed or wounded.

Continue the Discussion of the Latest Development of Dundonald Fisher incident

London, June 18.—The Globe says: "The fact that Lord Dundonald may have erred in the manner of making his protest is no excuse for the cavalier treatment he has received. His protest stands for the sound doctrine that the interests of a political party, should never be allowed to come before those of the country and the Empire, and that is a doctrine which needs to be proclaimed and upheld."

THE YORKSHIRE OBSERVER.

The Yorkshire Daily Observer says: "The people of Canada cannot afford to be as easy going in this matter as the people of this country have hitherto shown themselves and their vindication of constitutional government against militarist encroachment must be welcomed even though the occasion of friction be profoundly regretted."

The Liverpool Mercury says, "In the steps which Lord Dundonald took to remedy what he thought was a scandal, he put himself completely in the wrong." BROKERS SUSPEND

McMillan and Maguire, Stock Brokers, Make an Announcement

It came as a surprise to many in financial circles on Thursday, when the announcement was made that McMillan & Maguire, stock brokers, with their head office at the corner of King and Yonge streets, Toronto, had suspended. The firm had a branch office on Hunter street, in this town, and, consequently, had more or less interest to some people here. The local office is said to have been managed very successfully by Mr. E. S. Clarry, and the misfortune of the firm is said to be one of a series of incidents, no less than three of their agents failing recently, and making them responsible for heavy amounts. The Globe refers to the matter as follows:

Mr. D. P. Maguire, when interviewed by The Globe yesterday, said: "Our suspension was due to the failure of our New York, and Chicago correspondents, viz.: Floyd, Crawford & Co., C. W. Steusel, and W. H. Laidley. We are now going through our books and cannot yet say anything regarding our liabilities. We have called a meeting of creditors for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

"Why did they fail?"

"Well, Laidley did too many wires on a dull market. They must have paid $50 000 a month for wires. Our own wire to Toronto, Kingston and Buffalo cost $30,000 a year. On all their wires there must have been over 120 offices. Now, all the markets are declining, and there is not enough business.

method and the ability to do as he says. Dr. Goldberg, who is the discoverer, will send the method entirely free to all men who send him their names and address. He wants to hear from every man who has self-abuse that they have rendered impotent, lost vitality, nervousness, lassitude, varicocele, stricture, unnatural discharges, eruptions, pimples, blotches, impaired memory, despondency, melancholy, sunken eyes, emissions, dizziness, pains in the back, kidneys, bladder, etc., as he only cures the condition itself, but after he has restored virility, fresh, rich blood, health and strength to the entire system, so that all unnatural drains, losses, etc., cease forever. He says that it is one thing to make a cure and another thing to have them stay cured, and for this reason he will not ask for money unless he cures you, and when you are cured he feels sure that you will gladly pay him a small fee. He would rather, however, have you write to him first, before you send any money, as he wants to tell you how to strike at the cause of your trouble in this way to strike this disease permanently and lay your case before him, and if he accepts your case he will tell you so and you may send him the money and he will cure you, as he has cured many others, and then the matter is settled, as you will be cured and he will be satisfied. He has published a little book containing 14 diplomas and certificates, showing the methods he uses, and will send a copy of this book, sealed, free, to any man who writes for it. Dr. S. UNION LABEL

THE STURGEON FALLS CASE

The Toronto News thinks that the Sturgeon Falls School Bill passed at the last session of the Legislature is probably a violation of the British North American Act.

The solicitor who has been retained by the Public School supporters believes that section 93 of the B.N.A. Act makes the Act of the Legislature inoperative. The clause reads "In and "for each Province the Legislature "may exclusively make laws in rela- "tion to education, subject and ac- "cording to the following provisions." Four sub-sections follow, the first of which reads: "Nothing in any such "law shall prejudicially affect any "right or privilege with respect to "denominational schools which any "class of persons have by law in the "Province at the union."

Under that clause Roman Catholic citizens have the right to establish Separate Schools, and to apply their taxes to maintain them. They could not be compelled by any Act of the Provincial Legislature to contribute to the support of Public schools where Separate schools exist. If such a thing were attempted it would fail. It would seem to be good law, as it is undoubtedly common sense, that Public school supporters should enjoy equal rights and privileges with Separate school supporters. It would be a strange anomaly if the law were found to permit the supporters of Public schools to be coerced in the disposition of their school rates, while the Separate school supporters, enjoying a special privilege, were protected from such compulsion. The clause that guards the rights and privileges of the supporters of the sectarian schools must surely preserve the rights of those who support the national schools.

The late Judge McDougall held in the case of McKee vs. The City of Toronto, that a Protestant ratepayer could not divert his taxes to the Separate schools. As he interpreted the law only Roman Catholics could be Separate school supporters. The system was established as a concession to the citizens of that faith, but the Public schools were the State schools, to which all other classes and creeds must pay their rates.

The Act of the Legislature is directly contrary to that decision It presumes to compel a Protestant ratepayer to contribute to the maintenance of a Separate school. It remains to be seen whether the frightened legislators did not exceed their powers.

THE DISASTER AT NEW YORK

The terrible disaster at New York in which six hundred lives were lost by the burning of a steamer carrying a Sunday school excursion, parallels the tragedy in the Iroquois Theatre in Chicago, in December last.

It is said that the boat was not carrying its full capacity of passengers, but survivors describe the vessel as swarming with women and children. The tragedy does not seem to have been due to overcrowding, but the boat carried so many women and children that when the accident occurred it was impossible to handle the people, or to do those things which, with a smaller and more manageable crowd, might have been done.

This disaster should renew the determination of the authorities to see that excursion boats are not overloaded. Too often the vessels that carry children's excursions to nearby places are of an inferior class and are manned and equipped only for a peaceful and eventless trip. There have been mild warnings near at hand of inconsideration in filling vessels of an inferior kind with a teeming multitude of women and children, with whom it would be impossible to do anything should danger produce a tendency to panic. In order to make the fare as cheap as possible for children's excursions boats are often seriously crowded, and the youth and restlessness of the passengers must derange, to some extent, the ordinary discipline of the boat, making it less safe when it should be most safe for with a load of children a small danger might swell into a great one in a moment.

CIVIL WAR ARMIES

According to the New York Sun, Mr. Cassenove G. Lee, of Washington, a recognized authority on U. S. civil war statistics, has prepared an interesting table showing an enormous numerical superiority of the Northern army over that of the South during the civil war. Mr. Lee's figures show that the total enlistments in the Northern army were 2,778,304, as against 600,000 in the Confederate army. The foreigners and negroes in the Northern army aggregated 680,917, or 80,917 more than the total strength of the Confederate army. There were 316,424 men of Southern birth in the Northern army. There have recently been some very pleasant evidences that the bitterness of the war period is dying out. On at least two occasions honors have been paid to the dead heroes of Confederacy by the Union men who fought against them, and the action has in each case evoked a hearty acknowledgement from Southern organizations. It is a good sign; the old scars disappear slowly, but they are disappearing. Another generation will not honor less the heroes of each side. it will honor both, while lamenting that such bloody marks should have been left on the page of the country's history. And let us hope it will be impressed with the great evil of war and the wisdom of using every possible means of preventing it.

RESIDENT OF EMILY DEAD

An Aged and Much Respected Lady Passes Away

On Wednesday night, in the Township of Emily, there passed away one of the oldest, if not the very oldest resident of the township in the person of Mrs. Mary Sullivan, who had reached her 94th year—an age which few are permitted to reach. Deceased leaves six daughters and one son, the latter of whom resides at Ashburnham. Of the daughters, Mrs. Michael Kennedy lives in the township, where the deceased breathed her last; Mrs. Meaher, Mrs. Dwyer, Mrs. Clark, and Bridget, in Lockport, N.Y., and Hickey, in Ashburnham.

The funeral takes place today, the interment taking place in Ennismore cemetery.

There is probably no remedy that soothes the nerves and drives away those long nights of wakefulness like Ferrozone. Every person whose sleep is restless should take Ferrozone like Mr. J. H. McGaw, who writes from Saskatoon as follows:

"I was bothered with insomnia last summer to such an extent that my health almost broke down. I was frightfully nervous. If it had gone on much longer I would have been a physical wreck. I read about Ferrozone, and concluded it was the sort of remedy needed, I bought six boxes, and took one tablet with every meal.

A change was at once noticeable. I no longer labored under such great mental excitement, and was able to take things more quietly. Ferrozone improved my digestion, I picked up in spirits and strength, and in a comparatively short time sleep came the minute my head touched the pillow. Ferrozone completely rehabilitated my system, and has made me a different sort of man altogether.

Don't wait until your condition becomes nervous prostration; it is hard to cure. Take Ferrozone regularly and the cause of your sleepless nights will be removed. It always cures insomnia.

High Class Investment

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a numbea of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district. The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern machinery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men of integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

Prizes for Writing

There is some excitement being caused by the fact that Mr. Wm. Pringle, of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, has offered three the Spencerian style of writing. The competition will be open to the third and fourth classes of the Public prizes or as many silver medals for the and Separate Schools of the town, as well as the first form of the Collegiate Institute. He has offered a prize for the best specimens presented from each of the classes spoken of, the style to be Spencerian, which is now, becoming popular, and is thought by many to be preferable to the vertical form, which has been in vogue for some years. The prizes are in the form of silver medals, and each of the three is suitably inscribed with the grade of the class and stamped with the presentor, with explanatory words. Mr. Pringle certainly deserves the credit of the people of the town, for not many men are public spirited enough to go to the trouble—to say nothing of the expense—in order to benefit mankind and those in their charge. The contest will, no doubt be keenly contested by the different classes to whom they are open. The medals are said to be handsome as well as costly, and were secured through the agency of Mr. Gibson.

PROPERTIES SITUATED NEAR SILVERTON, SAN JUAN COUNTY, COLORADO. Properties consist of three groups; namely,—

THE PROSPECT BASIN AND MAMMOTH TUNNEL GROUP of 30 claims and Tunnel site aggregating 570 acres of mineral ground all held by location, and free from any conflict as to title; also in same location, three mill sites and one lode claim, total 25 acres all now being patented.

THE LEAD CARBONATE GROUP, adjoining the Gold King, of 78½ acres all of mineral territory; this group is patented.

THE STONY PASS GROUP, 110 acres in Stony Gulch, surveyed for patent which will shortly be applied for; no adverses; title perfectly clear.

Total area Mineral territory	758½ acres.
" " Mill and building sites	55 "
" " Timber properties	90 "
Total	903½ acres

This was the total acreage held at organization of the Stony Pass Mining Company in December 1902. Since that date 230 acres additional have been located in Prospect Basin and surveyed with view of applying for patent at an early day.

Complete Saw Mill plant located in Cement Creek, capacity 20,000 feet per day; Lumber on hand in mill yards and at the Hercules shaft 500,000 feet. Round logs ready for the mill 300,000 feet. Cost to Company approximately $5,400, market value lumber alone $5,100.

TIMBER RESERVES.

Estimated timber, on timber and mineral lands owned by Company, 5,000,000 feet. Contiguous territory controlled by Government from which timber can be had for cutting providing same is used for mineral purposes 40,000,000 feet.

Total cost of development to date, present management,	$53,000.00
" " " " " former owners	18,000.00
" " surface improvements, buildings, saw mill plant, horses, wagons, ore cars, track, tools, etc.	17,000.00
" " Machinery paid for and to be installed	6,000.00
	$99,000.00

Above items do not include moneys expended for additional properties since Company was organized, which approximate $26,000.00.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the pattern output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built.

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3 50 to $4 00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developments. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HARRISON,

OLD HAGAR'S SECRET

BY MRS. M. J. HOLMES

her. Margaret's chamber was visited next, and very lovingly she patted and smoothed the down pillows, for the sake of the bright head which had rested there, while to herself she whispered abstractedly, "Yes, yes," though to what she was giving her assent, she could not tell. She only knew that she was very happy, and very impatient to be gone, and when at last she did go, it seemed to her an age ere Worcester was reached.

Resolutely turning her head away, lest she should see the scene of her disaster, when last she was in that city, she walked up and down the ladies' room, her satin hood and heavy brocho shawl, on that warm July morning, attracting much attention. But little did she care. "Margaret" was the burden of her thoughts, and the appearance of Mrs. Douglas herself would scarcely have disturbed her. Much less, then, did the presence of a queerly-dressed young girl, who, entering the car with her, occupied from necessity the same seat, feeling herself a little annoyed at being thus obliged to sit so near one whom she mentally pronounced "mighty unsociable," for not once did Madam Conway turn her face that way, so intent was she upon watching their apparent speed, and counting the number of miles they had come.

When Charlton was reached, however, she did observe the woman in a shaker, who, with a pail of huckleberries on her arm, was evidently waiting for some one.

An audible groan from the depths of the satin hood, as Betsey Jane passed out and the cars passed on, showed plainly that the mother and sister of George Douglas were recognized, particularly as the former wore the red and yellow calico, which, having been used as a "dress up" the summer before, now did its owner service as a garment of every day wear. But not long did Madam Conway suffer her mind to dwell upon matters so trivial. Hillsdale was not far away, and she came each moment nearer. Two more stations were reached—the haunted swamp was passed—Chicopee River was in sight; the bridge appeared in view; the whistle sounded, and she was there.

Half an hour later, and Theo, looking from her window, started in surprise as she saw the village omnibus drive up to their door.

"Tis grandmother!" she cried, and running to meet her, she asked why she had returned so soon.

"They are coming at noon," answered the excited woman; then, hurrying into the house, and throwing off her hood, she continued, "He's found her at the Falls, they are between here and Albany now; tell everybody to hurry as fast as they can, tell Hannah to make a chicken pie—Maggie was fond of that, and turkey—tell her to kill a turkey—it's Maggie's favorite dish—and ice cream, too! I wish I had some this minute," and she wiped the perspiration from her burning face.

No more hysterics now; no more lonesome nights; no more thoughts of death—for Margaret was coming home—the best-loved of them all. Joyfully the servants told to each other the glad news, disbelieving entirely the report fast gaining circulation that the queenly Maggie was lowly born—a grandchild of old Hagar. Up and down the stairs Madam Conway ran, flitting from room to room and tarrying longest in that of Margaret, where the sunlight came in softly through the half-closed blinds and the fair summer blossoms smiled a welcome for the expected one.

Suddenly the noontide stillness was broken by a sound, deafening and shrill on ordinary occasions, but falling now like music on Madam Conway's ear, for by that sound she knew that Margaret was near. Wearily went the half hour by, and then, from the head of the tower stairs, Theo cried out, "She's coming!" while the grandmother buried her face in the pillows of the lounge, and asked to be alone when she took back to her bosom the child which was not hers.

Earnestly, as if to read the inmost soul, each looked into the other's eyes—Margaret and Theo—and while the voice of the latter was choked with tears, she wound her arms around the graceful neck, which bent to the caress, and whispered low, "You are my sister still."

Against the vine-wreathed balustrade a fairy form was leaning, holding back her breath lest she should break the deep silence of that meeting. In her bosom there was no pang of fear lest Theo should be loved the best, and even had there been, it could not surely have remained, for stretching out her arm, Margaret drew her to her side, and placing her hand in that of Theo, said, "You are both my sisters now," while Arthur Carrollton, bending down, kissed the lips of the three, saying as he did so, "Thus do I acknowledge your relationship to me."

"Why don't she come," the waiting Madam Conway sighed, just as Theo, pointing to the open door, bade Margaret go in.

There was a blur before the lady's eyes—a buzzing in her ears—and the footfall she had listened for so long was now unheard as it came slowly to her side. But the light touch upon her arm—the well-remembered voice within her ear, calling her "Madam Conway," sent through her an electric thrill, and starting up she caught the wanderer in her arms, crying imploringly, "Not that name, Maggie darling; call me grandma, as you used to do—call me grandma still," and smoothing back the long black tresses, she looked to see if grief had left its impress upon her fair young face. It was paler now, and thinner, too, than it was wont to be, and while her tears fell fast upon it, Madam Conway whispered, "You have suffered much, my child, and so have I. Why did you go away? Say, Margaret, why did you leave me all alone?"

"To learn how much you loved me," answered Margaret, to whom this moment brought happiness second only to that which she had felt when on the river bank she sat with Arthur Carrollton, and heard him tell how much she had been mourned—how lonesome was the house without her—and how sad were all their hearts.

But that was over now: no more sadness, no more tears, the lost one had returned. Margaret was home again—home in the hearts of all, and nothing could dislodge her—not even the story of her birth, which Arthur Carrollton, spurning at further deception, told to the listening servants, who, having always respected old Hagar for her position in the household as well as for her education, so superior to their own, sent up a deafening shout, first for "Hagar's grandchild," and next for "Miss Margaret forever."

CHAPTER XXV.

By Theo's request, old Hagar had been taken home the day before, yielding submissively, for her frenzied mood was over—her strength was gone—her life was nearly spent—and Hagar did not wish to live. That for which she had sinned had been accomplished, and though it had cost her days and nights of anguish, she was satisfied at last. Margaret was coming home again—would be a lady still—the bride of Arthur Carrollton, for George Douglas had told her so, and she was willing now to die, but not until she had seen her once again—had looked into the beautiful face of which she had been so proud.

Not to-day, however, does she expect her, and just as the sun was setting, the sun which shines on Margaret at home, she falls away to sleep. It was at this hour that Margaret was wont to visit her, and now, as the treetops grew red in the day's departing glory, a graceful form came down the woodland path, where for many weeks the grass has not been crushed beneath her feet. They saw her as she left the house, Madam Conway, Theo, all, but none asked whither she was going. They knew, and one, who loved her best of all, followed slowly after, waiting in the woods until that interview should end.

Hagar lay calmly sleeping. The servant was, as usual, away, and there was no eye watching Margaret.

A RARE CHANCE

FOR CANADIAN INVESTORS

THOMAS PATTERSON & CO.
BROKERS, PETERBOROUGH

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

MANY MINERS UNDER ARREST

Cripple Creek Authorities Issue Warrants for Union Leaders

MORE MEN ARE DEPORTED

Thirty-two Miners Sent Out on Train Presumably Bound for old Mexico

Denver, June 17.—Eighty-seven warrants, charging murder, have been placed in the hands of the sheriff here to be served on union miners, many of them leaders in the Western Federation, who are accused of complicity in the dynamite outrage at the Independence station and in rioting at Victor. Among the men wanted are Sherman Patter, secretary of the Altman union, who was acquitted after having been held in the bullpen three months on a charge of wrecking a train near Cripple Creek; E. L. Whiting, secretary of the Engineers' Union at Cripple Creek and W. F. Davis, president of the Altman Miners' Union. Secretary Heywood and other officers of the federation say many of the accused men were delegates to the miners' convention in this city at the time of the Independence explosion, and were present in that gathering. Some of the men have left Colorado to avoid arrest.

DECLARE WAR ON UNIONS.

A committee of forty leading business men at Cripple Creek to-day unanimously agreed upon the following statement of the attitude of employers toward organized labor in that district:

"In the future neither walking delegates, agitators nor labor unions will be allowed to say who may or who may not labor in Teller County, who may or who may not do business here. The source of all strife in the Cripple Creek district has been the Western Federation of Miners and the Trades Assembly, which they dominated, and through which they carried out their boycotts, etc.

"There is no room in Teller County for these two organizations, and their existence will no longer be tolerated. Unions of the various crafts already organized will not be interfered with as to their local or international affiliations, provided the trades assembly be forthwith disbanded and no similar boycotting agency be organized; provided further that such unions of the local crafts have not for their national or international affiliation the Western Federation of Miners, and American Labor Union, the State Federation of Labor or any kindred criminal organization.

"We declare against all agitators and walking delegates.

"We declare against strikes, boycotts and walkouts."

MORE ARE DEPORTED.

Thirty-two of the prisoners confined in the bullpen at Cripple Creek were placed aboard a train to-day and deported. It is reported that the destination of the men is old Mexico. The military officers will give no definite information on this point.

In a statement intended to justify the deportation of miners General Bell says:

"It is not uncommon out here for the peaceful citizens to go to a man of the community and tell him to go, that he is not wanted. Such a notice is never disregarded. The people have the unwritten power to impose a sentence of enforced departure upon those, who having trangressed no written law, are yet disturbing elements in the general peace. If these men return they will be confined indefinitely in the military prison."

All mines except the Portland were open to-day and there was no disorder.

THE AWFUL PRICE PAID FOR WAR

Is Now Costing Japan a Million a Day

RUSSIA IS STILL MORE

Britain Now Paying the Price of Her Scrap in South Africa

New York, June 17.—The financial cost of war may not be the most important ground on which to decry it, but it is likely to appeal to the sober second thought of our so-called civilized nations as no other consideration will do, says the Observer, in a budget speech Mr. Gladstone once made the following statement:

"The expenses of a war are the moral check which it has pleased the Almighty to impose upon the ambition and lust of conquest that are inherent in so many nations. There is pomp and circumstance, there is glory and excitement about war, which, notwithstanding the miseries it entails, invests it with charms in the eyes of the community, and tends to blind men to those evils to a fearful and dangerous degree. The necessity of meeting from year to year the expenditure which it entails is a salutary and wholesome check, making them feel what they are about and making them measure the cost of the benefit upon which they may calculate."

Great Britain is to-day paying the financial price of the recent long-drawn-out conflict with the Boers in South Africa, and the people find the price a heavy one. Naturally, the nations of Europe, who are at present only spectators of the Russo-Japanese war, hope that the conflict may be limited to the two nations now actively engaged in hostilities. None of them has any money to throw away, and in the event of a general European imbroglio the expense would be simply enormous. Accepting the estimate of about 400,000 soldiers as the present total of the Japanese army, the cost of landing this force on the Corean or Manchurian coast at the horses, artillery and supplies, would rate of $10 per man, exclusive of the $4,000,000.

M. Roche, formerly French minister of commerce, estimates that the cost of war to Japan, including her navy, will be a million dollars a day. That means the entire earnings of 9,000,000 Japanese toilers, since their average wage is 12 cents a day.

SOME OFFICERS WANT A BANQUET

To Signify Their Appreciation of Lord Dundonald

HE HAS BEEN SACRIFICED

Local Officers Discussing Who is Likely to Succeed to Command of Militia

Montreal, June 17—Now that the removal of Lord Dundonald has been determined upon by the Federal Government, the officers of the local military organizations are free in their expressions of sympathy for the General Officer Commanding.

There has never been a Briton occupying the exalted post who has so endeared himself to all ranks of military men.

The question of who shall succeed Lord Dundonald is now agitating the local officers, who, so far as can be learned, are a unit against the appointment of any Canadian. "There is no officer in Canada," said a local commanding officer, "who would fill the bill in any respect. One might be found engaged in the Imperial army, but, in that event, the same conditions as presently obtain would be perpetuated. Educated, say, at the Royal Military College, at Kingston, the Canadian, whoever he might be, would since have had a number of year's experience in the British Army, and would view all matters relating to the militia from a military standpoint. It is inconceivable, then, that his decisions would be any more acceptable to a Canadian Government than have been those of Lord Dundonald."

It is suggested that the retiring G. O. C. be banqueted previous to his departure from Canada.

JEWELER SHOT BY HIS WIFE

Quarrel Following Street Fair Ends in Tragedy at Marshall' Ill.

Marshall, Ill., June 17.—Mack W. Morton, a jeweler of this city, was shot and killed by his wife about 12 o'clock last night after a bitter quarrel, during which he threatened her life. Mrs. Morton is being held for the shooting.

The killing caused a sensation, as both Morton and his wife were members of leading families and prominent in social circles. After the shooting it developed that the couple had been having a great deal of domestic trouble and of late their quarrels had been frequent.

A street fair was in progress and Mr. and Mrs. Morton were down town in their carriage during the evening. When they reached home a quarrel was begun and Morton was heard to threaten his wife. He said he would again go downtown and to this she objected. He made an effort to leave the house, but she seized him by the coat, placed her pistol against his left breast and fired. The bullet pierced a large artery, causing death in a few seconds.

NEW ACTS FROM ABROAD

By the Hungarian Magyars, La Famille Lecuyer, Mons. Hubert the Martinetts and Others.

The announcement of The great Dorepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows coming to Peterborough on Saturday, July 2, indicate that they have not only secured the very best of home talent, but thoroughly ransacked all foreign fields in search of genuine and original thrills and tickles. From abroad come to us for the first time the Szarvasi Frencz Troupe of Hungarian Magyars, whose dances, acrobatic feats and tribal melodies are described as both intensely thrilling and strangely interesting. The gay capital of France lends its most popular equestrian feature in La Famille Lecuyer, whose combined equestrian and park brake bareback and acrobatic novelties will doubtless amaze all beholders here as they did there, and which are classed as the only absolutely new equestrian performances seen in any arena for half a century. Another arenic European celebrity who for the first time visits this country is Mons. Hubert, his original equestrian acts including leaping from the ground to a horse's back while holding a sulky on high by its thills, and balancing a park cart on his chin, after having performed many novel and difficult juggling acts therein. The four merry Martinetts, who have set all Europe laughing from ear to ear, have been added to the whole comic circus of clowns, which feature this great show was the first to introduce. At the head of all home or foreign acrobatic families stand the Eddys, who will appear in their new and the only aerial stage acrobatic innovation.

WIRELESS FOR A POOLROOM

New System of Telegraphy will Live Racing Now to Bettors

Memphis, Tenn., June 17.—Preliminary arrangements have been completed for the first test of wireless telegraphy in serving G. C. Bennett's poolroom with results of races at eastern and western tracks. The poolroom is in Arkansas, on the banks of the Mississippi river, directly opposite Memphis. Private messages will be sent to the Memphis branch of the Western Union and it is intended to transmit winners, odds, etc., by wireless telegraphy from Memphis to Arkansas.

An agent of the De Forest system has arrived with wireless paraphernalia and the experiment is being watched by other poolrooms in the south. The first test will be made to-morrow.

The Hydraulic Power Company elected officers also. This company will be practically under the same management as the Railway Company.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

I desire to call the attention of investors to the

of which I am the authorized agent

Investments in mining stocks where they can be purchased cheaply whose property contains merit and whose directors are men of unquestionable honor and integrity, and especially when sufficient work has been done to guarantee a producing mine and the leads have been demonstrated to be permanent, offer the greatest opportunity for large returns from modern investments.

The shrewdest capitalists of England and America are giving more attention to mining properties and putting more money into them than at any time in the past history of the world.

The Smuggler Group consists of five full sized claims, to-wit:—The Smuggler, Gangrin, Bear Jack, Star and Red Rock, located in the Greenhorn District of Eastern Oregon. Surrounding mines are Potosi, Pride of Pendleton, Bonanza and Rockefeller, developing work to the extent of 1,000 feet of tunnelling, drifts and crosscuts have been made, exposing hundreds of tons of high grade ore, averaging from $25 to $45 per ton, based on smelter returns, and for the purpose of equipping the mines a limited number of shares of Treasury Stock will be sold at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.00.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals — the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patient Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 285 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

THE B.N.A. ACT IS VIOLATED

Claim Sturgeon Falls Public Schools People

STRUGGLE ONLY BEGUN

They will Resist Payment of Taxes Under the Recent Act of the Legislature

Sturgeon Falls, Jun 17.—The Public School supporters of this place are in the lines of Torres Vedras. Their opponents in the contest for taxes have obtained an Act of Parliament which may or may not be effective in securing funds for the Separate Schools. The validity of the bill is not to be tested. The Public School trustees have no intention of paying the money on demand. The Separate School supporters are feeling around to find out what they have to expect when the time comes to ask for the money which the act of last session presumably secures to them.

On that point, Mr Fournier, the secretary of the Separate School Board, is confident of plain sailing.

SEPARATE SCHOOL MEN CONFIDENT.

"When the time comes we will present our bill and it will be paid," he said. Further than that he is not disposed to talk on the subject. Other Separate School supporters are showing their anger at the activity of certain gentlemen who were in the forefront of the opposition. Mr A. A. Beach, who visited Toronto during the agitation, has incurred the enmity of the Separate School supporters, and they have made it plain to him.

Mr. T. G. S. McAmmond, the chairman of the Public School Board says there has been no discussion, formally or informally, on the part of that body or its members. A spirit of determination to resist payment is displayed, but beyond getting legal opinions as to the rights of the Board in the event of a demand being made nothing has been done.

HAS THE B. N. A. ACT BEEN VIOLATED?

The solicitor of the Public School Board has all along held that the act of the Legislature is ultra vires His contention is that the British North America Act is violated by the recent legislation To support that view, he quotes a clause which says in effect that the rights and privileges enjoyed by any denomination "in respect to education" at the time of Confederation shall not be affected by any subsequent legislation.

That clause was inserted for the protection of the Roman Catholic minority. The interpretation put upon it in the present case is that Public School supporters have the right and privilege to refuse to contribute to the maintenance of Separate Schools. That is a right with respect to education that an act of the Legislature cannot interfere with. Whether the argument will hold in court is a question. It is certainly ingenious, and probably gives ground for an appeal that may be carried to the court of last resort.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of these in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Still Negotiating

The negotiations between the telegraph operators and the Grand Trunk Railway still continues, and there is still hope of a peaceful outcome. Should it be otherwise, and a strike take place, the company threaten to install a system of telephones between their stations.

C.P.R. Officials Here

Messrs. George Spencer, Superintendent, H. P. Timmerman, General Superintendent, and A. L. Hertzburg, Divisional Engineer C. P. R., spent Thursday afternoon and night in town, leaving for the west yesterday morning. They found everything in applepie order at the local offices of the company.

Returned from the West

Messrs. H. H. Edmison, W. G. Morrow and W. H. Bradburn returned on Thursday night from a trip to Winnipeg, where they had gone on business. They also visited Chicago and the World's Fair at St. Louis. Wagon Struck by Car

While driving near the McDonnel street railway crossing yesterday morning, Mr. Samuel Mulligan's waggon was struck by a box car that was being shunted as he passed. Not being able to get out of the way in time, Mr. Mulligan had one of his limbs bruised. Fortunately the accident is not a serious one, but he had a close call all the same. Dr. Morgan dressed the injured member at Nicholls Hospital, and the patient is able to be around again.

Wedding Bells

A very pleasing event took place at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meaford, 365 Wellesley street, Toronto, on Thursday, when Miss Florence Eunida, their only daughter, became the wife of Cecil C. Cragg, M.D., formerly of Peterborough, but now of Calgary. Rev. E. Cragg, of Brighton, father of the groom, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. E. Cragg, of Haliburton, a brother. The bride, who is a granddaughter of Mr. Cubling Eardley Knowlys, Heysham Castle, Lancashire, England, wore the family jewels, diamonds and rubies. She received, among many other beautiful presents, a piano and a substantial check from her father and mother. After a dainty luncheon, Dr. and Mrs. Cragg left on the 1.45 train for Calgary.

Obituary

Mr. Wm. F. Elliott departed this life at about eight o'clock yesterday morning at his residence, corner of Park and London streets. Deceased had been ill for about a year, but recently his condition improved so much as to give hope to his friends, which were rudly dispelled again by the disease developing in an agrivated form, and his end came suddenly at the last. Mr. Elliott was a native of Smith township, and was in his 48th year. He had been absent from the country for a long time, and only came to Peterborough about two years ago. He was connected with the building of the Mississ Link, and on the completion of that work went to Quebec, where he married. He is survived by a widow and two sons, who are approaching manhood.

The funeral will take place from the family residence tomorrow (Sunday) at three o'clock p.m.

A HANDSOME MONUMENT

Is Now Placed Over the Grave of the Late W. A. Sanderson

Many persons, on Thursday afternoon, admired the monument placed over the grave of the late W. A. Sanderson. It is skillfully executed, and is surmounted by a cross at the front of which is the name "Sanderson." The monument itself is made of grey granite and the inscription is on a granite plate at the front of the grave, the lettering differing somewhat from any others.

It is from the Coughlin Monument Works, and is a credit to all concerned in its manufacture and design.

THE "STONY LAKE" LAUNCHED

Splendid New Steamer for Service on the Upper Lake

The splendid new steamer, "Stony Lake," was launched Thursday at Young's Point, in the presence of a large number of people. The boat glided into the water, amid the acclaim of the spectators, as gracefully as could be desired.

The new steamer is a steel frame 94 feet long, with 16 foot beam. She will be propelled by a compound condensing engine of 200 horse power, built by the Bertram Engine Works, Toronto, the steam being generated in a Fitzgibbon boiler. The capacity of the new boat will be 350 passengers, which, Mr. Young thinks, will meet all requirements. The speed of the steamer will be 13 miles per hour, which will put her in the class with the fastest boats on the lakes.

There will be a combined dining room and ladies' cabin, comfortably upholstered, containing modern comforts and conveniences. The ladies' lavatory and toilet room will be aft of the ladies' cabin, and will be fitupholstered, containing modern conted with modern accessories.

A SERIOUS MATTER

New Pavement on George Street Has Not the Proper Grade

The following complaint with reference to a pavement just completed on George street, near Smith street, has been made:—

Peterborough, June 16, '04.

Mayor and Council Town of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—Please accept notice on behalf of my mother, Mrs. Henry Denne, that the sidewalk you are at present constructing on the west side of George street, north of Smith street, in front of her property is not being laid to the proper grade same being too high, which will result in damage to her property. Would further invite your attention to the fact that you are not proceeding under the act under which notice was given for the construction of this work. The act calls for a granolithic sidewalk, notice in the paper calls for a granolithic sidewalk, and the walk that is being placed there at the present time is nothing more than a concrete walk. Kindly accept notice that we will look to you for damages and in addition we do not propose paying frontage tax on the sidewalk as constructed for the above reasons.

Yours truly,
T. H. G. DENNE.

A CRAMAHE WEDDING

Which was Attended by Some Peterborough People

The nuptials of Miss Annie Mitchell and Mr. John Wesley Newman took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mitchell, of Cramahe, on Wednesday evening last. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Shier, of Norwood, in the presence of a large company of friends. The bride wore a very pretty gown of white voile trimmed with cluny lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Theresa Bailey, of Norham, was bridesmaid, and was gowned in a becoming dress of pale blue organdie, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her father gave the bride away, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Micks, of town. Mr. Orliff Newman, brother of the groom, was best man.

The wedding dinner, which was a recherche affair, was prepared by a caterer from Lakeport, and was served upon the lawn, which, with the many festive decorations, combined to add the charm of novelty to the scene.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome sunburst of diamonds, and that of her father, a piano. Mr. and Mrs. Newman will take up residence in Castleton.

Miss Ethel Thornton, of Peterborough, was one of the guests on the interesting occasion.

—It will be 67 years ago Monday since good Queen Victoria ascended the throne.

WISE WORDS

A Physician on Food

A physician of Portland, Oregon has views about food. He says:

"I have always believed that the duty of the physician does not cease with treating the sick, but that we owe it to humanity to teach them how to protect their health especially by hygienic and dietetic laws.

"With such a feeling as to my duty I take great pleasure in saying to the public that in my own experience and also from personal observation I have found no food to equal Grape-Nuts and that I find there is almost no limit to the great benefits this food will bring when used in all cases of sickness and convalescence.

"It is my experience that no physical condition forbids the use of Grape-Nuts. To persons in health there is nothing so nourishing and acceptable to the stomach especially at breakfast to start the machinery of the human system on the day's work. In cases of indigestion I know that a complete breakfast can be made of Grape-Nuts and cream and I think it is necessary not to overload the stomach at the morning meal. I also know the great value of Grape-Nuts when the stomach is too weak to digest other food.

"This is written after an experience of more than 20 years treating all manner of chronic and acute diseases, and the latter is written voluntarily on my part without any request for it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

When a woman is nervous her imagination gives fantastic and threatening shapes to the most familiar objects. By day she starts in fear at every sudden or unfamiliar sound. By night the furniture of her room takes on affrighting forms of ghost or goblin. You can't reason with the nerves. Neither logic nor love can quiet them. They must be nourished and then the outcry of the nerves will cease as naturally as a hungry child ceases to cry when fed.

For nervous women there is no better tonic and nervine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the diseases which produce nervousness in women, irregularity, debilitating drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite, and induces refreshing sleep.

"When I began taking your medicine I was not able to stand on my feet ten minutes at a time," writes Mrs. Mattie Borndafe, of 113 Spring Street, Nashville, Tenn. "Had falling of uterus, and kidney and liver disease, and was so weak and nervous I could not keep still. Would take nervous spells and almost die at times. I had several different doctors attending, but they could not do me any good. The last one I had said I would never get up again. Told him that I was taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and he said, 'Might just as well take that much water each day;' but I thought I would give the medicine a fair trial. Before I had finished the first two bottles I was able to get outside the house and walk around the yard. I kept on taking the medicines and they cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

NEW ACTS FROM ABROAD

By the Hungarian Magyars, La Famille Lecusson, Mons. Hubert the Martineks and Others.

The announcement of the great Forepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows coming to Peterborough on Saturday, July 2, indicate that they have not only secured the very best of home talent, but thoroughly ransacked all foreign fields in search of genuine and original thrills and tickles. From abroad come to us for the first time the Szarvasi Fremer Troupe of Hungarian Magyars, whose dances, acrobatic feats and tribal melodies are described as both intensely thrilling and strangely interesting. The gay capital of France lends its most popular equestrian feature in La Famille Lecusson, whose combined equestrian and park brake bareback and acrobatic novelties will doubtless amaze all beholders here as they did there, and which are classes as the only absolutely new equestrian performances seen in any arena for half a century. Another arenic European celebrity who for the first time visits this country is Mons. Hubert, his original equestrian acts including leaping from the ground to a horse's back while holding a sulky on high by its thills, and balancing a park cart on his chin, after having performed many novel and difficult juggling acts therein. The four merry Martineks, who have set all Europe laughing from ear to ear, have been added to the whole comic circus of clowns, which feature this great show was the first to introduce. At the head of all home for foreign acrobatic families stand the Eddys, who will appear in their new and the only aerial stage acrobatic innovation.

—Arrangements have been completed with the railways for single-fare from all points to Peterborough on the 12th of July. Tickets will be good on the afternoon of the 11th to the 13th.

A DEADLY BLOW TO LABOR UNIONS

The "Closed" Shop System A Criminal Act

AN ILLINOIS DECISION

Which will Have A far Reaching Effect in Regard to Employees and Employed

Chicago June 20.—A remarkable decision affecting the rights of labor unions has just been given by the Appellate Court of Cook county, Illinois. The court decided that a contract between an employer and a union for a "closed" shop is a violation of both the civil and criminal law, being a conspiracy in restraint of trade. The judgment is far reaching in its effect practically prohibiting the "closed" shop in the State of Illinois.

The question came before the court in the shape of an appeal from the injunction granted against the strikers at the plant of the Kellogg Switchboard Company. The evidence showed that the purpose of the strike was to compel the execution of the drafts of agreement for a closed shop The president, secretary and superintendent swore that the agents threatened to call a strike unless the agreement they presented was executed. It was sworn also that members of the union picketed the company's works, so that the employes who wanted to work were intimidated and restrained by fear from working for the company.

Judge Adams, who presided over the court, held that the "closed" shop agreements exacted from employers by labor unions constitute an illegal infringement of contract rights, and that the provision in such agreements binding an employer to hire none but members of a labor union is an illegal abridgement of liberty, discriminating in favor of one class of working people, and excluding all others. But the decision goes much farther than that. The court finds that such conduct constitutes a violation of the Criminal Code of the State of Illinois. By this opinion an employer who signs a "closed" shop contract, as well as the labor union that secures his signature by threats, is held to be amenable to the criminal laws. This puts a weapon in the hands of the non-union man that could be used with disastrous effect to employers and unionists. In future an Illinois employer who signs a "closed" shop agreement will do so with the knowledge that he is, in the eyes of the law entering into a conspiracy, the penalty for which is imprisonment.

If this judgment is upheld by the Supreme Court of Illinois, the tribunal of final resort, there will be an end of the "closed" shop in the State. Neither unions nor employers would be likely to leave themselves liable to criminal prosecutions by contending for the execution of such agreements.

The ground taken by the Appellate Court is that the system of closing a shop to all but the members of a union is a restraint of trade and against sound public policy. Judge Adams places the "union labor trust" upon the same plane as the industrial trust, "whose inevitable tendency is to restrain trade." He describes the attempts of unions to exclude non-union men from employment as an effort to create an illegal monopoly in favor of one class of workmen. The act falls under the condemnation of the constitution of the State of Illinois, and, also, he holds, of the constitution of the United States. It prohibits "a discrimination between different classes of citizens, founded on no justifiable ground, and an attempt to exercise legislative power in behalf of certain classes and against other classes, whether laborers seeking work or employers."

The decision is described by lawyers as momentous. It is decidedly so, as far as labor unions are concerned. A number of Chicago lawyers consider the judgment to be sound in law and likely to be sustained by the higher court, if an appeal is taken. If that expectation is verified, the position of the Chicago unionist will be materially altered from what it has been for some years. Nearly every shop in that city has been a "closed" shop in the past. If that condition can only be maintained by running the risk of a criminal prosecution, unionism must suffer a serious loss of prestige.

PEN PICTURE OF VAFANGOW BATTLE

Russians Claims to Have Accomplished Strategic Object

FOUGHT WITH HEROISM

A Whole Valley was Bestrewn With Corpes River ran Blood Red

Liao Yang, June 20.—A correspondent, who was present at the battle of Vafangow, describes the fighting as follows.

"The stern, dogged fighting at the battle of Vafangow was like another Borodino. The roar of the machine guns and the boom of the cannon still ring in one's ears.

"Throughout the three days of combat the officers and men vied with each other in pluck and heroism. They have added a glorious page to Russian military history.

"The enemy's advance originally included the fifth, eighth and eleventh divisions, twelve squadrons of cavalry and splendid artillery. About two hundred guns were belching a continuous stream of shot and shell. Large reinforcements enabled them to turn the Russian flanks. A diversion on the right precipitated the battle in the morning of June 15.

MAJOR-GENERAL WOUNDED.

"Major-General Gerngross, who was wounded, commanded the left flank and General Lontchkovsky commanded the centre, including four battalions concealed in a small wood, whence they dealt death and destruction on the enemy.

"The Russian right was protected by Cossacks, dragoons and Siberian rifles.

"While the big guns were thundering I made my way at about 11 a.m. to the Russian right flank and climbed a hill whence I could view the whole field of battle. Behind me a battery had taken up a position from which it kept up a continuous fire upon the advancing ranks of the enemy. Through glasses I could see the sandy valley of the Tasas, with the Chinese village of Fanfan. The heights of Foo Chou, the railway bridge and the surrounding copses were occupied by Japanese infantry.

"Then black lines of infantry like threads, could be seen creeping through the verdure. Nearer, the slope of a hill was dotted by the grey shirts of Russian riflemen. A brownish smoke overhung some of the batteries, and others showed flashes of flame. The crackle of rifle fire was punctuated by the roar of guns. Occasionally I heard the hiss of a Japanese bullet.

AWE-INSPIRING SCENE.

"The scene was awe-inspiring. Over the Russian centre and left flank hovered chocolate clouds from bursting shrapnel. It was evident that the tide of battle was coming toward the Russian right. I saw reserves hurrying forward, the Cossacks galloping, followed by columns of infantry at the double.

"Suddenly they disappeared in an adjacent defile. The valleys where the Russians had camped was emptied as if by magic. Rattling volleys were fired behind the screen of hills which concealed the fighting troops from view in that direction, the sound of the firing being the last evidence of the struggle proceeding there. This continued for half an hour. Suddenly a company of Cossacks appeared on the crest of a hill and began to descend. They were followed by infantry. The Japanese gunners promptly pursued them with shrapnel. Horses and men began falling.

RETIRED IN GOOD ORDER

"Again the crackle of musketry under cover, during which the retiring Russian regiments formed up and moved off in complete order toward the railway, while a long line of commissariat waggons, escorted by Cossacks, took to the road; a battery of horse artillery stationed near the railway banged away furiously as it covered the retreat. The Japanese shells were then falling on the station buildings from which train after train had moved.

"I descended the hill and just succeeded in jumping on the footboard of the last car. Some of the batteries on the left flank were still firing. The main force then began slowly to retreat towards Kantsialin (30 miles north of Vafangow) and at about one in the afternoon had accomplished its strategic mission.

"The battle of Vafangow had deflected considerable Japanese forces from Port Arthur.

"Many Russians have fallen, but a greater number of Japanese were killed. The Russian shells and bullets mowed them down like wheat. The whole valley was beatrewn with their corpses, and the River Tasaa ran red. But it was with Japanese more than with Russian blood.

"I left in the last train with General Stakelberg. This train collided with the one preceding it, near Vantsialin, but it was not damaged.

"When passing Kin-Chou we saw three Japanese cruisers.

"The whole road north was occupied by Russian troops. The Russians say the Japanese cannot advance much further north, even when they recover from the effects of the battle of Vafangow.

ANOTHER VERSION.

Liao Yang, June 17.—A correspondent of the Associated Press who was present at the battle of Vafangow describes the fighting as follows:

"The stern, dogged fighting at the battle off Vafangow was like another Borodino. The roar of the machine guns and the boom of the cannon still ring in one's ears.

"Throughout the three days of combat the officers and men vied with each other in pluck and heroism. They have added a glorious page to Russia's military history.

The Japanese gunners promptly pursued them with shrapnel. Horses and men began falling.

REINFORCEMENTS COME.

"A moment of harrowing suspense was received by a thunderous shout of 'hurrah.' It was from a couple of thousand Russian troops just brought up in train. They quickly jumped from the cars, fixed bayonets and literally ran into the fight.

"Again the crackle of musketry under cover, during which the retiring Russian regiments formed up and moved off in complete order toward the railroad, while a long line of commissariat wagons, escorted by Cossacks, took to the road. A battery of horse artillery stationed near the railroad banged away furiously as it covered the retreat. The battle of Vafangow had deflected considerable Japanese forces from Port Arthur.

GLORIOUS FIGHTING.

"The fighting was glorious. For two days the Russian regiments valorously maintained their positions and took the offensive on the left, so pressing the enemy there that a couple of Japanese batteries fell into the Cossacks' hands. The Russian soldiers went into battle singing, their spirits not affected by the fierce heat and furious cannonading, the intensity of which may be gauged from atmospheric conditions. Rain drops fell at the height of the battle, although the day dawned clear.

"Many Russians have fallen, but a greater number of Japanese were killed. The Russian shells and bullets mowed them down like wheat. The whole valley was strewn with their corpses and the river Tassa ran red. But it was with Japanese more than Russian blood.

"I left in the last train with General Stakelberg. This train collided with one preceding it, near Vantsialin, but it was not damaged.

HE WILL NOT BE OUR GOVERNOR

Earl Grey Has Decided not to Accept Post

FAVOUR LORD STRATHCONA

Anglo-Canadians Believe the High Commissioner Would Make An Ideal Appointee

London, June 20—Lord Grey tells his friends definately that he is not going to Canada. Those who know Lord Grey are not sorry. They say he made an excellent administrator in Rhodesia but Rhodesia is not self-governing. Earl Grey is pushful and determined to get his own way and the Dundonald incident suggests that such a man, however well intentioned and well equipped, might find Ottawa impossible just now.

LORD STRATHCONA FAVORED.

Hopes are still expressed in influential Anglo-Canadian quarters here that Lord Strathcona, who knows the exact limitations of the Governorship can be prevailed upon to crown his career by the acceptance of the post. His personal difficulty is the possible embarrassment arising from the precedent of appointing a Canadian, but it is felt that his case is quite exceptional.

Fred Riches Meets with Accident at C.G.E. Works

An unfortunate accident happened to Mr. Fred Riches, at the Canadian General Electric Works on Friday evening about 10 o'clock. Mr Riches was engaged in lowering a heavy crane and in some way his hand became caught and the result was a painful injury, which will incapacitate him for work for some time to come, the bones of the thumb and first two fingers, as well as several from the fingers to the wrist, being more or less bruised.

Dr. Young was immediately sent for and dressed the injuries, when the patient was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. Mr. Riches resides at 154 Rubidge street.

57TH REGIMENT ATTEND CHURCH

The Old Colors Laid Away In St. John's and Tablet Unveiled

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

A Large Crowd Thronged the Streets to See the Parade

From the drill shed to St. John's church, the streets on either side of the line of march was crowded with a dense throng of humanity eager to see the Regiment, Veterans of 1866, officers of the Third Prince of Wales Dragoons, and to hear the music of the band. Promptly at the time appointed, the force left the drill hall and took up its route for the church, to the tune of Auld Lang Syne, the step being a slow one until the expiration of that air, which enabled those in the park to see the march out to advantage. Later the force broke into the "quick" when the balance of the journey was made in good time. The troops seldom, if ever, appeared to better advantage than they did on this occasion, and the veterans of 66—though few in number—showed that they were not only active in the front, but marched with the precision and regularity of the veterans which they are. Many of the latter wore their medals, and were becomingly dressed in silk ties and black clothing.

On arrival at the church, the regiment and its invited guests entered church, while the color party, with its escort, remained outside and sent a herald forward with the request that the colors be received into the church for safe keeping, and in sanctity. The rector replied, and the adjutant reported the reply to the colonel, when the color party entered, the bugle sounding "the last post." The escort then lined the center aisle.

Lieutenant-Colonel Miller, who was in command, next addressed the rector, saying: "I have come here with the old colors borne by the 57th Regiment for thirty-six years, and request that the authorities will permit these cherished emblems of loyalty, Christianity and civilization to find a permanent resting place within the walls of this sacred building."

The rector replied: In the name of the Blessed Trinity I accept these colors, and will assign them a permanent resting place within the walls of this church."

The escort then presented arms, giving the colors their last military salute, while the band played several bars of the National Anthem. The color party next faced the rector, the colors being handed to the majors and by them to the church wardens, who handed them separately to the rector, when they were borne to the sanctuary and placed upon the altar, the band playing "Home, Sweet Home."

Previous to commencing the sermon on the occasion, the rector, on behalf of Lieut.-Col. Miller, thanked the officers of the Dragoons and the veterans of 66 for taking part in doing honor to the old colors and in helping to place them in their last resting place. The rector also referred to the sense of loss the militia had sustained in the coming departure of Lord Dundonald.

The texts taken were from the 13 chapter of Hebrews and 7 verse, and the 32 and 7 of Deuteronomy, and expressed sentiments fitting and appropriate for the occasion. These emblems consisted of two flags and would have the best honors in this sacred building; for thirty-six years they had been carried by the regiment and their honor had been sacredly guarded and the principals they have stood for—Christianity and liberty—upheld.

These flags were symbols of duty, and there was a great difference between men who respected duty and men who did not. The men who were true to duty could be depended on in emergencies, and the others could not; the men of 37 did their duty and honored the flags and safeguarded the interests of the community; he said it would be better for men to be converted; to give up self; to belong to some church and like the soldiers to give respect and obedience with the same brotherly love; he cared not to which church they belonged if they had that respect for other denominations which they should have as true Christians. He had watched the parades of the regiment with interest, the men were prompt to obey their commanders, spring to attention to salute the colors they are the King's emblems, and they are the king's emblems, and we should remember Him who has the rule over us. These flags are being everywhere honored; perhaps at this hour in Korea or Manchuria, but we have not to look to foreign countries for proof of this. The speaker then instanced many glorious deeds by Englishmen in charge of the colors when they were in danger, at Salamanca at Inkerman, in Afghanistan and in the Boer war in South Africa they had shown heroism and devotion to these emblems of authority. He also spoke of the devotion of the men who in 1837—some 200 in number—who marched from Peterborough to Port Hope, with five days still to march to Toronto; and instanced the equally prompt response in 1866, spoke of the men of the battalion who served in South Africa, the North-West, etc., and said these emblems would be honored, and their memory cherished by all the people who enter the church. It is the aged—men with grey hair—men who bear the brunt of the fray—who are the most respected and have the sympathies of the masses; and it will be so with these emblems, the old colors, and cause us to remember the days of old.

At the conclusion of the services Lieut.-Col. Miller addressed those present, reviewed the memories and gave a short history of the old flags, whose honor had been upheld by the regiment under different commanders for the space of 36 years, and who handed them down unsullied, to be laid away sacredly, and trusted that the new ones, when the time comes to leave them aside, would be as unsullied, and could be laid away as honorably and with as clean a record as are the ones now in their sacred repository. The lieutenant-colonel then unveiled the tablet, and the ceremony was at an end, and the troops marched back to the armoury, where they were dispersed.

The 57th Battalion was organized (G.O.) on May 3rd 1867; reorganized as a City Battalion in 1885; increased from six to eight companies in 1900; served in Fenian Raid in 1866; one company served with Midland Battalion in North-West Rebellion 1885; representatives served in South Africa 1900-02; colors presented by ladies of Peterborough in 1868. Commanding officers of the Regiment since its inception or organization, down to the present time, have been five in number viz., Lieut.-Col. Edwin Poole, 1867; J. T. Rogers, 1870; R. W. Bell, 1895; F. B. Edwards, 1900; and J. W. Miller, who assumed the position in 1902, and is still occupying the same to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The sermon of the Rev. Mr. Davidson, the Rector of the Church, was an able one, and was well received by the large number in attendance, and who filled the edifice to more than its full seating capacity. Our report of his remarks are necessarily imperfect, and touches on only a few of the thoughts expressed by him.

At least from one to two hundred people failed to gain admittance to the interesting ceremony.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

To Mr. Wm. Butcher, Previous to His Departure from G.E.R. Works

On Saturday, at noon, Mr. Wm Butcher was the recipient of an address from his fellow employees of the Canadian General Electric Works, as well as a silver cream and sugar set. Mr. Butcher, who has been employed in the carpenter shop for about five years, is severing his connection with the works. The address extolled his virtues as a man, and one whose self sacrificing nature could not fail in winning him friends, one with whom it was impossible to come into contact with without deriving benefit from and one with whom they regretted to part.

Mr. Butcher replied in feeling and suitable terms, expressing appreciation of the gifts and the many kindnesses shown him, and regretted his departure from so many friends.

OLD RESIDENT OF COBOURG DEAD

Father of Mrs. John White, of Peterborough Passes Away

The death of Andrew D. Argue occurred at Cobourg on Thursday last. Deceased was the father of Mrs. John M. White, of this town, and has resided in the frontier town since 1850 in which year he came there from the County Cavan, Ireland. The Sentinel-Star says, that previous to coming to this country he conducted a large business in Clones, County Fermanagh, Ireland. He was married in Clones in 1847 to Margaret Buchanan, who survives him. The deceased came to Cobourg in October, 1850, and commenced a grocery and liquor business, and afterwards was traveller for Calcutt's brewery. Many of our older citizens remember his familiar face well, and his honest, clear business ways impressed themselves upon those who had business with him. Some years ago he retired from active life and has lived quietly at his home on Spencer street. He is survived by his wife, four daughters, Mrs. John M. White, of Peterborough; Mrs. H. M. Love, of Picton; Mrs. R. Hamilton, of Toronto, and Miss. E. J. Salisbury, of Cobourg, and four sons, William, Henry and Andrew, of Cobourg, and Joseph, of Toronto, and four children are dead.

GENERAL STAKELBERG COMPLETELY ISOLATED?

New Japanese Army Intercepts Retreating Force and It is Completely Destroyed

London, June 21.—There are several reports that the retreat of Gen. Stakelberg, who was defeated in the battle of Telissau, is imminently threatened, if it has not already been cut off, and news of his complete isolation is confidently expected here.

POLICE COURT ITEMS

Dog Tag Cases Not to be Settled Out of Court Hereafter

Jeremiah Chaney was before the Magistrate on Saturday morning on a charge of being found drunk on the sidewalk. He acknowledged the crime and was let go with a warning.

There being some dog tag cases settled, the Magistrate let it be understood that no such cases could be longer settled out of court hereafter neither would the fine imposed procure a tag, but parties not complying with the law in this respect, would be compelled to submit to the judgment of the court, and purchase a tag, as well. The collection of this fund caused the police more trouble than any other duty, and it was because many sought to paying for these tags that he had decided on this course. Next year after May he would not be as lenient as he had been this year.

THE ASHBURNHAM WHARF

Repairs Badly Need d—New Wharf Should Be Built

Complaints have reached The Times regarding the condition of what is known as the Ashburnham wharf. It is a disgrace to the community, and is very dangerous.

This wharf was built by Mr. Calcutt, and for years was also maintained by him, not withstanding that all steamboats use it. Mr. Calcutt will no longer look after the wharf, and it is, therefore, in bad shape.

The fact is the Board of Trade or Town Council, or both, should petition the Dominion Government to have a new wharf constructed in Ashburnham, and also a second one built below the locks, on the river at the street railway terminus. These wharves are a public necessity, and should be built without delay.

WILL CROSS RAILWAY TRACKS

Railway Commission Gives the Railway Company Permission to Do So

On Friday, at Ottawa, the Railway Commission handed out judgments in a number of cases which came before it, and amongst them that of the Radial Railway Company, of Peterborough, who applied for the necessary permission to cross the tracks of the C.P.R. and G.T.R. in the town. Peterborough was represented before the Commission by His Worship, Mayor Roger and E. H. D. Hall, the town solicitor; the Radial Railway Company by Messrs R. M. Denistoun and J. H. Larmonth, the manager; the C.P.R. by its solicitor, Mr. Angus McMurchy, of Toronto; and the G.T.R. by Mr. Biggar, of Belleville. The Street Railway Company must contribute 25 per cent. of the cost, so it is said. It is expected, now that this obstacle is removed from the path of the local company, that the street railway will be pushed forward to as early a completion as possible.

FAT CATLLE ARE SCARCE

Information From Various Centres Show Shortage

Toronto, June 18.—A scarcity of fat cattle is being reported from the principal centres in the province, and the price has consequently taken a much firmer tone. The advance in prices have been brought about by a better shipping demand, with a firmer old country market. Prices are much firmer than was anticipated in the early spring and butchers' cattle are showing well sustained strength. At some points available supplies are pretty well cleaned up, but with incoming grass stock a more plentiful supply is anticipated, but insufficient to cause any important drop in quotations. Hogs and sheep are also in great demand, and there is a scarcity of the latter.

HANGED FOR SPORT

Boy 17 Years of Age Strung up Just for Fun

Petrolea, June 20.—A few weeks ago while a number of boys were playing in the woods near town, Clinton Malton, aged 17, placed a rope about the neck of Roy Lammy, aged 11, threw the other end over a limb and hauled the lad clear of the ground. He was suspended about half a minute. Shortly thereafter young Lammy was taken ill with headache, vomiting and bleeding at the nose. The illness was attributed to the hanging and on Thursday last Malton was arrested on a charge of assault. He was remanded until yesterday to await developments. On Tuesday night the Lammy boy died. Yesterday the jury, after hearing the result of the post-mortem, decided that the lad came to his death from natural causes, holding, according to the medical testimony, that Malton's act was not a contributory cause.

Police Magistrate Duncan, after giving some wholesome advice, permitted Malton to go on suspended sentence.

RUSSIA'S POPULATION

Japan is a country virtually of one race. Russia is a nation of many races; very few with a common aim. It is apparent that every inhabitant of Japan is loyal to Japan and its cause, but it is beyond belief to think that every citizen of Russia is heart and soul with the Czar in the present conflict. Russia has been ruled with an iron hand, until it is almost beyond the reign of law. It is a land of discontent. Japan has been ruled wisely and calmly and to-day it is a land of content. Even Russia, with one race would be stronger than it is at present, with a myriad of different blooded people. There is no country on the face of the earth with as mixed a population as Russia, except the United States, and Russia's complete defeat, if it comes can be credited a great deal to its mixed population. There is no common sentiment of loyalty in the land. The people are driven into line by force. Take Britain, Germany or France, an almost united people of one blood, would enthuse over the defence of their country because they have one aim—the welfare of their country.

Will the United States ever reach the condition of Russia? Not unlikely. To-day it is a country of almost as many races as Russia and assimilation is terribly slow. In a great war would the United States have the warm support of all its people? In the case of its native born and its Anglo-Saxon population "yes," but of the rest time will tell.

THE REV. E.W. PICKFORD

FAREWELL TO NEW INCUMBENT AT NORWOOD

The Dufferin Post has the following. Rev. E. W. Pickford, who has been incumbent of the fine Mono West Anglican church for the last eight years, leaves with his family this week for Norwood, Ont., to assume the pastorate of the large Episcopalian congregation at that point. During his residence in this section he has by his affability and kindness made himself popular with all classes and he leaves this district with the good will and best wishes of men of every creed. Rev Mr. Pickford is a ripe scholar and a speaker of force and weight and during his Mono incumbency he discharged his high duties with that energy and devotion. He was especially active and assiduous in his ministrations at times of sickness and death and on these touching occasions he was seldom or never prevented by bad weather or worse roads from discharging his sacred functions, comforting and strengthening the sick and dying and consoling the afflicted Mrs. Pickford, who is a daughter of the late Rev. Mr. Thomson, of Toronto Junction, in his day one of the able and leading Anglican clergymen of Toronto diocese has also been a faithful helpmate to her husband and has shared with him deserved popularity. It is no wonder, therefore, that the intimated departure of Rev Mr. Pickford was the signal for expressions of kindly farewell wishes and substantial tributes of respect and esteem. On Tuesday evening of last week the reverend gentleman was banqueted by Harris Lodge A. F & A. M. of this town, when several officers and members paid eloquent tributes to him as a man and citizen. On Friday evening representatives of St. Matthew's and St Luke's congregation of Mono assembled at the Manse at Cardwell and presented him with a farewell address and a purse of close upon $50. The chair was occupied by Mr. A. O. Scott, merchant and postmaster of Mono Centre, who, as a Presbyterian, said he felt pride and delight in being able to be present to honor a gentleman of the cosmopolitan stamp and character of Mr. Pickford. Mr. Beatty Moore of Mono Centre, also a Presbyterian, was equally complimentary in his tribute. Mr. Mungovan, editor of the Post, said that Rev. Mr Pickford was esteemed by and popular with all because he had realized the high duties of a man in his position and had performed those duties with zeal and unswerving devotion. A neat and feeling address was read on behalf of the congregation by Mr. Wagner, one of the Wycliffe College students at present in charge of the Mono West Mission, and to this address Mr. Pickford replied briefly and touchingly. He said that in discharging his duty he had sought to win the respect and good opinion of men and women of other creeds and that he had at least partially succeeded was proven by the presence there that evening of Methodists, Presbyterians and Roman Catholics. He referred particularly to the unfailing effort he had made to attend the sick and dying. That was a function on which he felt strongly and he could say with truth that during his eight years in their midst he has never failed when at all possible to be at the side of the sick and the dying. The Mono missions were hard to fill and during his incumbency he had driven 20,000 miles. In point of numbers the charges had increased during his term and this was a feature of his seared trust and responsibility which particularly pleased him. He thanked all on behalf of Mrs. Pickford and himself and trusted that Providence would ever bless their many dear friends in these parts. Brief speeches were also made by Messrs. W. J. McKelvey, W. Ewing, Thos. Kidney, Ita Allen, Peter Wilson W. Jackson, Jas. Wilson and others. The company were entertained to a sumptuous lunch and the interesting and memorable proceedings terminated shortly before 11 o'clock. The The congregation of Herald Angel church have since presented Rev. Mr. Pickford with a purse of about $30 and L.O.L. 320, Prince of Wales Road, with a purse of about $20. It is not often that a departing clergyman is so honored on every side, but the reverend gentleman's career in this section has been exemplary, an open book in fact, and his well deserved the practical outcome of sentiment in his favor on the eve of his departure. He begins his incumbency of the important charge at Norwood under the most favorable auspices and the Post joins with his legion of friends in wishing him continued success in his sacred ministrations.

News of the War

Then again the turbines take up very little room in the hold of a vessel. There is, in fact, no engine room on a turbine steamer, in the sense that there are engine rooms on ordinary steamers. The visitor who is privileged to go downstairs sees nothing but a clean compartment, having on the floor three big hat cylinders, each with a valve controlling the passage into it of steam by a pipe from the boilers. No huge cranks, no dripping piston rods, no

His Weight increased Many Pounds His Health and Strength Completely Restored by Ferrosone the Great Food Tonic.

Mr. A. L. Godfrey is well known to everyone in Victoria, where he has been engaged in business for many years. "Last winter I had la grippe" he writes, "and recovered very slowly. When well enough to leave the house I was many pounds lighter than my usual weight. My appetite was poor and my blood was thin. Ferrosone did me untold good. I recovered my weight in a short time and have felt like a different man ever since. I consider Ferrosone a wonderful tonic and a first class remedy for people who are run down. My reasons for believing Ferrosone so good are due to its bringing me health after doctors and many other medicines failed. My weight has increased at least ten pounds, my blood is strong and my system is in a very vigorous condition Ferrosone did it."

FERROSONE PRODUCES NEW TISSUE

From Nelson, B. C., comes the strongest possible proof that Ferrosone is a flesh-making, strengthening remedy. Mrs. G. O. Alker writes;—"A few months ago I was run down, tired, and nervous. I had once before been benefitted by Ferrosone, when living in Boston, and started using it again. Ferrosone at once gave me a splendid appetite, toned up my nerves, and actually made me fat. I used Ferrosone regularly and increased my weight several pounds. My cheeks filled out and became rosy. My nervous trouble disappeared, and I haven't had a single day's illness since using Ferrosone."

Ferrosone supplies the system with nourishment in a condensed form, and builds up weak constitutions to a state of permanent good health. It restores all weak organs, perfects digestion, enriches the blood and fortifies the nerves.

If it is better health you are seeking, you can find it with Ferrosone. Don't be misled into accepting a substitute or any article represented as "just as good." Ferrosone is unexcelled and it is in your interest to get it when you ask for it. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all reliable druggists or by mail from N. C. A HANDSOME MONUMENT.

Is Now Placed Over the Grave of the Late W. A. Sanderson

Many persons, on Thursday afternoon, admired the monument placed over the grave of the late W. A. Sanderson. It is skillfully executed, and is surmounted by a cross at the front of which is the name "Sanderson." The monument itself is made of grey granite and the inscription is on a granite plate at the front of the grave, the lettering differing somewhat from any others.

It is from the Coughlin Monument Works, and is a credit to all concerned in its manufacture and design.

THE "STONY LAKE" LAUNCHED

Splendid New Steamer for Service on the Upper Lake

The splendid new steamer, "Stony Lake," was launched Thursday at Young's Point, in the presence of a large number of people. The boat glided into the water, amid the acclaim of the spectators, as gracefully as could be desired.

The new steamer is a steel frame 94 feet long, with 16 foot beam. She will be propelled by a compound condensing engine of 200 horse power, built by the Bertram Engine Works, Toronto, the steam being generated in a Fitzgibbon boiler. The capacity of the new boat will be 250 passengers, which, Mr. Young thinks, will meet all requirements. The speed of the steamer will be 13 miles per hour, which will put her in the class with the fastest boats on the lakes.

There will be a combined dining room and ladies' cabin, comfortably upholstered, containing modern comforts and conveniences. The ladies' lavatory and toilet room will be aft of the ladies' cabin, and will be fitupholstered, containing modern contad with modern accessories.

A SERIOUS MATTER

New Pavement on George Street Has Not the Proper Grade

The following complaint with reference to a pavement just completed on George street, near Smith street, has been made:—

Peterborough, June 16, '04.

Mayor and Council Town of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—Please accept notice on behalf of my mother, Mrs. Henry Deane, that the sidewalk you are at present constructing on the west side of George street, north of Smith street, in front of her property is not being laid to the proper grade same being too high, which will result in damage to her property. Would further invite your attention to the fact that you are not proceeding under the act under which notice was given for the construction of this work. The act calls for a granolithic sidewalk, notice in the paper calls for a granolithic sidewalk, and the walk that is being placed there at the present time is nothing more than a concrete walk. Kindly accept notice that we will look to you for damages, and in addition we do not propose paying frontage tax on the sidewalk as constructed for the above reasons.

Yours truly,
T. H. G. DENNE.

A CRAMAHE WEDDING

Which was Attended by Some Peterborough People

The nuptials of Miss Annie Mitchell and Mr. John Wesley Newman took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mitchell, of Cramahe, on Wednesday evening last. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Shier, of Norwood, in the presence of a large company of friends. The bride wore a very pretty gown of white voile trimmed with cluny lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Theresa Bailey, of Norham, was bridesmaid, and was gowned in a becoming dress of pale blue organdie, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her father gave the bride away, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Micks, of town. Mr. Orliff Newman, brother of the groom, was best man.

The wedding dinner, which was a recherche affair, was prepared by a caterer from Lakeport, and was served upon the lawn, which, with the many festive decorations, combined to add the charm of novelty to the scene.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome sunburst of diamonds, and that of her father, a piano. Mr. and Mrs. Newman will take up residence in Castleton.

Miss Ethel Thornton, of Peterborough, was one of the guests on the interesting occasion.

High Class Investment

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a numbea of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district. The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern machinery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men of integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

NEW ACTS FROM ABROAD

By the Hungarian Magyars, La Famille Lecuyeon, Mons. Hubert the Martinekz and Others.

The announcement of the great Durepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows coming to Peterborough on Saturday, July 2, indicate that they have not only secured the very best of home talent, but thoroughly ransacked all foreign fields in search of genuine and original thrills and tickles. From abroad come to us for the first time the Szarvasi Frenez Troupe of Hungarian Magyars, whose dances, acrobatic feats and tribal melodies are described as both intensely thrilling and strangely interesting. The gay capital of France lends its most popular equestrian feature in La Famille Lecuyeon, whose combined equestrian and park brake bareback and acrobatic novelties will doubtless amaze all beholders here as they did there, and which are classed as the only absolutely new equestrian performances seen in any arena for half a century. Another arenic European celebrity who for the first time visits this country is Mons. Hubert, his original equestrian acts including leaping from the ground to a horse's back while holding a sulky on high by its thills, and balancing a park cart on his chin, after having performed many novel and difficult juggling acts therein. The four merry Martinekz, who have set all Europe laughing from ear to ear, have been added to the whole comic circus of clowns, which feature this great show was the first to introduce. At the head of all home or foreign acrobatic families stand the Eddys, who will appear in their new and the only aerial stage acrobatic innovation.

Wagon Struck by Car

While driving near the McDonnel street railway crossing yesterday morning, Mr. Samuel Mulligan's waggon was struck by a box car that was being shunted as he passed. Not being able to get out of the way in time, Mr. Mulligan had one of his limbs bruised. Fortunately the accident is not a serious one, but he had a close call all the same. Dr. Morgan dressed the injured member at Nicholls Hospital, and the patient is able to be around again.

Wedding Bells

A very pleasing event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm Mesford, 365 Wellesley street, Toronto, on Thursday, when Miss Florence Eunilda, their only daughter, became the wife of Cecil C. Cragg, M.D., formerly of Peterborough, but now of Calgary. Rev. E. Cragg, of Brighton, father of the groom, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. E. Cragg, of Haliburton, a brother. The bride, who is a granddaughter of Mr. Culling Kardley Knowlys, Heyaham Castle, Lancashire, England, wore the family jewels, diamonds and rubies. She received, among many other beautiful presents, a piano and a substantial check from her father and mother. After a dainty luncheon, Dr. and Mrs. Cragg left on the 1.45 train for Calgary.

—Arrangements have been completed with the railways for Dingieara from all points to Peterborough on the 12th of July. Tickets will be good on the afternoon of the 11th to the 13th.

A Perfect Nose.

Nothing is more rare than a really perfect nose—that is, one which unites harmony of form, correctness of proportion and proper affinity with the other features.

The following are, according to the rules of art, the conditions requisite to the beauty of this organ:

The nose should have the same length as the forehead and have a slight depression at its root. From its root to its extremity it should follow a perfectly straight line, and come exactly over the center of the upper lip. The bridge of the nose, parallel on both sides, should be a little wider in the center. The tip should be neither too thin nor too fleshy, and its lower outline neither narrow nor too wide. The lobes must be gracefully defined by a slight depression. Seen sideways, the lowest part of the nose will have but a third of its total length.

Programmes Worth Fortunes.

London playgoers often grumble at the mere slips of paper, sometimes sold for as much as sixpence, that constitute the programmes of most of the theaters in the great city; but, from the theatrical speculator's point of view, these same printed sheets form a most valuable asset. It is estimated that £80,000 worth of advertisements alone appear every year on these programmes and that a gross profit of quite £50,000 a year is made out of the aggregate lot of programmes. In many cases sums of from £1,000 to £3,000 are paid for the right to farm out the programmes. —London Globe.

The English Husband.

A poor woman in a London parish was consulting me in connection with her domestic troubles, and there was some doubt as to whether her marriage was a legal one, inasmuch as her "husband" (as she had just discovered) appeared to have a wife living from whom he had separated. The woman's pathetic inquiry was, "If he is not my husband, what right has he to knock me about?"—A Clergyman in London Spectator.

Nature's Sweet Restorer.

Blessings on him who invented sleep, the mantle that covers all human thoughts, the food that appeases hunger, the drink that quenches thirst, the fire that warms, the cold that moderates heat and, lastly, the general coin that purchases all things, the balance and weight that equals the shepherd with the king and the simple with the wise.—Cervantes.

A Blemish.

Mrs. Newrich (in art store)—I'd take this picture, but some person has been scribbling on it. Salesman—But, madam, that is the artist's signature. Mrs. Newrich—Well, he's got his nerve. Still, I guess you could scratch it out, couldn't you?

Voices.

All long known objects, even a mere window fastening or a particular door latch, have sounds which are a sort of recognized voice to us—a voice that will thrill and awaken when it has been used to touch deep lying fibers.

Not Compulsory.

"Tell me, colonel," asked the beginner in politics, addressing the gray haired statesman, "can a politician be honest?"

"I suppose so, my boy," replied the veteran, "but—ah!—it isn't necessary."

PROPERTIES SITUATED NEAR SILVERTON, SAN JUAN COUNTY, COLORADO. Properties consist of three groups; namely,—

THE PROSPECT BASIN AND MAMMOTH TUNNEL GROUP of 30 claims and Tunnel site aggregating 570 acres of mineral ground all held by location, and free from any conflict as to title; also in same location, three mill sites and one lode claim, total 25 acres all now being patented.

THE LEAD CARBONATE GROUP, adjoining the Gold King, of 78½ acres all of mineral territory; this group is patented.

THE STONY PASS GROUP, 110 acres in Stony Gulch, surveyed for patent which will shortly be applied for; no adverses; title perfectly clear.

Total area Mineral territory	75[illegible] acres
" " Mill and building sites	55 "
" " Timber properties	90 "
Total	903½ acres

This was the total acreage held at organization of the Stony Pass Mining Company in December 1902. Since that date 230 acres additional have been located in Prospect Basin and surveyed with view of applying for patent at an early day.

Complete Saw Mill plant located in Cement Creek, capacity 20,000 feet per day; Lumber on hand in mill yards and at the Hercules shaft 500,000 feet. Round logs ready for the mill 300,000 feet. Cost to Company approximately $5,400, market value lumber alone $5,100.

TIMBER RESERVES.

Estimated timber, on timber and mineral lands owned by Company, 5,000,000 feet. Contiguous territory controlled by Government from which timber can be had for cutting providing same is used for mineral purposes 40,000,000 feet.

Total cost of development to date, present management,	$53,000.00
" " " " former owners -	18,000.00
" " surface improvements, buildings, saw mill plant, horses, wagons, ore cars, track, tools, etc. -	17,000.00
" " Machinery paid for and to be installed -	6,000.00
	$99,000.00

Above items do not include moneys expended for additional properties since Company was organized, which approximate $26,000.00.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built.

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock, the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3.50 to $4.00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developments. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,

OLD HAGAR'S SECRET

BY MRS. M. J. HOLMES

as with burning cheeks and beating heart she crossed the threshold of the door, pausing not, until the bed was reached—the bed where Hagar lay, her crippled hands folded meekly upon her breast, her white hair shading a whiter face, and a look about her half-shut mouth, as if the thin pale lips had been much used of late to breathe the word "forgive." Maggie had never seen her thus before, and the worn-out, aged face, had something touching in its sad expression, and something startling, too, bidding her hasten, if to that woman she would speak.

"Hagar," she essayed to say, but the word died on her lips, for standing there alone, with the daylight fading from the earth, and the lifelight fading from the form before her, it seemed not meet that she should thus address the sleeper. There was a name, however, by which she called another—a name of love, and it would make the withered heart of Hagar Warren bound, and beat, and throb with untold joy. And Marggret said that name at last, whispering it first softly to herself, then bending down so that her breath stirred the snow-white hair, she repeated it aloud, starting involuntarily as the rude walls echoed back the name "Grandmother!"

"Grandmother!" Through the senses locked in sleep it penetrated, and the dim eyes, once so fiery and black, grew large and bright again, as Hagar Warren woke.

Was it a delusion, that beauteous form which met her view, that soft hand on her brow, or was it Maggie Miller?

"Grandmother," the low voice said again. "I am Maggie, Hester's child. Can you see me? Do you know that I am here?"

Yes, through the films of age, through the films of coming death, and through the gathering darkness, old Hagar saw and knew, and with a scream of joy her shrunken arms wound themselves convulsively around the maiden's neck, drawing her near, and nearer still, until the shrivelled lips touched the cheek of her who did not turn away, but returned that kiss of love.

"Say it again, say that word once more," and the arms closed tighter round the form of Margaret, who breathed it yet again, while the childish woman sobbed aloud: "It is sweeter than the angels' song, to hear you call me so."

She did not ask her when she came—she did not ask her where she had been, but Maggie told her all, sitting by her side with the poor hands clasped in her own; then, as the twilight shadows deepened in the room, she struck a light, and coming near to Hagar, said, "Am I much like my mother?"

"Yes, yes, only more winsome," was the answer, and the half-blind eyes looked proudly at the beautiful girl bending over the humble pillow.

"Do you know that?" Maggie asked, holding to view the ambrotype of Hester Hamilton.

For an instant Hagar wavered, then hugging the picture to her bosom, she laughed and cried together, whispering as she did so: "My little girl, my Hester, my baby that I used to sing to sleep, in our home away over the sea."

Hagar's mind was wandering amid the scenes of bygone years, but it soon came back again to the present time, and she asked of Margaret whence that picture came. In a few words, Maggie told her, and then for a time there was silence, which was broken at last by Hagar's voice, weaker now than when she spoke before.

"Maggie," she said, "what of this Arthur Carrollton? Will he make you his bride?"

"He has so promised," answered Maggie. Hagar continued: "He will take you to England, and you will be a lady, sure. Margaret, listen to me. 'Tis the last time we shall ever talk together, you and I, and I am glad that it is so. I have greatly sinned, but I have been forgiven, and I am willing now to die. Everything I wished for has come to pass, even the hearing you call me that blessed name, but, Maggie, when to-morrow they say that I am dead—When you come down to look upon me lying here asleep—you needn't call me 'Grandmother,' you may say 'poor Hagar,' with the rest. And, Maggie, is it too much to ask that your own hands will arrange my hair, fix my cap, and straighten my poor crooked limbs for the coffin? And if I should look decent, will you, when nobody sees you do it—Madam Conway, Arthur Carrollton, nobody who is proud—will you, Maggie, kiss me once for the sake of what I've suffered that you might be what you are?"

"Yes, yes, I will," was Maggie's answer, her tears falling fast, and a fear creeping into her heart, as by the dim candle light she saw a nameless shadow settling down on Hagar's face.

The servant entered at this moment, and glancing at old Hagar, sunk into a chair, for she knew that shadow was death.

"Maggie," and the voice was now a whisper, "I wish I could once more see this Mr. Carrollton. 'Tis the nature of his kin to be sometimes overbearing, and though I am only old Hagar Warren, he might heed my dying words, and be more thoughtful of your happiness. Do you think that he would come?"

Ere Maggie had time to answer, there was a step upon the floor, and Arthur Carrollton stood at her side. He had waited for her long, and growing at last impatient, had stolen to the open door, and when the dying woman asked for him he had trampled down his pride, and entered the humble room. Winding his arm round Margaret, who trembled violently, he said, "Hagar, I am here. Have you aught to say to me?"

Quickly the glazed eyes turned toward him, and the clammy hand was timidly extended. He took it unhesitatingly, while the pale lips murmured faintly "Maggie, too." Then holding both between her own, old Hagar said solemnly: "Young man, as you hope for heaven, deal kindly with my child," and Arthur Carrollton answered aloud: "As I hope for heaven, I will," while Margaret fell upon her knees and wept. Raising herself in bed, Hagar laid her hands upon the head of the kneeling girl, breathing over her a whispered blessing, then the hands pressed heavily, the fingers clung with a loving grasp, as it were, to the hands of shining hair—the thin lips ceased to move—the head fell back upon the pillow, motionless and still, and Arthur Carrollton, leading Margaret away, told to her gently that Hagar was dead.

* * * * *

Carefully, tenderly, as if she had been a wounded dove, did the whole household demean themselves toward Margaret, seeing that everything needful was done, but mentioning never in her presence the name of the dead. And Margaret's position was a trying one, for though Hagar had been her grandmother, she had never regarded her as such, and she could not now affect a grief she did not feel. Still, from her earliest childhood she had loved the strange old woman, and she mourned for her now as friend mourneth for friend, when there is no tie of blood between them.

Her promise, too, was kept, and with her own hands she smoothed the snow-white hair, tied on the muslin cap, folded the stiffened arms, and then, unmindful who was looking on, kissed twice the placid face, which seemed to smile on her in death.

By the side of Hester Hamilton they made another grave, and with Arthur Carrollton and Rose standing at either side, Margaret looked on while the weary and worn was laid to rest; then slowly she retraced her steps, walking now with Madam Conway for Arthur Carrollton and Rose had lingered at the grave, talking together of a plan which had presented itself to the minds of both as they stood by the humble stone which told where Margaret's mother slept. To Margaret, however, they said not a word, nor yet to Madam Conway, though they both united in urging the two ladies to accompany Theo to Worcester for a few days.

"Mrs. Warner will help me keep house," Mr. Carrollton said, advancing the while so many good reasons why Margaret at least should go, that she finally consented and went down to Worcester, together with

A RARE CHANCE

FOR CANADIAN INVESTORS

THOMAS PATTERSON & CO.
BROKERS, PETERBOROUGH

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

CRIPPLE CREEK ENTERPRISE GOLD MINING COMPANY

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non-assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

ENEMY'S VESSELS ON THE SEAS

This is the Signal Carried by Japanese Ships

PURSUED BY THE JAPANESE

Some Apprehensions is Felt in Japan and St. Petersburg is Delighted

Tokio, June 18.—In the absence of any official or authoritative account of the sortie of the Vladivostock squadron it is only possible to send what appears to be the most reliable of the numerous reports. The squadron, reported to consist of the cruisers Rurik, Russia and Gromoboi, and, according to some accounts, of a flotilla of torpedo boats, arrived Tuesday in the Strait of Corea, whence sounds of cannonading were heard on the Japanese and Corean coasts. It is stated that the Russians bombarded the Island of Ikine, which lies half way between the Island of Tsushima and the Japanese mainland. It is reported that the Japs warships at Sasebo and elsewhere hastened in the direction of the firing and that the cruiser Nitaka encountered the Russians off Tsushima island. The Nitaka was severely damaged, but at last reports was still trying to keep in touch with the enemy. The Japanese transports Ungo Maru and Fugo Maru, homeward bound, had previously been sighted by the Russians, who pursued them, firing sixteen shots, but the transports reached Katasumoto safely

Another account says that the Russians intercepted three laden Japanese transports, two of which are missing. The steamship Iburi Maru, which left Moji for Bakan at ten p.m., June 14, returned at midday yesterday, flying the signal, "The enemy's vessels are on the seas."

The Iburi Maru subsequently reported seeing the merchant steamer Mitachi Maru fired upon at six o'clock in the morning. She also saw another steamer surrounded by the Russians. Another report states that the Russians met some Japanese steamers north of Ikishima Island, some of them outward bound from Moji, while others were from the west. The warships fired on them causing great damage.

The lack of definite news is attributed to fog and rough weather. The arrival of the enemy's cruisers close to the Japanese coast is causing excitement, although it is declared that no city is exposed to attack, there is considerable anxiety regarding shipping, it being known that there are a number of unescorted vessels at sea.

FIGHT IN PROGRESS IN KOREAN STRAIT

Vladivostok Squadron in Touch With Jap Fleet.

Tokio, June 15.—The entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur, having been cleared of obstructions, is now open for the passage of ships in and out. Yesterday the Russian protected cruiser Novik steamed out to sea and engaged with vessels of the Japanese blockading fleet.

DAILY SKIRMISHES.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—A despatch from Mukden says that the Japanese army besieging Port Arthur is in line at Ying Ching Tse, and Wong Fang Tien, and that there are daily skirmishes between the outposts. The correspondent says that the rumors of an assault on Port Arthur have not been confirmed.

A RUMOR DENIED.

Chefoo, June 15.—A letter received here from Liao Yang says that the Russians are not downcast over recent reverses. The Russian report that the Japanese had suffered a reverse north of Kin Chou has not been confirmed.

A Russian merchant who was at Kin Chou at the time of the recent battle there, and who accompanied the Russian army on its retreat to Port Arthur, has arrived here in a junk. He states that, as far as he could see and learn, all the crippled Russian warships at Port Arthur, with the exception of the battleship Pobedia, had been repaired. Whether the repairs were permanent he was unable to say.

RUSSIANS ARE STRICTER.

New Chwang, June 14.—There are persistent rmors here of severe fighting south of Kai Chou, which it is impossible to confirm. Two messengers sent out on the night of June 12 have returned, having been unable to pass the Russian lines at Kai Chou. They say that the Russians are becoming more strict about allowing natives to pass their lines.

It is believed here that the Russians are moving a force of 65,000 men south, only to make it appear as though they were attempting to relieve Port Arthur, and that upon the first encounter with the enemy it will be withdrawn north again.

KUROPATKIN'S FORCE.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The appointment of Lieut.-Gen. Leonides Dembowski as commander of the Fifth East Siberian Army Corps, is evidence that larger reinforcements are to be placed at Gen. Kuropatkin's disposal. The four corps originally formed of Siberian troops are mobilized in Manchuria, and other drafts have been sent out to the Far East. The organization of the new corps independent of the Russian corps now ordered out from European Russia shows that Kuropatkin now has almost 200,000 troops, irrespective of frontier and railroad guards, and that probably he has an effective army of 160,000 men at Liao Yang. Gen. Dembowski is a distinguished strategist. He participated in the Russo-Turkish War, and was commander of the Grenadier Corps after the war. Later he became head of the Pauli infantry School, and held that position till two years ago. Since then, he has been on the personal staff of the War Minister.

THE ARRIVAL OF STEAMER TURBINA

First Merchant Turbine Vessel to Cross the Atlantic

CROSSED SEA IN SIX DAYS

Some Particulars as to the Machinery by Which the Vessel is Propelled

Montreal, June 18—The Turbina, the first turbine vessel to enter this port and the first merchant turbine to cross the Atlantic, has arrived at Allan pier. The vessel had a stormy passage. It made the crossing in six days, though running almost at half speed the entire voyage. The salt water has left its mark on the funnels and upper woodwork, yet the vessel has stood the strain remarkably well.

In addition to the crew, the president of the company, Mr J Moody, was on board. Mr Allan made the run from Father Point, and inspected her throughout.

The new steamer, which was built by Messrs. R & W. Hawthorne, Leslie & Co., Newcastle-on-Tyne, for the Turbine Steamship Company (Ltd.), Hamilton, Ontario, is 260 feet in length, 33 feet in breadth, 20 feet 9 inches in depth, measures 1,000 tons gross and will carry 2,000 passengers.

Her engines consist of three Parsons turbines, supplied by the Parsons Marine Steam Turbine Company, Wallsend-on-Tyne which mechanism is fitted to all the turbine steamers built in Britain.

Lord Kelvin has said that the Parsons steam turbine is the greatest advance made since the days of Watt and engineers all round have hailed it as something entirely new and revolutionary, something with a future of which no one can indicate the possibilities.

THE TURBINE PRINCIPLE.

To begin as crudely and simply as possible. Suppose the sails of a windmill, in a compact form, were fixed on a shaft, that shaft enclosed in a tube, and wind drawn at high pressure through the tube, what would happen? The shaft would, of course, revolve. It would not be able to do any practical work of value, but the illustration is apt and clear.

THE STEAM MARINE TURBINE.

If steam be substituted and the shaft clothed with thousands of small "sails" or vanes, as they are called in turbine phraseology, set in rows round about, then when the steam is let in at one end of the tube it strikes the sides of the vanes and forces the shaft round, just as the wind drives the axis of a windmill. But the steam after striking the first row of vanes would have no further power and would escape to the other end of the tube and out at the exhaust without doing any more work. This would be so wasteful of steam as to be totally impractical as an engine, so the contrivance is elaborated still more. Behind the first row of vanes is placed not on the shaft but on the inside of the tube, a row of vanes similar to those on the shaft, and going down behind the latter in a sort of dovetail. The result of this arrangement is that the steam after striking on and glancing off the vanes on the moving shaft, strike on the stationary vanes on the inside of the tube or cylinder and off them strike on the second row of vanes on the moving shaft, and so on all through many rows of vanes, until it reaches the other end of the cylinder, where it escapes into the exhaust. In its course through the cylinder it describes a zig-zag line continuously striking off a line of fixed vanes on to a line of moving vanes and in its endeavor to rush straight along, drives the shaft round.

This in its essence is the marine steam turbine. Of course, it has to be made with the most extreme accuracy and in its manufacture there are secrets known only to the patentee—the Hon. C. A. Parsons—and his staff but this description will help the untechnical to see that the turbine is totally different from the reciprocating engine. It works by the rushing power of the steam towards the line of least resistance.

THE QUESTION OF REVERSING.

The great difficulty with the turbine so far has been the question of reversing. This difficulty is overcome by fitting on each shaft an "astern turbine" with the blades set the opposite way to those on the other, and an arrangement of valves for letting the steam in at the other end of the cylinder. So that when the vessel has to go suddenly astern the engineer has to first shut off steam from the ahead turbine and then allow it into the astern turbine. This, it must be admitted, is but a crude contrivance and even when it works well and the engineer is thoroughly expert, the vessel cannot be stopped or manoeuvred at piers as smartly as a steamer with the old type of engines. But this difficulty, too, will be overcome as the invention is developed still further.

ADVANTAGES OF TURBINE VESSELS.

The new engine is by its very nature a high speed engine. It must run fast or not at all. So as shafts with propellers of ordinary size could not be driven so fast as the turbine runs—the propellers would be smashed up in the shortest time—the power is distributed over three shafts—one in the centre of the boat and Tokio, June 16.—The Russian hope of relieving the pressure on Port Arthur by threatening the rear of Gen. Oku, the commander of the Japanese forces investing the Russian stronghold, came to an end yesterday at Telissue, a point on the railroad 50 miles north of Kinchau and 35 miles north of Vafangow, when the Russians were outmanoeuvred, enveloped and sweepingly defeated. They left more than 500 dead on the field and the Japanese captured 800 prisoners and 14 quick-firing guns. The Russians retreated hastily to the northward.

The Japanese charge that the Russians violated the Japanese flag. Certain officers aver that during the fighting a body of Russian soldiers appeared carrying a Japanese flag, adn that the Japanese artillery, deceived by this flag, ceased firing on that particular body of Russians. Official dispatches from the Japanese commanders made specific charges of this flag violation.

Early estimates of the Japanese losses at Telissu say that 1,000 men were killed or wounded,

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Smuggler Gold Mining Co.'s Proposition

of which I am the authorized agent

Investments in mining stocks where they can be purchased cheaply whose property contains merit and whose directors are men of unquestionable honor and integrity, and especially when sufficient work has been done to guarantee a producing mine and the leads have been demonstrated to be permanent, offer the greatest opportunity for large returns from modest investments.

The shrewdest capitalists of England and America are giving more attention to mining properties and putting more money into them than at any time in the past history of the world.

The Smuggler Group consists of five full sized claims; to-wit:—The Smuggler, Gangon, Black Jack, Star and Red Rock, located in the Greenhorn District of Eastern Oregon. Surrounding mines are Potosi, Pride of Pendleton, Bonanza and Rockefeller, developing work to the extent of 1,000 feet of tunnelling, drifts and crosscuts have been made, exposing hundreds of tons of high grade ore, averaging from $25 to $45 per ton, based on smelter returns and for the purpose of equipping the mines a limited number of shares of Treasury Stock will be sold at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.00.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals — the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 285 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1898.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

Toronto, December 10, 1903.

The Hon. S. Hewitt, M.D., or Mr. W. J. Gage, Toronto, will receive and acknowledge any contributions made.

Treat with scientific physicians and be cured. Avoid quacks. E. A. Sidney, of Toledo, says: "At the age of 14, I learned a bad habit and at 19 contracted a serious disease. I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Drs. K. & K., who had cured him. Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. The drains ceased, wormy veins disappeared, nerves grew stronger, hair stopped falling out, urine became clear and my sexual organs vitalized. Above Statement Can be Easily Verified

The following two facts alone will give anyone familiar with mining a rough idea of the great value of the property.

The Copper King Group contains one vein 30 feet wide, 8 feet of which runs from $10 to $100 per ton, and the Company owns 9,000 feet on this vein.

Ore running from $18 to $50 per ton is continually being shipped from the gold property, and 24 samples taken from widely different portions of the vein system averaged $48.25 per ton.

FACILITIES—The Company owns 1,720 acres of placer and timber land. Water power of 800 (minimum) horse power. No expensive shaft work necessary. Ore easily treated on Company's property, thus saving freight and smelter charges.

KEEP MILITIA OUT OF POLITICS

Is Doctrine Which Needs to Be Proclaimed Says London Globe

OTHER BRITISH JOURNALS

Continue the Discussion of the Latest Development of Dundonald Fisher incident

London, June 18.—The Globe says "The fact that Lord Dundonald may have erred in the manner of making his protest is no excuse for the cavalier treatment he has received. His protest stands for the sound doctrine that the interests of a political party should never be allowed to come before those of the country and the Empire, and that is a doctrine which needs to be proclaimed and upheld."

THE YORKSHIRE OBSERVER.

The Yorkshire Daily Observer says "The people of Canada cannot afford to be as easy going in this matter as the people of this country have hitherto shown themselves and their vindication of constitutional government against militarist encroachment must be welcomed even though the occasion of friction be profoundly regretted."

THE LIVERPOOL MERCURY.

The Liverpool Mercury says. "In the steps which Lord Dundonald took to remedy what he thought was a scandal, he put himself completely in the wrong." The Mercury thinks that the Imperial Government should have been consulted before an officer of Lord Dundonald's rank and reputation was subjected to the ignominy of dismissal.

THE SOUTH WALES NEWS.

The South Wales Daily News says "We shall learn sooner or later that it is impracticable to rule the Colonies from Downing street as it is foolish to think they can be bound to us by a mere cash nexus."

THE PALL MALL GAZETTE.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that Lord Dundonald's indiscretion may have the effect of stimulating Canadian public men to keep their system above suspicion.

"The following night was quiet until two in the morning, when a fusillade began on our right flank, along the line of our outposts At 5.30 in the morning the Japanese artillery opened on our left flank. Shortly before this hour cavalry discovered on our right flank the presence southward of Fafan Chou of a considerable force of the enemy. The Japanese infantry open fire on our cavalry occupying the heights between Tafan Chou and Lan Chou, on the edge of a wood. Towards 6.30 the enemy, consisting of a regiment of infantry with artillery attacked from these woods. At the same time the cannonade on our left flank became heavier. At 6.30 General Baron Stakelberg passed with part of his force to the attack, turning the right flank of the enemy towards Wa Fang Tien Chow, and directing the other part of his force against the enemy's the enemy's front

RUSSIANS OUTFLANKED.

Towards ten in the morning the enemy sent a brigade of infantry, cavalry and a battery of artillery against our right flank and, having repulsed our detachments of cavalry proceeded through Hun Chou, turning the right flank of our position. Gen. Stakelberg at 10.30 in the evening advanced his reserves to check this movement.

BROKERS SUSPEND

McMillan and Maguire, Stock Brokers Make an Announcement

It came as a surprise to many in financial circles on Thursday, when the announcement was made that McMillan & Maguire, stock brokers, with their head office at the corner of King and Yonge streets, Toronto, had suspended. The firm had a branch office on Hunter street, in this town, and, consequently, had more or less interest to some people here. The local office is said to have been managed very successfully by Mr. E. S. Clarry, and the misfortune of the firm is said to be one of a series of incidents, no less than three of their agents failing recently, and making them responsible for heavy amounts. The Globe refers to the matter as follows;

Mr. D. F. Maguire, when interviewed by The Globe yesterday, said: "Our suspension was due to the failure of our New York, and Chicago correspondents, viz.: Floyd, Crawford & Co., C. W. Stauvel, and W. H. Laidley. We are now going through our books and cannot yet say anything regarding our liabilities. We have called a meeting of creditors for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

"Why did they fail?"

"Well, Laidley had too many wires on a dull market. They must have paid $50,000 a month for wires. Our own wire to Toronto, Kingston and Buffalo cost $30,000 a year. On all their wires there must have been over 120 offices. Now, all the markets are declining, and there is not enough business.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 325 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,494 to 2,594, a decrease of 750, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1900.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of these in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Fine Weather Gives Relief from Catarrh

But Never Cures It Because the Germs are Still Alive Though Inactive. First Kill the Germs Then You'll be Really Cured.

Catarrh germs are carried into the throat and lungs by the air we breathe. In the same way the remedy must be applied. To be effectual the cure must be breathed, for otherwise it can't get where the germs really are.

Mix your germ-killing medicine with air, breathe it right into all the little air cells where the catarrh really is, then you'll get cured quickly. This is exactly the way Catarrhozone acts. You inhale its medicated vapor to the very source of the disease. It destroys the cause of the inflammation, kills all the microbes that develop when the lining membranes become diseased. Besides this Catarrhozone is a wonderful healer. Every sore spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue. All the poisonous secretions that have been putrifying the system are driven out. No trace of catarrh remains after Catarrhozone has been used.

Why don't you use Catarrhozone? Its the simplest thing in the world to use, and so sure to cure permanently that you really can't afford to be without it.

MISS R. M. PETERS is known by every resident in the pretty town of Highland Grove. She was cured by Catarrhozone of systematic catarrh and says; "For three years before I commenced using Catarrhozone I was continually bothered by a congested condition of my nose and throat. I was sneezing and coughing all the time and really never felt well. I perservered with Catarrhozone and was rewarded by being entirely cured. My recovery prompted others in this locality to use Catarrhozone, and many of them have had remarkable cures from using it."

MISS LOUISE MURPHY a well known society belle residing at 22 Monument St., Medford, writes; "Kindly forward me three outfits of Catarrhozone which I have found most valuable for catarrhal affections of the nose and throat. Catarrhozone cured me of weak lungs and really saved me from consumption. I am recommending Catarrhozone above all other treatments, knowing what great curative powers it possesses. I know others who have also benefitted by Catarrhozone."

Catarrhozone is perfectly harmless and may be used with perfect safety by the most delicate infant. Instead of deadening the stomach with drugs, it sends the healing vapor along with the air you breathe into every air cell and passage of the nose, throat, lungs and bronchial tubes. Catarrhozone can't fail, it's sure to cure. If not satisfied you can have your money back for the asking. Two months' treatment, hard rubber inhaler and extra bottle of inhalent costs $1.00, sample size 25c. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont., Can.

The Party Paper

The independent press of Canada, which is daily becoming more powerful, make take heart from the wonderful decadence of strictly party papers in the United States. The Boston Herald says: How many party organs are there left among the great newspapers of the country? They can be counted on one's fingers, and the few that are left are not always to be relied upon as truly loyal. The most marked change in American journalism of late years has been its development of independence.

Death of Rev. Mr. Barrett

Only some two weeks ago at the conference meeting held in this town, three young men were received into the Methodist ministry. One of the young men was C. W. Barrett, who has been so suddenly bereaved by the loss of his parent. Deceased was ill when the young man was in town and, being acquainted of the fact, left rather hurriedly to be in attendance at his bedside. On reaching home he found him in a critical state and an operation necessary. This he was unable to stand, in his weakened condition, and he gradually grew worse, until death relieved him of his sufferings.

Farm Help Scarce

The Ontario farmers will have to raise the wages of the hired man if they want Scotch ploughmen. Mr. J. Bruce Walker, Canadian agent at Liverpool, says in a letter: "When I approach a thoroughly competent ploughman and ask him to pay his way to Toronto, and work in a strange country under unknown conditions for a wage only equal to or perhaps a little less than he has been getting, the smile is broad, audible, and unsatisfactory. In addition the coStch farm laborer works all the year round. Mr. H. F. Kylie, of Oakville, who was sent as a special agent from Ontario, also states that the Ontario farmers will have to pay better wages.

On Their Way to Buckhorn

The following gentlemen and their wives composed an automobile party, who were in town yesterday on their way to Buckhorn, and who stopped at the Oriental for dinner: Messrs. F. W Baillie and Frank Ralph. The auto was equipped with a 24 h.p. propelling apparatus, and cost $4,200. The next hill their homes in Toronto on Saturday between three and four o'clock, and put up at Port Hope for the night, reaching town between eleven and twelve on Sunday. While here the car was examined by quite a few, and many others admired its beautiful appearance and commodious proportions.

Wedded in Montreal

The following, taken from the Montreal Star, will interest many in Peterborough, the bride being the sister of Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Davidson:

"At St. James' the Apostle Church, on Saturday afternoon, the marriage took place very quietly of Miss Naomi Lewis, daughter of Mr. F. J. Lewis, of Claridebolje avenue, Westmount, to Mr. G. B. Mitchell. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white china silk trimmed with lace, and wore a tulle veil and orange blossoms. Her boquet was of white roses. Miss Edith Lewis, sister of the bride, who was bridesmaid, wore pale blue silk, a pale blue organdie over pale blue silk a pale blue chiffon hat, and carried pink roses. Mr. Geo. Jackson acted as best man. There was no reception after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left for their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a navy blue cloth costume, with blue and white hat, and a white silk blouse. On their return they will reside at 4090 Tupper street."

—The members of Court Stanley, A.O.F., will attend service at St. Andrew's church Sunday evening, June 26th.

—The potato market has dropped to rise no more this season. The Americans have ceased buying here owing to ample shipments of new potatoes from the south, and Toronto and Montreal are now glutted with our old stock. Farmers will now regret holding back when they were offered boom prices. Buyers are reluctant to trust the market just now at any figure.

SMASH AT COFFEE

By An Earnest, Honest Clergyman

A Pennsylvania clergyman found there was something wrong so went to the bottom of a very important matter where he learned the truth and made a report for the benefit of others, in which he says:

"When a student at Cornell University in '94 I tampered somewhat with coffee and also smoked moderately, and strange to relate coffee was my bitter enemy far in excess of cigars or tobacco. This conclusion was reached after a careful test and not guesswork. After my graduation I went into the school room where I was a teacher for some years until I was finally compelled to refrain from the use of coffee altogether. I proved that it destroyed my thinking powers, hampered concentration and produced bilious tendencies which finally resulted in complete physical collapse.

"So I got a grocer to order a dozen packages of Postum for me and began using it, found it delicious and when I showed them how to prepare it according to the directions on the package many persons in that community were soon using it regularly in place of tea and coffee.

"I am now pastor of the First Baptist church and once or twice in my pastoral visits have visited a cup of coffee, but every time I have to pay the same penalty of a restless night and unsettled stomach.

"Postum seems to give me back my head again, in fact my blood is toned and strengthened, my bowels regulated and my general system entirely built up, so much so that I regard Postum a God-send to the busy man or woman, especially those of sedentary habits, because of its brain restoring power. My wife gets just as good benefits from Postum as I do and is as loud in its praise.

"We owe our very best selves to God and the home, and as alcohol, tobacco, coffee and tea are great causes of nervousness, disturbed liver and other ailments which render us unfit to serve our Maker or fellow beings, therefore I most respectfully recommend Postum as a delicious, nonstimulant, wholly temperate and upbuilding food tonic in place of the stimulants and slow poisons." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

The Dinner Pail

Of the American working man is generally well filled. In some cases it is too well filled. It contains too many kinds of food, and very often the food is of the wrong kind—hard to digest and containing little nutrition. As a consequence many a working man develops some form of stomach trouble which interferes with his health and reduces his working capacity.

Where there is indigestion or any other indication of disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will almost invariably produce a perfect and permanent cure.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub Station C, Columbus, O., Box 29, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my limbs got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints of man, the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had grown old in the thinking that I could not be cured. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would continue, and taking eight bottles in all made the cure complete. I was completely cured. I had gained eleven pounds (77 pounds). I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

OUR HARD LOT

This G.T.J. has to Apologize for Reporting Police Court

A few days ago The Times published a report of the doings at the Police Court in which a young man figured. The party in question called and kindly offered to lambaste the editor for putting his name in the paper. This (this great family journal of course offered to apologize, as it was got partial to lambasting in any form.

It was ever thus. If this g.f.j. makes a mistake it has to apologize, but if a doctor or a druggist makes one they bury it. If we make a mistake there is a libel suit, tall swearing and a smell of sulphur, but if a doctor makes one there is a funeral, flowers and a smell of varnish. The doctor can use all kinds of big words; ask him to spell them as we have to do. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife he will charge for his visits, if this g.f.j. calls on another man's wife he gets a charge of buckshot. The editor's bed is indeed not one of roses.

TO PUNISH BRUTAL POLICE

The Tribunals Inflict Punishment of Flogging on the Prisoners Police Hanged

St. Petersburg, June 21.—Orgapized resistance to the police is reported from various points in the interior. The peasants appear to be catching the belligerent spirit of the urban workers.

The people of Poland, where the political and social developments of the proletariat is higher than in other parts of Russia have established secret tribunals to deal with spies and brutal police agents.

Twenty trials took place before this tribunal between June 1 and June 10. The persons convicted were severely flogged. The offenders generally were subjected to the same form of punishment inflicted on the workers and peasants.

In a melee near Warsaw recently, a colonel of gendarmes, his assistant, the local chief of police and two police were killed while attempting arrests. Four police agents were found hanged in a neighboring wood.

THE NEW YORK DISASTER

A Canadian's Impression of the Latest Horror

Ottawa, June 21.—Mr. G. H. Wilson of the Journal, has returned from New York. He was there the day of the Gen. Slocum disaster and the following day and got an idea of the effect of a disaster in a big city. Contrary to what one might have expected of the result on the public of a horror much worse than the Chicago theatre horror, there might as well not have been a disaster at all, so far as outward appearances of the city went. Except for the newspaper extras, which were shouted everywhere, the city was undisturbed. Crowds gathered around the bulletin and present, but in a few minutes it was noticed that he was breathing and the current was again applied for the forty seconds.

Schiller was again pronounced dead and the body was unstrapped and laid on the floor of the execution room. The crowd that witnessed the attempt to electrocute the man was discovering when the physicians again discovered signs of breathing. Ward n Horsey was hurriedly called and Schiller was again strapped in the chair.

The current was then applied at 1,800 volts and was kept on for a full minute after which he was pronounced dead for the third time, the physicians fully satisfied themselves that life was extinct.

Street Scene in Nagasaki

RUSSIA IS UTTERLY AT MERCY OF JAPAN

British Critics Believes That Russia is Unable to Cope With The Japs

St. Petersburg, June 21.—Military opinion is outraged by the disaster to the Russian arms at Vafangow and Telissu. General Kuropatkin is denounced in unmeasured terms. It is asserted that after the Emperor, rejecting the counsel of the civilian element in the court, commanded Kuropatkin to use his own judgment, the Russian general yielded to the temptation to compromise his opponents in St. Petersburg sufficiently to project a hazardous tentative movement toward the rear of the besegers of Port Arthur. Hence it is declared that the commander-in-chief attempting to sit on two stools, fell between them. With further disastrous consequences to Russia's chances in the war, much language is heard in military circles in this connection which is too violent to print. The Liberals aver that all things are working together to discredit the government in the eyes not only of the educated unofficial public but also of patriotic men of every station in the national service.

REJOICING IN JAPAN.

Tokio, June 21.—Public dismay due to Admiral Skrydloff's exploits in the Corea Strait is lost in rejoicing in the defeat administered to the Russians under Stakelberg at Vafangow. This battle comes as a surprise to all classes since the opinion was universal that Kuropatkin would withdraw Stakelberg's forces before the army defending General Oku's rear could get into close quarters with it. In other words, some expected the Russians to repeat the mistake of the Yalu and declare their retreat until the overwhelming numbers of the Japanese involved them in defeat.

It is not believed by the military council that Kuropatkin hopes to relieve Port Arthur. It is convinced that not even a Russian Moolbov could have dreamed it practicable for Stakelberg's force, however skilfully supported by the troops the Russians dared detach from the main army at Liao Yang and Mukden to alter the situation on the peninsula. It is supposed that only a diversion was intended to check the general Japanese advance, delay the storming of Port Arthur and thereby promote the principal object of Russian strategy to gain time. However, the Russians went about their work clumsily and suffered greater loss in the south than they possibly could have gained in the north, because of any resultant delay. Moreover, the end is not yet. The Japanese hope to intercept Stakelberg at Haicheng and compel Kuropatkin to come to his assistance. Then they would swing around on the railway north of Mukden and bring th whole campaign to an immediate climax.

HEARD IN LONDON.

London, June 21.—Russia's naval and military leaders appear stricken with fatal mental heaviness," says an executive committee man of the Naval League to a Daily Star correspondent. "Everything they initiate is behind hand," he continued. "They waited till the Japanese were swarming in Southern Manchuria, equipped with all the necessities of war, and then sent the Vladivostock squadron careening about the seas, uselessly inviting destruction. This intrepid raid might have been made a few weeks ago with terrible results to the Japanese transports. Similarly, Kuropatkin waited until the enemy had the Liao Tung peninsula in overwhelming force and then dispatched a raiding column south not indeed in the hope of relieving Port Arthur, but to harass and retard the invaders while reinforcements accumulated at Mukden. If the Russian general wanted to take such risks, why did he not act while the Mikado's troops were landing, and before they had intrenched and fortified themselves and placed heavy guns at all the strategic points in the southern half of the theatre of war? The policy of the czar's admirals and generals seems explicable only on the theory that they are utterly incompetent to combat with the Japanese."

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure IT IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

boards, but they were but little greater than is usual daily. The disaster affected a portion of New York's tenement house district, about three-quarters of a mile square, but outside of that area (where, of course, scenes of terrible pathos were enacted) the busy city seemed to know or care but little. As an example of the lack of effect on the mass it may be said that the very next day after the disaster two large excursion steamers, crowded with Sunday school pupils went down the East river, over the same route taken by the ill-fated "Gen. Slocum."

They passed the wreck. Both vessels stopped. The band on one played "Nearer My God to Thee," and the band on the other, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." General excursion steamers also carried big crowds in different directions undisturbed by the previous day's disaster.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Circular Issued by the Port Hope Canal Association

The Port Hope Canal Association has issued a circular pointing out the advantages of that town as an outlet for the Trent Valley Canal. It is pointed out that a ravine extends all the way from Rice Lake to Port Hope, making a natural channel. The distance from the Otonabee river to Port Hope is 19 miles, of which 13 1-2 miles is cantage, while the distance to Trenton is 58 miles improved river navigation. These are the figures given in the circular, in which it is also stated that the canal to Port Hope could be easily enlarged if necessary, to 14 feet, there being little or no rock, while the Trenton route would involve a great deal of rock cutting. It is claimed also that Port Hope has much the better harbor.

The decision of the question must depend largely upon technical and local knowledge, and all that can be said is that the matter ought to be carefully and impartially investigated. The town of Port Hope and the adjacent municipalities have asked for a fair, impartial and exhaustive survey of both routes by an independent engineer, and this seems to be a reasonable request.

SHOCKING PRISON AFFAIR

A MURDERER THREE TIMES TO THE CHAIR

Twice Pronounced Dead but Physician Discovered Distinct Signs of Life Third Shock Produced Death

Columbus, Ohio, June 20. — Michael Schiller, wife murderer, Youngstown, was electrocuted in the annex at the Ohio penitentiary early one morning last week. It was the most unsatisfactory electrocution ever performed in this state.

Twice Schiller was pronounced dead but it was not until the third shock had been applied that life became extinct.

Schiller went to the electric chair without any apparent show of emotion or collapse. He was strapped in the chair and the electric current of 1,750 volts was applied for fifty-three seconds. The condemned man was pronounced dead by the four physicians present.

THE ROCKLAND HOUSE FIRE

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATES IT

Coroner of Opinion that the Fire was of Incendiary Origin

Shortly after the burning of the Rockland, the Bobcaygeon Council communicated with the Attorney-General's Department, Toronto, and after some delay occasioned by the staff at the disposal of the Department being engaged, Detective and Provincial Coroner J. E. Rogers opened an investigation at the Town Hall on Wednesday morning last. Mr. Rogers presided and Mr. W. E. Smith, barrister appeared for the Council. Mr. Geo. W. Taylor acted as Court stenographer. On recommendation of Mr. Smith the enquiry was conducted to a certain extent in private, though the coroner preferred thorough publicity.

Mr. H. Thompson gave evidence as to amount paid for the premises, and the amount of insurance which was $6,000 on hotel and $500 on the stable and sheds. A 22 ft. strip on the lane from Canal street he had obtained recently on a long lease. The insurance of course went to the party holding the mortgage. He showed a heavy loss by the fire, his furniture and stocks were not insured. He was satisfied it was of incendiary origin.

Capt. Ed. Smith said a few nights before the fire at the request of H. Thompson he took J. D. Montgomery home, he being somewhat under the weather. The following morning he mentioned to Thompson that he had some trouble to get Montgomery home, for he fancied that if everyone had their rights the Rockland corner would belong to him. This was mentioned and treated as a joke.

Mr. Broad was awakened by his wife, and found the Rockland sheds on fire. He went out but saw he could do nothing himself, and aroused the Rockland inmates. After that he rang the alarm. He was of opinion that the fire could not have been started from the outside, and that it was incendiary.

Mr. Moffatt, at the time engineer of the fire engine, explained how he put fire to the engine, and then found that the water was out of the boiler. The engine had been in use for 14 years and nothing of the kind had happened before. He had no reason to think anything would be wrong with the boiler. The blow-out cock was partly turned. The boiler usually carried 40 to 45 gallons.

Constable Allison, as caretaker of the Fire Hall, was called. He attended to the boiler every Saturday, filling in a little loss by evaporation. The boiler was all right at ten o'clock the night of the fire, and had fully two inches of water in the gauge.

Mr. A. E. Kennedy, captain of the Fire Company, gave evidence as to the disablement of the engine. His attention had also been called to a track in the newly fallen snow that led from the fire hall across the dam.

Mr. Wm. Graff saw the track from the hall; it measured 1 1-2 wide and 12 3-4 long and appeared to be that of a worn rubber or overshoe.

Mr. McMullen, owner of the Rockland, testified to the custom of leaving the stables unlocked. Sometimes men tired from drinking laid down in the horse stables, but he never allowed anyone to go up into the loft. The straw and hay over the stable and driving shed could be easily reached and fired from the manure heap. He judged the place had been fired from the inside.

Mr. J. D. Montgomery was called and examined by the coroner. He had no knowledge of the fire until 5.30 the morning of the fire, when his wife awoke him, and he went over and worked on the hose. He had no quarrel or animosity for H. Thompson. He had no recollection whatever of the evening with Capt. Smith.

This closed the list of witnesses. The coroner said there was no doubt of the fire being incendiary, and that the fire engine had been tampered with. As there was a possibility of other developments he would adjourn the case for a month.—Independent

RENAMING STREETS

In Honor of Old Residents Which Are Desirable and Praiseworthy

It has been recommended to change the names of some of the streets in the town, and especially in Ward Five, where there are several of the same name. This decision was arrived at in Committee of the Whole Council at the meeting of Tuesday last. The changes proposed are:

IN WARD NO. FIVE.

From Brown to Mark.
From Dickson to Hazlitt.
From Lake to Rogers.
From Elizabeth to Hunter.
From Crescent to Knox.
From John to Birdsall.
From Queen to Peck.
From Lock to Otonabee.

IN WARD NO FOUR.

From Mill to Jackson Park to be called Fairbairn street.
Victoria is to be called Hilliard.
Maple to be called Cluxton.
Short to be called Stevenson.

There is already a Mark street in Ashburnham which comes up to the south side of Elizabeth street, and Brown street is practically a continuation of this street, running north from Elizabeth street. This street was named after the late Rev. Mark Burnham.

Dickson street, which was named after the late Samuel Dickson, is proposed to be changed to Hazlitt street, after the late T. G. Hazlitt, who was a son-in-law of Mr. Dickson, and for a long time manager of the Dickson Company.

The changes of Lake street to Burnham, Stewart to Rogers, and John to Birdsall, introduce three of the oldest names of men who were pioneers and who were connected with the earliest history of Ashburnham. The Hon. Zackeus Burnham, surveyed the village and district, and he and his descendants have always taken an active interest in its affairs; the late R. D. Rogers was the first reeve of the village while the late Mr. Birdsall was connected with the first survey made of the town.

Elizabeth street, which is proposed to be changed to Hunter street, was named after Elizabeth Burnham, who married Mr. R. E. Birdsall, and in dropping this name compensation is made to the historical by using both names. Burnham and Birdsall for other streets.

The proposed change of Queen street to Peck street is in honor of the late treasurer of the village and also to the present warden of the county, Mr. E. A. Peck.

Crescent street to Knox street. This street is a short one connecting Carlyle street and Munro street, and in recommending Knox street the committee proposed another of residential name.

In Ward No. 4 it is proposed to change Mill street near the Jackson Park to Fairbairn street, in honor of the late Mr. Fairbairn, M.P.P.

Victoria avenue runs along the property purchased by the town from the Hilliard estate, and also the property being annexed to the town by the estate of Mr. Dickson. It is proposed to call the street Hilliard street in honor of the late George Hilliard, M.P.

Maple street in the South Ward is proposed to be called Cluxton street, after the late Mr. Cluxton, who was always identified with so many business enterprises of earlier days.

The proposal to change Short street to Stevenson street is in honor of Mr. Jas. Stevenson, ex-M.P.

NO 2 CAR HERE

Forepaugh-Sells Advertising Car in Town Yesterday

The great Forepaugh-Sells aggregation, which is to visit Peterborough on Saturday, July 2, was further heralded yesterday by the presence here of the advertising car, No. 2. This car is in charge of Mr. W. S. Freed, who looks after his boys with a fatherly instinct. The party is made up of: Messrs. W. F. Adams, boss bill poster; Charlie McKee, assistant; Billy Carroll, O. Hilbery, Harry Mercier, Al. Mason, Andy Stouth, Frank O'Harrow, Jimmy Casey, A Biller and Ed Pepper, the courteous and popular boss banner man.

Col. Hybrand, the well-known paste maker, is also a member of the party. The colonel's ability in his line is known far and near by the "profesh." His paste will stick closer than a brother, or even a bad quarter.

The boys left last night for Toronto, after decorating the town in a way that is sure to draw the crowd.

Y.M.C.A. ANNIVERSARY

The Seventh Anniversary of the Organization Celebrated

Yesterday being the anniversary of the organization in the town of Peterborough the event was fittingly celebrated by a social gathering in the meeting hall of their handsome building, which is now the home of the society. The attendance was not large, but, as one of the speakers said, it was select, and the proceedings were entered into with enthusiasm by those present. The meeting was opened by the singing of a hymn after which the Secretary read a passage of Scripture, followed by prayer, when the President, who was in the chair, proceeded to give a report of the International meeting, held recently in Buffalo, and to which he was one of the delegates. He had intended doing so before, but the opportunity did not present itself until this late day—the anniversary of the Association. It was just seven years ago to-night when the association was formed. It has gone forward. An association must have forward movement and he spoke to the members to keep it on that forward course and to do all they could to help increase the membership. It had now some 800 members; he wanted then, to increase the number to 1000. At Buffalo what struck him most was the strength of the men he met there, the hearty manner in which they all entered into the spirit of the work, the volume of praise sent up, and all were unanimous in doing the work for the Master and for men. He could give them but a faint idea of the spirit which actuated those present, and to fully understand what it was like men should go there and see for themselves. He referred to the enthusiasm aroused by one speaker, who he designated as Moodie's successor as an evangelist, and praised the action of one of the wealthy ladies who was spending her fortune in the cause. He brought back the idea that we need a physical director, and even went so far as to engage one for this Association, (who would report here on the 1st of September) at a cost of $300 per annum, and they wanted the members to back them in meeting this extra expenditure. Physical culture was especially needed as a branch of the association's work, and the man whom they had engaged was well qualified for that work. He comes highly recommended: physical culture helped in the building up of character. The association must also be a missionary association as well as a church. He heard one speaker there remark that no church should exist unless it was a missionary church: this should apply to the Y.M.C.A. as well; men should not rest contented with having a society in this town, but should seek to open others. The North-West was filling up fast and it was the duty of the east to help those in the west. You should enjoy your own building, but you should also aim to go forward as a missionary institution.

Mr. W. D. Campbell spoke on the advantages of physical culture, and presented the matter in a pleasing and intelligent manner.

The question of providing rooms in the building for young men was discussed in a favorable light, and Mr. Martin, the president of the Stranger Fellowship Club, read correspondence from outside associations, all of which favored the adding of accommodation for young men rather than see them domiciled in hotels or other questionable places.

Several others spoke in support of the idea.

A lime-light view of the exterior of the Buffalo Y.M.C.A. building was shown as well as some others showing the internal arrangements and fittings. A song was also rendered in good voice, and the business part of the program was brought to a close by the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds." Refreshments were then introduced, and the social part of the evening's entertainment commenced.

IS AN AUSTRIAN FIELD MARSHAL

HONOR CONFERED ON HIS MAJESTY KING EDWARD

Archduke Frederick will pay a Friendly Visit to the British Court

Vienna, June 21.—It is now definitely decided that the Emperor Francis Joseph must give up his intended visit to England, but that a member of the Imperial House shall proceed to London in order to represent the monarch. To mark this friendly exchange of visits the Emperor has conferred upon King Edward the dignity of a field marshal of the Austro-Hungarian army.

As the heir presumptive, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, is prevented by family circumstances from undertaking the long journey to England, His Majesty has determined to send as his representative the Archduke Frederick, who is on friendly terms with the English Court. Recently, during the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Vienna he gave a ball in their honor at his palace. The Archduke Frederick, as heir of the Austrian field marshal, the Archduke Albrecht, is one of the richest men in the dual monarchy. The Archduke will remain six days in London, and the details connected with his visit are now being arranged between the Grand Chamberlain of the Archduke, Count Bigot de St. Quentin and the British Ambassador in Vienna. The day for the Archduke's departure will be settled in the next few days. The Archduke Frederick and his consort, the Archduchess Isabella, are at present staying at their Hungarian estate at Halbthurn. Before his departure for London the Archduke will have an audience with the Emperor, and he will take to London the field marshal's baton and insignia for King Edward.

THE GIANT'S LOOP LOOPER

Blondin the Only one to Perform That Feature Yet

This season the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows are exploiting three distinctly different and equally inimitable cycling feats, that of Prodigious Perthes in vaulting a wheel across a chasm fifty feet in width; of "Cyclona," the cycling paradox, who spirally ascends the absolutely perpendicular interior of "The Devil's Chimney" on his bike, and of Diavolo looping the loop. When they introduced the latter achievement at Madison Square Garden and in Philadelphia it created a genuine popular furoore, and elicited more praise and was given more pictorial and descriptive space in the newspapers of those cities than any previous aronic sensation ever presented there. In the performance of this recklessly daring and dumfounding triumph over gravitation's edict, starting from the apex of the canvas dome, Diavlo makes a widely swift fash down a narrow dangerously steep incline on a bicycle, thus gaining a comet-like momentum which carries him up and around the loop at "Empire State Express" speed. At the top of the loop both the rider and wheel are upside down, and in this twinkling of an eye complete the circuit, to resume their normal position. The three marvelous wizards of this wheel named will appear at each performance of the big show here on Saturday, July 2.

SOCIETIES OWNING STOCK

A great deal of interesting information has been gathered lately by H. B. Cowan, Provincial Superintendent of Agricultural Societies regarding the ownership of pure bred breeding stock by several societies in the province. A number of these societies, it has been found are doing excellent work. It is believed that if many of the societies in the province, which are holding small exhibitions, were to give up this work and own and circulate pure bred stock, they would accomplish much more good for their sections. On Saturday, June 11, Mr. Cowan visited the home of Mr. A. M. Stewart, of Dalmeny, Russell County, who is secretary of the township of Osgood Agricultural Society. This society has been owning pure bred stock since 1867. The Directors are unanimous in the belief that their society has done more good than it could possibly have done had it endeavored to hold annual exhibitions. Mr. Stewart states that it is the general opinion in the country that the county of Russell won the banner offered by the Ottawa Valley Journal to the county in Eastern Ontario owning the best stock, largely as a result of the excellent work done by this society.

The Osgood society owns three bulls, two of which are Ayrshires, and one a Shorthorn, twelve rams and four boars. The sheep are mostly Shropshires, but include two Leicesters and one Oxford Down. The hogs include one animal each of the following breeds, Tamworth, Yorkshire, Berkshire and Chester White. These animals are located in five different sections of the township. Any twelve farmers in the township, who will agree to pay $2 each for three years and take proper care of stock will, on request be furnished with a pure bred bull ram or boar, by the society, or with all three, if they ask for them. Generally one animal is asked for the first year, more being taken after this sub-division of the main society has become well established.

If the society has no animals on hand, a committee is appointed to purchase them. Some bulls have cost the society as high as $400. According to Mr. Stewart, the society has never secured a good bull which did not cost at least $100 laid down at Dalmeny. The society has purchased at such exhibitions as Toronto.

"In the past," continued Mr. Stewart, "we have always been able to furnish all the animals asked for. If a local section asks for three animals, the society loses money, but if they only ask for one animal, we generally make a little. The $24 received each year from the twelve farmers forming one of these sections, together with the government grant we receive and a little extra funds, which come in in other ways, generally enables us to meet the expense of keeping the animals. Some times we have been forced to go into debt, while at other times we have had as much as two or three hundred dollars to the good. At present, we have over $100 on hand, with the government grant coming due. Our grant is usually about $63. Some years we have had as many as eight bulls, thirteen rams and six boars. At the end of a couple of years, these breeding animals are changed around from division to division to prevent inbreeding. When the breeding stock has passed its usefullness, it is sold to the butcher and the money comes back to the society.

Members have the use of a ram for all their sheep and of the boar for two animals twice a year. Each member is entitled to breed four cows during the year, and if the bull is not used much, members are allowed to take more cows. The man who keeps the bull, has the use of him for all his stock. The same privilege is allowed the man who keeps the ram and he also gets the ram's fleece extra. Twelve to $20 a year is allowed the man who keeps the boar. At one time our society paid members as much at $10 a month for keeping the bull. Members also had the use of the bull free. This was found to be too much of a good thing for the man keeping the bull and the society soon got into disrepute and membership fell off until the society was partially dead. About ten years ago, we changed this method and adopted the present system, which has worked admirably. We pay about $20 for our hogs when they are six months' old and $20 to $25 for our rams.

"I am satisfied," continued Mr. Stewart, "that if most of the societies which hold exhibitions were to give them up and keep pure bred stock instead, the way our society does, it would be a great improvement over the present system, where there are so many fairs that they conflict with each other. We have a sort of unwritten law that any man who keeps any of the bull stock must do so subject to inspection by some member or members appointed for that purpose. There have been occasions where it has been found necessary to take animals away from members, but not of late years."

This same line of work is also being conducted by the Drummond Agricultural Society, located near Perth in Lanark County. Mr. Cowan recently visited the section and was shown the stock kept by the society. In the evening a meeting was held at the home of Mr. P. M. Campbell, of Balderson, the secretary, at which a number of well known breeders and officers of societies were present. This society has been keeping pure bred stock since 1868 and owns two bulls a Shorthorn and any Ayrshire. During the winter two pigs were kept, a Berkshire and a Tamworth; more hogs will be bought in the fall. Up to two years ago the society kept pure bred rams. The Durham bull cost $140 at the auction sale of stock held in Ottawa and the Ayrshire cost $90, bought from a private breeder. The bulls are boarded around at the rate of $3 a week during June and July and for $3 a month during the rest of the year. The keep of these animals thus cost the society about $51 each per year. The men boarding the animals have the use of them for their stock. The bulls are kept at three different places in the township and about every three weeks they are moved around to suit the convenience of the members. Members are charged $1 each to join, for which fee they are permitted to breed two cows to one bull or four altogether. For four more cattle an extra dollar is charged. The society has a membership of 67 and receives a government grant of about $67, as well as a county grant of $30. For their dollar, members can take a sow to each boar. Members holding stock can collect membership fees. The parties keeping the rams are allowed to charge members 12 1-2 cents a week for each ewe which is kept at their place. No member can take more than two ewes to a ram. In this way members of the society for their membership fee are allowed to breed four cows, four ewes and two sows, all for $1. Boars are kept at a cost to the society of $10 for the season.

For a number of years this society has bought seed at wholesale prices and furnished it to members, who have thus secured a reduction equal to about 14 per cent on all the seed they buy through the society.

At the meeting held in the evening, the opinion was unanimously expressed by those present that great good would be accomplished were societies to receive a government grant on the basis of what they actually expend for agricultural purposes, instead of largely on the membership basis, as is done at present.

Gained Ten Ponnds

His Weight increased Many Pounds His Health and Strength Completely Restored by Ferrozone the Great Food Tonic.

Mr. A. L. Godfrey is well known to everyone in Victoria, where he has been engaged in business for many years. "Last winter I had la grippe" he writes, "and recovered very slowly. When well enough to leave the house I was many pounds lighter than my usual weight. My appetite was poor and my blood was thin. Ferrozone did me untold good. I recovered my weight in a short time and have felt like a different man ever since. I consider Ferrozone a wonderful tonic and a first class remedy for people who are run down. My reasons for believing Ferrozone so good are due to its bringing me health after doctors and many other medicines failed. My weight has increased at least ten pounds, my blood is strong and my system is in a very vigorous condition Ferrozone did it."

FERROZONE PRODUCES NEW TISSUE

From Nelson, B. C., comes the strongest possible proof that Ferrozone is a flesh-making, strengthening remedy. Mrs. G. O. Alker writes;—"A few months ago I was run down, tired, and nervous. I had once before been benefitted by Ferrozone, when living in Boston, and started using it again. Ferrozone at once gave me a splendid appetite, toned up my nerves, and actually made me fat. I used Ferrozone regularly and increased my weight several pounds. My cheeks filled out and became rosy. My nervous trouble disappeared, and I haven't had a single day's illness since using Ferrozone."

Ferrozone supplies this system with nourishment in a condensed form, and builds up weak constitutions to a state of permanent good health. It restores all weak organs, perfects digestion, enriches the blood and fortifies the nerves.

If it is better health you are seeking, you can find it with Ferrozone. Don't be misled into accepting a substitute or any article represented as "just as good." Ferrozone is unexcelled and it is in your interest to get it when you ask for it. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all reliable druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Substitute For Candles.

There were two substitutes for candles. The one was the ancient oil lamp, the creesie (French creuset), a triangular metal saucer with an upright hook at the base to be hung up by. There was an inner saucer, movable, to graduate the use of the oil. At the apex of the angle was flame, coming from a wick made of pitch of rushes, which must be cut at full moon, as the flame was thought to wax and wane with the moon if cut at any other time. The other substitute for the candle was the bog candle. It was made by splitting up the resinous logs of the primeval fire that are found imbedded in the bogs.

They were left to dry at the fireside over the crock or chain that held up the pot over the fire. The candlestick, called the poorman, was a stone with a hole in its center, into which was fixed a pillar of wood about four feet high and tipped with a cleft piece of iron, into which the candle fitted. The nose of the candle was always turned to the door.

When Japanese Maids Are Jilted.

A Japanese woman when abandoned by her lover takes a peculiar and picturesque revenge.

When she no longer has any doubt as to his faithlessness, she gets up in the middle of the night and puts on a pleasing dress and wooden sandals. Attached to her headdress she carries three lighted candles, and suspended to her neck hangs a small mirror. She takes in her left hand a small straw effigy of the faithless one, and in her right a hammer and nails.

Walking gravely to the sanctuary, she selects one of the sacred trees, and nails the effigy securely to the trunk. She then prays for the death of the traitor, vowing that if her wish is granted she will take out the nails which trouble her god, since they are fastened to a sacred tree. Night after night she comes to the tree, adding one or two nails and repeating her prayers, persuaded that the god will not hesitate to sacrifice the man to save the tree.—London Mail.

A Floral Mystery.

The Chinese, Japanese and Siamese are peculiarly skillful at botanical feats. One of their wonderful achievements is known as the "changeable rose." This bloom is white in the shade and red in the sunlight. After night or in a dark room this curiosity of the rose family is a pure, waxy white blossom. When transferred to the open air, the transformation immediately steps in, the time of the entire change of the flower from white to red depending on the degree of sunlight and warmth. First the petals take on a kind of washed or faded blue color and rapidly change to a faint blush of pink. The pink gradually deepens in hue until you find that your lily white rose of an hour before is as red as the reddest peony that ever bloomed.

Auctions in China.

To a stranger a Chinese auction is a most curious spectacle. The auctioneer leans over a slightly elevated counter and exhibits his wares. He says nothing, neither does the bidder, who merely steps forward to the auctioneer and runs his fingers up his sleeve, making pressure on the salesman's arm, thus indicating how much he will pay for the article. Then another and another repeat the action until the one signifying the highest price receives the article without a word being exchanged on either side. Only the auctioneer and the successful bidder know the price offered and accepted.

Kindness.

Be kind no matter if you are on the busiest run to catch your interests in life. While you run let your fleeting presence prove a blessing to those whom you meet pass in the race to reach the goal. Leave behind you a trail of golden remembrances of words and smiles of good cheer that have cost you nothing at all in self sacrifice or money or physical strength or mental effort.

Sensitive.

"Ah," he protested, "my love for you is the greatest thing in the world. It is larger than the world. It is wider than the sea. Let me pour it into your ears."

"Sir," ejaculated the fair maid, "do you mean to insinuate anything about the size or shape of my ears?"

High Class Investment

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a number of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district. The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern machinery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time

The company is splendidly officered by men of integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalised at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of buying the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

The Party Paper

The independent press of Canada, which is daily becoming more powerful, make take heart from the wonderful decadence of strictly party papers in the United States. The Boston Herald says: How many party organs are there left among the great newspapers of the country? They can be counted on one's fingers, and the few that are left are not always to be relied upon as truly loyal. The most marked change in American journalism of late years has been its development of independence.

Death of Rev. Mr. Barrett

Only some two weeks ago at the conference meeting held in this town, three young men were received into the Methodist ministry. One of the young men was C. W. Barrett, who has been so suddenly bereaved by the loss of his parent. Deceased was ill when the young man was in town and, being acquainted of the fact, left rather hurriedly to be in attendance at his bedside. On reaching home he found him in a critical state and an operation necessary. This he was unable to stand, in his weakened condition, and he gradually grew worse, until death relieved him of his sufferings.

Farm Help Scarce

The Ontario farmers will have to raise the wages of the hired man if they want Scotch ploughmen. Mr. J. Bruce Walker, Canadian agent at Liverpool, says in a letter: "When I approach a thoroughly competent ploughman and ask him to pay his way to Toronto, and work in a strange country under unknown conditions for a wage only equal to or perhaps a little less than he has been getting, the smile is broad, audible, and unsatisfactory. In addition the coSich farm laborer works all the year round. Mr. H. F. Kylie, of Oakville, who was sent as a special agent from Ontario, also states that the Ontario farmers will have to pay better wages.

On Their Way to Buckhorn

The following gentlemen and their wives composed an automobile party, who were in town yesterday on their way to Buckhorn, and who stopped at the Oriental for dinner. Messrs F. W Baillie and Frank Ralph. The auto was equipped with a 24 h.p. propelling apparatus, and cost $4,200. The party left their homes in Toronto on Saturday between three and four o'clock, and put up at Port Hope for the night, reaching town between eleven and twelve on Sunday. While here the car was examined by quite a few, and many others admired its beautiful appearance and commodious proportions.

Wedded in Montreal

The following, taken from The Montreal Star, will interest many in Peterborough, the bride being the sister of Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Davidson:—"At St. James' the Apostle Church, on Saturday afternoon, the marriage took place very quietly of Miss Naomi Lewis, daughter of Mr. F. J. Lewis, of Claxtonbois avenue, Westmount, to Mr. G. B. Mitchell. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white china silk trimmed with lace, and wore a tulle veil and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses. Miss Edith Lewis, sister of the bride, who was bridesmaid, wore pale blue silk, a pale blue organdie over pale blue silk sash hat, chiffon hat, and carried pink roses. Mr Geo. Jackson acted as best man. There was no reception after the ceremony. Mr and Mrs. Mitchell left for their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a navy blue cloth costume, with blue and white hat, and a white silk blouse. On their return they will reside at 4080 Tupper street."

PROPERTIES SITUATED NEAR SILVERTON, SAN JUAN COUNTY, COLORADO. Properties consist of three groups; namely,—

THE PROSPECT BASIN AND MAMMOTH TUNNEL GROUP of 30 claims and Tunnel site aggregating 570 acres of mineral ground all held by location, and free from any conflict as to title; also in same location, three mill sites and one lode claim, total 25 acres all now being patented.

THE LEAD CARBONATE GROUP, adjoining the Gold King, of 78½ acres all of mineral territory; this group is patented.

THE STONY PASS GROUP, 110 acres in Stony Gulch, surveyed for patent which will shortly be applied for; no adverses; title perfectly clear.

Total area Mineral territory	758½	acres
" " Mill and building sites	55	"
" " Timber properties	90	"
Total	903½	acres

This was the total acreage held at organization of the Stony Pass Mining Company in December 1902. Since that date 230 acres additional have been located in Prospect Basin and surveyed with view of applying for patent at an early day.

Complete Saw Mill plant located in Cement Creek, capacity 20,000 feet per day; Lumber on hand in mill yards and at the Hercules shaft 500,000 feet. Round logs ready for the mill 300,000 feet. Cost to Company approximately $5,400, market value lumber alone $5,100.

TIMBER RESERVES.

Estimated timber, on timber and mineral lands owned by Company, 5,000,000 feet. Contiguous territory controlled by Government from which timber can be had for cutting providing same it used for mineral purposes 40,000,000 feet.

Total cost of development to date, present management,	$53,000.00
" " " " former owners	18,000.00
" " surface improvements, buildings, saw mill plant, horses, wagons, ore cars, track, tools, etc.	17,000.00
" " Machinery paid for and to be installed	6,000.00
	$99,000.00

Above items do not include moneys expended for additional properties since Company was organised, which approximate $26,000.00.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the tunnel and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3.50 to $4.00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developments. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HARRISON.

—The potato market has dropped to rise no more this season. The Americans have ceased buying here owing to ample shipments of new potatoes from the south, and Toronto and Montreal are now glutted with our old stock. Farmers will now regret holding back when they were offered boom prices. Buyers are reluctant to trust the market just now at any figure.

—We heard a man the other day, who had been out at Rice Lake fishing, explain the reason for his small catch, says a Cobourg paper. He said on account of the heavy rain the water was so muddy that the fish could only see to bite at a "silver bait." A bright half dollar caught them every time.

A DEADLY BLOW TO LABOR UNIONS

The "Closed" Shop System A Criminal Act

AN ILLINOIS DECISION

Which will Have A far Reaching Effect in Regard to Employees and Employed

Chicago June 20.—A remarkable decision affecting the rights of labor unions has just been given by the Appellate Court of Cook county, Illinois. The court decided that a contract between an employer and a union for a "closed" shop is a violation of both the civil and criminal law, being a conspiracy in restraint of trade. The judgment is far reaching in its effect practically prohibiting the "closed" shop in the State of Illinois.

The question came before the court in the shape of an appeal from the injunction granted against the strikers at the plant of the Kellogg Switchboard Company. The evidence showed that the purpose of the strike was to compel the execution of the drafts of agreement for a closed shop. The president, secretary and superintendent swore that the agents threatened to call a strike unless the agreement they presented was executed. It was sworn also that members of the union picketed the company's works so that the employes who wanted to work were intimidated and restrained by fear from working for the company.

Judge Adams, who presided over the court, held that the "closed" shop agreements exacted from employers by labor unions constitute an illegal infringement of contract rights, and that the provision in such agreements binding an employer to hire none but members of a labor union is an illegal abridgement of liberty, discriminating in favor of one class of working people, and excluding all others. But the decision goes much farther than that. The court finds that such conduct constitutes a violation of the Criminal Code of the State of Illinois. By this opinion an employer who signs a "closed" shop contract, as well as the labor union that secures his signature by threats, is held to be amenable to the criminal laws. This puts a weapon in the hands of the non-union man that could be used with disastrous effect to employers and unionists. In future an Illinois employer who signs a "closed" shop agreement will do so with the knowledge that he is, in the eyes of the law, entering into a conspiracy, the penalty for which is imprisonment.

If the judgment is upheld by the Supreme Court of Illinois, the tribunal of final resort, there will be an end of the "closed" shop in the State. Neither unions nor employers would be likely to leave themselves liable to criminal prosecutions by contending for the execution of such agreements.

The ground taken by the Appellate Court is that the system of closing a shop to all but the members of a union is a restraint of trade and against sound public policy. Judge Adams places the "union labor trust" upon the same plane as the industrial trust, "whose inevitable tendency is to restrain trade." He describes the attempts of unions to exclude non-union men from employment as an effort to create an illegal monopoly in favor of one class of workmen. The act falls under the condemnation of the constitution of the State of Illinois, and, also, he holds, of the constitution of the United States. It prohibits "a discrimination between different classes of citizens, founded on no justifiable ground, and an attempt to exercise legislative power in behalf of certain classes and against other classes, whether laborers seeking work or employers."

The decision is described by lawyers as momentous. It is decidedly so, as far as labor unions are concerned. A number of Chicago lawyers consider the judgment to be sound in law and likely to be sustained by the higher court, if an appeal is taken. If that expectation is verified, the position of the Chicago unionist will be materially altered from what it has been for some years. Nearly every shop in that city has been a "closed" shop in the past. If that condition can only be maintained by running the risk of a criminal prosecution, unionism must suffer a serious loss of prestige.

PEN PICTURE OF VAFANGOW BATTLE

Russians Claims to Have Accomplished Strategic Object

FOUGHT WITH HEROISM

A Whole Valley was Bestrewn With Corpes River ran Blood Red

Liao Yang, June 20.—A correspondent, who was present at the battle of Vafangow, describes the fighting as follows.

"The stern, dogged fighting at the battle of Vafangow was like another Borodino. The roar of the machine guns and the boom of the cannon still ring in one's ears.

"Throughout the three days of combat the officers and men vied with each other in pluck and heroism. They have added a glorious page to Russian military history.

"The enemy's advance originally included the fifth, eighth and eleventh divisions, twelve squadrons of cavalry and splendid artillery. About two hundred guns were belching a continuous stream of shot and shell. Large reinforcements enabled them to turn the Russian flanks. A diversion on the right precipitated the battle in the morning of June 15.

"Major-General Gerngross, who was wounded, commanded the left flank and General Loutchkovsky commanded the centre, including four battalions concealed in a small wood, whence they dealt death and destruction on the enemy.

"The Russian right was protected by Cossacks, dragoons and Siberian rifles.

"While the big guns were thundering I made my way at about 11 a.m. to the Russian right flank, and climbed a hill, whence I could view the whole field of battle. Behind me a battery had taken up a position from which it kept up a continuous fire upon the advancing ranks of the enemy. Through glasses I could see the sandy valley of the Tassa, with the Chinese village of Fusian. The heights of Foo Chou, the railway bridge and the surrounding copses were occupied by Japanese infantry.

"Then black lines of infantry, like threads, could be seen creeping through the verdure. Nearer, the slope of a hill was dotted by the grey shirts of Russian riflemen. A brownish smoke overhung some of the batteries, and others showed flashes of flame. The crackle of rifle fire was punctuated by the roar of guns. Occasionally I heard the hiss of a Japanese bullet.

"The scene was awe-inspiring. Over the Russian centre and left flank hovered chocolate clouds from bursting shrapnel. It was evident that the tide of battle was coming toward the Russian right. I saw reserves hurrying forward, the Cossacks galloping, followed by columns of infantry at the double.

"Suddenly they disappeared in an adjacent defile. The valleys where the Russians had camped was emptied as if by magic. Rattling volleys were fired behind the screen of hills which concealed the fighting troops from view in that direction, the sound of the firing being the last evidence of the struggle proceeding there. This continued for half an hour. Suddenly a company of Cossacks appeared on the crest of a hill and began to descend. They were followed by infantry. The Japanese gunners promptly pursued them with shrapnel. Horses and men began falling.

"A moment of harrowing suspense was received by a thunderous shout of 'Hurrah!' It was from a couple of thousand of Russian troops just brought up in a train. Very quickly they jumped from the cars, fixed bayonets and literally ran into the fight.

"Again the crackle of musketry under cover, during which the retiring Russian regiments formed up and moved off in complete order toward the railway, while a long line of commissariat waggons, escorted by Cossacks, took to the road; a battery of horse artillery stationed near the railway banged away furiously as it covered the retreat. The Japanese shells were then falling on the station buildings from which train after train had moved.

"I descended the hill and just succeeded in jumping in the footboard of the last car. Some of the batteries on the left flank were still firing. The main force then began slowly to retreat towards Kantsiatin (30 miles north of Vafangow) and at about one in the afternoon had accomplished its strategic mission.

"The battle of Vafangow had deflected considerable Japanese forces from Port Arthur.

"Many Russians have fallen, but a greater number of Japanese were killed. The Russian shells and bullets mowed them down like wheat. The whole valley was bestrewn with their corpses, and the River Tassa ran red. But it was with Japanese more than with Russian blood.

"I left in the last train with General Stakelberg. This train collided with the one preceding it, near Vantsiatin, but it was not damaged.

"When passing Kin-Chou we saw three Japanese cruisers.

"The whole road north was occupied by Russian troops. The Russians say the Japanese cannot advance much further north, even when they recover from the effects of the battle of Vafangow.

Liao Yang, June 17.—A correspondent of the Associated Press who was present at the battle of Vafangow describes the fighting as follows:

"The stern, dogged fighting at the battle off Vafangow was like another Borodino. The roar of the machine guns and the boom of the cannon still ring in one's ears.

"Throughout the three days of combat the officers and men vied with each other in pluck and heroism. They have added a glorious page to Russia's military history.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

I desire to call the attention of investors to the

Smuggler Gold Mining Co.'s Proposition

of which I am the authorized agent

Investments in mining stocks where they can be purchased cheaply whose property contains merit and whose directors are men of unquestionable honor and integrity, and especially when sufficient work has been done to guarantee a producing mine and the leads have been demonstrated to be permanent, offer the greatest opportunity for large returns from modest investments.

The shrewdest capitalists of England and America are giving more attention to mining properties and putting more money into them than at any time in the past history of the world.

The Smuggler Group consists of five full sized claims, to-wit: The Smuggler, Gangon, Black Jack, Star and Red Rock, located in the Greenhorn District of Eastern Oregon. Surrounding mines are Potosi, Pride of Pendleton, Bonanza and Rockefeller, developing work to the extent of 1,000 feet of tunnelling, drifts and crosscuts have been made, exposing hundreds of tons of high grade ore, averaging from $25 to $45 per ton, based on smelter returns and for the purpose of equipping the mines a limited number of shares of Treasury Stock will be sold at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.00.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals — the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 288 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

E. J. Lake

OLD HAGAR'S SECRET

BY MRS. M. J. HOLMES

Madam Conway, George Douglas, Theo and Henry, the latter of whom seemed quite as forlorn as did she herself, for Rose was left behind, and without her he was nothing.

Madam Conway had been very gracious to him, his family were good, and when, as they passed the Charlson depot, thoughts of the leghorn bonnet and blue umbrella intruded themselves upon her, she half wished that Henry had broken his leg in Theo's behalf, and so saved her from hearing the name of Douglas.

The week went by, passing rapidly as all weeks will, and Margaret was again at home. Rose was there still, and just as the sun was setting, she took her sister's hand and led her out into the open air toward the resting-place of the dead, where a change had been wrought, and Margaret, leaning over the iron gate, comprehended at once the feeling which had prompted Mr. Carrollton and Rose to desire her absence for a time. The humble stone was gone, and in its place there stood a handsome monument, less imposing and less elegant than that of Mrs. Miller, it is true, but still chaste and elegant, bearing upon it simply the names of "Hester Hamilton" and her mother, "Hagar Warren," with the years of their death. The little grave, too, where for many years Maggie herself had been supposed to sleep, was not beneath the pine tree now, that mound was levelled down, and another had been made, just where the grass was growing rank and green beneath the shadows of the taller stone, and there side by side they lay at last together, the mother and her infant child.

"It was kind in you to do this," Margaret said, and then, with her arm round Rose's waist, she spoke of the coming time when the sun of another hemisphere would be shining down upon her, saying she should think often of that hour, that spot, and that sister, who answered, "Every year when the spring rains fall, I shall come to see that the grave has been well-kept, for you know that she was my mother, too," and she pointed to the name of "Hester," deep cut in the polished marble.

"Not yours, Rose, but mine," said Maggie. "My mother she was, and as such I will cherish her memory;" then, with her arm still around her sister's waist, she walked slowly back to the house.

A little later, and while Arthur Carrollton, with Maggie at his side, was talking to her of something which made the blushes burn on her still pale cheeks, Madam Conway herself walked out to witness the improvements, lingering longest at the little grave, and saying to herself, "It was very thoughtful in Arthur, very, to do what I should have done myself ere this, had I not been afraid of Maggie's feelings."

Then turning to the new monument, she admired its chaste beauty, but hardly knew whether she was pleased to have it there or not.

"It's very handsome," she said, leaving the yard, and walking backward to observe the effect. "And it adds much to the looks of the place. There is no question about that. It is perfectly proper, too, or Mr. Carrollton would never have put it here, for he knows what is right, of course," and the still doubtful lady turned away, saying as she did so, "On the whole, I think I am glad that Hester has a handsome monument, and I know I am glad that Mrs. Miller's is a little the taller of the two!"

CHAPTER XXVI.

Years hence, if the cable coil, resting far down in the mermaids' home, shall prove a bond of perfect peace between the mother and her child, thousands will recall the bright summer morning, when through the caverns of the mighty deep, the first electric message came, thrilling the nation's heart, quickening the nation's pulse, and with the music of the deep-toned bell, and noise of the cannon's roar, proclaiming to the listening multitude that the isle beyond the sea, and the lands which to the westward lie, were bound together, shore to shore, by a strange, mysterious tie. And two there are who, in their happy home, will oft look back upon that day, that eighteenth day of August, which gave to one of Britain's sons as fair and beautiful a bride as e'er went forth from the New England hills to dwell beneath a foreign sky.

They had not intended to be married so soon, for Margaret would wait a little longer; but an unexpected and urgent summons home made it necessary for Mr. Carrollton to go, and so by chance the bridal day was fixed for the eighteenth. None save the family were present, and Madam Conway's tears fell fast, as the words were spoken which made them one, for by those words she knew that she and Margaret must part. But not forever, for when the next year's autumn leaves shall fall, the old house by the mill will again be without a mistress, while in a handsome country seat beyond the sea Madam Conway will demean herself right proudly, as becometh the grandmother of Mrs. Arthur Carrollton. Theo, too, and Rose, will both be there, for their husbands have so promised, and when the Christmas fires are kindled on the hearth and the ancient pictures on the wall take a richer tinge from the ruddy light, there will be a happy group assembled within the Carrollton halls; and Margaret, the happiest of them all, will then almost forget that ever in the Hillsdale woods, sitting at Hagar's feet, she listened with a breaking heart to the story of her birth.

But not the thoughts of a joyous future could dissipate entirely the sadness of that bridal, for Margaret was well beloved, and the billow which would roll ere long between her and her childhood's home stretched many, many miles away. Still they tried to be cheerful, and Henry Warner's merry jokes had called forth more than one gay laugh, when the peal of bells and the roll of drums arrested their attention, while the servants, who had learned the cause of the rejoicing,

Do Animals Dream?

Much research and investigation warrant the assertion that man is not the only animal subject to dreams. Horses neigh and rear upon their hind feet while fast asleep; dogs bark and growl and in many other ways exhibit all their characteristic passions. It is highly probable that at such times the remembrance of the chase or of a combat is passing through the dogs' minds. Besides the above signs of fleeting pain, anger and excitement these noble creatures often manifest signs of kindness, playfulness and of almost every other passion. Ruminant animals, such as the sheep and the cow, are believed to be less affected with dreams than those of higher passions which spend their waking hours in scenes of greater excitement.

Philosophers and investigators tell us that if we trace the dream faculty still lower in the scale of animal life we shall probably find that the same phenomena exist, and judging from analogy it is only reasonable to reckon dreaming as one of the universal laws—almost as universal as sleep itself.

Lion Signs in England.

In the middle ages the country houses of the nobility in England when the owners were absent were used as hostels for travelers. The family arms always hung in front of the house, and gave it a popular name among travelers, who called a lion "gules" or azure simply "red" or "blue." As these were intimations of good cheer and entertainment, innkeepers adopted the idea.

Lions have always been, and are now, very favorite signs in England; lions white, black, red, brown, golden, yellow—red being the most common. Probably the Red Lion originated with the badge of John of Gaunt, duke of Lancaster, who married the daughter of Don Pedro, king of Leon and Castile, and who adopted the lion rampant gules of Leon to represent his claim to the throne. Under Richard and John lions became the settled arms of England, and were generally used by those who could find any claim.

To endeavor to work upon the vulgar with fine sense is like attempting to hew blocks with a razor.

A RARE CHANCE

FOR CANADIAN INVESTORS

THOMAS PATTERSON & CO.

BROKERS, PETERBOROUGH

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non-assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

HE WILL NOT BE OUR GOVERNOR

Earl Grey Has Decided not to Accept Post

FAVOUR LORD STRATHCONA

Anglo-Canadians Believe the High Commissioner Would Make An Ideal Appointee

London, June 20—Lord Grey tells his friends decidedly that he is not going to Canada. Those who know Lord Grey are not sorry They say he made an excellent administrator in Rhodesia but Rhodesia is not self-governing Earl Grey is pushful and determined to get his own way and the Dundonald incident suggests that such a man, however well intentioned and well equipped, might find Ottawa impossible just now.

LORD STRATHCONA FAVORED.

Hopes are still expressed in influential Anglo-Canadian quarters here that Lord Strathcona, who knows the exact limitations of the Governorship can be prevailed upon to crown his career by the acceptance of the post. His personal difficulty is the possible embarrassment arising from the precedent of appointing a Canadian, but it is felt that his case is quite exceptional.

REINFORCEMENTS COME.

"A moment of harrowing suspense was received by a thunderous shout of 'Hurrah.' It was from a couple of thousand Russian troops just brought up by train. They quickly jumped from the cars, fixed bayonets and literally ran into the fight.

"Again the cracks of musketry under cover, during which the retiring Russian regiments formed up and moved off in complete order toward the railroad, while a long line of commissariat wagons, escorted by Cossacks, took to the road. A battery of horse artillery stationed near the railroad banged away furiously as it covered the retreat. The Japanese shells were then falling on the station buildings, from which train after train had mov

"descended the hill and just succeeded in jumping on the footboard of the last car. Some of the batteries on the left flank were still firing The main force then began slowly to retreat towards Kantsialin ,30 miles north of Vafangow), and at about one in the afternoon had accomplished its strategic mission. The battle of Vafangow had deflected considerable Japanese forces from Port Arthur.

GLORIOUS FIGHTING.

"The fighting was glorious. For two days the Russian regiments valorously maintained their positions and took the offensive on the left, so pressing the enemy there that a couple of Japanese batteries fell into the Cossacks' hands. The Russian soldiers went into battle singing, their spirits not affected by the fierce heat and furious cannonading, the intensity of which may be gauged from atmospheric conditions. Rain drops fell at the height of the battle, although the day dawned clear.

"Many Russians have fallen, but a greater number of Japanese were killed. The Russian shells and bullets mowed them down like wheat. The whole valley was strewn with their corpses and the river Tassa ran red. But it was with Japanese more than Russian blood

"I left in the last train with General Stakelberg. This train collided with one preceding it, near Vantsialin, but it was not damaged.

HANGED FOR SPORT

Boy 17 Years of Age Strung up Just for Fun

Peterboro, June 20.—A few weeks ago while a number of boys were playing in the woods near town, Clinton Malton, aged 17, placed a rope about the neck of Roy Lammy, aged 11, threw the other end over a limb and hauled the lad clear of the ground. He was suspended about half a minute, shortly thereafter young Lammy was taken ill with headache, vomiting and bleeding at the nose. The illness was attributed to the hanging and on Thursday last Malton was arrested on a charge of assault. He was remanded until yesterday to await developments On Tuesday night the Lammy boy died. Yesterday the jury, after hearing the result of the post-mortem, decided that the lad came to his death from natural causes, holding, according to the medical testimony, that Malton's act was not a contributory cause.

Police Magistrate Duncan after giving some wholesome advice, permitted Malton to go on suspended sentence

FAT CATLLE ARE SCARCE

Information From Various Centres Show Shortage

Toronto, June 18—A scarcity of fat cattle is being reported from the principal centres in the province, and the price has consequently taken a much firmer tone. The advance in prices have been brought about by a better shipping demand, with a firmer old country market. Prices are much firmer than was anticipated in the early spring and butchers' cattle are showing well sustained strength. At some points available supplies are pretty well cleaned up, but with incoming grass stock a more plentiful supply is anticipated, but insufficient to cause any important drop in quotations. Hogs and sheep are also in good demand, and there is a scarcity of the latter.

Slabs and feeders of gold ore are coming in freely in the drift.

EYE TO EYE.

"And they shall see eye to eye when the Lord shall turn again to Zion"

Blessed promise of a golden day,
Checkered by no blasts of blinding sorrow,
Clear and all-cheering as the sun's bright ray,
Telling to-night the comfort of to-morrow.

All carking cares forever take their flight,
Tear-shadowed eyes, by love wiped ever dry,
When we shall pass the goal of earth's dark night
And scan the future undimmed, eye to eye

Blessed hope, which, like a golden anchor,
Binding the soul to that fair world on high,
Where neither rust nor earth's corroding canker
Touches the treasure far beyond the sky;
O'er all the storms of life securely riding.
Fearing them not as they go sweeping by,
Safe in His dear pavilion there abiding,
We'll find our loved ones, and see eye to eye

Blessed truth that comes to cheer our sadness,
Lifting us up above earth's petty cares,
Bringing us joy and hope and peace and gladness,
Where'ere we know but grief and dark despair,
Shining with steady glow, to light our tired feet
Treading the thorny path that we decry.
Ending where'e'er we gain that blest retreat,
Where truth triumphant we see, eye to eye.

Blessed faith, from God the glorious Giver,
Blessed promise to the human soul,
Blessed peace that like a mighty river
Comes now to nourish and sustain the whole.
Blessed faith that lifts the misty curtain,
Blessed hope that holds where treasures lie,
Blessed truth that makes things hoped for certain,
May we soon know and see them eye to eye.

WALKS ABROAD IN SNOW.

Ten-Year-Old Geneva, N. Y., Lad, Barefoot, Takes Stroll in Storm with Pet Dog.

John Mulvey, the ten-year-old son of Michael Mulvey, of Geneva, N. Y., is a somnambulist. One morning recently the boy's father, who keeps watch over him at night, went to his room and found the bed empty. He searched the house, but found no trace of him. One of the outside doors was open, and the father continued his search outside. Presently he found prints of the boy's bare feet in the snow. The tracks led toward the Lehigh Valley station, which is not far from the house.

He had almost reached the station when he saw the boy walking in the drenching rain, which froze as it fell. He was in his night clothes, and his pet dog was trotting beside him.

Mr. Mulvey overtook his son, picked him up in his arms, and carried him back home before the boy was awakened. A doctor was called, but the boy seemed not to have suffered from the exposure. He went back to bed and to sleep. He could remember nothing of his trip, but said he dreamed that some one was following him.

Manufacture of Quartz Glass.

Quartz glass consists essentially of melted quartz, which is made into tubes and other articles. It is perfectly translucent. The initial experiments in the manufacture of the new glass were made in England. The manufacture of quartz glass has shown symptoms of vigorous growth. While two years ago England led in its production, she has since been relegated to second place by Germany. The properties of quartz glass are such that it will soon replace ordinary glass for many uses. If quartz glass can be produced at a moderate price—and it seems to be quite possible where electric force can be cheaply obtained from water power—it will no doubt be largely employed, especially in the chemical and electrical industries.

One of the Other Necessary.

The Missouri mule hasn't had much of a part in the war as yet, but it is whispered that there were some Yankee gunners on those Japanese ships when the business was done. The Chicago Record-Herald remarks that they can't do without us.

Russian Postage Stamps.

Russia is, or will be very shortly, the possessor of the oldest unchanged issue of postage stamps in the world. Until now Hong-Kong held that position. The first Hong-Kong stamps were issued in 1859 and are identical in every respect with those in use to-day. The head of King Edward is, however, soon to replace that of Victoria, and thenceforth the Russian issue, with the double eagle and shield of St. George, which first appeared in 1864-66, and is still running, will hold the long-time record.

VALUABLE ART TREASURE.

Greek Archaic Chariot Believed to Be in Possession of American Museum.

Although not specifically mentioned, it is supposed the Greek archaic, the sale of which to Americans has been the subject of interrogation in the Italian chamber of deputies, is now in the Metropolitan museum of art in New York. It was unearthed by peasants digging a foundation for a farmhouse at the foot of "Il Capitano hill," beneath which the road from Montelcone leads to Norcia, the ancient Estruscian city of Nursia, 14 miles from Vitrobo.

President Rhinelander, of the Metropolitan, said: "The 'biga,' or chariot, is one of our most valued pieces of ancient artisanship, and thought to be the only specimen of that early period in existence."

Jacob Rogers, the millionaire locomotive manufacturer, purchased it for the museum shortly before his death.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 226 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1900.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Toronto, December 10, 1903.

Fine Weather Gives Relief from Catarrh

But Never Cures It Because the Germs are Still Alive, Though Inactive. First Kill the Germs Then You'll be Really Cured.

Catarrh germs are carried into the throat and lungs by the air we breathe. In the same way the remedy must be applied. To be effectual the cure must be breathed, for otherwise it can't get where the germs really are.

Mix your germ-killing medicine with air, breathe it right into all the little air cells where the catarrh really is, then you'll get cured quickly. This is exactly the way Catarrhozone acts. You inhale its medicated vapor to the very source of the disease. It destroys the cause of the inflammation, kills all the microbes that develop when the lining membranes become diseased. Besides this Catarrhozone is a wonderful healer. Every sore spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue. All the poisonous secretions that have been putrifying the system are driven out. No trace of catarrh remains after Catarrhozone has been used.

Why don't you use Catarrhozone? Its the simplest thing in the world to use, and so sure to cure permanently that you really can't afford to be without it.

MISS E. M. PETERS is known by every resident in the pretty town of Highland Grove. She was cured by Catarrhozone of systematic catarrh and says; "For three years before I commenced using Catarrhozone I was continually bothered by a congested condition of my nose and throat. I was sneezing and coughing all the time and really never felt well. I persevered with Catarrhozone and was rewarded by being entirely cured. My recovery prompted others in this locality to use Catarrhozone, and many of them have had remarkable cures from using it."

MISS LOUISE MURPHY a well known society belle residing at 22 Monument St., Medford, writes; "Kindly forward me three outfits of Catarrhozone which I have found most valuable for catarrhal affections of the nose and throat. Catarrhozone cured me of weak lungs and really saved me from consumption. I am recommending Catarrhozone above all other treatments, knowing what great curative powers it possesses. I know others who have also benefited by Catarrhozone."

Catarrhozone is perfectly harmless and may be used with perfect safety by the most delicate infant. Instead of deadening the stomach with drugs, it sends the healing vapor along with the air you breathe into every air cell and passage of the nose, throat, lungs and bronchial tubes. Catarrhozone can't fail, it's sure to cure. If not satisfied you can have your money back for the asking. Two months' treatment, hard rubber inhaler and extra bottle of inhalant costs $1.00; sample size 25c. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont., Can.

The Times at Summer Resorts

Readers of the Times leaving the city for the summer months may have The Times sent by mail for any period one week or longer, at city prices.

Toronto's Greatest Fire

The Times is in receipt of a very tasty folder from the Monarch Life Assurance Company, of which our late townsman, Mr. T. Marshall Ostrom is the efficient managing director, giving a sketch of the great Toronto fire. The engravings are superior, and set forth the great loss which was sustained by the great conflagration in a clear and precise manner.

A New Comparison

The Times received the following yesterday, with a request for its publication.

"Mama what is the difference between Stenson's skin store and a low down whiskey dive?" asked a bright little Peterborough boy of his mother.

"I don't know dear; what is it?"

"Well, mama, Stenson's is famous for boots and shoes, and a low down whiskey dive is shoots and booze."

A Word to the Wise

Yesterday a dispatch was received at this office to the effect that counterfeit bills were in circulation in the denominations of $100's and $500's. This g.f.j. naturally, with feverish haste, looked through its wad, and was greatly relieved to find that none of the bogus stuff had got mixed in with our good money. This g.f.j. will be slow in changing $100 and $500 bills hereafter.

New Wharves for Rice Lake

Mr. W. P. Merrick, of Ottawa, arrived in town on Saturday, and yesterday went down the river per steamer City of Peterborough to Rice Lake, where he will measure all the wharves on the lake. It looks as though the government proposes at last to build new landings. We hope that a wharf below the locks and one in Ashburnham will be included. Mr. Merrick was accompanied by Mrs Merrick.

A Child Burned

Campbellford Despatch. On Sunday morning last the little three year old daughter of Mr. Robert Hay, Seymour east, was nearly burned to death. Mrs. Hay was at church, and the little one got hold of some matches while the father was napping on a sofa in the same room with it. Its clothing caught on fire, and before the father could extinguish the flames the child was most severely burned. Dr. Carlow and Dr. Scherk were called and dressed the wounds. Little hope is held out for the child's recovery.

Fruit Prospects

Reports on the condition of the fruit crops are being received by the Department of Agriculture, and while they are not complete enough to be given out yet for publication, there is enough information to prove that peach trees and strawberry plants have suffered very much from the severe winter. The strawberry crop will be very light. Along the north shore of Lake Erie, the greatest damage seems to have been done and some of the farmers have been compelled to plough under whole fields. One man reports that his 35 acres of plants are totally destroyed. In Essex 56 per cent. of the peach trees have been killed, and a great many of the other trees injured. In the Niagara district the damage is not quite so heavy, but the crop will also be light.

FOOD'S WORK

Sometimes Cures the Incurables

A simple change of food worked a remarkable cure for a well known elderly lady of Rockford, Ill., a story that will interest many so called "incurable" invalids. She says:

"I was taken ill in 1889 and in the succeeding years had eight different physicians, besides some who refused to take my case at all, saying I was incurable.

"They variously diagnosed my case as indigestion, cancerous tumors, enlargement of the spleen, ulceration of the womb, etc., and although one of them was correct he looked for relief never came and I suffered intensely, sometimes in pain all over but most of the time my greatest agony was from pains in the left side lasting five or six hours at a time, which nothing but Morphine would relieve. Life was a burden and many times I would have welcomed death.

"When the pain would leave my side it would go to my stomach or head and I spent many nights doubled up with pain and unable to sleep and as a consequence when I got up in the morning I would be so weak I would have to hold on to the furniture to get around the room.

"I tried many kinds of diet but soon seemed to help me and when my husband suggested Grape-Nuts I thought it was foolish to suppose a 'breakfast food' could help me any, but as I finally got so I could eat almost nothing at all he finally got a package and insisted upon my trying it.

"To my surprise I found I could eat the Grape-Nuts food without any distress following. I ate the first package and got a second one. Before the second package was gone all the distress in my stomach had disappeared. That was two years ago and although I am now over 60 years of age my health is good and every trace of this terrible suffering is gone and I again enjoy life. My doctor advised me to keep on with the Grape-Nuts but said he feared I would soon grow tired of the flavor, but I eat my four teaspoonfuls every morning and still like it as well as ever, not only for the wonderful good it has brought me, but because of its crisp, nutty flavor. You may give my name on request." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason."

Just within her grasp is safety—but she does not see it; she is looking the wrong way. There's many a woman struggling in a sea of disease who is doing the same thing—looking the wrong way—snatching at medicinal straws when the life buoy, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is within her reach.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhea, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as the proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of women's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee; no other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

THE FIRST BOAT OVER

The First Boat Went Over the Lift Lock Yesterday Afternoon

Yesterday afternoon, about 5.30 o'clock, the first boat went over the lift lock. Quite a number witnessed the proceedings, and were much interested and amused, both at the working of the lock and the manoeuvres of some of the party on board the trim little yacht, "L.C.E.," which, with the following gentlemen, was locked over: Mr. Murphy, Designer for the Dominion Bridge Company; Mr. Rankin, Inspector for the Government; Mr. R. B. Rogers, Chief Government Engineer; Mr. Frances, Government Engineer; Mr. W. E. Nichols, Superintendent of Erection for Dominion Bridge Company; Mr. Mayne Lowery, of the same Company, and Mr. Alex. Richardson, Mr. Wm. Graham and Mr. J. Hayes.

Every part of the machinery worked excellently, and there was not a hitch. Mr. R. B. Rogers, Mr. Nichols and Mr. Rankin are delighted with the way the machinery worked, with the successful completion of the lock, and the perfect manner with which every part of the lock worked on the first trial. Mr. Andrew Taylor, machinist, and Mr. Derocher, assistant machinist, had charge of the machinery.

THE TRIP OVER.

The journey over the lock provided heaps of fun. Billy Graham remarked: "Well, Lowery, you talk about your balloon ascensions, but that beats them all. Say, I felt like saying good-bye to all my friends for I never expected to reach land again." It appears just as the yacht began to rise and the chains tightened and screeched, Billy climbed over the side of the yacht. He says he didn't like his company, and went the rest of the trip hanging over the side like a log.

Lowery shook hands with himself and was heard to mutter something that sounded like a prayer. He says he went the round trip, but if he did he went as a stowaway during the last half of the journey.

Sponges and ice water was applied freely to a number of the crew.

Alex. Richardson wore green goggles to make him imagine that he was still on the green earth.

John Hayes locked himself in the cabin and sang throughout the trip "I hope to meet you in the promised land," and "Yes, all together, we would like to go."

The yacht was locked over in seven minutes, and it was certainly a jolly crowd when the lockage was completed.

SMITH TOWNSHIP FIRE

House and Barns, Owned by Amos Jones Consumed

A fire occurred on the farm occupied by Mr. Amos Jones, on the 8th concession of Smith, on Friday last. Jones was alone at the time and does not know how it originated. It started about noon and spread with great rapidity, consuming both house and barns, with many of the contents. Part of the furniture only was saved.

Mrs. Stubbs, of Lakefield, was the owner of the property, and was insured for $1200.

RUNAWAY ON HUNTER STREET

An Exciting Time on Saturday Night when the Streets were Crowded

On Hunter street, shortly before ten o'clock on Saturday night, there was a wild scamper to get into shelter, occasioned by the delivery rig of Mr. J. S. Mervin getting beyond the control of the lad who was driving, and bolting along the street at a terrific pace. Just before it reached George street the rig struck a team attached to a buggy, the force of the compact turning it completely over and stopped the animal, which was turned completely around, and throwing the boy out as well. The horse got free from the rig and started back towards the postoffice, but was captured by the lad, who escaped unhurt, before it went far. The other team, becoming excited, tried hard to get away, but was finally held and pacified, not, however, before a man, who tried to grab them by the head, was knocked down, and had a narrow escape from being trampled upon by the infuriated team. Both buggy and harness suffered injury, but not to such an extent as one would expect from the threatening aspect of affairs at one time.

Demise of Mrs. M. A. Heather

The death occurred Sunday evening of Mrs. M. A. Green, relict of the late Francis W. Heather (who was one of Peterborough's oldest meat merchants). Mrs. Heather was 78 years of age, and was a twin sister of Mr. Edward Green, who resides on Water street, east of market square; both of whom have resided in Peterborough for 55 years and over. The late Mrs. Heather was formerly a leading mover in the local temperance organization, and represented Friendship Lodge, No. 146, at Grand Lodge meetings for a number of years. The deceased lady was born in Ireland, Kildare County, and arrived in Canada, together with the remainder of the family, in the year 1836, in a sailing vessel, after a voyage extending over two months. Mrs. Heather had a large number of friends, who will regret to hear of her death. The funeral will take place this afternoon at four o'clock from the residence of Mr. Jas. Logan, corner of Mark and James streets, and proceed to Little Lake cemetery.

PORT ARTHUR WILL FALL FIRST AFTER WHICH VLADIVOSTOKS' TURN

The Japanese will Rush Their Programme as Rapidly as Possible

The attack on Port Arthur Has Begun and the City May fall at any Moment

British Military and Naval Critics say that Russia is Totaly Beaten

London, June 22.—The military critics of St. Petersburg have come to the conclusion that Vladivostock has proved more valuable as a naval harbor and better as a strategical position than Port Arthur. This is a most gratifying conclusion at which to arrive just at a time when Russia appears to be on the eve of losing Port Arthur. There is, however, some evidence to justify the decision of the experts. All the naval successes achieved by Russia in the present war have been achieved by the Vladivostok squadron; all the naval failures stand to the debit of Port Arthur. This may be due, however, either to the relative superiority of Vladivostock, or what is more probable, to the relative inferiority of the Japanese forces attacking or rather watching Vladivostock and its squadron. So far the Japs have made no attempt to capture Vladivostock. They have naturally assumed that it was much more important to capture Port Arthur first. The series of successful raids performed by the Vladivostock squadron, and the fact that the coasts of Japan itself are menaced by Russian cruisers, may tend to modify this opinion a little; but at this stage of the war will hardly divert the Japanese from their immediate purpose of capturing Port Arthur. That accomplished Vladivostock will not have to complain long of being neglected. If the Japs are able to concentrate their whole naval force against Vladivostock, the St. Petersburg critics will no doubt console themselves with the reflection that after all "Vladivostock is not a patch upon Cronstadt."

The Chronicle says that with the fall of Port Arthur and the destruction of the Russian squadron there, Russia's task is hopeless. Vladivostock will next receive attention, and with the forces that Japan has at her command, only one result is sure to follow. The destruction or capture of the Russian squadron. Without a navy and without a coaling station, the proud Muscovite will be in a deplorable plight.

General Kuroki's Headquarters, at Manchuria, via Fusan, Corea, June 22—Six thousand Russians have occupied Saimaki. This is the first indication of serious activity on the part of the Japanese position. The concentration of Russian troops at Haicheng has weakened Liao Chang, which is now defended by a small force.

Interest now centres in the west of the peninsula, though the works thrown up around Liao Chang show that Kuropatkin has provided a defensive position in the event of his retirement. The situation here is unchanged.

Seoul, June 22.—The Japanese Government has commanded the raising of the steamer Sungari, which was partly destroyed at Chemulpo by the Russians at the beginning of hostilities. The Mitsu Bishi company has secured the contract for the work. An American named Koen is in charge of the operations.

The Sungari's interior was burned and some of its lighter works were warped by the heat, but otherwise it did not sustain much damage. It is hoped that the ship can be raised in two months.

COUNTESS RUSSELL SECURES DIVORCE

Contingent Order of Six Months Ago Now Made Absolute

THE EMBARGO ON CATTLE

Staffordshire Chamber of Agriculture Declares Against Admitting Canadian Live Cattle

London, June 22.—At a special meeting of the Staffordshire Chamber of Agriculture at Stafford the chairman announced that he had convened the meeting in consequence of a communication received from the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce. He was asked to express an opinion in regard to the proposal to allow Canadian cattle to be admitted free into England and Scotland.

The Council of the Chamber previously had met and Mr. Patterson, on behalf of the Council, moved in the meeting in the Chamber that the Chamber regards the proposal for an alteration of the Diseases of Animals Act of 1869, so as to admit the importation of live Canadian cattle as likely to be injurious to agriculture as a whole, being of the opinion that the advantage to a section would be quite inadequate to compensate for the risk of the importation of disease.

Mr. Toon seconded the motion, which was unanimously carried. The secretary was directed to send a copy of it to the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Cattle Association, the President of the Board of Agriculture and the Central Chamber of Agriculture.

COUNTESS RUSSELL'S DIVORCE.

The Countess Russell has been granted an absolute divorce from Coachman Brown, her marriage to whom created a sensation at the time. The suit was begun six months ago by the Countess, but Brown was given a half year to show cause why it should not be granted. This period has now elapsed and the degree is made absolute. The Countess sued on the ground that Brown won her hand when masquerading as a prince. Brown subsequently came to Canada and is now serving a term in the Central Prison under the [illegible] of Sippert for securing money under false pretenses.

AUSTRIA NOW BEING TROUBLED

Enormous Expenditure for Army And Navy

A REVOLUTION EXPECTED

May Break out at any Moment Cannot be Long Delayed

London, June 22.—The Chronicle's correspondent says. European journals are filled with speculations as to what can have been the reason for the sudden and wholly unexplained determination of the Austro-Hungarian empire to expend $75,000,000 in addition to routine expenses on its army and navy. The extra expenditure is stated to be mainly for battleships, cruisers, artillery, ammunition and incidentals.

Some think the sudden revelation of Russia's unprepared condition to meet a foe accounts for it. Others hint that the German emperor sees that he cannot count on Italy much more as a member of the "dreibund" and has therefore called on Austria to get ready for an emergency. Still others suggest that the measure is a measure to the Turk in view of the troubles in Macedonia and that conditions in Servia are not altogether unconnected.

It does not seem to be necessary to suppose any of these reasons beyond some general warning in the first named. Francis Joseph, the Austrian emperor, is very old. For years past there have been unmistakable symptoms of the activity of disintegrating forces of many kinds in this conglomerate empire. The old Magyar yearnings are smoothed over. Their fires are "banked" and not extinguished, and there are many other entangled lines of possible cleavage. There has been a more than half expressed purpose to suppress these as long as Francis Joseph lives, but after his death, which cannot now be many years away, to arrange a "new deal."

Three in possession of power naturally wish to transact it, and a great, well-organized disciplined military force is the surest instrument of transmittal. The enemies against which the increase of force is being prepared are far more than likely to be internal than external.

TO INSURE FAIR'S

Project to Prevent Loss Things wet Weather

It will probably be good news to the Agricultural Societies of Peterborough County and elsewhere to learn that a mutual insurance company for the protection against financial loss from rain during the fall fairs is a possibility of the not distant future.

Mr. H R. Cowan, superintendent of Agricultural Societies in the Province, has issued a circular to all organizations of the kind, asking for an estimate of the loss from the cause mentioned for each year during the last six.

"The Department," he explained today, "intends to ascertain the yearly loss, total loss, and average loss. Then we shall try to formulate some scheme whereby the societies shall escape actual injury. We haven't worked it out yet, but it is likely to take the form of a mutual arrangement, I should think. In a good year, with no wet weather to reduce the receipts, a society would not feel $75 or so given to a fund, and in a bad season a contribution from that same fund would be entirely welcome. However, the details cannot be arranged until we have all the facts and figures.

LORD DUNDONALD'S REPLY DISCUSSED

The London Globe Considers it a Very Serious Indictment

OTHER BRITISH COMMENT

The Pall Mall Gazette Thinks the Government must now Feel Uncomfortable

London, June 22. — Lord Dundonald's statement excites the widest interest especially in military circles. Even the Daily Chronicle, which, as a radical paper, is loth to say anything critically of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Ministry, says that the statement as a whole is worthy of very careful consideration, all the more because it comes from a man of high reputation in the field and remarkable discretion in words—"one of the most silent men in the world," as one who knew him in South Africa called him. The Chronicle contends that if Lord Dundonald's estimate of the weakness of the Canadian militia is well founded, he was bound to issue such a warning though it thinks he might have obtained his object without inciting conflict.

A FOOL'S PARADISE.

The Pall Mall Gazette heads its editorial "A Fool's Paradise," and says "The Canadian Government must have an uncomfortable feeling to-day that in their resentment of criticism they have only managed to call down upon themselves its heaviest and most galling artillery. Lord Dundonald's complaint of political meddling with the force was no thoughtless or impulsive exhibition of petulance. His statement amounts to a deliberate charge that the Canadian Ministry are neglecting their duty and concealing their neglect from the Canadian public." If the Ministers say they have no money to remedy the defects of the force the Pall Mall Gazette replies that they have money for other strange purposes, referring to the appointment of unnecessary highly-paid officers.

IS CANADIAN PROBLEM.

But the Pall Mall Gazette and all other journals here, commenting on the matter, admit that Canada must herself put right whatever is wrong. "All that Englishmen can do is," to the words of the Daily Mail, "to hope that hereafter the Canadian people will insist on having their militia placed above party."

A SERIOUS INDICTMENT.

The London Globe also devotes an editorial to Lord Dundonald. It says his statement is a very serious indictment against the Canadian Government. It is not possible to imagine a more damning charge. The situation is distressing and may have, unless wisely handled most serious and far reaching effects. Canada must in the first instance deal with the matter but "the Imperial Government has a very real interest; for if a colony cannot or will not organize and maintain a sufficient and properly equipped force for the defence of its frontier, the duty and burden will in last resort be ours. This duty the Imperial navy already almost exclusively performs in regard to the coast defence of Canada, and we therefore have every right to expect that the Dominion Government will do its utmost to provide adequately and efficiently for the defence of the land frontier.

AN ILL DEFENDED FRONTIER.

"Happily we are on increasingly good terms with the United States, but what has happened may happen again. It is notorious that for some years the American Government has been fortifying strategical positions on the Canadian frontier in a manner and with a thoroughness with which te Dominion armaments compare unfavorably.

"The more regrettable, therefore is it that we believe these questions in Canada, are honeycombed with politics, in which inevitably, as we have seen it occasionally at home, the higher interests of the country are relegated to a secondary position.

A REMEDY SUGGESTED.

"The remedy, we believe, lies in the formation of an Imperial Council representative of all the colonies and dependencies of the Crown sitting in Westminster from year to year to discuss and co-ordinate all those questions relating to defence and administration, which affect or are likely to affect the Empire as a whole. Our present patchwork constitution is rapidly becoming more demonstratively inadequate for the purpose."

LOOK TO KUROPATKIN

Russian Expert Great Things From His Assuming the Offensive

Liao Yang, June 22.—For the first time since the beginning of the war General Kuropatkin has taken personal direction of the operations and in consequence of his having assumed the offensive results very different from those following recent events are anticipated.

The tactics of the Japanese are admired here, but their strategy is criticised, especially with regard to the battle of Vafangow, June 14, which may truthfully be called an artillery engagement. During that battle the infantry extended over the field further than the eye could reach, one division covering six miles.

In spite of the fact that up to the present the happenings have caused uneasiness, the possibilities of the southern situation are thoroughly appreciated.

The naval attaches have abandoned their plan to visit Port Arthur and are going to Vladivostock. The military attaches have left for the southward in anticipation of important developments.

POISON THAT KILLED

Girl Took Carbolic Acid by Mistake and Passed Away

Clinton, June 22—A very sudden death occurred here to-night, when Bessie, the bright and pretty daughter of D. A. Forrester, died from the effects of carbolic acid. She rose early this morning to pursue her studies, and, not feeling very well, took what she thought was a dose of pain killer, but which proved to be carbolic acid. When her father got up shortly after he found her unconscious on a sofa, with her books open beside her, evidently quite anxious to prepare for her examination to come off next week. Doctors were immediately called and about 4 o'clock this morning she regained consciousness, and was thought to be gaining, but her heart was affected and she died at 10 o'clock.

Colima, Mexico, June 22. — General Angel Martinez, who died in this city recently, leaving no family, bequeathed his entire fortune, amounting to over $2,000,000, to the governor of this state and the national government. The governor receives the larger share.

BATTLE OF TELISSU WAS MOST DESPERATE

One of the Wickedest of Battles in Which Japanese Triumphed

Tokio, June 22—General Oku, the victor of the battle of Nanshan Hill fought and won the battle of Telissu (Vanfangow) according to the Russian designation, on June 15.

There is a strong similarity between the two fights. At Telissu the Japanese had to drive the Russians from two hills, while at Nanshan the enemy occupied one hill. The Russian position at Telissu was superior to that of the Japanese and equalized the advantage of the Japanese in having a larger force. The Russian position extended from east to west and crossed the narrow valley through which run the Foo Chou river and the railway. From their positions on the right and left in the high hills which flank this valley, General Oku drove the Russians down into the valley. The Japanese general carried first the enemy's right and then his left. The fight at the left of his line was the most desperate in the day. The Russians held this position with desperate determination and only fled when they were almost completely enveloped. The field had been disputed all day, and when the Japanese reached it six hundred of the enemy's dead were found there.

General Oku started from a line marked by the Pulandien and the Tasa river on June 13. The following day the several advancing columns were in touch 7 1-2 miles south of Telissu.

The Russian forces then held a line between Tafang Shen and Lung Wang Tin. The entire Japanese line advanced and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the Japanese artillery opened fire. The Russians had ninety-eight guns, and they replied with spirit until darkness put an end to the artillery duel. During the night of the 14th two of the Japanese columns seized two hills.

When dawn of the 15th broke the field of battle was obscured by fog, but the artillery opened early. A portion of the Japanese middle column advancing to the north side of a bend in the Foo Chou river, where the men were greatly exposed to the enemy's fire, but a force of infantry and artillery relieved them. At half-past nine o'clock this relieving force seized a vantage point, and in co-operation with the middle column drove the Russians from Tafang Shen.

The Russian batteries posted in two different points poured a heavy fire into these forces, but in spite of this shelling, the middle column and the men who were sent forward to relieve the force at the head in the Foo Chou river climbed the heights ahead of them and quickly mastered the situation.

THE RIGHT WAS SUFFERING.

In the meantime the Japanese right was suffering. The Russian left had been reinforced until their numbers were greater than the opposing Japanese. General Oku was twice forced to order up the infantry reserves. The Russians made a series of desperate counter attacks, and when the situation was most critical Japanese cavalry swing around the Russian left and struck the enemy on the flank. At this time additional reinforcements had arrived and the Russians held their position with dogged determination until their front and both flanks were under fire. Then they broke and fled.

The Japanese cavalry pursued the enemy for a short time, but the roughness of the country made it necessary soon to abandon the pursuit. The Japanese left succeeded in ambushing 900 Russian infantrymen, who were discovered retiring toward Wu Chiatun. They sent two companies of infantry and one battalion of artillery to a hill east of Hong Chiatun, and the Russians were completely trapped.

Many of the enemy at this point were killed or wounded. In his report General Oku says the Russians began the fight with twenty-five battalions of infantry, seventeen squadrons of cavalry and ninety-eight guns. They were reinforced several times, but the number of reinforcements is not known. The Russian casualties are not known with exactitude.

KUROPATKIN IN COMMAND.

Liao Yang, June 22.—For the first time since the beginning of the war General Kuropatkin has taken personal direction of the operations, and in offensive results very different from those of the recent events are anticipated.

The tactics of the Japanese are admired here, but their strategy is criticised, especially with regard to the battle of Vafangtien (June 14) which may truthfully be called an artillery engagement. A Crime your own affair, of course, but still a crime to put a drug into your stomach that may upset your nervous system and bring on all kinds of ails such as the coffee drinker usually knows. The result may be only a slight form of dyspepsia, or it may be organic heart or kidney trouble or nervous prostration, for science has proved that the drugs in coffee DIRECTLY attack the nerves, stomach, heart and kidneys. If the nervous trouble ends in sore eyes or piles don't be surprised for coffee has been PROVED to be the cause of these and other obscure troubles.

A TRIAL

in coffee's place 10 days of a rebuilding agent that is positively ALL FOOD and not at all a drug usually shows big results for the better and that's just POSTUM'S job—to rebuild all the broken down nerve cells in brain and nerve centres. The trial is pleasant, for well boiled POSTUM has the fine color and suggests the flavor of the highest grade of Old Government Java and when served with rich cream is simply delicious. In a few days the old coffee ails disappear and you find you have come to like delicious POSTUM for its own flavor and for the satisfied, well-fed feeling that follows the use of this true food-drink. (Made of purest cereals only.)

is always in POSTUM'S favor for the reason that after 10 days or so the most fastidious will not miss the coffee for POSTUM has entirely taken its place so far as the palate goes and the Body, Brain and Nerves feel as if you have taken a new lease on life, a taste of the delicious glow of health that cannot possibly come so long as a destroying agent like coffee is made a part of the daily diet. No matter how well you feel if you drink coffee, you will feel better if you cut out the coffee and drink well boiled POSTUM in its place. Possibly you would like a taste of

The Joy of Living

Then Put Aside the Drug-Drink for a Short While and Try and even 10 days trial will show really great improvement, for there is a great, grand message to humanity in POSTUM and it will not take long to show even in the worst, sickest, broken-down coffee toper. Don't sit on the fence and howl "Nonsense, coffee don't hurt me, why I've drank it all my life," but make a little trial that will prove something. If you say like thousands of others "coffee don't hurt" you are only guessing. The reward is BIG if you do find out you're wrong, and 10 days trial of POSTUM

OLD HAGAR'S SECRET

BY MRS. M. J. HOLMES

Stock up "God save the Queen" and from an adjoining field a rifle shot sent back the stirring note of "Hail Columbia. Happy Land." Mrs. Jeffery too, was there. In short she had labored at the rent made by her four in the flag of her native days, and now, presiding at every post, she dressed it on the lower stairs, planting it herself up on the housetop, where, side by side with the royal banner it waved in the summer breeze. And this she did, not because she cared a whit for the table, in which she "didn't believe" and declared would never work," but because she would celebrate Margaret's wedding day, and so made some amends for her interference when once before the stars and stripes had floated above the old stone house.

And thus it was, amid smiles and tears, amid bells and drums, and waving flags and merry songs amid noisy shout and booming guns that double bridal day was kept, and when the sun went down it left a glory on the western clouds as if they, too, had donned their best attire in honor of the union.

* * * * * *

It is moonlight on the land, glorious, beautiful moonlight. On Hagar's peaceful grave it falls, and glancing off from the polished stone, shines across the fields upon the old stone house, where all is cheerless now and still. No life, no sound — no bounding step — no gleeful song. All is silent, all is sad. The light of the household has departed; it went with the hour when first to each other the lonesome servants said, "Margaret is gone."

Yes, she is gone, and all through the darkened rooms there is found no trace of her, but away to the eastward the moonlight falls upon the sea, where a noble vessel rides With sails unfurled to the evening breeze, it speeds away away from the loved hearts on the shore which after that bark and its precious freight have sent many a throb of love. Upon the deck of that gallant ship there stands a beautiful bride, looking across the water with streaming eye, and smiling through her tears on him who wipes those tears away, and whispers in her ear, "I will be more to you, my wife, than they have ever been."

So, with the lovelight shining on her heart, and the moonlight shining on the wave, we bid adieu to one who bears no more the name of "Maggie Miller."

THE END

The Job He Preferred.

Just after the fall of Bloemfontein soldiers were called upon, owing to the scarcity of civilians, to work the railway. The weary men were lying in camp one night after a hard day's work, when a sergeant called out:

"Any of you men want to put your names down as railway porters, drivers, stokers, or for any other appointment in connection with the railway?"

The silence was broken only by snores. Then one Tommy slowly raised his head and drowsily muttered:

"Put me down as a sleeper!"

Scissors.

A young fellow, a reporter on a big newspaper, who turns out "copy" easily and in abundance, called the other day at a hardware shop.

"What do you require?" demanded the polite shopkeeper.

The brilliant reporter was engaged in thought and answered absently, "A pair of scissors."

"For what use?"

The reporter answered, with an intensely preoccupied air, "Scissors—to use in writing."

The Pomp With Which It Was Done by Queen Victoria.

The trumpets sound. The queen approaches. The trumpet continues, and first enter at a side door close at my elbow the college of heralds richly dressed, slowly, two and two. Then the great officers of the household, then the lord chancellor bearing purse, seal and speech of the queen, with the mace bearers before him. Then Lord Lansdowne with the crown, the Earl of Zetland with the cap of maintenance and the Duke of Wellington with the sword of state. Then Prince Albert, leading the queen, followed by the Duchess of Sutherland, mistress of the robes, and the Marchioness of Douro, daughter-in-law of the Duke of Wellington, who is one of the ladies in waiting. The queen and prince sit down, while everybody else remains standing. The queen then says in a voice most clear and sweet, "My lords (rolling the r), be seated." Upon which the peers sit down, except those who enter with the queen, who group themselves about the throne in the most picturesque manner. The queen had a crown of diamonds, with splendid necklace and stomacher of the same. The Duchess of Sutherland close by her side with her ducal coronet of diamonds and a little back Lady Douro, also with her coronet. On the right of the throne stood the lord chancellor, with scarlet robe and flowing wig, holding the speech, surrounded by the emblems of his office; a little farther, one step lower down, Lord Lansdowne, holding the crown on a crimson velvet cushion, and on the left the Duke of Wellington, brandishing the sword of state in the air, with the Earl of Zetland by his side. The queen's train of royal purple, or, rather, deep crimson, was borne by many train bearers. The whole scene seemed to me like a dream or a vision. After a few minutes the lord chancellor came forward and presented the speech to the queen. She read it sitting and most exquisitely. Her voice is flutelike and her whole emphasis decided and intelligent. Very soon after the speech is finished she leaves the house, and we all follow as soon as we can get our carriages.—Mrs. George Kennedy in Scribner's.

Museums of Security.

Museums of security exist in Amsterdam, Munich and Berlin for the exhibition of devices for the prevention of accident in the use of machinery.

They Freeze and Still Live.

Fish, flies and caterpillars, though frozen solid, retain life because their construction admits of frost expansion without disruption. A freezing temperature only results to them in torpor.

Few Eclipses in London.

There has been but one total eclipse of the sun at London since the year 1140, that of 1715, and, according to Professor Holden, there will not be another until after the opening of the twenty-first century.

Carnival of Venice.

The carnival of Venice, which once was celebrated by the whole populace of that city, has now become a monopoly of the children.

Touch the warts on your hands twice or thrice a day with castor oil or oil of cinnamon. Another very simple way to cause them to shrivel away is to anoint them with your own saliva the first thing every morning. A touch of acetic acid is also effective.

Artificial eyes were first used by the Egyptians long before the Christian era. Mummies have been found with artificial optics. They were fashioned in gold, silver, copper or ivory.

A RARE CHANCE

FOR CANADIAN INVESTORS

THOMAS PATTERSON & CO.
BROKERS, PETERBOROUGH

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

CRIPPLE CREEK ENTERPRISE GOLD MINING COMPANY

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non-assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

3. Do you know that our capital is only $150,000?
4. Do you know that 300,000 tons of ore are in sight? This is proof that you are investing in a mine.

7. Do you know that our neighbors produced last year $5,000,000.
8. Do you know that by their experience we profit, and can in one year be listed among them as a paying property.

RUSSIA IS UTTERLY AT MERCY OF JAPAN

British Critics Believes That Russia is Unable to Cope With The Japs

St. Petersburg, June 21.—Military opinion is outraged by the disaster to the Russian arms at Vafangow and Telessu. General Kuropatkin is denounced in unmeasured terms. It is asserted that after the Emperor, rejecting the counsel of the civilian element in the court, commanded Kuropatkin to use his own judgment, the Russian general yielded to the temptation to compromise his opponents in St. Petersburg sufficiently to project a hazardous tentative movement toward the rear of the besiegers of Port Arthur. Hence it is declared that the commander-in-chief attempting to sit on two stools, fell between them. With further disastrous consequences to Russia's chances in the war, much language is heard in military circles in this connection which is too violent to print. The Liberals aver that all things are working together to discredit the government in the eyes not only of the educated unofficial public but also of patriotic men of every station in the national service.

REJOICING IN JAPAN.

Tokio, June 21.—Public dismay due to Admiral Skrydloff's exploits in the Corea Strait is lost in rejoicing in the defeat administered to the Russians under Stakelberg at Vafangow. This battle comes as a surprise to all classes since the opinion was universal that Kuropatkin would withdraw Stakelberg's forces before the army defending General Oku's rear could get into close quarters with it. In other words, now expected the Russians to repeat the mistake of the Yalu and declare their retreat until the overwhelming numbers of the Japanese involved them in defeat.

It is not believed by the military council that Kuropatkin hopes to relieve Port Arthur. It is convinced that not even a Russian Choolbow could have dreamed it practicable for Stakelberg's force, however skilfully supported by the troops the Russians dated detach from the main army at Liao Yang and Mukden to alter the situation on the peninsula. It is supposed that only a diversion was intended to check the general Japanese advance, delay the storming of Port Arthur and thereby promote the principal object of Russian strategy to gain time. However, the Russians went about their work clumsily and suffered greater loss in the south than they possibly could have gained in the north, because of any resultant delay. Moreover, the end is not yet. The Japanese hope to intercept Stakelberg at Haicheng and compel Kuropatkin to come to his assistance. Then they would swing around on the railway north of Mukden and bring th whole campaign to an immediate crisis.

HEARD IN LONDON.

London, June 21.—Russia's naval and military leaders appear stricken with fatal mental heaviness," says an executive committee man of the Naval League to a Daily Star correspondent. "Everything they initiate is behind hand," he continued. "They waited till the Japanese were swarming in Southern Manchuria, equipped with all the necessities of war, and then sent the Vladivostock squadron searching about the seas, uselessly inviting destruction. This intrepid raid might have been made a few weeks ago with terrible results to the Japanese transports. Similarly, Kuropatkin waited until the enemy had the Liao Tung peninsula in overwhelming force and then dispatched a raiding column south not indeed in the hope of relieving Port Arthur, but to harass and retard the invaders while reinforcements accumulated at Mukden. If the Russian general wanted to take such risks, why did he not act while the Mikado's troops were landing, and before they had intrenched and fortified themselves and placed heavy guns at all the strategic points in the southern half of the theatre of war? The policy of the czar's admirals and generals seems explicable only on the theory that they are utterly incompetent to combat with the Japanese."

HONOR CONFERED ON HIS MAJESTY KING EDWARD

Archduke Frederick will pay a Friendly Visit to the British Court

Vienna, June 21.—It is now definitely decided that the Emperor Francis Joseph must give up his intended visit to England, but that a member of the Imperial House shall proceed to London in order to represent the monarch. To mark this friendly exchange of visits the Emperor has conferred upon King Edward the dignity of a field marshal of the Austro-Hungarian army.

As the heir presumptive, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, is prevented by family circumstances from undertaking the long journey to England, His Majesty has determined to send as his representative the Archduke Frederick, who is on friendly terms with the English Court. Recently during the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Vienna he gave a ball in their honor at his palace. The Archduke Frederick, as heir of the Austrian field marshal, the Archduke Albercht, is one of the richest men in the dual monarchy. The Archduke will remain six days in London, and the details connected with his visit are now being arranged between the Grand Chamberlain of the Archduke, Count Bigot de St. Quentin and the British Ambassador in Vienna. The day for the Archduke's departure will be settled in the next few days. The Archduke Frederick and his consorts, the Archduchess Isabella, are at present staying at their Hungarian estate at Halbthurn. Before his departure for London the Archduke will have an audience with the Emperor, and he will take to London the field marshal's baton and insignia for King Edward.

THE GIANT'S LOOP LOOPER

Diavolo the Only one to Perform That Feature Feat

This season the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows are exploiting three distinctly different and equally inimitable cycling feats: that of Prodigious Porthos in vaulting awheel across a chasm fifty feet in width; of "Cyclone," the cycling paradox, who spirally ascends the absolutely perpendicular interior of "The Devil's Chimney" on his bike, and of Diavolo looping the loop. When they introduced the latter achievement at Madison Square Garden and in Philadelphia it created a genuine popular furoore, and elicited more praise and was given more pictorial and descriptive space in the newspapers of those cities than any previous aerobic sensation ever presented there. In the performance of this recklessly daring and dumfounding triumph over gravitation's edict, starting from the apex of the canvas dome, Diavlo makes a widely swift dash down a narrow dangerously steep incline on a bicycle, thus gaining a comet-like momentum which carries him up and around the loop at "Empire State Express" speed. At the top of the loop both the rider and wheel are upside down, and in the twinkling of an eye complete the circuit, to resume their normal position. The three marvelous wizards of the wheel named will appear at each performance of the big show here on Saturday, July 2.

RENAMING STREETS

In Honor of Old Residents Which Are Desirable and Praiseworthy

It has been recommended to change the names of some of the streets in the town, and especially in Ward Five, where there are several of the same name. This decision was arrived at in Committee of the Whole Council at the meeting of Tuesday last. The changes proposed are:

IN WARD NO. FIVE.

From Brown to Mark
From Dickson to Hazlitt
From Lake to Rogers
From Elizabeth to Hunter.
From Crescent to Knox
From John to Birdsall.
From Queen to Peck
From Lock to Otonabee

IN WARD NO. FOUR.

From Mill to Jackson Park to be called Fairbairn street.
Victoria is to be called Hilliard.
Maple to be called Clurton
Short to be called Stevenson.

There is already a Mark street in Ashburnham which comes up to the south side of Elizabeth street, and Brown street is practically a continuation of this street, running north from Elizabeth street. This street was named after the late Rev Mark Burnham.

Dickson street, which was named after the late Samuel Dickson, is proposed to be changed to Hazlitt street, after the late T. G. Hazlitt, who was a son-in-law of Mr Dickson, and for a long time manager of the Dickson Company.

The changes of Lake street to Burnham, Stewart to Rogers, and John to Birdsall, introduce three of the oldest names of men who were pioneers and who were connected with the earliest history of Ashburnham. The Hon. Zackeus Burnham, surveyed the village and district, and he and his descendants have always taken an active interest in its affairs; the late R. D. Rogers was the first reeve of the village while the late Mr Birdsall was connected with the first survey made of the town.

Elizabeth street, which is proposed to be changed to Hunter street, was named after Elizabeth Burnham, who married Mr R. E. Birdsall, and in dropping this name compensation is made to the historical by using both names Burnham and Birdsall for other streets.

The proposed change of Queen street to Peck street is in honor of the late treasurer of the village and also to the present warden of the county, Mr. E. A. Peck.

Crescent street to Knox street. This street is a short one connecting Carlyle street and Munro street, and in recommending Knox street the committee proposed another of residential name.

In Ward No. 4 it is proposed to change Mill street near the Jackson Park to Fairbairn street, in honor of the late Mr Fairbairn, M.P.P.

Victoria avenue runs along the property purchased by the town from the Hilliard estate, and also the property being annexed to the town by the estate of Mr Dickson. It is proposed to call the street Hilliard street in honor of the late George Hilliard, M.P.

Maple street in the South Ward is proposed to be called Clurton street, after the late Mr Clurton, who was always identified with so many business enterprises of earlier days.

The proposal to change Short street to Stevenson street is in honor of Mr Jas. Stevenson, ex-M.P.

NO 2 CAR HERE

Forepaugh-Sells Advertising Car in Town Yesterday

The great Forepaugh-Sells aggregation, which is to visit Peterborough on Saturday, July 2, was further heralded yesterday by the presence here of the advertising car, No. 2. This car is in charge of Mr. W. S. Freed, who looks after his boys with a fatherly interest. The party is made up of Messrs. W. F. Adams, boss bill poster; Charlie McKee, assistant; Billy Carroll, O. Hilbery, Harry Mercier, Al. Mason, Andy Stourh, Frank O'Harrow, Jimmy Casey, A. Biller and Ed. Pepper, the courteous and popular boss banner man.

Col. Hybrand, the well-known paste maker, is also a member of the party. The colonel's ability in his line is known far and near by the "profesh." His paste will stick closer than a brother, or even a bad quarter.

The boys left last night for Toronto, after decorating the town in a way that is sure to draw the crowd.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

I desire to call the attention of investors to the

Smuggler Gold Mining Co.'s Proposition

of which I am the authorized agent

Investments in mining stocks where they can be purchased cheaply whose property contains merit and whose directors are men of unquestionable honor and integrity, and especially when sufficient work has been done to guarantee a producing mine and the leads have been demonstrated to be permanent, offer the greatest opportunity for large returns from modern investments.

The shrewdest capitalists of England and America are giving more attention to mining properties and putting more money into them than at any time in the past history of the world.

The Smuggler Group consists of five full sized claims, to-wit:- The Smuggler, Gangon, Black Jack, Star and Bed Rock, located in the Greenhorn District of Eastern Oregon. Surrounding mines are Potosi, Pride of Pendleton, Bonanza and Rockefeller, developing work to the extent of 1,000 feet of tunnelling, drifts and crosscuts have been made, exposing hundreds of tons of high grade ore, averaging from $25 to $45 per ton, based on smelter returns and for the purpose of equipping the mines a limited number of shares of Treasury Stock will be sold at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.00.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 285 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

Toronto, December 10, 1903.

Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., or Mr. W. J. Gage, Toronto, will receive and acknowledge any contributions made.

THE ROCKLAND HOUSE FIRE

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATES IT

Coroner of Opinion that the Fire was of Incendiary Origin

Shortly after the burning of the Rockland, the Bobcaygeon Council communicated with the Attorney-General's Department, Toronto, and after some delay occasioned by the staff at the disposal of the Department being engaged, Detective and Provincial Coroner J. E. Rogers opened an investigation at the Town Hall on Wednesday morning last. Mr. Rogers presided and Mr. W. E. Smith, barrister appeared for the Council. Mr. Geo. W. Taylor acted as court stenographer. On recommendation of Mr. Smith the enquiry was conducted to a certain extent in private, though the coroner preferred thorough publicity.

Mr. H Thompson gave evidence as to amount paid for the premises, and the amount of insurance which was $6,000 on hotel and $500 on the stable and sheds. A 22 ft. strip on the lane from Canal street he had obtained recently on a long lease. The insurance of course went to the party holding the mortgage. He showed a heavy loss by the fire, his furniture and stocks were not insured He was satisfied it was of incendiary origin.

Capt. Ed. Smith said a few nights before the fire at the request of H Thompson he took J D. Montgomery home, he being somewhat under the weather. The following morning he mentioned to Thompson that he had some trouble to get Montgomery home, for he fancied that if everyone had their rights the Rockland corner would belong to him. This was mentioned and treated as a joke.

Mr. Broad was awakened by his wife, and found the Rockland sheds on fire. He went out but saw he could do nothing himself, and aroused the Rockland inmates. After that he rang the alarm. He was of opinion that the fire could not have been started from the outside, and that it was incendiary.

Mr. Moffatt, at the time engineer of the fire engine, explained how the set fire to the engine, and then found that the water was out of the boiler. The engine had been in use for 14 years and nothing of the kind had happened before. He had no reason to think anything would be wrong with the boiler. The blow-out cock was partly turned. The boiler usually carried 40 to 45 gallons.

Constable Allison, as caretaker of the Fire Hall, was called. He attended to the boiler every Saturday, filling in a little loss by evaporation. The boiler was all right at ten o'clock the night of the fire, and had fully two inches of water in the gauge.

Mr. A. E. Kennedy, captain of the Fire Company, gave evidence as to the disablement of the engine. His attention had also been called to a track in the newly fallen snow that led from the fire hall across the dam.

Mr Wm Grant saw the track from the hall; it measured 1 1-2, wide and 12 3-4 long and appeared to be that of a worn rubber or over-shoe.

Mr M Mullen, caller at the Rockland, testified to the custom of leaving the stables unlocked. Sometimes men tired from drinking laid down in the horse stables, but he never allowed anyone to go up into the loft. The straw and hay over the stable and driving shed could be easily reached and fired from the manure heap. He judged the place had been fired from the inside.

Mr. J. D. Montgomery was called and examined by the coroner. He had no knowledge of the fire until 5.30 the morning of the fire, when his wife awoke him, and he went over and worked on the hose He had no quarrel or animosity for H Thompson. He had no recollection whatever of the evening with Capt. Smith

This closed the list of witnesses. The coroner said there was no doubt of the fire being incendiary, and that the fire engine had been tampered with. As there was a possibility of other developments he would adjourn the case for a month.—Independent

Circular Issued by the Port Hope Canal Association

The Port Hope Canal Association has issued a circular pointing out the advantages of that town as an outlet for the Trent Valley Canal. It is pointed out that a favine extends all the way from Rice Lake to Port Hope, making a natural channel the distance from the Otonabee river to Port Hope is 19 miles, of which 13 1-2 miles is canalage, while the distance to Trenton is 58 miles improved river navigation. These are the figures given in the circular, in which it is also stated that the canal to Port Hope could be easily enlarged if necessary, to 14 feet, there being little or no rock, while the Trenton route would involve a great deal of rock cutting. It is claimed also that Port Hope has much the better harbor.

The decision of the question must depend largely upon technical and local knowledge, and all that can be said is that the matter ought to be carefully and impartially investigated. The town of Port Hope and the adjacent municipalities have asked for a fair, impartial and exhaustive survey of both routes by an independent engineer, and this seems to be a reasonable request.

New Wharves for Rice Lake

Mr. W. P. Merrick, of Ottawa, arrived in town on Saturday, and yesterday went down the river per steamer City of Peterborough to Rice Lake, where he will measure all the wharves on the lake. It looks as though the government proposes at last to build new landings. We hope that a wharf below the locks and one in Ashburnham will be included. Mr. Merrick was accompanied by Mrs. Merrick.

INSIGNIA OF SOLDIERS

Marks of Rank Prescribed by New Regulations.

They Designate at a Glance the Standing and Branch of Military Service to Which the Men Belong.

Although the general order prescribing the new uniform for the soldiers of the United States regular army was issued a year ago last July and went into effect on the first of the year, the men one sees about the streets are still clad in the traditional blue But that is because there is still a supply of such cloth on hand and the government economically determined to use it up, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The enlisted men do not get new suits until their old ones are worn out.

In some months' time we will no longer see the lads in army blue. They will wear the blue only on dress occasions; on service they will wear olive drab and on fatigue duty they will wear brown cotton duck On some occasions in tropical service they will wear a uniform of white cotton duck.

The stripes on the trousers of the non-commissioned officers are of the following colors: Cavalry, yellow; artillery, scarlet; infantry, light blue; engineers, scarlet piped with white; ordnance, black piped with scarlet; post quartermaster sergeants, buff; the hospital corps, maroon piped with white; the signal corps, orange. Sergeants' stripes are one inch wide. A corporal wears a stripe half an inch wide Musicians wear two stripes half an inch wide.

Thus by the color one can tell the arm of the service in which the enlisted man serves and the stripe shows his rank By the dress cap one can tell at a glance the regiment and the company of the enlisted man, also his arm Thus the cavalryman wears crossed sabers, the artilleryman crossed cannon, the infantryman crossed rifles, the engineer a castle. Ordnance men wear the shell and flame, post commissary sergeants a crescent of white metal, electrician sergeants a symbol resembling forked lightning, hospital corps men a caduceus, which is the snake-entwined rod that Mercury carried The men of the signal corps wear two crossed flags and a torch. Band musicians wear a lyre of white metal, while field musicians of infantry and the engineers and trumpeters of cavalry wear a bugle

There are many kinds of sergeants and many ranks. The chevrons on the sleeves tell what the bearer is. The regimental sergeant major, for instance, wears three bars and an arc of three bars. The regimental quartermaster sergeant also has three bars, but they are joined by three straight bars. The regimental commissary sergeant has the same insignia with a crescent in the angle. Squadron or battalion sergeant majors have three bars with an arc of

KEEPS THE BOYS AT HOME.

Farmers' Association in Southern Illinois Has This Object for Its Principal Aim.

The continual exodus of boys from the farms of southern Illinois to the cities is being combated in this section of Egypt by a society bearing the name of Farmers' Relief association. The association is the outgrowth of an idea hatched in southern Illinois, and in the seven counties where the society is organized its effects are plainly seen, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. The rush of young men to St. Louis, Chicago and Cincinnati has been almost completely stayed. The farmers' boys are themselves members of the new organization, which has in a manner furnished attractions to rural life which largely offset the allurements of the city.

The Farmers' Relief association is modeled somewhat upon the lines of the trades union, and embodies some of the best and most reasonable features of former ill-born farmers' societies. The central idea of the association is to make country life attractive The founder, James H. England, contended that if in each school district the families could be brought into closer social relations and the life given some little variety the problem would be solved

The school district was made the unit in the plan The school teacher was raised from mere pedagogue to social arbiter. He is called the chairman of the community committee, and he sees that there is always "some sort of doin's," as the people say. The Wagner school district, a few miles south of Carbondale, is the best organized community In the Wagner society every person in the district, transient or resident, is entitled to membership To the social events of the district the rural pedagogue invites every man, woman and child. That means that there are no feuds, no quarrels, no wrangling, in the community, for all the people meet in a social way

The society has gone further than this, and has installed a school district telephone system An old lady who has nothing to do but darn heavy home-knit socks or sew carpet rags is the "hello girl." Each family in the district pays five dollars annually for the use of a telephone, and they use it. The young men do their courting over the telephone when the weather is bad, and the only complaint of the telephone service to be made so far was that one rainy night Cupid had connected so many of the subscribers that a very sick man could not get a message through to the doctor in Carbondale. The man did not die, however.

As soon as the telephone system was in working order the school teacher organized a string band. This country musical organization furnishes the music at the dances and the church socialables The band has a repertoire that includes everything from "The Arkansas Traveler" to "Coming Through the Rye."

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Fine Weather Gives Relief from Catarrh

But Never Cures it Because the Germs are Still Alive, Though Inactive. First Kill the Germs Then You'll be Really Cured.

Catarrh germs are carried into the throat and lungs by the air we breathe. In the same way the remedy must be applied. To be effectual the cure must be breathed, for otherwise it can't get where the germs really are.

Mix your germ-killing medicine with air, breathe it right into all the little air cells where the catarrh really is, then you'll get cured quickly. This is exactly the way Catarrhozone acts. You inhale its medicated vapor to the very source of the disease. It destroys the cause of the inflammation, kills all the microbes that develop when the lining membranes become diseased. Besides this Catarrhozone is a wonderful healer. Every sore spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue. All the poisonous secretions that have been putrifying the system are driven out. No trace of catarrh remains after Catarrhozone has been used.

Why don't you use Catarrhozone? Its the simplest thing in the world to use, and so sure to cure permanently that you really can't afford to be without it.

MISS E. M. PETERS is known by every resident in the pretty town of Highland Grove. She was cured by Catarrhozone of systematic catarrh and says; "For three years before I commenced using Catarrhozone I was continually bothered by a congested condition of my nose and throat. I was sneezing and coughing all the time and really never felt well. I persevered with Catarrhozone and was rewarded by being entirely cured. My recovery prompted others in this locality to use Catarrhozone, and many of them have had remarkable cures from using it."

MISS LOUISE MURPHY a well known society belle residing at 22 Monument St., Medford, writes; "Kindly forward me three outfits of Catarrhozone which I have found most valuable for catarrhal affections of the nose and throat. Catarrhozone cured me of weak lungs and really saved me from consumption. I am recommending Catarrhozone above all other treatments, knowing what great curative powers it possesses. I know others who have also benefited by Catarrhozone."

Catarrhozone is perfectly harmless and may be used with perfect safety by the most delicate infant. Instead of deadening the stomach with drugs, it sends the healing vapor along with the air you breathe into every air cell and passage of the nose, throat, lungs and bronchial tubes. Catarrhozone can't fail, it's sure to cure. If not satisfied you can have your money back for the asking. Two months' treatment, hard rubber inhaler and extra bottle of inhalant costs $1.00, sample size 25c. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont., Can.

Have Installed a Drinking Fountain

Messrs. R. Hall & Son have installed a drinking fountain in their store for the convenience of their customers and employees. The fountain contains ice water during the summer months, and is placed in a convenient place in the establishment—in the center of the store. This is a thoughtful move on the part of this firm, who are up-to-date in all their methods of doing business, and the welfare of customers are often a first consideration on their part, as this move abundantly proves. It will be appreciated by one and all of the firm's patrons.

C.P.R. in Lindsay

Lindsay, June 20.—The construction trains on the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and Pontypool Railway, arrived in Lindsay today from Burketon. Two C.P.R. engineers are with the construction party. The track is laid as far as the Lindsay station. Immense crowds of delighted citizens were on the scene and loudly welcomed the arrival of the track and C.P.R. connection in the town. It is universally conceded that the advent of the C.P.R. in Lindsay will fill a long felt want. The construction trains will push on rapidly to Bobcaygeon, the present terminus of the line. It is hoped that the railway will be open for traffic early in August.

GARDEN PARTY AT LAKEFIELD

A Delightful Time was Spent and the Grounds of "Sherbourne" were Magnificent on the Occasion.

The garden party on the grounds surrounding "Sherburne" the residence of Mr. F. J. Tait in Lakefield on Monday evening, was very successful, and every one present seemed to enter into the spirit of the evening with the greatest enthusiasm and with a desire to make the event one to be long remembered by all concerned. The garden party was under the auspices of St. John's church in that village. The 57th Band was present from Peterborough, under the leadership of Mr. Gliddon, and rendered selections which were much appreciated. There were also quite a number of citizens from Peterborough, all of whom speak highly of the entertainment and the good fellowship which actuated all present. A large marquee, gaily lighted with electricity, contained the refreshment tables. It was erected on the lawn, and here the fun was kept up unceasingly by the young ladies (who seemed to be adapted to the several positions which they filled) and their good-humored patrons. A bicycle gymkana was a feature, the course being marked out with flags, streamers and bunting, and held the interest of the younger portion of the audience to a remarkable degree. The usual amount of refreshments were sold and partaken of, and praise of the grounds and the taste displayed in the decoration of them were subjects of very general comment. The authorities of the church have reason to congratulate themselves on the outcome of the party.

Death of a well Known and Respected Lindsay Lady

Lindsay Post: God's angel has been frequently in our midst of late, and has called away many of our most esteemed citizens. The last to receive the summons was Mrs. Ingle, wife of our popular ex-Mayor, Mr. George Ingle, who passed to her reward Saturday night last about 11.30 o'clock. The news of her demise was received with profound sorrow by our citizens of all classes, many of whom were not aware that she had been suffering with diabetes for the last three years, and that the disease had assumed an acute stage some months ago, because when free from pain she went about as much as possible.

Deceased was born in Birmingham, Eng., about 65 years ago, and having been a resident of Lindsay for about 45 years, was known and esteemed by almost everyone. She leaves, in addition to her sorrowing husband, three brothers—Mr. Geo. Matthews, pork packer, town, and two in England, also six nephews and several nieces.

The funeral took place at three o'clock to-day to Riverside cemetery, and was very largely attended. The pall-bearers were the six nephews of the deceased. Among the friends from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler, Peterborough, and Mrs. Wallace, of Wallaceburg.

The bereaved husband and friends will have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

AN ABSURD RUMOR

Story that the Steamer Sovereign is Unsafe Denied

The Times was yesterday informed that a story had gained circulation in town to the effect that the new steamer Sovereign is unsafe—that she is top heavy and rolls in the water. This journal is requested to brand the rumor as utterly false. The boat is not top heavy and does not roll when loaded more than any other steamer.

WEDDING BELLS

Miss Margaret Bird and the Rev. Samuel A. Dupreau United in Marriage

On yesterday morning at the residence of the bride's mother on London street, Miss Margaret Bird was wedded to the Rev. Samuel A. Dupreau, of Belleville. Rev. J. P. Wilson tying the nuptial knot, in the presence of only the intimate friends of the parties interested. They left at noon for the "City of the Bay," where the reverend gentleman is pastor of one of the Methodist churches. Mr. Dupreau supplied the pulpit of the George street church here for a month during the summer of 1903, when the pastor was on his vacation.

LEFT HOSPITAL

A Patient at Nicholls' Hospital Leaves Before Allowed to Do So

A girl, suffering with scarlet fever but who was rapidly recovering from its effects, broke her parole to the attendants at Nicholls Hospital, and left the institution and grounds against strict injunctions to do so as she was in that stage of the disease when she was liable to impart the contagion to any others with whom she might come in contact. She has been absent upwards of 24 hours (at the time of writing) and no trace of her has yet been found. She was unattended at the time she left, for having been warned against such a contingency, and being of the age of discretion, it was never thought that she would so far forget herself, and her duty to others, as to think of leaving the premises.

One dog tag case was settled in court yesterday by the party paying a fine of $2 and nearly double that amount as costs. He had also to pay for tags for the canines.

The three Italians, F. Tamboline, E. Sestaione and F. Giacomo, were committed for trial on two charges, that of taking part in an affray and stabbing Robert Sheridan on the night of the 24th of May, the particulars of which were reported in the Times at the time. The evidence taken was the same as that taken a week of ten days ago, when one of the four men charged was discharged. Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution, and Mr. W. H. Moore appeared for defence of the natives of Sunny Italy.

BYE-ELECTION IN TOWNSHIP OF SMITH

Mr. E. N. Scott Elected Reeve by Acclamation

At the town Hall, in Bridgenorth, on Monday, the nomination of candidates to fill the office of Reeve for the balance of the year, was held, as prescribed by law, and there being only one candidate who offered, viz: Mr. E. N. Scott, who resigned his place as a Councilor, was elected to the higher position by acclamation. The vacancy in the presiding officership of the Council was occasioned by Mr. E. M. Elliott accepting the office of County Clerk and Treasurer.

Mr. Thompson Braden was elected to fill the position vacated by Mr. Scott by acclamation, at the same time and place.

PREMIER ROSS' HEALTH

Elections to Take Place After Which Premier Retires.

The World says: "Hon. J. M. Gibson remarked to a close friend on Saturday at the Globe blowout that Hon. G. W. Ross was in very poor health and that he was going away for a prolonged vacation. It is the belief here that the premier will not long continue to hold office. He has aged fast the last year or two, and the worry of hanging onto office has broken down his strength. A prominent politician said it was certain that Mr. Ross would appeal to the people within a year on the prohibition platform and then retire from active politics. In that event he will be well provided for by his friends. The subscription list for the testimonial his friends are getting up for him is expected to go beyond $30,000 when all the cash is in.

57TH REGT. WILL GO TO BARRIE

Definitely Decided at a Meeting of the Officers Held Last Night

At a meeting of the officers of the 57th Regiment, held last evening, it was decided to accept the invitation to visit Barrie and spend the holiday in that town. The troops, accompanied by the bands, will leave on Wednesday by G. T. Railway, and will return on Friday, arriving home some time during the night, thus getting back for business on Saturday, which will likely be a big day in town on account of the presence of the circus.

The change in the intentions of the officers was occasioned by the fact that they received word from the authorities of the C.P.R. stating that they would be unable to transport the regiment east, as desired as the government had requisitioned the coaches of the company for the conveyance of troops to the camp at Ottawa. So that the trip to Perth had to be abandoned for this year at least. The regiment also received invitations from Belleville and Stratford to visit those places, but had to defer doing so this year. The town of Barrie is nicely situated on the shore of Kempenfelt Bay, and the boys will find the town as attractive, enterprising and up-to-date as any place of the same size, in this Canada of ours, and if time permits, have a sail on Lake Simcoe—one of the finest inland sheets of water in Ontario.

It's Impure Blood.

"What is it?" asks the mother as she notices the smooth skin of her child marred by a red or pimply eruption. It is impure blood, and the child needs at once to begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the best and surest remedy for impurity of the blood. It entirely eradicates the poisons which corrupt the blood and cause disease. It cures scrofula, boils, pimples, eczema, salt-rheum and other eruptive diseases which are the direct result of impure blood. It enriches as well as purifies the blood.

"Dr. Pierce's medicine has not only benefited me greatly, but it has done wonders for my two sons," writes Mrs. M. Matrich, of Demster, Oswego Co., N.Y. "Both had scrofula. I have had two daughters in less than five years with consumption and scrofula. My eldest son was taken two or three years ago with hemorrhage from the lungs. It troubled him for over a year. He took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and has not had a hemorrhage in over a year. My younger son had scrofulous sores on his neck; had two lanced, but has not had any since he commenced to take your medicine."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

The defeat of the Lindsay baseball team at the hands of the T.A.S. on Saturday afternoon in a Kawartha League game makes the third successive win for the victors, having tossed both the Auburn and Fenelon Falls games to Arnill to the inevitable. That the T.A.S. are playing good ball is no mistake, and they are picked by many to land the cup.

In Saturday's game they had the Lindsay team at their mercy, as the score 20—5 with an innings yet to bath, indicates. Quinlan was in the box for the locals and was hit for five runs, his control in the first and second innings, when the visitors got over the plate for three runs, being a little off, but for the remainder of the game he steadied down and pitched good ball. Latimer, who was behind the bat, experienced some difficulty in holding Quinlan. The men on the bags for the T.A.S. are all good men. Trainer, on 1st, Callahan on 3rd and Grady on 2nd, rendered good support to the team. Fitzpatrick, at centre field, and Craig at right field, are good men. In Saturday's game the boys did not exert themselves. Their victory was an easy one, and at stages of the game the boys were rather careless.

The Lindsay team was a disorganized aggregation, their fielding was bad, and the men on the bags seemed to be constantly in trouble. Wild throwing was also a feature of their playing. Cullen, who did the twirling, had very poor control. Walker did the receiving, and was probably the most reliable man on the team.

The visitors went to bat first and Wilson and Hall (clled); Wilson coming in on a bad throw to 3rd by Quinlan. In the 2nd Cullen was the only man to come in. In the 3rd 4th, 5th, 7th and 9th there was nothing doing, but in the 6th and 8th Walker and McWilliams got home.

The only innings in which the locals failed to tally was the 3rd. In the 1st they retired with two runs, and in the 2nd four more were chalked down. In the 7th every man took a crack at the ball. Quinlan coming on twice before they were retired. In this innings every man but two came over the plate for a run, bringing the total up to 13 runs. Two runs were made in each of the 5th, 6th and 7th, and one in the 8th.

The following players made two base hits: Quinlin, 1; Callahan, 1; Derocher, 1; Grady, 1. 3 base hits: Grady and Latimer.

The following players represented the teams:

STORY OF CAPTURE OF MURDERER CHARTRAND

Sensational Details of the Murder of Detective Irvine at Webbwood

Told by C. P. R. Dective Cook Who Passed Through Peterborough on His Way East

The Times is able this morning to give full details of the murder of Detective Irvine and capture of the murderer, which no doubt will be read with interest, as Chartrand, as well as his victim were well known here, the former having lived in Peterborough some years ago. Mr. Cook, of the C. P. R. detective force, returned from Webbwood, where he, assisted by Detective A. Bailey, who is also well known in Peterborough, captured the burglar and murderer. The particulars of the murder are as follows:

While on a C.P.R. train which stopped at Webbwood station, between Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury, Irvine saw a chap named Chartrand get on. The detective knew a warrant was out for Chatrand for burglary, so he walked up to him and put him under arrest as he was entering the car. Chartrand, who is 24 years of age and weighs 135 pounds, denied his identity The detective said "I'll arrest you anyway." Chartrand at first said he would go quietly. Irvine was not armed and did not have any handcuffs with him. When Chartrand found he was not to be handcuffed, he made up his mind to bolt.

He made a break for the door, but Irvine pounced on him. Chartrand drew a revolver and fired three times at point blank range. One ball went through a window, the second went through the car floor. Then Chartrand grappled with the detective and caught him round the waist. With his right arm he put the revolver over the detective's right shoulder and down across his chest till he reached the region of the heart, when he fired again. Irvine fell dead to the car floor.

MURDERER AT BAY.

The shooting drew a crowd. Chartrand dashed from the car. As he came out several residents tried to catch him but he pointed his revolver in their faces and warned them off. One man picked up a stick of wood. "Drop that or I'll drop you," shouted Chartrand. The man dropped the stick.

The desperado then started on the run for the hills near by.

The bad news sped apace.

Detectives Cook and Bailey were at Fort William. When the news was wired to Montreal Chief Inspector Lowrey, of the C.P.R. detective force, wired Cook and Bailey to go to Webbwood. They went there by the next train.

CHARTRAND'S WANDERINGS.

After getting away from the crowd at Webbwood Chartrand seems to have wandered across country to a point on the Spanish river known as Webbwood Falls. Here he broke into a farmer's house and stole two loaves of bread, a shoat and a bottle of pickles.

In the meantime the country round had been aroused and every roadway and bridge was being watched. It should be said that Chartrand was known by sight to most of the Webbwood people, as for the past seven years he had put in most of his time between Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury and Webbwood.

During that time he is said to have burglarized practically every hotel and every store of any account along the railway line between the "Soo" and Sudbury. After his arrest he admitted the various charges and gave the detectives a list of every place he had broken into. But this is getting ahead of the story.

WAS FIRED ON.

When Chartrand wandered down to the railway bridge across the Spanish River about 12 miles from Webbwood, with the intention of crossing, he saw a man on the bridge whom he afterwards said he took for a section man and past whom he had intended to force his way. The man, however, was one of the dozens of volunteer constables who had been sworn in to effect a capture. As Chartrand came nearer he saw that the man carried a revolver. He suddenly changed his mind and started on the run for the woods again.

At once five other armed men sprang up and they called on the fleeing man to halt. As he refused to stop they fired. The distance was about 100 yards.

Chartrand when he heard the firing dropped to his knees and crawled into the underbrush.

The watchers at once lined up around the spot where Chartrand had disappeared and afterwards a handcar was sent to Webbwood for the C.P.R. detectives who had arrived and were awaiting news of the desperados whereabouts.

THE ROUNDUP.

When the C.P.R. detectives arrived Mr. Cook took charge of a party of 12 armed men and began a systematic search of the bush and the hills around.

When they reached the spot where Chartrand had dropped they found that he had had a very narrow escape from being shot. He had dropped just beside a small tree of about four inches in diameter at the trunk. In this trunk at the level of a man's breast were found three bullet holes, not an inch apart from each other.

A careful search of the surrounding country had been made and the detectives had about come to the conclusion that Chartrand had escaped, when Detective Cook saw something moving in the underbrush not far from where Chartrand had taken to his knees.

Cook shouted, "Stand up or I'll shoot." There was no stir.

Hearing the command the other men closed in rapidly.

"Stand up or we'll all fire," Cooke shouted.

Chartrand raised one hand through the underbrush.

"That won't do, get right up," Cooke commanded.

Chartrand raised his other hand—empty.

If Chartrand had not promptly raised his other hand he would likely have been riddled Cooke says, as the volunteer policemen were excited and wanted to shoot. He had hard work to restrain them. As the distance was close and they were all good shots, Chartrand would probably not have lived to face a court.

Finally, on a third order, the murderer rose slowly and came forward.

He had a revolver in his pocket with one cartridge in it.

The captured man was taken to Webbwood where on Monday he received his preliminary trial, and was then taken to the "Soo" to await his trial on a murder charge.

Chartrand admitted killing Irvine, but said he was sorry he had done so. His only idea at the time was to get away.

Chartrand is an American by birth and home. He belongs to Duluth, where his parents live.

The arrest took place Sunday about noon. It was excessively hot that day.

The murder occurred Friday morning.

ABOUT DETECTIVE IRVINE.

The late Detective Irvine was 33 years of age, and popular in the Algoma district. His funeral was attended by over 1000 people. He was a Mason, an Oddfellow and a Knight of Pythias.

Webbwood, Ont., June 20.—Chartrand, the burglar and all-round desperate character, who shot and killed Provincial Constable W. Irving while the latter attempted to arrest him on a C.P.R. train on Friday morning, was on Sunday surrounded and captured at the railway bridge crossing the Spanish River ten miles east of this place.

Nothing authentic could be learned as to his whereabouts until ten o'clock on Sunday morning, when word was brought by a sectionman that Chartrand had been ambushed while attempting to cross the railway bridge over the Spanish River. A special train with a posse of twelve was despatched to the scene with orders to capture the desperado dead or alive. On arrival the posse which had been thoroughly organized, surrounded the bush where he was seen by the guards who fired at him, and closed in on him towards the river.

DID NOT RESIST.

His foot-prints were discovered by the man who was closing along the river bank, and word was passed along the line, and it was only a few minutes until he was spied sitting at the foot of a bank on the river edge. He was covered immediately and ordered to surrender, which he reluctantly did, finding resistance would be futile against such overwhelming odds. On being searched the revolver with which he committed the crime was found, as well as a razor and about fifty dollars, which he had hidden in different parts of his clothing.

The murderer was not at all unnerved, and confessed rather boastfully of the crime, saying: "I am sorry that I was so short of ammunition, as I had good chances to shoot some of you fellows while searching fro me through the woods while I was hidden at the side of the trail when you passed by."

THE BURIAL OF THE VICTIM.

A rather melancholy coincidence in connection with the arrest was that when the murderer was being locked in his cell at Webbwood the funeral service of the deceased constable just commenced at his home two blocks away.

The preliminary trial will be held here, and the prisoner removed to the "Soo," to await his trial at the fall assizes.

The citizens of this little burg deserve great credit for the dog-like manner in which the criminal was run down. Blistered by the sun during the day and eaten by myriads of black flies and mosquitoes by night, the followed the scent like bloodhounds, and great satisfaction is felt that the criminal is safe behind the bars guarded by eight armed men inside and outside the little jail.

Mr. Irving, although only thirty years of age, had successfully held the position of Provincial Constable for eight years, having succeeded his father. He was considered a most intelligent officer, having captured numerous outlaws in Canada and the United States. He was prominent in Masonic, Knight Templars, and I.O.O.F. circles, and a general favorite among his many acquaintances. This was demonstrated by the large funeral which followed the remains to their last resting place, on Sunday afternoon, a special having brought hundreds of mourners from the "Soo" and various points west, and these were augmented by numbers from Sudbury and points east, including Copper Cliff Band.

Spanish Statesman Uses Debate to Make Position Clear

Madrid, June 22.—The chamber today accepted the invitation of the United States Government to take part in the Congress of Jurisconsults to be held in St. Louis in December. During the debate on the question Senor Noredal, leader of the territorial integritista, said he would vote "no" if an affirmative vote would be construed as an expression of friendship to the United States. President Maura answered Senor Noredal, saying that Spaniards must forget the past at a time when the interests of Spain required representation at St. Louis

WARSHIPS TO AWE TURKEY

Big American Fleet will Back Demands for Rights Abroad

Washington, June 22.—The American battle ship squadron commanded by Rear Admiral Barker has sailed from Lisbon on a visit to the ports of Greece and Austria. It is reported that after spending a few weeks there Admiral Barker will be reinforced by the European squadron under Rear Admiral Jewell, and this formidable fleet will visit Turkish waters about the time Mr. Leishmann, the American minister, takes up in earnest again his negotiations with the Porte to insure for Americans in Turkey the same rights as are enjoyed by citizens of privileged European nations.

SITUATION AT TANGIER

The Recently Arrived Moorcan Troops Deprived of Their Arms

London, June 20.—The correspondent of The Times at Tangier says: The officers of the newly arrived Moorish troops, upon whom the residents of Tangier are supposed to be dependent for security, say the troops have been deprived of their arms, which are not to be returned to them, as it would be dangerous to allow them to go about armed, for fear of a breach of public order. Yet it is pretended they are capable of guarding European lives and property. There is no change in the change in the state of the negotiations for the release of the captives.

BIG BUTCHERS' STRIKE

Mr J.W. Flavelle's Company Having Labour Fight

Toronto, June 22—About thirty-five of the employes of the Harris Abattoir Company will refuse to go to work to-day unless their demands for increased wages and time and a half for overtime be granted. They will meet in Occident Hall and, marching to the abattoir in a body, present their ultimatum to Manager Harris. If denied they will return to the hall and the strike will be "on."

Negotiations have been in progress for some time between the Butcher Workers' Union and the company, of which J. D. Flavelle is president. Mr. Flavelle and Mr. Harris have refused to recognize the union or treat with the men in a body, maintaining that they will pay their men as much as they consider them to be worth individually, and will not be coerced by any organization.

Mr DOUGALL TO RETIRE

Auditor General of Canada Applies for Superannuation

Ottawa, June 23.—J. L. McDougall, Auditor-General of the Dominion, has applied for superannuation. He forwarded his application asking superannuation to the Minister of Finance to-day. This was foreshadowed in his annual report.

Mr. John Lorne McDougall is the son of the late J. L. McDougall, who formerly represented Renfrew in the Provincial Assembly. He was born in Renfrew November 6, 1839, was educated at High School, Montreal, and Toronto University where he graduated B. A. in 1857. On his father's death he succeeded him in the lumber business at Renfrew, was elected to the county council and warden of the county. He was elected to the Provincial Legislature in 1867 for South Renfrew and sat till the general election of 1871. He was returned to the House of Commons for South Renfrew in 1869, and defeated in 1872. He was returned again in 1874 and sat till August 2 1878 when he was appointed Auditor-General of Canada by the Mackenzie Government. His conduct in that office is well known to those who take an interest in public affairs. He was created a C. M. G. by the Queen in 1897.

TRAMP DROWNS BOY

Escapes Lynchers After Throwing Lad into Maumee River

Toledo, Ohio, June 23.—"You will have to swim or sink, you nigger," said a tramp to-day to Richard Harris a 10-year-old negro boy, who was fishing on the banks of the Maumee River, throwing him into the water. The lad's body was recovered an hour later. A mob pursued the man, but he escaped. Had he been captured he undoubtedly would have been lynched.

Toronto, June 23.—Superior to the Treasury McLeod has prepared a comparative statement showing the total of the succession duties for the first five and a half months of the year. This year the Ontario Treasury has benefited to the extent of $224,188.99, as compared with $147,970.75 in the same period last year. During the last three months there have been 47 estates on which succession duty has been paid. The total number of applications considered up to June, 15, 1904, was 3,015.

SPEECH STIRS RUSSIA

Czarist Protests to May Against Remarks of Japanese Attache

Washington, June 23.—Much international importance now surrounds the brief speech of Commander Isaac Takeshita, naval attache of the Japanese legation, at the dinner of the American Asiatic Association at Sparry's, June 1, when Prince Pu Lun of China was a guest. Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has called this speech to the attention of Secretary of State Hay as one designed to have an ill effect upon the world's opinion of the neutrality of the United States and China in the war. Mr. Takeshita's offense consists in proposing a toast with the Japanese war cry, "Banzai," which caused quite a demonstration of enthusiasm.

THE CORONATION OATH

The Matter to be Brought Before the House of Lords

London, June 23.—The Duke of Norfolk, the leading Roman Catholic peer, intends to move the following resolution in the House of Lords this afternoon. "That whereas, under the Bill of Rights and Acts of settlement, the Sovereign is required to join in communion with the Church of England, as by law established, and ample securities are provided to insure the Protestant succession to the Crown, and, whereas, in addition to these securalities, the Sovereign is required immediately after his accession to make a declaration, commonly called the Declaration against Transubstantiation, which is deeply and needlessly offensive to many millions of loyal subjects of his Majesty, this House is of opinion that the declaration aforesaid ought to be amended so as not to include the condemnation or repudiation of specific doctrines which form part of the conscientious beliefs of any of his Majesty's subjects."

DEPORTED CHINAMEN

Many Celestials sent Home to China

Montreal, June 23.—A batch of 210 Chinamen, many of whom have been confined in the detention house at Malone, N.Y., for several months, some of them as long as eight months, passed through the city yesterday on their way back to China. They have been deported by an order of the Court of Appeal—a body that had been called upon to pass upon their eligibility. Superintendent Clarke, of the United States Immigration Department in this city, is of the opinion that this action of the courts in his country will have the effect of discouraging further attempts upon the part of Chinamen to gain admission to the United States. All along Malone has been a favorite point of entry for Chinese seeking admission to the United States and hundreds of them have managed to slip through at that point, incidentally enriching a number of lawyers in that locality. The Chinese in question have been sent to Hong Kong via Vancouver over the Canadian Pacific Railway.

DESTITUTION ON THE RAND

Hard Times in South Africa and Much Suffering

London, June 23.—The following extract is taken from a letter from Johannesburg. Describing the straits to which many of the unemployed there are reduced, the writer says: "I know of men walking the streets who have not had a bite for three and even four days. They are too proud to beg. They are respectable men, who once occupied good positions, and who cannot for the sake of their future careers seek open charity. You never hear of any of them in the Police Court. They are quiet, sober and industrious men, who are bearing their great trouble with Spartan-like fortitude. They cannot leave Johannesburg because they have no money. Would that employment would come, or that the Government would send the poor fellows back in a transport to the old country.

The Canada Life Company

The Canada Life Assurance Company is applying for special legislation at Ottawa. When the bill came before the Banking and Commerce Committee, Mr. Henderson, of Halton, objected to the proposed provision for three vice-presidents. It meant taking money from the widows and orphans. He suggested that one of the vice-presidents be chosen from the directors elected by the policy-holders. The suggestion was accepted. Mr. Henderson also objected to the increase of the number of directors to thirty and to the provision for the delegation of the powers to a committee of three. He said that this was a one-man company, and the committee of three might consist of Senator Cox, his son and his son-in-law. Mr. Fielding suggested that the committee be composed of not less than five members, excluding the president and vice-president and general manager and the bill stood to allow the company to draft a new measure in accordance with these suggestions.

OVER TWELVE HUNDRED RUSSIANS KILLED IN A JAPANESE AMBUSH

JAPAN'S GREAT DANGER

The loss of one of its largest battleships some time ago of course weakened the Japanese fleet materially, which never was very much superior to the opposing Russian total in eastern waters. It may be that it is not as able now as before to both confine the Russian fleet at Port Arthur, and watch the quartette of very fast and very powerful armored cruisers which compose the Vladivostok squadron. While the recent raid of the Vladivostok fleet did not injure Japanese fighting ships, its destruction of Japanese transports, which seemingly, is liable to be repeated and repeated, must give much uneasiness to the Japanese war office. All communications between Japan and the mainland of Asia and all Japanese despatch of fresh troops to Asia are rendered precarious. Judging by the fact that the Vladivostok fleet did not venture so far south nor do so much damage on its first raid early in the war, the Japanese were at the time able to spare from Port Arthur a more effective naval force than now to watch for such raids. This may hasten Japanese land attack upon Port Arthur, with a view of making sure of the Russian ships there, a fact which would bend the war in Japan's favor almost beyond possibility of change. It would mean for Japan absolute and final control of the eastern waters, as then Russia would not dare send further ships from Europe. So, after all, it may be that Japanese assaults upon Port Arthur may be heard of horribly bloody for the assailants though such must be.

A Million in Gold Went Down With the Japanese Transport—Guns from the Variag Saved.

Reported That Japanese Transports are in Many Cases Officered by Englishmen.

London June 22.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail, under date of June 21, from New Chwang, says:

While a Russian force of 8,000, under General Kondratsvitch, was traversing Wafungko ravine, nine miles south east of Kai Chou, on June 19, it was surprised by concealed Japanese artillery.

The Russians lost heavily, their casualties being 1,200 in number.

MONEY LOST.

Vladivostok, June 21.—The report that foreign attaches were on board the Japanese transports which were sunk by the Vladivostok squadron in the Straits of Ores, is untrue. Three Englishmen, L. Anderson, J. D. Ring, and W. Kerr, officers of the transport Sado, were brought here. They say that other Japanese transports are in many cases officered by Englishmen. The Sado lost $1,000,000 in English gold.

GUNS FROM VARIAG SAVED.

London June 22.—The Tokio correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says that thirty-one guns, three torpedoes and a large quantity of ammunition have been recovered from the Russian cruiser Variag, which was sunk by the Japanese at Chemulpo at the beginning of hostilities.

THE ONTARIO BANK

Another Successful Year — Rest Account Increased by $100,000 Which Brings it up to $ 600,000

Elsewhere will be seen the financial statement submitted to the shareholders of the Ontario Bank, at the annual meeting which took place at the head office, Toronto, on Tuesday last. The report shows the Bank has added another year to its lengthy period of prosperity enjoyed since General Manager McGill assumed control.

The net profits for the year, after deducting charges of management, interest accrued on deposits, and making provision for all bad and doubtful debts, amounts to $176,256.54. This, added to the Profit and Loss Account of $73,606.91, carried over from last year, makes a total of $249,862.45. After paying dividends to stockholders at the rate of six per cent. per annum, amounting to $90,000, and adding $100,000 to Rest Account, and $5,000 to Officers' Pension Fund, there is a balance of $54,862.45 to be carried forward to next year. The Rest Account now stands at $600,000. A particularly satisfactory feature is the large increase in deposits of $1,089,735.06 over previous years.

This cannot but be regarded as entirely satisfactory, and shows that the affairs of this popular financial institution are being wisely administered. The President, General Manager and Board of Directors are to be congratulated on the result of the year's operations.

During the year the local branch, which is so efficiently managed by Mr. John Crane, has been greatly enlarged and improved, and affords ample facilities for the large and ever increasing business.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL

Peterborough Fair Asks for Grant of $200.

Committee on the Warden's Address Report —Other Proceedings

The Times, owing to lack of space, was unable to publish the Warden's address yesterday. It appears on the second page of today's issue. After the reading of the address, Mr. Fitzgerald moved, seconded by Mr. Moloney, that the Warden's address be referred to the Committee of the Whole Council.—carried.

Mr. Fitzgerald moved that Mr. R. P. Watt be appointed Sessional Clerk for the session, Mr. Moore moving in amendment that Mr. R. F. McWilliams be the clerk.

Mr. Curtis asked whether it was not the duty of the County Clerk to attend the sessional work, and the Wardon replying, said that if the Clerk would give his whole time to the work of the session, the duties of the session could be attended to by the clerk, but as it was at present, when deputations waited upon the Council the duties of the clerk required that he give attention to them.

Mr. Fitzgerald thought that the county must be getting poor if it could not afford to pay a sessional clerk.

Mr. Fitzgerald's motion was not seconded, and it was withdrawn.

Mr. Moore then moved that Mr. R. F. McWilliams be appointed sessional clerk at $3 a day.

Mr. Hunter moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Fitzgerald, that the present clerk be required to do the sessional clerk's work without any additional salary.

The amendment was carried.

A deputation from Emily and Enniskmore waited on the council. Mr. Wm. Harrison presented a petition asking that a union school section be formed out of portions of Emily and Enniskmore. Mr. Harrison stated that the Enniskmore council had refused their request, although the Emily council had signified its intention of granting the request, if Enniskmore were willing. He stated that some of the scholars had to go five miles to the school, and they wished a new school built.

Mr. Hunter moved that the petition be referred to the Committee on Schools which was carried.

The council then adjourned and went into committee.

At the Wednesday afternoon's session of the County Council, Mr. D. Hughes-Charles addressed the Council on behalf of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, asking that a grant be given to the Exhibition by the Council. This year no subscriptions are being asked from private parties, and since this was the case he hoped the Council would double the grant made last year, which was $100. This year the prize list is being increased, and he thought that no county fair in the province offered as liberal prizes. Last year the society came out ahead, but the expense was very large, and the attendance was not as large as it should be. Special attention is being paid to breeders, and he thought that he was not asking too much when he asked for $200 from the county.

The request, on motion of Mr. Curtis was referred to the Finance committee.

The committee on the Wardens address then presented the report through Mr. Hunter, as follows:—

The committee on the Warden's address beg leave to report as follows:

Your committee recommend: (1) That the matter referred to in paragraph 4 of the address be referred to the committee on Appointments. (2) That paragraph 5 be referred to the Roads and Bridges committee. (4) That paragraph 6 be referred to the County Property committee. (5) That paragraph 7 be referred to the Finance committee. (6) That paragraph 8 be referred to the Joint committee. (7) That paragraph 9 be referred to the committee on Petitions. (8) That paragraph 10 be referred to the Finance committee.

Mr. Hunter was recommended as chairman of the committee.

Mr. Moore asked that the Council grant $50 towards the improvement of the 9th line in Dummer, on condition that the Provincial Government grant $100, and the township $50 to this purpose, and the grant was authorized on vote of the council.

THE NEW Y.W.C.A. BUILDING

A Structure that will be an Ornament to Peterboro

The Young Women's Christian Association building, to be erected on the corner of Simcoe and Aylmer streets, has been begun, the contract having been let to Messrs. McIntyre & Hartley. The contractors promise as rapid progress as is possible in the construction of a building of thorough workmanship and it is hoped that it will be ready for occupation early in the new year.

The building will be situated eleven feet from Simcoe street and seven from Aylmer; its dimensions being 119x63 feet. Both entrances are off Simcoe street, the entrance to the public department being in the centre of the building, while the entrance to the boarding house is from a verandah running along the east side and looking out into what will be a large and beautiful tennis court.

The public and home departments are, of course, entirely separate. In the public there is a large hall with fireplace reading room drawing room class rooms, secretary's offices, gymnasium, domestic science equipment, etc.; while in the home department, there is a cosy drawing room, commodious dining room and kitchen, and accommodation for at least fifty young women.

This building will, no doubt, be unusually complete and admirably adapted for the work for which it is intended.

Any friends of the association who would care to examine the plans of the building may always do so at the rooms on George street.

The Finest in the

A food experiment was made by a Dentist of College Point, L. I.

"During my last year in college I was tempted, owing to a troublesome stomach and the poor meals supplied at the boarding houses near the colleges, to experiment with a cereal diet and so I started in on Grape-Nuts in September.

"At the end of a week I left off and started on another cereal food, thinking I needed a change, and so I went through the list, but I never felt so well as I had the first week and therefore went back to Grape-Nuts and cream and immediately improved again. I kept on Grape-Nuts for two months and to my surprise even gained several pounds in weight although working hard and doing so much brain work it surprised me; my fellow students predicted I would collapse. They finally frightened me into going back to the old boarding house diet and the result was that I soon broke down.

"This started me back again and as soon as I took up the Grape-Nuts diet once more I again picked up, the improvement being immediate and permanent.

"It seems ridiculous that a man 5 feet 11 1-2 inches tall could live and work hard on a diet of almost nothing but Grape-Nuts but I have proved it and now instead of clogging up my system with foods that are only partly digestible and mostly waste I have found food that is all nourishment, of course I mean Grape-Nuts.

"It would be my advice to all dyspeptics to take to Grape-Nuts until the system is cleaned out and strength ned, then gradually add a moderate meat an vegetable diet. Personally I cannot possibly recommend the wonderful food too highly." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A VICTORIOUS ARMY

The Salvation Army was organized in 1865 by William Booth and his wife Catherine, an admirable woman, pious talented, efficient and devoted to every good word and work. The organization, at first feeble, was called the East London Mission, and later the Christian Mission. Thirteen years after the birth of the army, when its unexpected success demanded a more significant name, General Booth, sudden inspiration, proposed that it be called the "Salvation Army." Under this appropriate name it has pursued its march of conquest through the world.

As soon as the organization was christened an army, uniforms, military equipments and titles were decided upon. The army has now 1,191 corps, 281 outposts, 3,313 officers and employes and 600 cadets. The work begun in England has spread to all lands. Sweden, which from the first gave the army a most cordial reception, has now 538 corps, 52 social institutions and 972 officials. Queen Sophie, one of her sons and other members of the royal family have always taken a warm interest in the work of the army. The son often attends its meetings and delivers eloquent addresses or sermons to the soldiers. Norway and Denmark are also enthusiastic supporters in the work which has made such remarkable progress that the total of institutions and Salvation Army workers in Scandanavia exceeds that in the United States. In Germany, Italy, France and Switzerland the army is also doing a good work.

In 1880, three officers began the organization of a corps in Buenos Ayres. It has prospered greatly and the work has now extended to Argentine and Uruguay.

In the heart of Darkest Africa, as well as in that of Darkest England has been heard the drum-beat of this army of rescue. It has also echoed through India, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand, Borneo, Sumatra, Java and the Philippines. The work long ago began in Jamaica is making excellent progress. It is also being carried on in the other West India Islands and in Mexico, Alaska and Iceland.

No methods so potent as those of the Salvation Army have as yet been devised for rescue work among the submerged tenth of city slum districts and out of the way and seemingly God-forsaken communities. The official titles, the uniforms, the drums the fifes, the military parades have their uses in attracting to the ranks of the army thousands who would be deaf and blind to more aesthetic influences. Their presence once secured and their interest aroused, they become fit subjects for the elevating and redemptive work of the army.

The Salvation Army has received the approval of prelates high in the established churches who have never been able to reach the class influenced by its peculiar methods, which show a deep insight into human nature and succeed where religious formalism and ritualism utterly fail. Forty-nine different countries with their 6,000 delegates will be represented in the coming international congress of the Salvation Army.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

It was nearly six months ago that Port Arthur first began to fall.

If Russia has any other generals who have not been whipped by the Japs the latter would no doubt be glad to see them trotted out.

The report that Russia has purchased the American submarine boat Protector is not credible in view of the fact that Japan is rapidly converting the Russian squadrons into submarine craft free of charge.

COUNTY COUNCIL

June Session Opened Tuesday Afternoon

WARDEN PECK'S ADDRESS

Important Matters Referred to by the Warden

The regular June session of the County Council of the County of Peterborough, opened this afternoon at the county buildings, with Warden E. A. Peck in the chair, and the following county councillors present:—Messrs. Moloney, Fitzgerald, Monague, Curtis, Buck, Shaw, Hunter, Johnston and Moore.

Warden Peck delivered his address as follows:

To the members of the County Council:—

Gentlemen—As is expected of your Warden at this, the regular June meeting, I address you upon the more important matters which will probably occupy your attention during the session.

Before doing so I wish to express my gratification at the material progress made by this county in the past few years, and the bright prospects of an abundant harvest, meaning so much to all those residing within the jurisdiction of this county.

The separation of Ashburnham from the county jurisdiction by the annexation of the village to the town of Peterborough, and the annexation also of a portion of the township of Smith to the town, renders it necessary that there should be an adjustment of the account between the town and county. Some steps have been taken to arrange these in an amicable way, and possibly some substantial progress to this end may be made before the end of this session.

Apart from the differences caused by the transfer of territory from the county to the town, the progress that the town has made in population should entitle the county to receive a larger annual payment by the town in respect of the administration of justice that is now made, and it would, in my judgment, be advisable, to have the amount of the annual payment again made the subject of arbitration at the end of the year, when the period of the existing award will terminate.

The Engineer's report on the condition of the county bridges will, as usual, be laid before you for consideration.

The Pigeon Creek Bridge, which was broken into sections during the high water of the recent spring, has again been put into fair condition. There are other bridges which will soon need considerable repairs, or to be replaced by new structures.

My attention has been called to the presentment of the Grand Jury at the General Sessions, held a week ago, in which they refer to the plumbing and heating of the Court House as being unsatisfactory. This report will be laid before you, so that you can consider the matters complained of.

As you are aware, the Legislature by an Act passed last year has made it compulsory for every county to erect and establish a House of Refuge before the first day of January, 1906. To comply with this requirement it would be necessary to commence the construction early next year, and I would suggest that steps be taken this year to procure a suitable site, and make other preparations to proceed with the erection of the building. One-fourth of the cost of the building, up to $16,000, will be paid by the Province, provided the plans are approved by the Government, and the land procured upon which to erect the building contains at least 45 acres.

Your committee appointed to confer with the Town Council regarding a site for the proposed new Armouries had a meeting with a committee of that body in April, and a resolution was then adopted in favor of offering the Government a portion of the Central Park grounds as a site. I trust this will meet with the approval of the Council in the event of the Government looking upon the suggestion with favor. The proposed building is very much needed by the different corps having their headquarters in Peterborough, and will do much to stimulate a military spirit in the district contiguous to the town.

I regret to notice that the new Assessment Act makes no change in the mode of collection of non-resident taxes. The present law involves the preparation by the assessors of separate assessment rolls, one for resident, and the other for non-resident lands, and the preparation by the clerk of the local municipality of two collector's rolls also, namely, the resident, and non-resident rolls: the collection of the taxes on the resident rolls being by the local collector, and on the non-resident roll by the County Treasurer. I can see no reason why all the taxes should not be placed on one roll, and collected through local channels, the County Treasurer being chargeable with the collection of arrears of taxes only. The present system only tends to embarrass the officials, and to complicate the work.

The Act respecting the mode of election of County Councillors, which was passed last year, has been amended by an Act of the recent session of the Legislature. Last year's Act directed that in the event of a majority of the Councils of the local municipalities adopting resolutions to that effect, the County Councils should be composed of the Reeves of the local municipalities. The amendment requires that the question shall be now determined not by the Councils, but by the electors, if the Councils should see fit to refer the matter to them. If a change be made it would have the effect of increasing the number of County Councillors from ten to sixteen. In my opinion, any increase in the number would be a mistake, and legislation should be directed rather to reduce the number—which could be done by electing one only instead of two from each division—than to increase the number. Whatever feeling there may be on the part of a municipality which may happen temporarily not to have a County Councillor resident in its bounds, that they are neglected, I am sure the rights of every municipality have been fully guarded in the past and will be in the future, under the existing system.

The new Clerk and Treasurer, Mr. Edward M. Elliott, has given the security required by the Council, and has entered actively upon the duties of his office.

Well Balanced Nerves

YOUR SUCCESS IN LIFE DEPENDS UPON THEM

If Lacking in Nerve Force, Build Up Your System With Ferrosone—It Has Helped Others—Let It Help You too

Happy is the man who can work unceasingly without fear of an "attack of the nerves." He gets along, prospers, rises to position of power, and importance. The strong man is pushed over the heads of his weaker brethern by virtue of being capable to do and act when necessity calls.

The weak nervous man is distanced before the race starts. But he shouldn't give up without trying what Ferrosone can do for him. This strengthening tonic has great power for building up people who are run down, tired and exhausted.

Ferrosone starts right at the root of the trouble, and drives all impurities out of the blood. Then it gives this blood an additional supply of iron and other strengthening elements which enables it to nourish the nerves back to normal condition. Once the nerves are toned up, indigestion and stomach trouble disappear. Then your system is in good order, and capable of being rebuilt in the proper way. Nerve tissue is formed, flabby muscles begin to harden, weak organs regain strength, and before long the half-wrecked man glories in the new-found vigor that Ferrosone has brought him.

You may have tried a hundred remedies; they may all have failed. But this mustn't influence you against Ferrosone, which is so different from other preparations. Ferrosone actually makes blood, and makes the kind of blood that is valuable in maintaining health. Then Ferrosone has a wonderful action on food, converting it into nutriment, so that everything you eat is going to be useful to your body.

Ferrosone is unexcelled as a rebuilding tonic for children, women and men, the young and old, in fact everybody can derive benefit from Ferrosone, which is specially recommended for chlorosis, anaemia, lassitude, weakness, and all disorders arising from impaired nerves or blood. Try Ferrosone yourself. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by druggists and by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

TO INSURE FAIR'S

Project to Prevent Loss Things wet Weather

It will probably be good news to the Agricultural Societies of Peterborough County and elsewhere to learn that a mutual insurance company for the protection against financial loss from rain during the fall fairs is a possibility of the not distant future.

Mr. H. B. Cowan, superintendent of Agricultural Societies in the Province, has issued a circular to all organizations of the kind, asking for an estimate of the loss from the causes mentioned for each year during the last six.

"The Department," he explained today, "intends to ascertain the yearly loss, total loss, and average loss. Then we shall try to formulate some scheme whereby the societies shall escape actual injury. We haven't worked it out yet, but it is likely to take the form of a mutual arrangement, I should think. In a good year, with no wet weather to reduce the receipts, a society would not feel $75 or so given to a fund, and in a bad season a contribution from that same fund would be entirely welcome. However, the details cannot be arranged until we have all the facts and figures.

POISON THAT KILLED

Girl Took Carbolic Acid by Mistake and Passed Away

Clinton, June 22—A very sudden death occurred here to-night, when Bessie, the bright and pretty daughter of D. A. Forrester, died from the effects of carbolic acid. She rose early this morning to pursue her studies, and, not feeling very well, took what she thought was a dose of pain killer, but which proved to be carbolic acid. When her father got up shortly after he found her unconscious on a sofa, with her books open beside her, evidently quite anxious to prepare for her examination to come off next week. Doctors were immediately called and about 4 o'clock this morning she regained consciousness, and was thought to be gaining, but her heart was affected and she died at 10 o'clock.

High Class Investment

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a numbea of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district, The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern mach nery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of he immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men o integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

PROPERTIES SITUATED NEAR SILVERTON, SAN JUAN COUNTY, COLORADO. Properties consist of three groups; namely,—

THE PROSPECT BASIN AND MAMMOTH TUNNEL GROUP of 30 claims and Tunnel site aggregating 570 acres of mineral ground all held by location, and free from any conflict as to title; also in same location, three mill sites and one lode claim, total 25 acres all now being patented.

THE LEAD CARBONATE GROUP, adjoining the Gold King, of 78½ acres all of mineral territory; this group is patented.

THE STONY PASS GROUP, 110 acres in Stony Gulch, surveyed for patent which will shortly be applied for; no adverses; title perfectly clear.

Total area Mineral territory	758½ acres
" " Mill and building sites	55 "
" " Timber properties	90 "
Total	903½ acres

This was the total acreage held at organization of the Stony Pass Mining Company in December 1902 Since that date 230 acres additional have been located in Prospect Basin and surveyed with view of applying for patent at an early day.

Complete Saw Mill plant located in Cement Creek; capacity 20,000 feet per day; Lumber on hand in mill yards and at the Hercules shaft 500,000 feet. Round logs ready for the mill 300,000 feet. Cost to Company approximately $5,400, market value lumber alone $5,100.

TIMBER RESERVES.

Estimated timber, on timber and mineral lands owned by Company, 5,000,000 feet. Contiguous territory controlled by Government from which timber can be had or cutting providing same is used for mineral purposes 40,000,000 feet.

Total cost of development to date, present management,	$53,000.00

" " surface improvements, buildings, saw mill plant, horses, wagons, ore cars, track, tools, etc. -	17,000.00
" " Machinery paid for and to be installed -	6,000.00
	$99,000.00

Above items do not include moneys expended for additional properties since Company was organized, which approximate $26,000.00.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet under Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905. and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock, the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3 50 to $4 00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developments. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth $18 00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,

RUSS FLEET BACK AT VLADIVOSTOK

Away Nine Days and did Some Great Work

PORT ARTHUR IS QUIET

Russian Losses at Battle of Vafangow Now Admitted to be Over 6,000

Vladivostok June 21.—Lying in the harbor are the three Russian cruisers which have just returned from their successful raid in the Japan sea and Straits of Korea.

Vice-Admiral Bezobrazoff took the squadron out June 12.—The first day the warships were fog-bound.

They reached the Korean Straits June 15, and were sighted and watched by a fast three-masted Japanese cruiser.

Off Tsu Island the Russians pursued a vessel resembling a yacht, which escaped in shore.

They sank the Japanese transport Idzumi off Korea Island. The Idzumi was bringing back invalided soldiers from Port Dalny, 105 of whom were rescued by one of the Russian cruisers.

OUTPOST SKIRMISHES.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—hTe reports of heavy firing at Hia Cheng are denied by the central staff. The Japanese are continuing to advance from Siu Yen, and there are continuous skirmishes between outposts, but no further advance of General Oku's army has been reported.

LOSSES AT VAFANGOW.

The Russian losses at the battle of Vafangow are turning out to be heavier as the reports of the various regiments continue to come in. They are now placed by a conservative official estimate at for thousand, but a usually well informed authority expects the total to be no less than 6,500.

General Kuropatkin has telegraphed to the Emperor, under date of June 18 as follows. General Stakelberg reports that the enemy has not advanced beyond Vafangow.

"It is reported that three bodies of troops are extending their front between Vafangow and Techoutjon.

"After two days of fighting and two tiring night marches, by difficult mountainous roads, the troops have been able to rest. Their morale is excellent.

"It has not yet been possible to procure precise details of ouf losses. Accurate details are only procurable in the following regiments:

"First Division — East Siberian Rifles, 15 officers killed and 49 wounded, 12 of whom remained on the battlefield; 386 soldiers killed and 992 wounded, 568 of whom remained on the field, but some of whom, however, were picked uv by the ambulance train. In the 33rd and 35th and 36th Regiments one officer and 36 soldiers were killed and 16 officers and 640 soldiers wounded; 96 of these soldiers remained on the battlefield.

"The first artillery brigade lost 10 officers and 108 soldiers killed: the ninth brigade of artillery, one officer and 25 soldiers killed; the Tobolk Regiment, one officer and three soldiers killed, one officer and 40 men wounded and three missing; the Marschansk Regiment, 6 officers and 131 men wounded, 11 men killed and 8 missing."

LOSS LESS THAN 1,000.

Tokio June 21.—Further reports received here show that the blow inflicted by Gen Oku on the Russians in the fighting at Telissue (Vafangow) on June 15, was more severe than was at first believed. The number of Russians killed in this battle will probably exceed 2,000, and their total loss, including prisoners, is estimated at 10,000. The Japanese losses are less than 1,000, or about one-tenth of the Russian total.

CONDITIONS AT PORT ARTHUR.

Liao Yang, June 20.—A merchant of Port Arthur who has just arrived here says life in that town is practically unchanged. There is, he declares, no shortage of provisions, and the garrison is in excellent health. No land attack has been made upon Port Arthur, but there have been frequent bombardments at long range by the Japanese squadron which is cruising constantly off shore. Dalny, according to the merchant is occupied by a Japanese battalion. The destruction of the piers there render Dalny useless for the landing of siege guns.

Chinese arriving here from Vafangow say the Japanese losses in the fight there were 3,600.

MURRAY STREET MISSION BAND

Held Annual Picnic Saturday Afternoon a Jackson Park

The members of the Mission Band in connection with the Murray street Baptist church, held their annual birthday picnic at Jackson Park on Saturday afternoon.

The weather was ideal for the purpose and the park never looked lovelier. Needless to say the young people took full advantage of the occasion, and spent a very happy time. It might be added that this Band sets the pace for all the bands of Ontario and Quebec, and contributes the largest amount to missions of all the bands in the country.

The guests were received on their arrival by the president, Mrs. G. K. Martin, and the treasurer, Miss Corbrane, and were shortly afterwards photographed in a group by Mr. Raddon, the pastor, and Mrs. Bastow being prominently seated in the midst. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bastow have always taken the greatest interest in the affairs of the Band, indeed it is largely owing to the constant care and support of Mrs. Bastow that the Band has attained its present gratifying position.

The usual sports were then indulged in, Mr. James Ellis making a splendid starter, Col Edwards, a capital clerk of the course, and Mr. Geo. Corbrane and Mr. G. K. Martin officiating as handicapper and judge respectively. These offices were not sinecures by any means.

During the tea the president referred in feeling terms to the loss the Band is sustaining in the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Bastow, and Miss Ada Bradshaw from town. Miss Bradshaw has rendered faithful and greatly appreciated service as secretary of the Band for the past nine years, and was presented by the members of the Band with a handsome glass water set and set of berry dishes, as a token of the love and esteem in which she is held by all connected with the Band. Although taken by surprise and evidently deeply touched the young lady made an appropriate reply.

After more races and fun, the young people separated, all voting this year's outing as the best yet in every respect.—Com.

THIRTY DAYS IN GAOL

Punishment Given Mrs. Sharpe for Bigamy

Mrs. Sharpe, wife of John Sharpe, the man who a few years ago shot and killed Wm. Hull of Belmont, was tried in Cobourg for bigamy. It will be remembered that the shooting referred to was committed by Sharpe, who was jealous of his wife's favors towards the man Hull, and it was alleged at the time that the two had planned to get out of the country. Hull was calling upon the woman at the home of a man named Davis, when Sharpe appeared on the threshold and shot him dead. The man in the present case goes by the historic name of Wm. Smith, and the report as received from Cobourg is as follows.

Rex vs. Sharpe—The case of bigamy against Mrs. Sharpe, alias Mrs. William Smith, the too much married woman, came up for trial on Wednesday, and attracted quite a crowd to the Court Room. The prisoner appeared stylishly dressed in a pale blue suit and large hat, and sat near her counsel, Mr. F. C. S. Huycke, K.C., and Mr. W. F. Kerr, Crown Attorney, prosecuted. Her first husband, John Sharpe rather a respectable man with a peg leg, was brought here from Kingston Penitentiary, where he is serving a fifteen years' sentense for shooting a man named Hull, in the township of Belmont, some three years ago, for being too intimate with his wife. He testified to marrying the prisoner, and that after his imprisonment she lived in Kingston for two years and visited him in the Penitentiary, when her visits ceased. The Baptist minister, who came from New Lickgard, testified to officiating at the ceremony and identified Sharpe and the prisoner as the contracting parties. The marriage egrister of Cobourg was certified to by D. H. Minaker, Town Clerk of Cobourg, in which is registered the marriage of Wm. Smith and Susan Harper, at Cobourg in Jan., 1903, by Rev. Dr. Saunders, Methodist minister. Wm. Smith gave evidence, as did his best man, Levi Simpson, but did not know what minister or to what church they belonged, in fact said they took no stock in churches. The last bridegroom appeared a little off and looked as though he was a faithful member of the "bar." The prisoner also testified that she heard and believed that her first husband Sharpe, was dead some months before she married Smith. Mr. Huycke made a strong plea for his client, but the jury found her guilty. Judge Benson then sentenced her to thirty days in jail."

Boom in Ontario Gold Mines

Toronto Star: P. Kirkegaard, manager of the Deloro mine, in Hastings County, was a caller at the Bureau of Mines at the Parliament Buildings this morning. He says there is quite a boom in the gold mines of Eastern Ontario in the gold belt. The Malone mine is in operation, and the Belmont gold mine is being pumped, pending examination with a view to purchase.

The Surviving Generals

Washington, June 21.—An authoritative list of surviving generals of the southern confederacy is furnished by General Marcus J. Wright, a confederate veteran employed by the war department. All the full rank generals had died in 1893, when Beauregard passed away. There are now four surviving lieutenant generals—Simon B. Buckner, Stephen D. Lee, Alexander P. Stewart and Joseph Wheeler. Of major generals there are eleven and of brigadier generals fifty-one. The surviving staff officers of confederacy shrunk one-half in number during the past decade and their disappearance has now become very rapid.

CHANGED HIS FLAG

Canadian Master Had Difficulty in Miami

Montreal, June 18.—Captain John Taylor, of the three-masted schooner M. J. Taylor, is in this port at present. Captain Taylor, who hails from Nova Scotia, has a grievance. His ship is registered in Parrsboro' N.S., and has always flown wha the considered the Canadian flag, the red ensign of the British merchant service, with the Canadian coat-of-arms in the lower right hand corner. In Rio Grande do Sul, in Brazil, the British Consul Mr. Ray Stanford, ordered him to haul down that flag and run up the "red ensign." When the Captain refused Mr. Stanford cut the Canadian emblem out of the flag and replaced it with red bunting.

HAIR TURNED TO STONE

Remarkable Experience of a Kenosha Wis. Woman

Kenosha, Wis., June 18.—Miss Harriet Maward, one of the prettiest young women in Kenosha was cleaning the wall paper on the ceiling at her home when some of the chemicals employed fell on her hair and turned it to stone.

When she washed the hair a short time after she found that it had become hard. The color was not changed, but the hair was so hard that it was impossible to separate it. It became necessary to cut off the greater part of her long tresses.

Have Installed a Drinking Fountain

Messrs. R. Hall & Son have installed a drinking fountain in their store for the convenience of their customers and employees. The fountain contains ice water during the summer months, and is placed in a convenient place in the establishment—in the center of the store. This is a thoughtful move on the part of this firm, who are up-to-date in all their methods of doing business, and the welfare of customers are often a first consideration on their part, as this move abundantly proves. It will be appreciated by one and all of the firm's patrons.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

I desire to call the attention of investors to the

Smuggler Gold Mining Co.'s Proposition

of which I am the authorized agent

Investments in mining stocks where they can be purchased cheaply whose property contains merit and whose directors are men of unquestionable honor and integrity, and especially when sufficient work has been done to guarantee a producing mine and the leads have been demonstrated to be permanent, offer the greatest opportunity for large returns from modest investments.

The shrewdest capitalists of England and America are giving more attention to mining properties and putting more money into them than at any time in the past history of the world.

The Smuggler Group consists of five full sized claims, to-wit:—The Smuggler, Gangon, Blast Jack, Star and Bed Rock, located in the Greenhorn District of Eastern Oregon. Surrounding mines are Potosi, Pride of Pendleton, Bonanza and Rockefeller, developing work to the extent of 1,000 feet of tunnelling, drifts and crosscuts have been made, exposing hundreds of tons of high grade ore, averaging from $25 to $45 per ton, based on smelter returns and for the purpose of equipping the mines a limited number of shares of Treasury Stock will be sold at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.00.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patient Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 225 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

A Place Among the Seventy Costs About Three Million Francs.

It may be said that a seat among the seventy (they call it a charge) costs about 3,000,000 francs ($600,000) or sometimes 2,500,000, and a charge earns from 5 to 15 per cent (net) a year, so that the annual profits are from $30,000 to $90,000, or more in exceptional years. But these fire usually divided among several associates, for it rarely happens that an agent is the sole owner of his seat. More often he has paid for only half of it or a third of it and has three or four silent partners, who own the rest and who may again have subpartners, so that you will hear of a person owning an eighth or a sixteenth of a seat or even a thirty-second, these being simple investments that carry no rights or privileges on the bourse.

As to procuring a charge, the thing has none of the Stock Exchange simplicity, where the main requirement for getting a seat is to be able to pay for it. Here a candidate must be a Frenchman and at least twenty-five years old. He must have served four years in certain forms of business. He must be personally acceptable to the agent from whom he would purchase the seat and often to his family, including the ladies. He must be passed upon by the seventy with formal voting, as if he were joining some select club, which he is. There must be no stain on his business record and no slur on his personal character. A candidate was rejected recently for bad habits and another for no fault of his own, but because his brother had been concerned in questionable transactions. With all this favorably settled there is still needed the approval of the minister of finances and the sanction of the head of the government.

A RICH GOLD MINE.

For Several Years Eager Fortune — Seekers Worked Over It.

A tale is told of a rich gold mine in Idaho with a ledge of ore which once extended above the surface of the ground in a clear, solid ridge several feet high and entirely distinct from the surrounding formation. This ledge was long and unbroken and lay directly across the course which hundreds of prospectors took every year to reach other gold fields. This obstruction of rock, the great value of which was long unknown, was too high to be surmounted by pack animals, so the prospectors cut a trail directly through it. For several years these eager gold seekers passed backward and forward over this trail in search of gold mines. One night a prospector camping near this ledge of rock picked up a bit of it and from force of habit took it to a creek near by and washed it. Then he examined the stone, and, to his great astonishment, he found "colors" in it—bits of sparkling gold. The prospector does not mistake gold when he sees it. He is not deluded by iron crystals or bits of mica, as the "tenderfoot" frequently is. The gold sparkle is clearer and brighter than that of any other mineral, and it is the same in sunshine and shadow.

The prospector, tremendously excited, broke off more pieces of the ledge and found more of it bearing free gold. Then he located his claim, and that was the beginning of a rich mine. Yet for years the sagest of prospectors had passed over this trail through the cut in this ledge, never suspecting its value, although by its very prominence it seemed to invite inspection.—Leslie's Weekly.

An Italian Brigand's Horse.

Among south Italian brigands even their horses are taught to resist the officers of the law. During the encounter at Rana Bucca, in which the brigand Mirto was killed, the gendarmerie was amazed by the furious behavior of his horse, which lashed out on all sides, and succeeded in injuring one of the officers. On inquiry afterward among the prisoners taken it was ascertained that the horse had been trained to behave in this way by being repeatedly flogged until he kicked one of the brigands, dressed as a carabineer, approaching him. The horse at last became such an adept that he might be relied upon to kick and rear furiously at the mere sight of a uniform.—London Globe.

The Home of Luther.

Few thoroughfares have been preserved in Europe which give an adequate idea of the streets of the middle ages. One of the most interesting of these relics is the home of Martin Luther, in Frankfurt-am-Main. It stands on the corner of a narrow street and rises to a height which seems unusual even in these days of tall buildings. Like most of the architecture of its period, the Luther house is half timbered and richly decorated. It is a very roomy place, though somewhat dark and probably badly ventilated. The Luther house, like many of its time, contained floors increasing in size as they rose, thus giving a curiously picturesque but top heavy appearance to the building.

The Expression "So Long."

With reference to the origin of the familiar expression "So long" a correspondent of the London Academy suggests that it is derived from the Norwegian "Saa Laenge," a common form of farewell, equivalent in meaning to "au revoir" and pronounced like "so long," with the "g" softened. There was a fair number of Norwegians among the settlers in America, to judge by names, and it is quite likely the phrase was picked up from them. It is in general use among the Dutch in South Africa.

LOOK TO KUROPATKIN

Russians Expect Great Things From His Assuming the Offensive

Liao Yang, June 22.—For the first time since the beginning of the war General Kuropatkin has taken personal direction of the operations and in consequence of his having assumed the offensive results very different from those following recent events are anticipated.

The tactics of the Japanese are admired here, but their strategy is criticised, especially with regard to the battle of Vafangow, June 14, which may truthfully be called an artillery engagement. During that battle the infantry extended over the field further than the eye could reach, one division covering six miles.

In spite of the fact that up to the present the happenings have caused uneasiness, the possibilities of the southern situation are thoroughly appreciated.

The naval attaches have abandoned their plan to visit Port Arthur and are going to Vladivostock. The military attaches have left for the south ward in anticipation of important developments.

General Gordon's Wife.

Through the entire civil war General Gordon's wife accompanied him, never leaving his side save when the exigencies of campaign made her presence impossible. To the faithful devotion of his wife General Gordon owed his life. In the bloody battle of Sharpsburg, Gordon, while in the midst of the carnage, was shot five times. As soon as he fell his wife rushed to his side and carried him to safety, stanching the flow of blood and attending his wounds until medical aid could be procured. She remained with him in the hospital until he had recovered, and when General Gordon went back to join his command Mrs. Fanie Haralson Gordon followed her husband.

The Annual Bath in the Ganges.

The largest regular assemblage of people in the world is said to be the crowd which gathers annually at Benares, in India, to bathe in the Ganges. A large temple, or rather a series of buildings, is on the shore at this point, while steps reach down to the water's edge. The Hindoos crowd upon this bank in enormous numbers, the crowd at times numbering upward of 50,000. As the natives are dressed in the brightest colors, the crowd gives the impression of an enormous bed of flowers.

Disappointed.

A small miss who had but recently mastered her catechism confessed her disappointment with it thus: "Now, I obey the fifth commandment and honor my papa and mamma, yet my days are not a bit longer in the land, for I'm put to bed every night at 7 o'clock just the same."

The Little Things That Fret.

"My, but the old man's a most unreasonable growler!"

"You think so?"

"I know it. Why, he's growlin' from morain' till night, an' all on earth he has to do is to pay all the bills for the family."

The sign of an intelligent person is not possession of knowledge, but thirst for knowledge.—Rev. Frank Crane.

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

CRIPPLE CREEK ENTERPRISE GOLD MINING COMPANY

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non-assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion, Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

THE ROCKLAND HOUSE FIRE

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATES IT

Coroner of Opinion that the Fire was of Incendiary Origin

Shortly after the burning of the Rockland, the Bobcaygeon Council communicated with the Attorney-General's Department, Toronto, and after some delay occasioned by the staff at the disposal of the department being engaged, Detective and Provincial Coroner J. E. Rogers opened an investigation at the Town Hall on Wednesday morning last. Mr. Rogers presided and Mr. W. E. Smith, barrister appeared for the Council. Mr. Geo. W. Taylor acted as court stenographer. On recommendation of Mr. Smith the enquiry was conducted to a certain extent in private, though the coroner preferred thorough publicity.

Mr. H. Thompson gave evidence as to amount paid for the premises, and the amount of insurance which was $6,000 on hotel and $500 on the stable and sheds. A 22 ft. strip on the lane from Canal street he had obtained recently on a long lease. The insurance of course went to the party holding the mortgage. He showed a heavy loss by the fire, his furniture and stocks were not insured. He was satisfied it was of incendiary origin.

Capt. Ed. Smith said a few nights before the fire at the request of H. Thompson he took J. D. Montgomery home, he being somewhat under the weather. The following morning he mentioned to Thompson that he had some trouble to get Montgomery home, for he fancied that if everyone had their rights the Rockland corner would belong to him. This was mentioned and treated as a joke.

Mr Broad was awakened by his wife, and found the Rockland sheds on fire. He went out but saw he could do nothing himself, and aroused the Rockland inmates. After that he rang the alarm. He was of opinion that the fire could not have been started from the outside, and that it was incendiary.

Mr. Moffatt, at the time engineer of the fire engine, explained how he put fire to the engine, and then found that the water was out of the boiler. The engine had been in use for 14 years and nothing of the kind had happened before. He had no reason to think anything would be wrong with the boiler. The blow-out cock was partly turned. The boiler usually carried 40 to 45 gallons.

Constable Allison, as caretaker of the Fire Hall, was called. He attended to the boiler every Saturday, filling in a little loss by evaporation. The boiler was all right at ten o'clock the night of the fire, and had fully two inches of water in the gauge.

Mr. A. E. Kennedy, captain of the Fire Company, gave evidence as to the disablement of the engine. His attention had also been called to a track in the newly fallen snow that led from the fire hall across the dam.

Mr. Wm. Gran saw the track from the hall; it measured 1 1-2 wide and 12 3-8 long and appeared to be that of a woman rubber or overshoe.

Mr. McMullen order at the Rockland, testified to the custom of leaving the stables unlocked. Sometimes men tired from drinking laid down in the horse stables, but he never allowed anyone to go up into the loft. The straw and hay over the stable and driving shed could be easily reached and fired from the manure heap. He judged the place had been fired from the inside.

Mr. J. D. Montgomery was called and examined by the coroner. He had no knowledge of the fire until 5.30 the morning of the fire, when his wife awoke him, and he went over and worked on the hose. He had no quarrel or animosity for H. Thompson. He had no recollection whatever of the evening with Capt. Smith.

This closed the list of witnesses. The coroner said there was no doubt of the fire being incendiary, and that the fire engine had been tampered with. As there was a possibility of other developments he would adjourn the case for a month.—Independent.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Circular Issued by the Port Hope Canal Association

The Port Hope Canal Association has issued a circular pointing out the advantages of that town as an outlet for the Trent Valley Canal. It is pointed out that a ravine extends all the way from Rice Lake to Port Hope, making a natural channel. The distance from the Otonabee river to Port Hope is 19 miles, of which 13 1-2 miles is canalage, while the distance to Trenton is 58 miles improved river navigation. These are the figures given in the circular, in which it is also stated that the canal to Port Hope could be easily enlarged if necessary, to 14 feet, there being little or no rock, while the Trenton route would involve a great deal of rock cutting. It is claimed also that Port Hope has much the better harbor.

The decision of the question must depend largely upon technical and local knowledge, and all that can be said is that the matter ought to be carefully and impartially investigated. The town of Port Hope and the adjacent municipalities have asked for a fair, impartial and exhaustive survey of both routes by an independent engineer, and this seems to be a reasonable request.

New Wharves for Rice Lake

Mr. W. P. Merrick, of Ottawa, arrived in town on Saturday, and yesterday went down the river per steamer City of Peterborough to Rice Lake, where he will measure all the wharves on the lake. It looks as though the government proposes at last to build new landings. We hope that a wharf below the locks and one in Ashburnham will be included. Mr. Merrick was accompanied by Mrs. Merrick.

TAKE TO OUR APPLES

EUROPEANS LEARNING TO LIKE AND USE OUR GOOD FRUIT.

The Demand Increases at the Rate of a Million Barrels a Year—French Make Wine of Them.

Since last fall nearly 3,000,000 barrels of apples, almost a million more than in the previous year, have been exported from American ports. Most of them have gone to Great Britain and other European countries, where they have found a ready market at good prices, says the New York Sun.

The demand for the fruit still keeps up any many thousands of barrels are being shipped each week to the other side. Germany has taken to the American apple this season with especial kindness, and Baldwins and Newtown pippins, which are the favorite varieties with the Germans, now are frequently found in the small stores and on stands and peddlers' wagons in Berlin and other large cities.

While these apples do not always have the fine flavor of the fruit as we know it, yet, owing to the great care with which they have been packed, they are a credit to the American grower, both in appearance and taste. The American farmer is now studying the best methods of picking and packing fruit for long distance shipment, and there is every reason to expect that in a short time our apples will be sold in Europe in practically as good condition as in the home markets.

A curious feature of the American apple's invasion of Europe has been the large sale on the continent in the last few months of the evaporated product for wine making purposes. The shortage of the grape crop in France has led to a corresponding scarcity of wine, and the peasants and others of the poorer classes, unable to buy the native wines, have been forced to fall back on the dried apple.

From what are known in the apple trade as chops, or apples cut up and dried, the peasants make a cheap drink which is said to have satisfying properties and to furnish a very fair substitute for wine pressed from the grape. A New York exporter who has sampled this beverage says of it:

"It's a sort of apple champagne or beer, and it's not bad, either. The natives make it by putting the dried apples into a barrel or tub of water, adding a quantity of yeast and letting the mixture stand for a week or so.

"By that time it's good and sharp and ready for drinking. It's to the Frenchman about what cider is to our American farmers, and they smack their lips over it just as if it was the real thing."

Several hundred carloads of dried apples have been sent to France for this use since last fall, and fresh shipments are going forward every week. The fruit costs about two and one-half cents a pound in New York, and the freight to the other side is only one-quarter cent more, so that the Frenchman who wants a cheap substitute for the native wine gets it.

The Germans, also, make an inexpensive wine from dried apples; but the practice is not so general with them as with the French, and the exports of American dried apples to Germany are therefore more limited. A good many hundreds of tons of dried apple cores and skins have been sold in German markets this year for use as a basis for certain jams and jellies.

The great bulk of all apples shipped abroad, both of fresh fruit and evaporated, comes from New York state. Wayne county, in the western end, supplies most of the dried apples made in this country, there being no fewer than 2,000 evaporators at work there every fall. The same county also furnishes a large share of the best fresh fruit marketed at home or abroad.

Perhaps She Was Sane.

"I was asked to play before the inmates of an insane asylum by an alienist," said Kubelik, the violinist, "the doctor believing that music was a fine medicine for unbalanced minds. I accordingly accompanied him to the institution, where he introduced me, and I said I would favor my hearers with something gay and happy. The crazy folks were all seated about the platform in chairs, and seemed to be intensely interested. As I finished, a very pretty young woman rose and beckoned to me. I thought, artistlike, that she wanted an encore.

"The doctor was about to question her, when she exclaimed:

"'To think of the likes of me being in here, and he being at large in the wurrid!'

"That was the last time I ever played in an insane asylum."—Rochester Herald.

Smokeless Boiler.

The smokeless boiler of Sir John Primrose, of Glasgow, is claimed to be revolutionary in several ways. It depends upon a separate water-jacketed chamber, in which combustion takes place, and only the gaseous products of combustion impinge on the fire or water-tube steam-raising surfaces. The air and fuel are fed together, no unconsumed gases escaping from the furnace, while no smoke or carbonic acid comes from the chimney or funnel. Great economy in fuel and efficiency in steam are effected, and experiments on a marine boiler indicate that the new system will give a ship its present power with half the present boiler-room space and boiler-room weight.

Automobile Train.

The characteristic feature of the automobile train invented in France is the principle that each car propels itself; the propelling force only is furnished by the locomotive. The latter, therefore, as it has no pulling to perform, but only to supply power, can [illegible] very light.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 225 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1900.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $30,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Fine Weather Gives Relief from Catarrh

But Never Cures It Because the Germs are Still Alive, Though Inactive. First Kill the Germs Then You'll be Really Cured.

Catarrh germs are carried into the throat and lungs by the air we breathe. In the same way the remedy must be applied. To be effectual the cure must be breathed, for otherwise it can't get where the germs really are.

Mix your germ-killing ozonesne with air, breathe it right into all the little air cells where the catarrh really is, then you'll get cured quickly. This is exactly the way Catarrhozone acts. You inhale its medicated vapor to the very source of the disease. It destroys the cause of the inflammation, kills all the microbes that develop when the lining membranes become diseased. Besides this Catarrhozone is a wonderful healer. Every sore spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue. All the poisonous secretions that have been putrifying the system are driven out. No trace of catarrh remains after Catarrhozone has been used.

Why don't you use Catarrhozone? Its the simplest thing in the world to use, and so sure to cure permanently that you really can't afford to be without it.

MISS E. M. PETERS is known by every resident in the pretty town of Highland Grove. She was cured by Catarrhozone of systematic catarrh and says; "For three years before I commenced using Catarrhozone I was continually bothered by a congested condition of my nose and throat. I was sneezing and coughing all the time and really never felt well. I perservered with Catarrhozone and was rewarded by being entirely cured. My recovery prompted others in this locality to use Catarrhozone, and many of them have had remarkable cures from using it."

MISS LOUISE MURPHY a well known society belle residing at 22 Monument St., Medford, writes; "Kindly forward me three outfits of Catarrhozone which I have found most valuable for catarrhal affections of the nose and throat. Catarrhozone cured me of weak lungs and fully saved me from consumption. I am recommending Catarrhozone above all other treatments, knowing what great curative powers it possesses. I know others who have also benefited by Catarrhozone."

Catarrhozone is perfectly harmless and may be used with perfect safety by the most delicate infant. Instead of deadening the stomach with drugs, it sends the healing vapor along with the air you breathe into every air cell and passage of the nose, throat, lungs and bronchial tubes. Catarrhozone can't fail, it's sure to cure. If not satisfied you can have your money back for the asking. Two months' treatment, hard rubber inhaler and extra bottle of inhalent costs $1.00, sample size 25c. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont., Can.

More Dog Tag Cases

The police are adding to the funds of the corporation just now by getting after delinquents who have neglected or forgotten to tag their canines as required by law. Yesterday several parties who were before the Magistrate on such charges were fined $2.00, and $2.60 costs, which, with the tag required, brings each amount up to a very respectable sum. Those who have not provided for the animal as you should do, take warning in time and govern yourselves accordingly.

THE STREET RAILWAY

Work on the Lines are Being Pushed For ward with All Possible Speed

On every hand evidences of the energy of the Radial people are to be seen daily, and the work of refitting the lines is progressing from day to day; so that from present indications a ride on a street car is nearer than some think. The wires have been pretty well attended to, new ties and rails are being distributed where needed, and quite a force of men are employed at the barns, making ready for the reception of the new rolling stock, fixing up old coaches, and in a word, getting things into ship-shape so that everything may be ready to turn on the current at the appointed time.

WEDDED AT THE CATHEDRAL

Miss Marie Lajeunesse and Mr. A. M. Dorris Unite

A very pretty wedding—that of the above-named persons—took place at St. Peter's cathedral, in this town, yesterday morning, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. O'Brien, in the presence of a number of friends.

The bride, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lajeunesse of No. 15 Louis street, entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, and looking charming in a gown of cream ioliene over cream taffeta silk, wearing a tulle veil and carrying a bouquet of white roses, with long silk streamers.

The bridesmaid was Miss Maud St. Denis of Toronto, who wore a silver gray tamperne silk gown, and a white picture hat, and held a pink bouquet in her hand.

The groom was assisted by Mr. Archibald Barbeau, of Sault Ste. Marie, cousin of the bride.

About forty guests partook of the wedding breakfast, which was served in good style, and its merits called forth many words of praise.

That the bride was one of the popular young ladies of the town is fully borne out by the many handsome presents which she received.

After visiting several places in the east, Mr. and Mrs. Dorris will take up their residence in town.

The 8 Hour Day

Which the working man has fought for and succeeded in obtaining is something the wife has no share in. Her day begins before his and ends long after it, as a rule, and many a night her rest is broken by the baby's fretfulness. The healthiest woman must wear out under such a strain. What can be expected then of those women who are weakened by womanly diseases?

Women who are weak, worn-out and run-down will find new life and new strength in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I suffered with female weakness about eight years—tried several doctors but derived no benefit until I began using Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. John Green, of Danville, Boyle Co., Ky. "This medicine was recommended to me by other patients. I have taken nine bottles and I feel like another person."

Refuse all substitutes.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

It is with great regret that your Directors have to announce the death of their late esteemed colleague, Mr. A. S. Irving, who for many years had been a valued member of the Board.

The Rest Account has been increased to $600,000 and the amount carried forward to the credit of Profit and Loss Account is $54,962.45.

The Deposits have been increased since our last Annual Meeting by $1,089,735.06, and the general business of the Bank continues to steadily improve, which in view of the fact that no new Branches have been opened during the year, must be regarded as exceedingly satisfactory.

The Peterborough Office has been enlarged and refitted at a considerable outlay, which has been provided for without increasing the Bank Premises Account.

All the offices of the Bank have been inspected during the year.

G. R. R. COCKBURN,
President.

THE RUSSIANS PARALIZED THROUGH DISSENTIONS

The Trouble Between Alexieff and Kouropatkin Is Daily Increasing

St. Petersburg, June 24—In spite of the Czar's efforts to harmonize his councillors, the strife between the parties of Admiral Alexieff and General Kuropatkin has broken out afresh. The civil element has renewed its attempt to dominate the military situation and confusion prevails in Manchuria. By order of Kuropatkin two divisions of infantry were to be despatched to Liao Yang. When they reached Harbin, Admiral Alexieff, however stopped the troops and sent them into camp. Some days elapsed before the Commander-in-Chief ascertained what had happened. He protested to the Czar and a violent quarrel ensued.

Kuropatkin's friends in St. Petersburg charged Alexieff with deliberately sacrificing the national welfare to his private grudge.

This accusation was resented by the court supporters of Alexieff and personal encounters were narrowly avoided. The complaints of the general staff against Alexieff's rule are endless. It is alleged that the Viceroy's contractors and engineers, while engaged in work in connection with the railways were guilty of great corruption. The masonry and bridges over numerous rivers has been found so bad that reconstruction has been necessary. Under the supervision of Prince Helkoff, Minister of Ways and Communications some bridges have been destroyed and temporary wooden structures put in their places. It is charged that the contractor to whom Alexieff gave the order for transport on Lake Baikal at the rate of 200 rubles ($103), an engine and eight-five rubles ($43.87), a carriage had the service performed at the rate of thirty rubles ($15.40 and seven, $3.60 a carriage.

Information is lacking as to the truth or falsity of these charges.

However there is not the least doubt that the dispute raging around them paralyzes the Russians in the presence of what even the dullest intellects are beginning to realize is a great national peril.

MORE CHINESE FAIRY TALES.

Tokio June 22.—The Japanese captured a junk leaving Port Arthur yesterday, June 21, and the Chinamen on board say that a few days ago two Russian torpedo boat destroyers and the steamer Shin Taiping struck mines at the entrance to the harbor and sank. One hundred and forty lives were lost, according to their accounts.

TROUBLE WITH THE CORRESPONDENTS.

General Headquarters in the Field, via Seoul, June 20—There has been much dissatisfaction among newspaper correspondents over their status with the Japanese army, resulting in several protests to the staff. Finally, a written statement of their grievances was presented by the entire body of correspondents here. The statement complains of the censorship of telegrams at Seoul and at Nagasaki, which the headquarters' censor has already approved. It also complains of the strict enforcement of the rules framed by the General Staff at Tokio, which prevents correspondents in the field from sending details of what Tokio correspondents are often permitted to describe. The statement further requests that some freedom be granted correspondents in the matter of moving about and observing the army and its operations. The policy of the staff has been to suppress all information regarding the numbers and organizations which could give the enemy a clue to the size or character of the army opposing them. The Russian officers captured at the battle of the Yalu have displayed so much information of importance regarding the composition of this army, that the Japanese officers consider that their policy of strict secrecy has been vindicated.

Lieut. Albert Euger, an American artillery officer, who was traveling on leave, attempted to visit headquarters of the Japanese army for the purpose of observation. Notwithstanding his credentials, he was escorted back to Antung from a half-way station.

Mukden, June 21.—Major-General Pflug, chief of the military staff of Viceroy Alexieff, announces that on July 20 he will suspend the foreign correspondents whose papers have failed to send the Viceroy two copies of each issue containing their contributions. The suspension will continue until the copies are received.

UNDER THREE FLAGS DEMONTS HONORED

TERCENTENARY CELEBRATION BEGINS AT ANNAPOLIS

Annapolis, N.S., June 22.—Tuesday was the greatest day in the history of the little town of Annapolis. The first of many ter-centary celebrations in connection with the history of America has begun under most auspicious circumstances.

The Dominion Government vessels, Constance and Curlew, lie close to the town in the Annapolis basin, and farther down are the French warship Troude, and the United States vessels Topeka and Detroit. Still farther away is the Ariadne, which could not venture into shallow water. The celebration is thus under the benison of three flags, an incident almost without parallel in the history of North America.

A GATHERING OF IMPORTANCE.

The visitors to the little town numbered nearly ten thousand. They come from all over the continent, and include representatives of the French and United States Governments, the admiral of the British Atlantic squadron, the commander of the garrison, and Lieut.-Governor and representatives of numerous United States and Canadian historical societies.

The program was carried out exactly as announced, the Hon. Mr. Longley presiding. The morning events took place at the old fort with a guard of honor from three nations.

The Governor, the foreign representatives, the Archbishop, and the Hon. A. Turgeon were the speakers.

In the afternoon there was a trip down the river to Goat Island, opposite the place at which Demonts erected his first fort, where speeches were delivered by the Hon. Chas. Langelier, of Quebec; Mr. Lord, of Massachusetts; Rev. Mr. Gaynor, of St. John, and Judge Savary, the local historian.

AN EVENING MEETING.

In the evening a large meeting was held in the Academy of Music at which most interesting addresses were given by Mr. Charles Francis Adams, of Boston; Professor Thwaites, of Wisconsin; the presidents of three Nova Scotia Universities, and Mr. J. A. Cooper, president of the Canadian Press Association, representing Ontario. The note of the evening was struck by Mr. Adams, who declared that here the history of a region and the conflict of two nations began. The fact that no women were included in Demonts' settlement until 1834 might have made the pilgrim fathers' colony the first real settlement but it did not detract from the greatness of the work of Demonts and Champlain.

Salvador and Guatemala Troops March and Revolt Feared in Honduras

City of Mexico, June 24.—Telegraphic advices received here show that there is danger of war between the republics of Salvador and Gautemala and that the troops of the two countries are marching to the border region. There also are reports of a coming revolution in Honduras.

CZAR ATTENDS FUNERAL

Body of Finnland's Governor Interred near St. Petersburg

St. Petersburg, June 24.—The body of General Bobrikof, the late governor-general of Finland, arrived here to-day from Helsingfors. It was received with full military honors and was interred at the family vault at Sergievo, near St. Petersburg. The emperor was present, but the empress did not attend the burial, although she intended to accompany the emperor. A long expected event in the imperial family is understood to be imminent.

CUT OFF HIS QUEUE

The Chinese Rogue Check man Treated the Same as Other Prisoners

Toronto, June 24—Does a Chinaman who goes to prison lose his queue. This question came up in connection with the sentence to a term in the Central of Charlie Louie, who was convicted in the police court the other day of passing bogus checks.

"Did you cut Charlie's nice long queue off?" was asked of Warden Gilmour this morning.

"Yes, we'd cut it off if it was as long as The moral law," was the answer. "The law and Providence," added the warden, "are no respectors of persons."

BASELESS NEWSPAPER RUMORS

European Writers Trying to Detract From Japanese Success

Paris, June 24—Nearly all European writers are making persistent efforts to rob the Japanese generals of their hard-earned laurels by publishing unfounded statements concerning them and their origin. None of these writers seems willing to give the Japanese any credit for their aggressive campaign against the Russians. The latest effort of these writers applies to General Kuroki. They have circulated the report that he is the natural son of a Frenchman named Currique. They say, further, that all his military genius is due to his French blood.

MORGAN LIVES IN PEACE

Financier Not now Bothered by Newspaper Men as of Yore

London, June 24—J. Pierpont Morgan has been living here quietly in his house at Princess Gate for the last ten days. He does not find it as difficult to preserve complete privacy now as he did a few years back, for his comings and goings are not even mentioned in the newspapers, which formerly followed his movements with far more interest than those of any royalty. It is reported that he has purchased at the record auction-room figure of $60,500 Gainsborough's Duchess of Gloster from the Duke of Cambridge's collection, but the picture so far remains with the Agnews, the big dealers.

CANADIAN IMPRISONED

By Channel Island Authorities on Charge of Being Spy

London, June 24—The widow of the late Justice Moss, of Toronto, and her son have just arrived from the Channel Islands. The Canadian Associated Press says that during their visit to the islands the son, while taking photographs, was arrested and placed in goal, the military authorities charging him with being a spy. His mother offered every proof that she and her son were Canadians and that the object of their visit to the islands was entirely with the hope of benefit to her son's health.

She asked the governor of the island to communicate with Lord Strathcona but the governor declined. Finally after three weeks detention and the payment of ten pounds her son was released.

THE WEDDING STOPPED

The Prospective Bride's Father Secure Writ

Montreal, June 24.—The shop window wedding has not taken place. The contracting parties, W. F. Seaman and Miss Rosa Castonguay, were on hand, and an enormous crowd had officiating clergyman, who did not, special detachment of police, and amused by a brass band, when a writ of injunction was served by the bride's father. It was alleged that the young woman is under age. A strenuous endeavor was made to carry the girl off in the morning, her raptor succeeding in getting her into a cab, from which she was released by friends of the bridegroom. A writ was awaiting the collected outside, kept in hand by a however, put in an appearance.

ULTIMATUM THEN STRIKE

Butcher Workers at Harris' Abbatoir will Quit Work this Morning

Toronto, June 23.—Thirty-five journeymen butchers in the employ of the Harris Abbatoir Company went on strike for higher wages and recognition of their union. The men marched in a body from Occident Hall to the office of Mr. Harris at the abattoir, to whom they formally presented their demands, and when Mr. Harris refused to concede these demands, a strike was immediately declared.

The journeymen butchers have received the sanction of the international organization for a strike, and that of their section of the Trades and Labor Council. The decision to issue this morning's ultimatum was reached at a meeting Tuesday night.

The company are continuing operations and express confidence that they will be able to fill the place of the strikers.

Russia's New Plan —Wants to Prevent New Chang Falling Into Hands of Japs During Wet Season

Che Foo, June 23.—It is reported here that the Japanese made a determined attack upon Port Arthur from land and sea yesterday, June 22, and also during the night.

Two steamers just arrived passed Port Arthur at one o'clock this morning some distance off shore. The captains, both reliable men, say they did not hear any firing at that hour.

KUROPATKIN TO GIVE BATTLE.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The expectation of a great battle has been intensified by General Kuropatkin's speech to General Stakelberg's corps on Monday, at Kai Chou, when the commander-in-chief said he would see the troops again soon, that they must settle the Japanese promptly and that they were not going home until this had been done. The General is understood to have meant that he would return from Liao Yang with a large force and give battle. It is pointed out that he can afford to keep a comparatively small garrison at Liao Yang in view of the absence of any direct advance from Fegn Wang Cheng and the concentration of the Japanese forces south.

In the opinion of many conservative military men Kuropatkin's massing of troops at Kai Chou does not necessarily indicate his intention to give battle, but merely to check the Japanese advance and defer the occupation of New Chwang, the possession of which would be of great advantage to the Japanese during the rainy season, affording the enemy housing accomodation and enabling them to land supplies and harass the Russians.

JAPANESE ARMIES UNITED

The occupation of Siung Yo Shan 125 miles southeast of Kai Chou(by a Japanese detachment indicates that the connection between the enemy's armies is practically secured. Siung Yo Shan is half way between General Oku's and General Kuroki's positions, at Senuchan and Siu Yen respectively. In the opinion of the general staff the Siung Yo Shan detachment is an outpost of the Siu Yen army or of another force, recently landed at Ching Tai Tsze 115 miles southwest of Taku Shang. The information of the War Office accounts for the position of 12 Japanese divisions. The whereabouts of two others is unknown. These are the sixth and the seventh, which probably were the last to arrive, as they come from Hakodate. One or both may have just landed, furnishing a link between the armies of Kuroki and Oku.

GREAT DISTRESS IN CZAR'S REALM

Thousands of Unemployed Men Slowly Starving

AS RESULT OF THE WAR

This Large Army is Increasing at the Rate of Three Thousand a Day

Warsaw, June 24.—One of the first consequences of the Russo-Japanese war is the serious crippling of trade in Siberia, European Russia and the Caucasus and Poland.

The unskilled laboring element in Russia has been the first to feel these consequences. Workmen are being gradually thrown out of employment and left with their families to subsist anyhow. The harvesting may afford a percentage of the unemployed an opportunity of earning a little, though the relief can only be temporary and, in view of the wretched wages paid in the agricultural districts, materially insignificant.

Even the state railways have been compelled to discharge squads of loaders owing to the shrinkage of the ordinary goods traffic. During the last four months the shrinkage has been close on 11 per cent., and is increasing.

An idea of the extent to which the traffic between Russian inland railway centres and the Russian ports of export has decreased in consequence of the war may be gleaned from the fact that close on 200,000 tons less have been railed over the Russian railway systems in May this year than in May last year, practically 25 per cent. The aggregate quantity of goods railed from various parts of the empire to the western land frontiers of Russia is less for May than for May last year by nearly 40 per cent.

On the railway lines of European Russia and Poland alone it is computed that 60,000 men have been discharged during the last four months. The number of laborers and artisans throughout the empire thrown into idleness during the same period is estimated at from 300,000 to 400,000, the bulk of whom entertain little hope of finding remunerative employment until the end of the war. This army of unemployed is steadily increasing at the rate of at least 3,000 a day.

Without employment and without prospect of obtaining it for months, these laborers are stranded. There are no poor law guardians in Russia. The man out of work must as a rule starve or beg. He is not allowed to beg, consequently he is not infrequently driven to join the barefoot brigade and master the art of living by his wits and the deftness of his fingers.

The police forces in the larger centres are being strengthened to deal with the situation, but it is perfectly clear that the situation cannot materially improve as long as the number of unemployed increases at the present ratio.

SIX CRUISERS WAITING

Argentine-Russian Negotiations Hang Fire on Ethical Grounds

St. Petersburg, June 24.—It is now definitely established that the negotiations for the purchase by Russia of six Argentine cruisers had almost reached a successful conclusio when Argentine raised the question as to under what flag they would be transferred, she being unwilling to sell direct to a belligerent.

The medium through which the negotiations were conducted suggested that they be transferred to Venezuela, Costa Rica or Bulgaria, which would turn them over to Russia, but President Roca rejected the proposal, insisting that a bona fide maritime power should be the purchaser. Then Turkey began negotiations through the Argentine legation at Paris. The result of these negotiations is not known.

Commander Moneta has arrived here on his way to the far east to observe the operations for the Argentine navy.

General Reynolds, of the Argentine army, who has been ordered to join General Kuropatkin, is ill in Sweden.

and of the sufferers from the Slocum disaster. It was learned that a contribution was received which was not registered, but which places the fund upon a foundation of solid rock. It leaked out that a telephone message had been received from the offices of the Standard Oil Company that the great fortune of the richest man in the world was at its disposal to be drawn upon for deficiency in the fund which might remain after other donations had ceased to come in.

This renders easy and practicable the plan of the committee to resolve itself into a permanent organization for the future maintenance of the children who have been left orphans and the dependents who have been left without support. It was decided at the meeting of the committee of St. Mark's Lutheran church yesterday afternoon that a permanent organization should be effected, that incorporation papers should be taken out and that a legal name should be adopted in order that the committee might become legal guardians of the children and dependents deprived of their support by the disaster.

It was decided that when the immediate necessities of the sufferers have all been met and the exact dimensions of the fund definitely ascertained an appropriation shall be made for each orphan and dependent, to be kept in trust for that child or dependent as long as he or she may need it.

It was announced that $5,000 had been pledged to undertakers for funeral expenses and $500 expended for drugs, medical attendance, food and mourning clothing and that the most pressing necessities of the sufferers had been largely cleared away.

DIFFICULTY OVER TREATY MAKING

An Agreement With Germany Block by Government

REASON FOR THE BLOCKADE

Ottawa authorities Cannot Persuade Britain to Allow Them to Negotiate Alone

London, June 24.—The question of treaty making powers is evidently causing difficulty between the Canadian and British governments. A diplomatic authority states today that the Canadian tariff question is still open between Canada and Germany, but that as so though no fault of Germany as she has conceded all asked for by Mr. Chamberlain, namely, Canada's right to an independent fiscal attitude.

The only reason why a Treaty has not been concluded is that the Ottawa Government cannot persuade the British Government to leave the negotiation of the treaty exclusively in Canada's hands.

UNITED STATES IN LINE

Mentioned as Possible Mediator Along Lines of Roosevelt's Statement

St. Petersburg, June 24.—An interview with Baron Suyematsu, published in Paris, and suggesting that Japan is willing to accept the mediation of a power equally well disposed to Russia and Japan, while regarded as a tentative utterance, attracts much attention, coming from Marquis Ito's son-in-law.

It is generally interpreted as meaning that Japan is shrinking before the prospect of a long, exhausting war.

Government circles do not show the slightest disposition, however, to relax the officially announced position the sentiment being that, having been forced into the war and driven to make heavy sacrifices, to stop just now when Russia is prepared to accomplish something, is quite impossible.

The American embassy is disinclined to discuss the matter, expect to suggest that if a mediator is wanted the United States fulfills the conditions prescribed by Baron Suyematzu.

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 25 1904

WHAT OF SUNDAY

How Sunday should be kept is becoming a very live question in this land, from the laudable efforts of the Lords' Day Alliance to minimize the labor done in it, and those of the Seventh Day Adventists to make it optional, whether having kept the Seventh Day holy, they, as a sect, should also be forced by law to keep the first day of the week. These are called by the orthodox "Spirits of Unrest," concerning this matter and the term does not seem unsuitable. In other lands the Sunday question solves itself as a compromise of religious and secular interests. In Germany, as reported by an American consul, Sunday is especially the day when peasants come into town to do their shopping. He does not state whether the religious organizations oppose this method, but mentions the fact that the labor unions favor shorter hours on Sunday. The result is that in summer the shops are open from 11 to 1 o'clock, and in winter from 11 to 3 o'clock. If the German storekeepers are tempted to break the Sabbath in order to do business, the people of London, according to Major-General Sir Reginald C. Hart V. C., are breaking it in a much more dangerous way. Many people, says General Hart, are bored to death because they do not know what to do with themselves on Sunday, and he is convinced that there is more sin and debauchery in the country on that day than upon any other day of the week, simply because it is an idle day. The streets and parks and fields and the playgrounds are closed up. Outdoor recreation is forbidden. The result is that a great many people are driven to diversions which are far worse than labor on Sunday and far worse than any kind of outdoor sport that can be thought of.

The English people are not, remarks the Syracuse Standard-Post, the only sufferers from this interpretation of the meaning of Sunday. The Washington Post recently contained an account of a Sunday excursion down the Potomac. Drunkenness was the order of the day, and razors, bludgeons, sling shots and other deadly weapons its industrious accompaniments. A deputy sheriff in Prince George county was fatally injured. A street car conductor in Washington was beaten half to death, and from first to last pandemonium, broken bones and maybem reigned supreme. The Post calls it an all round bullabaloo.

Furthermore the Frederick City Ministerial Association is about to appeal to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company to discontinue running of Sunday railroad excursions to and from Frederick, Md. The railroad has been in the habit of running one excursion to Frederick from Baltimore and Washington and the next from Frederick to Baltimore and Washington on alternate Sundays. These excursions are denounced by the Ministerial Association on the ground that they antagonize the influence of the Church of God. It seems to our Syracuse contemporary that the Ministerial Association in question would do better if it would suggest something to take the place which these excursions undoubtedly fill in the lives of the people who patronize them. It is distinctly settled that Sunday is to be a day of leisure if not a day of rest. The problem of how that leisure may properly be employed is a very big question.

THE BIGGER TO THIBET

There now seems to be little doubt that the desired result of the mission to Thibet will only be attained at a much greater cost than was anticipated would be necessary when the expedition was decided on. The manner in which the Thibetan authorities ignored every condition of the treaty, and disregarded British rights, made it practically impossible for the Government of India to abstain from action in some shape or other in order to obtain redress and future compliance by the Thibetans with treaty obligations. The attitude which the authorities at Lhassa have assumed since the mission crossed the border, makes it absolutely necessary that decisive action should be taken to maintain British prestige among the people of the Orient. Nothing would more damage British authority in the eyes of the millions in India than for us to tolerate the treatment that the mission has met. It will be necessary now to compel the Dalai Lama to conclude a treaty and to give security for its observance, although such a course may even entail the necessity of having a resident at Lhassa—a matter that is not desirable on more than one account.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

Lieutenant-General Oku, who commands the Japanese army that is investing Port Arthur, is one of the mikado's noted military chiefs. Oku first won fame in the Japanese rebellion of 1877, when his defense of the castle of Kumamota was considered masterly. Next he distinguished himself in the war with China in 1894-95 and thus far in the campaign against Russia he has maintained his military prestige.

If Japan continues to deprive the Russians of their guns at the present rate of disarmament it will not be long before the Muscovites will have no weapons with which to defend themselves except their large and varied assortment of jagged consonants.

Do You Tire Easily?

IF YOU LACK STRENGTH AND ENERGY AND FORCE, IT'S BECAUSE YOUR BLOOD IS THIN AND WATERY

The Best Tonic is Ferrozone—Read of the Marvel it Performed For Three Sisters in Lawrencetown—It Can Do The Same For You

Speaking for herself and sisters, Miss Dorothea Bordman writes; "I am anxious to make known the great benefit that I and my sisters derived from Ferrozone. A short time ago I was tired out and depressed, and felt as if some severe illness was hanging over me. I was so nervous that I found it hard to keep up with my work. Noticing that many Canadian women were being built up by Ferrozone I sent for a supply, and took it regularly for a month. So great was the improvement that my sisters also took Ferrozone. Not one of us had a spark of color in our cheeks, but Ferrozone soon made our complexions ruddy. We soon had good appetites, slept better, and were helped a lot by Ferrozone. We still use Ferrozone, because we find it keeps our systems in a strong, healthy condition. It is certainly a wonderful tonic, and a fine remedy for weak women. Ferrozone has been worth its weight in gold in our family."

To take Ferrozone means you get more strength; means a reserve of energy, and protection against weakness and sickness. Ferrozone is a food medicine, that supplies the body with everything needed to build up the brain, blood and nerve tissues. If its health you seek, Ferrozone will bring it quickly. It is a food tonic that every woman should use. Refuse a substitute and see that you get the genuine Ferrozone. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all Druggists or N. C. THE ONTARIO BANK

Another Successful Year Rest Account Increased by $100,000 Which Brings It up to $2,000,000

Elsewhere will be seen the financial statement submitted to the shareholders of the Ontario Bank, at the annual meeting which took place at the head office, Toronto, on Tuesday last. The report shows the Bank has added another year to its lengthy period of prosperity enjoyed since General Manager McGill assumed control.

The net profits for the year, after deducting charges of management, interest accrued on deposits, and making provision for all bad and doubtful debts, amounts to $176,256 54. This, added to the Profit and Loss Account of $73,606.91, carried over from last year, makes a total of $249,863.45. After paying dividends to stockholders at the rate of six per cent. per annum, amounting to $90,000, and adding $100,000 to Rest Account, and $5,000 to Officers' Pension Fund, there is a balance of $54,863.45 to be carried forward to next year. The Rest Account now stands at $2,000,000. A particularly satisfactory feature is the large increase in deposits of $1,089,735 08 over previous years.

This cannot but be regarded as entirely satisfactory, and shows that the affairs of this popular financial institution are being wisely administered. The President, General Manager and Board of Directors are to be congratulated on the result of the year's operations.

During the year the local branch, which is so efficiently managed by Mr. John Crane, has been greatly enlarged and improved, and affords ample facilities for the large and ever increasing business.

M DOUGALL TO RETIRE

Auditor General of Canada Applies for Superannuation

Ottawa, June 23.—J. L. McDougall, Auditor-General of the Dominion, has applied for superannuation. He forwarded his application asking superannuation to the Minister of Finance to-day. This was foreshadowed in his annual report.

Mr. John Lorne McDougall is the son of the late J. L. McDougall, who formerly represented Renfrew in the Provincial Assembly. He was born in Renfrew November 6, 1838, was educated at High School, Montreal, and Toronto University where he graduated B. A. in 1857. On his father's death he succeeded him in the lumber business at Renfrew, was elected to the county council and warden of the county. He was elected to the Provincial Legislature in 1867 for South Renfrew and sat till the general election of 1871. He was returned to the House of Commons for South Renfrew in 1869, and defeated in 1872. He was returned again in 1874 and sat till August 2 1878 when he was appointed Auditor-General of Canada by the Mackenzie Government. His conduct in that office is well known to those who take an interest in public affairs. He was created a C. M. G. by the Queen in 1897.

OUR OLDEST COLOSSAL FRIEND

As Represented in Two Wonderfully Wise Words

Our friend, the elephant, is at least one huge exception to the general rule that familiarity breeds contempt. Although no longer to be ranked as a zoological stranger in a strange land, it still leads the procession and always will, and remains the ponderous popular magnet, both in the streets and under canvas. It is the first of wild beasts, alike in the nursery and the menagerie, to impress its individuality upon the memory of the child, and as the years pass maintains an abiding peanut familiarity with everybody, while its performances are a perennial source of staid admiration to the old and of delighted wonder to the young. The consolidation of great shows, which is to exhibit at Peterborough on Saturday, July 2, includes two royal delegations of the biggest, smallest and best taught of our distinguished trunked friends. The one is the world-famous, original Adam Forepaugh herd of performing elephants which has been before the public for nearly half a century, can boast of veteran artists over a hundred years of age, and has been trained to present a colossal programme of amazing and amusing dancing and other feats, in a special school of which it is the only example. The other is the equally eminent and trained Sells' Brothers' herd of elephant actors, taught to cover the entire ground of arenic scholarship, from martial manœuvres to mirthful mimicry. Thus the representatives of every species, royal and dwarf elephants, appear simultaneously in ponderous, prodigious, mirth-provoking and unique rivalries. You who have seen the elephant in other ways, will make your children happier by giving them a chance to see him in this one.

THE NEW Y.W.C.A. BUILDING

A Structure that will be an Ornament to Peterboro

The Young Women's Christian Association building, to be erected on the corner of Simcoe and Aylmer streets, has been begun, the contract having been let to Messrs. McIntyre & Hartley. The contractors promise as rapid progress as is possible in the construction of a building of thorough workmanship and it is hoped that it will be ready for occupation early in the new year.

The building will be situated eleven feet from Simcoe street and seven from Aylmer; its dimensions being 119x63 feet. Both entrances are off Simcoe street, the entrance to the public department being in the centre of the building, while the entrance to the boarding house is from a verandah running along the east side and looking out into what will be a large and beautiful tennis court.

The public and home departments are, of course, entirely separate. In the public there is a large hall with fireplace reading room drawing room class rooms, secretary's offices, gymnasium, domestic science equipment, etc.; while in the home department, there is a cosy drawing room, commodious dining room and kitchen, and accommodation for at least fifty young women.

This building will, no doubt, be unusually complete and admirably adapted to its purpose.

High Class Investment

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company. The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a numbea of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district. The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern machinery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men of integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built.

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock, the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3 50 to $4 00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developements. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HARRISON.

HONEYBEE QUEENS.

THE MANNER IN WHICH THEY ARE FED BY THE WORKERS.

There Are Numerous Safeguards in the Hive to Provide Against the Administration of Poison Honey—It Is Different With Wasps.

The safeguards provided against the administration of poison to the despotic oriental rulers are rudimentary compared with those which stand between queens of the honeybee and such a risk. Curiously enough, this is a phase of the internal economy of the beehive which appears to have escaped observation.

In the British isles no poisonous honey is collected. If it exists the bees have learned to avoid it. Probably there is none, as the honey from at least one dangerous plant, the deadly nightshade, is harmless. Ivy honey would be the most suspicious of any gathered on a large scale, and it only exerts, so far as observation goes, a slightly laxative effect on the digestive organs. Although in this country no poisonous honey is known, it is met with in other places, notably in Asiatic Turkey. It was in this region that Xenophon's soldiers were poisoned 2,300 years ago by honey from the Azelia pontica, a plant which still flourishes in Armenia. Some centuries later a Roman army suffered similarly, but less severely, there being no deaths.

The precaution of compelling the cook to eat a portion of every dish, which is the usual safeguard of despotic rulers, or the still more primitive plan of giving the first helping to a little dog, can be eluded by a clever Borgia by having only one-half of a bird or pastry poisoned. In a wasps' nest each forager on returning proceeds directly to the queen and offers refreshment. Consequently the queen is sometimes destroyed by slowly acting poison. Further as regards wasps, it is observed that when any larvæ not recently fed perceive the queen receiving food they become restless. If nearly grown they wag their heads in a suggestive way, which plainly conveys a demand for a share. Each forager after feeding the queen gives the balance of his load direct to the nurses.

In the case of the honeybee one possible reason why no virulently poisonous honey reaches the hive may be that the insect foolish enough to collect any would probably die, as the so called honey sack is really a stomach in which a preliminary digestive process proceeds. This is proved by the polariscope, which shows that, while the nectar of the flowers is pure cane sugar, or levulose, the substance in the hive cells is sacromectrically half dextrose and half cane sugar. Dextrose is invert sugar, a coarse variety of which is the glucose of commerce. Forager bees returning to the beehive place the half digested product known as honey in their storeroom with other honey. This mixing would have the effect of attenuating a poisoned load should such be brought in.

Foraging bees never feed the queen or young larvæ, but they give a mouthful or two to drones in passing. Just before sealing for the metamorphosis workers and drones are fed with honey mixed with pollen. Not so the young queens, who only get a further supply of the redigested milky substance known as chyle, which is the sustenance of all larvæ indiscriminately during the first three days of their existence. During the chrysalis stage there is no feeding. It is the business of a gang, distinct for the time being, to cater for the queen and young. They bring the food from the stores and submit it to the digestive process referred to, after which it is regurgitated to supply the needs of the queen and young larvæ. The attendants are numerous, and each supplies only a minute quantity. The queen bee is so constituted that her digestive system is capable of assimilating only the prepared food of chyle. She will die in a few hours on a comb containing honey, although kept at the temperature of the hive.

Thus it would appear that the safeguards are:

First.—A bee collecting poisonous honey would probably die before reaching the hive.

Second.—If one succeeded in depositing poisoned honey, the circumstance that it did so would prove the poison to be not virulent, and its mixture with other honey in the storeroom would still further attenuate the poison and render it harmless. This is the stage at which the product becomes human food. It has, as stated above, occurred that poisoned honey has passed both these lines of defense.

Third.—Should the honey be still delegerious the alimentary attendants of the queen would first suffer, and only those bringing wholesome food would reach her, as a struggle for the privilege of feeding her majesty is continually in progress.

Fourth.—Should the stores pass the three safeguards before mentioned there is still another—viz, that each one of the queen's attendants feeds her only for a second at a time, and thus she would never get a sufficient quantity to affect her seriously. The queen is always on the move and the competition to feed her so great that she is continually bringing fresh bees in front of her, from which position alone food can be administered. No worker bee would think of jostling; every one gives way to the queen.

Uneasy monarchs and others may find some suggestions in these arrangements for securing their safety. Probably they will decide to take their chances rather than avoid risk by living on food which has previously been digested by subjects, however loyal.—Scientific American.

LOOK TO KUROPATKIN

Russians Expect Great Things From His Assuming the Offensive

Liao Yang, June 22.—For the first time since the beginning of the war General Kuropatkin has taken personal direction of the operations and in consequence of his having assumed the offensive results very different from those following recent events are anticipated.

The tactics of the Japanese are admired here, but their strategy is criticised, especially with regard to the battle of Vafangow, June 14, which may truthfully be called an artillery engagement. During that battle the infantry extended over the field further than the eye could reach, one division covering six miles.

In spite of the fact that up to the present the happenings have caused uneasiness, the possibilities of the southern situation are thoroughly appreciated.

The naval attaches have abandoned their plan to visit Port Arthur and are going to Vladivostock. The military attaches have left for the south ward in anticipation of important developments.

Rough on the Lawyers.

They have a way of settling lawsuits in India that it would be well to copy here, according to the Springfield Republican. When a dispute arises over the ownership of land two holes are dug near together and the two opposing lawyers nicely planted up to their waists. The first one to become bitten by a bug or becomes so exhausted that he has to be exhumed loses the case for his client. This does away with unnecessary talking and adds an interesting element of chance to the game.

CRIPPLE CREEK ENTERPRISE GOLD MINING COMPANY

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

STORY OF CAPTURE OF MURDERER CHARTRAND

The Times is able this morning to give full details of the murder of Detective Irvine and capture of the murderer, which no doubt will be read with interest, as Chartrand, as well as his victim were well known here, the former having lived in Peterborough some years ago. Mr. Cook, of the C. P. R. detective force, returned from Webbwood, where he, assisted by Detective A Bailey, who is also well known in Peterborough, captured the burglar and murderer. The particulars of the murder are as follows:

While on a C.P.R. train which stopped at Webbwood station, between Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury, Irvine saw a chap named Chartrand get on. The detective knew a warrant was out for Chatrand for burglary, so he walked up to him and put him under arrest as he was entering the car. Chartrand, who is 24 years of age and weighs 125 pounds, denied his identity The detective said "I'll arrest you anyway." Chartrand at first said he would go quietly. Irvine was not armed and did not have any handcuffs with him. When Chartrand found he was not to be handcuffed, he made up his mind to bolt.

He made a break for the door, but Irvine pounced on him. Chartrand drew a revolver and fired three times at point blank range. One ball went through a window, the second went through the car floor. Then Chartrand grappled with the detective and caught him round the waist. With his right arm he put the revolver over the detective's right shoulder and down across his chest till he reached the region of the heart, when he fired again. Irvine fell dead to the car floor.

MURDERER AT BAY.

The shooting drew a crowd. Chartrand dashed from the car. As he came out several residents tried to catch him but he pointed his revolver in their faces and warned them off One man picked up a stick of wood. "Drop that or I'll drop you," shouted Chartrand. The man dropped the stick.

The desperado then started on the run for the hills near by.

The bad news sped apace.

Detectives Cook and Bailley were at Fort William. When the news was wired to Montreal Chief Inspector Lowrey, of the C.P.R. detective force, wired Cook and Bailley to go to Webbwood They went there by the next train.

CHARTRAND'S WANDERINGS.

After getting away from the crowd at Webbwood Chartrand seems to have wandered across country to a point on the Spanish river known as Webbwood Falls. Here he broke into a farmer's house and stole two loaves of bread, a sheet and a bottle of pickles.

In the meantime the country round had been aroused and every roadway and bridge was being watched. It should be said that Chartrand was known by sight to most of the Webbwood people, as for the past seven years he had put in most of his time between Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury and Webbwood.

During that time he is said to have burglarized practically every hotel and every store of any account along the railway line between the "Soo" and Sudbury. After his arrest he admitted the various charges and gave the detectives a list of every place he had broken into. But this is getting ahead of the story.

WAS FIRED ON.

When Chartrand wandered down to the railway bridge across the Spanish river about 12 miles from Webbwood, with the intention of crossing, he saw a man on the bridge whom he afterwards said he took for a section man and past whom he had intended to force his way. The man, however, was one of the dozens of volunteer constables who had been sworn in to effect a capture. As Chartrand came nearer he saw that the man carried a revolver. He suddenly changed his mind and started on the run for the woods again.

At once five other armed men sprang up and they called on the fleeing man to halt. As he refused to stop they fired. The distance was about 100 yards.

Chartrand when he heard the firing dropped to his knees and crawled into the underbrush.

The watchers at once lined up around the spot where Chartrand had disappeared and afterwards a handcar was sent to Webbwood for the C.P.R. detectives who had arrived and were awaiting news of the desperado's whereabouts.

THE ROUNDUP.

When the C.P.R. detectives arrived Mr. Cook took charge of a party of 12 armed men and began a systematic search of the bush and the hills around.

When they reached the spot where Chartrand had dropped they found that he had had a very narrow escape from being shot. He had dropped just beside a small tree of about four inches in diameter at the trunk. In this trunk at the level of a man's breast were found three bullet holes, not an inch apart from each other.

A careful search of the surrounding country had been made and the detectives had about come to the conclusion that Chartrand had escaped, when Detective Cook saw something moving in the underbrush not far from where Chartrand had taken to his knees.

Cook shouted, "Stand up or I'll shoot." There was no stir.

Hearing the command the other men closed in rapidly.

"Stand up or we'll all fire," Cooke shouted.

Chartrand raised one hand through the underbrush.

"That won't do, get right up." Cooke commanded.

Chartrand raised his other hand—empty.

If Chartrand had not promptly raised his other hand he would likely have been riddled Cooke says, as the volunteer policemen were excited and wanted to shoot. He had hard work to restrain them. As the distance was close and they were all good shots, Chartrand would probably not have lived to face a court.

Finally, on a third order, the murderer rose slowly and came forward.

He had a revolver in his pocket with one cartridge in it.

The captured man was taken to Webbwood where on Monday he received his preliminary trial, and was then taken to the "Soo" to await his trial on a murder charge.

Chartrand admitted killing Irvine, but said he was sorry he had done so. His only idea at the time was to get away.

Chartrand is an American by birth and home. He belongs to Duluth, where his parents live.

The arrest took place Sunday about noon. It was excessively hot that day.

The murder occurred Friday morning.

ABOUT DETECTIVE IRVINE.

The late Detective Irvine was 33 years of age, and popular in the Algoma district. His funeral was attended by over 1000 people He was a Mason, an Oddfellow and a Knight of Pythias.

ITEMS OF NEWS BY CABLE AND LETTER

London June 22.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail, under date of June 21, from New Chwang, says:

While a Russian force of 8,000, under General Kondratsvitch, was traversing Wafangko ravine, nine miles south east of Kai Chou, on June 19 it was surprised by concealed Japanese artillery.

The Russians lost heavily, their casualties being 1,200 in number.

MONEY LOST.

Vladivostok, June 21.—The report that foreign attaches were on board the Japanese transports which were sunk by the Vladivostok squadron in the Straits of Corea, is untrue. Three Englishmen, L. Anderson, J. D. Ring, and W. Kerr, officers of the transport Sado, were brought here. They say that other Japanese transports are in many cases officered by Englishmen. The Sado lost $1,000,000 in English gold.

GUNS FROM VARIAG SAVED.

London June 22.—The Tokio correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says that thirty-one guns, three torpedoes and a large quantity of ammunition have been recovered from the Russian cruiser Variag, which was sunk by the Japanese at Chemulpo at the beginning of hostilities.

Richmond, Ind., June 23. — Rev. Alva Long, who is 80 years old, and Mrs. Sarah Metzger, a widow, aged 76 years were married to-day at Losantville, north of here. The bridegroom is a Baptist minister and has paid ardent court to the widow for some months.

Bloomington, Ill., June 23. — The body of Ira Eller, aged 13, was found hanging from a tree at Roanoke. The lad, who had been plowing, left the outfit in the field and hanged himself with the horses' halter. It is believed he was affected by the fate of a boy friend who was recently shot and killed on the same farm.

Madrid, June 22.—The chamber today accepted the invitation of the United States Government to take part in the Congress of Jurisconsults to be held in St. Louis in December During the debate on the question Senor Nocedal, leader of the territorial integralista, said he would vote "no" if an affirmative vote would be construed as an expression of friendship to the United States. President Maura answered Senor Nocedal, saying that Spaniards must forget the past at a time when the interests of Spain required representation at St. Louis.

Washington, June 22.—The American battle ship squadron commanded by Rear Admiral Barker has sailed from Lisbon on a visit to the ports of Greece and Austria. It is reported that after spending a few weeks there Admiral Barker will be reinforced by the European squadron under Rear Admiral Jewell, and this formidable fleet will visit Turkish waters about the time Mr. Leishman, the American minister, takes up in earnest again his negotiations with the Porte to insure for Americans in Turkey the same rights as are enjoyed by citizens of privileged European nations.

London, June 20.—The correspondent of The Times at Tangier says: The officers of the newly arrived Moorish troops, upon whom the residents of Tangier are supposed to be dependent for security, say the troops have been deprived of their arms, which are not to be returned to them, as it would be dangerous to allow them to go about armed, for fear of a breach of public order. Yet it is pretended they are capable of guarding European lives and property. There is no change in the change in the state of the negotiations for the release of the captives.

Montreal, June 23.—A batch of 210 Chinamen, many of whom have been confined in the detention house at Malone, N.Y., for several months, some of them as long as eight months, passed through the city yesterday on their way back to China. They have been deported by an order of the Court of Appeal—a body that had been called upon to pass upon their eligibility. Superintendent Clarke, of the United States Immigration Department in this city, is of the opinion that this action of the courts in his country will have the effect of discouraging further attempts upon the part of Chinamen to gain admission to the United States. All along Malone has been a favorite point of entry for Chinese seeking admission to the United States and hundreds of them have managed to slip through at that point, incidentally enriching a number of lawyers in that locality. The Chinese in question have been sent to Hong Kong via Vancouver over the Canadian Pacific Railway.

London, June 23.—The Duke of Norfolk, the leading Roman Catholic peer, intends to move the following resolution in the House of Lords this afternoon: "That whereas, under the Bill of Rights and Acts of Settlement, the Sovereign is required to join in communion with the Church of England, as by law established, and ample securities are provided to insure the Protestant succession to the Crown, and, whereas, in addition to these secularities, the Sovereign is required immediately after his accession to make a declaration, commonly called the Declaration against Transubstantiation, which is deeply and needlessly offensive to many millions of loyal subjects of his Majesty, this House is of opinion that the declaration aforesaid ought to be amended so as not to include the condemnation or repudiation of specific doctrines which form part of the conscientious beliefs of any of his Majesty's subjects."

Toledo, Ohio, June 23.—"You will have to swim or sink, you nigger," said a tramp to-day to Richard Harris a 10-year-old negro boy, who was fishing on the banks of the Maumee River, throwing him into the water. The lad's body was recovered an hour later. A mob pursued the man, but he escaped. Had he been captured he undoubtedly would have been lynched.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

I desire to call the attention of investors to the

Smuggler Gold Mining Co.'s Proposition

of which I am the authorized agent

Investments in mining stocks where they can be purchased cheaply whose property contains merit and whose directors are men of unquestionable honor and integrity, and especially when sufficient work has been done to guarantee a producing mine and the lands have been demonstrated to be permanent, offer the greatest opportunity for large returns from modern investments.

The shrewdest capitalists of England and America are giving more attention to mining properties and putting more money into them than at any time in the past history of the world.

The Smuggler Group consists of five full sized claims, to-wit:—The Smuggler, Gangon, Black Jack, Star and Red Rock, located in the Greenhorn District of Eastern Oregon. Surrounding mines are Potosi, Pride of Pendleton, Bonanza and Rockefeller, developing work to the extent of 1,000 feet of tunnelling, drifts and crosscuts have been made, exposing hundreds of tons of high grade ore, averaging from $25 to $45 per ton, based on smelter returns and for the purpose of equipping the mines a limited number of shares of Treasury Stock will be sold at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.00.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 288 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 2,494 to 2,694, a decrease of 780, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1900.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

H. J. Fuller

The Copper King Group contains one vein 20 feet wide, 8 feet of which runs from $10 to $100 per ton, and the Company owns 9 000 feet on this vein.

Ore running from $18 to $50 per ton is continually being shipped from the gold property, and 24 samples taken from widely different portions of the vein system averaged $28.50 per ton.

DESTITUTION ON THE RAND

Hard Times in South Africa and Much Suffering

London, June 23.—The following extract is taken from a letter from Johannesburg. Describing the straits to which many of the unemployed there are reduced, the writer says: "I know of men walking the streets who have not had a bite for three and even four days. They are too proud to beg. They are respectable men, who once occupied good positions, and who cannot for the sake of their future careers seek open charity. You never hear of any of them in the Police Court. They are quiet, sober and industrious men, who are bearing their great trouble with Spartan-like fortitude. They cannot leave Johannesburg because they have no money. Would that employment would come, or that the Government would send the poor fellows back in a transport to the old country."

The Canada Life Company

The Canada Life Assurance Company is applying for special legislation at Ottawa. When the bill came before the Banking and Commerce Committee Mr. Henderson, of Halton, objected to the proposed provision for three vice-presidents. It meant taking money from the widows and orphans. He suggested that one of the vice-presidents be chosen from the directors elected by the policy-holders. The suggestion was accepted. Mr. Henderson also objected to the increase of the number of directors to thirty and to the provision for the delegation of the powers to a committee of three. He said that this was a one-man company, and the committee of three might consist of Senator Cox, his son and his son-in-law. Mr. Fielding suggested that the committee be composed of not less than five members, excluding the president and vice-president and general manager and the bill stood to allow the company to draft a new measure in accordance with these suggestions.

BIG BUTCHERS' STRIKE

Mr J. W. Flavelle's Company Having Labour Fight

Toronto, June 22—About thirty-five of the employees of the Harris Abattoir Company will refuse to go to work to-day unless their demands for increased wages and time and a half for overtime be granted. They will meet in Occident Hall and, marching to the abattoir in a body, present their ultimatum to Manager Harris. If denied they will return to the hall and the strike will be "on."

Negotiations have been in progress for some time between the Butcher Workers' Union and the company, of which D Flavelle is president. Mr. Flavelle and Mr. Harris have refused to recognize the union or treat with the men in a body, maintaining that they will pay their men as much as they consider them to be worth individually, and will not be coerced by any organization.

Toronto, June 23.—Solicitor to the Treasury McLeod has prepared a comparative statement showing the total of the succession duties to the first five and a half months of the year. This year the Ontario Treasury has benefited to the extent of $224,188 99, as compared with $147,970 75 in the same period last year. During the last three months there have been 47 estates on which succession duty has been paid. The total number of applications considered up to June, 15, 1904, was 8,015.

Washington, June 23.—Much international importance now surrounds the brief speech of Commander Isaac Takeshita, naval attache of the Japanese legation, at the dinner of the American Asiatic Association at Sperry's, June 1, when Prince Pu Lun of China was a guest. Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has called this speech to the attention of Secretary of State Hay as one designed to have an ill effect upon the world's opinion of the neutrality of the United States and China in the war. Mr. Takeshita's offense consists in proposing a toast with the Japanese war cry, "Banzai," which caused quite a demonstration of enthusiasm.

On every hand evidences of the energy of the Radial people are to be seen daily, and the work of refitting the lines is progressing from day to day; so that from present indications a ride on a street car is nearer than some think. The wires have been pretty well attended to, new ties and rails are being distributed where needed, and quite a force of men are employed at the barns making ready for the reception of the new rolling stock, fixing up old coaches, and in a word, getting things into ship-shape so that everything may be ready to turn on the current at the appointed time.

More Dog Tag Cases

The police are adding to the funds of the corporation just now by getting after delinquents who have neglected or forgotten to tag their canines as required by law. A FINE PRODUCT OF OHIO.

Sweets from the Maple Trees of Geauga County to Be Exploited at St. Louis Exposition.

An organized effort is to be made to show visitors to the St Louis exposition what kind of sugar, sirup and confections are produced in the small county of Geauga, one of the least of the 88 in Ohio in population, and by no means great area. The sweets which come from the noble maple trees of the Geauga hills and little valleys will be displayed attractively and pushed for sale with energy and intelligence The result, says the Cleveland Leader, will doubtless be a revelation to multitudes of Americans and nearly all the foreigners who test the maple products of Ohio.

Few normal human beings have to acquire a taste for such maple sugar, maple sirup, maple wax, and maple cream as Geauga county and several of its neighbors know how to make The first sample wins its way. People differ much as to olives. Many people find it hard to learn to enjoy raw oysters Several popular food products gain favor slowly with many persons who come, in the end, to relish them greatly But pure maple sweets, well prepared, are different. They make instant conquest of the average palate

The trouble is, in many great centers of population, natural markets for large quantities of any fine food, that maple products, at their best, are hardly known. Doctored and half-spoiled maple sirup and maple sugar, so-called, kill the demand for anything sold under the same name Imitations prevent the average consumer from understanding how delicious maple sweets can be, when they are well made Hence the Geauga county undertaking at St. Louis will be a work of education.

Persons of nice and discriminating taste who once try Western Reserve maple sirup and maple sugar have little liking for any other. There are residents of distant cities who have Ohio sugar and Ohio sirup sent to their homes hundreds of miles away, because they cannot get such products of the maple tree anywhere else

Such appreciation of honest Ohio sirup and sugar, made by the intelligent use of the pure sap of the splendid maple trees which nature planted thickly in many counties of this state, will be much wider and more general after the St Louis exposition Many more people will understand what Western Reserve maple products are and how far they outclass most of the stuff sold in other parts of the country as maple sirup and maple sugar

In the end it will probably be regretted by the owners of farms in such counties as Geauga that more care has not been taken to save the beautiful and stately maples of Ohio Too many have been cut down for firewood. There has been too much carelessness of the maple groves. A good deal of land has been cleared of fine maple timber which would have been more profitable than the crops grown where the forests used to stand

Perhaps the appreciation of maple sweets may become so general and so keen that the market demand will lead to the planting and careful nurture of large numbers of maple trees, in the best sugar sections of the Western Reserve That would be a good thing for the state. It would afford solid promise of much valuable timber, many years hence, as well as great crops of maple sugar and maple sirup.

BIT OF NATURAL HISTORY.

Peculiarities of the Owl Family by One Who Has Made a Study of Birds.

All owls are birds of prey, and according to their size and strength they hunt and kill all manner of creatures, from beetles and grasshoppers to grouse, Canadian hares and skunks. They capture and kill their prey with their feet, and tear it to pieces with their strong hooked bills. With the flesh of their victims they eat more or less of the fur, feathers and bones, and afterwards eject these indigestible parts from the mouth in the form of pellets, says Woman's Home Companion.

In size the American owls vary greatly, the giant great gray owl of the north measuring sometimes 30 inches from the tip of its bill to the tip of its tail, while the tiny elf-owl of southern California, southern Texas and Mexico measures often but five and one-half inches.

Most owls prefer the night and the and the few species which are the exception prove the rule. They are all strange-looking birds, but the strangest looking of them all is the barn-owl, or monkey-faced owl, as some people call it. This weird bird, which is found at least occasionally in almost all parts of the United States, has a faculty of hiding so skilfully in the old wells, deserted mine shafts, bell towers and hollow trees, in which it makes its home, that it is very seldom seen. The capture of a specimen often creates a stir in the neighborhood, many people regarding the captive as half bird and half monkey. Only a few weeks ago I saw a barn-owl described in one of the monthly magazines as a "freak of Nature." Its unbirdlike appearance is accounted for largely by the conspicuous facial disk, which is very light-colored, heart-shaped, and beset with black, almost human eyes and a down-turned, noselike bill. Almost all the owls are beneficial to the farmer, but this one is more so than most of the others, preying chiefly on rats, mice, gophers, ground squirrels and cotton-rats.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 226 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1900.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of these in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Fine Weather Gives Relief from Catarrh

But Never Cures It Because the Germs are Still Alive, Though Inactive. First Kill the Germs Then You'll be Really Cured.

Catarrh germs are carried into the throat and lungs by the air we breathe. In the same way the remedy must be applied. To be effectual the cure must be breathed, for otherwise it can't get where the germs really are.

Mix your germ-killing medicine with air, breathe it right into all the little air cells where the catarrh really is, then you'll get cured quickly. This is exactly the way Catarrhozone acts. You inhale its medicated vapor to the very source of the disease. It destroys the cause of the inflammation, kills all the microbes that develop when the lining membranes become diseased. Besides this Catarrhozone is a wonderful healer. Every sore spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue. All the poisonous secretions that have been putrifying the system are driven out. No trace of catarrh remains after Catarrhozone has been used.

Why don't you use Catarrhozone? Its the simplest thing in the world to use, and so sure to cure permanently that you really can't afford to be without it.

MISS E. M. PETERS is known by every resident in this pretty town of Highland Grove. She was cured by Catarrhozone of systematic catarrh and says: "For three years before I commenced using Catarrhozone I was continually bothered by a congested condition of my nose and throat. I was sneezing and coughing all the time and really never felt well. I perserverred with Catarrhozone and was rewarded by being entirely cured. My recovery prompted others in this locality to use Catarrhozone, and many of them have had remarkable cures from using it."

MISS LOUISE MURPHY a well known society belle residing at 22 Monument St., Medford, writes: "Kindly forward me three outfits of Catarrhozone which I have found most valuable for catarrhal affections of the nose and throat. Catarrhozone cured me of weak lungs and really saved me from consumption. I am recommending Catarrhozone above all other treatments, knowing what great curative powers it possesses. I know others who have also benefited by Catarrhozone."

Catarrhozone is perfectly harmless and may be used with perfect safety by the most delicate infant. Instead of deadening the stomach with drugs, it sends the healing vapor along with the air you breathe into every air cell and passage of the nose, throat, lungs and bronchial tubes. Catarrhozone can't fail, it's sure to cure. If not satisfied you can have your money back for the asking. Two months' treatment, hard rubber inhaler and extra bottle of inhalant costs $1.00, sample size 25c. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont., Can.

A Grateful Acknowledgment

Mr. Joseph Kelly, treasurer of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, has received a letter from Mr. Matthew Foley, acknowledging with gratitude the sum of $200, being the amount of beneficiary certificate held by his son, who recently passed away.

The Holiday Races

The committee of Dominion Day sports has purchased a handsome combination boys' and girls' saddle, valued at $20, to be competed for in the quarter mile pony race on the driving park on Dominion Day. As there is no entrance money on this race, there should and doubtless will be a large number of competitors. The committee is sparing no pains or expense in providing a good day's sport.

Former Lindsay Man's Death

Lindsay Post. Relatives in town received a telegram from Lethbridge, N.W.T., this morning, stating that Fred Cuthbert, brother to Messrs. Heck and Arthur Cuthbert, of this town, was killed last night. The message came from Mr. E. S. Wakely, brother to Mr. Jack Wakely, of this town, and he has been asked to wire for further particulars. Deceased left town about 20 years ago, but is remembered by many.

A Serious Accident

The many friends of Mr. John Riddell, ex-Reeve of South Monaghan, will regret to learn that he met with a painful accident on Monday last. He was kicked by a horse, and was so seriously injured that his recovery is doubtful. Two ribs were broken and were driven against his lung. Dr. Gray, who was summoned, is doing everything that can be done for the sufferer.

Warm Hotel Beat

The hotel beat is likely to find himself in conflict with the Crown. Cole if the hotelkeepers are successful in their effort to have an amendment passed to protect themselves. The Ontario Hotelkeepers' Association through their counsel will ask the Dominion Government to have a section added to the Code at the present session, declaring it to be an indictable offence, punishable by imprisonment for a year, or a fine of $200 or both, for anyone to obtain food or lodging at any hotel or boarding house, and neglect or refuse to pay for it.

Frontenac Company's Dividend

The Directors of the Frontenac Cereal Company of Kingston, have declared a dividend of 7 per cent on the preferred stock of the Company. This is the result of the company's first year of business in the introduction of Orange Meat, the new famous Canadian cereal. Orange Meat has rapidly become the most popular cereal food on the Canadian market. The Frontenac Cereal Company have displayed great enterprise in its introduction and the declaring of this first dividend is an indication of the bright future which the Company has before it.

Wandered from Home

A sad story comes from North Harvey. It appears that Mrs. Mary Mooney, an old lady of about 70 years of age, on Saturday last wandered away from the residence of her grandson, with whom she was living. She has not since been seen, though anxious and diligent search has been made for her. As many as twenty-five of the neighbors have been hunting for her daily since Sunday. Any one who can restore her to her home or give any information to her friends will be rewarded. Any letter on the subject should be addressed to Walter Mooney, Hall's Bridge, or S. J. Guthrie, of the same place.

Our Battery Boys

The Port Hope Guide: The 14th Field Battery went into camp Monday on the grounds of the Cobourg Rifle Range Sections of the company from Peterborough, Bethany Millbrook, and other places congregated here today, secured their guns and proceeded by route march to Cobourg. The strength of the battery is 9 officers, 100 non-commissioned officers and men and horses with 6 guns and limbers, and 6 ammunition waggons. The battery is one of the most effective in the Dominion, as was evinced by the high stand taken in the efficiency and firing at Deseronto last year. Notwithstanding the fact that the several batteries camping at Niagara have found it impossible to fill their batteries up to full strength, the 14th is going into camp with full complement of men and horses. The company is composed of nearly all young men between the ages of twenty and thirty, from Campbellford, Peterborough, Bethany, Cobourg and a few from Port Hope. Lieut.-Col. McNachtan is in charge.

Shorey's Best Clothing

The hit of the season—one of the best purchases made this year by Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co., is a fine collection of Shorey's best clothing, which they bought at about 50c on the dollar. These will be picked up quickly as they represent the smartest styles and best tailored men's garments made, always guaranteed. Among the lot is 175 excellent Canadian and Halifax Tweed suits in checks, mixtures and plain, genteel patterns, which are priced as low as $3.50, $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00 for the full suit. Also 35 nifty two-piece summer suits, coat and pants, which we can sell at $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50. Fashionable fancies in summer pants for hot weather wear, at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50. Last, but not least, 90 pairs of black worsted trousers, real solid black goods, with hair line stripe, which are to be sold at $1.50—actually less than it cost to make them. Pay you well to call and see these snaps for yourself. H. LeBrun & Co.

COFFEE CATARRH

An Unsuspected Cause

It is curious how many diseases come from a disordered nervous system which locates disease in some part of the body and the primary cause can often be traced to coffee which first breaks down the nervous system. A Georgian says:

"There is no doubt coffee gave me nasal catarrh. The ceptim in my nose was all gone and the catarrh was eating its way, getting hold of the main bone of the nose. It also affected my sight very much.

"My nose was constantly dripping bloody water, but in two weeks time after I quit coffee and used Postum Food Coffee in its place, I could see my way very well, the dripping from my nose stopped and my nose finally got perfectly well and healthy as far as is possible for the ceptim to grow back.

"There is no doubt it was a case of coffee catarrh and the cure was made entirely by changing from coffee to Postum. The rest of my family took up the new drink and Postum relieved my wife and little boy of frequent headaches and what is called 'coffee headache' is not known in our family any more. Our sleep is so much more refreshing.

"We have influenced many people to try Postum and all of them like it better the longer they use it and most of them say it is better than coffee." Name given by Postum Co. Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days trial Postum in place of coffee often works wonders. There's a reason.

THE GLORIOUS TWELFTH

County Orange Lodge Completes All Details

There was a large and enthusiastic meeting of the members of the County Orange Lodge at Lakefield on Tuesday night, at which all the details in connection with the celebration of the approaching 12th of July was arranged. Mr. W. A. Kindred, County Master, presided, and many brethren from the surrounding country were present, including a large delegation from Peterborough.

All were unanimous in making the coming anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne the most successful ever held in Canada.

THE DOURO PICNIC

Large Gathering and a Very Successful Affair

The picnic given by St. Joseph's church Douro, took place yesterday, and was the most successful picnic ever held in Douro. The weather was ideal, and hundreds attended from all parts of the country. Rev. Father Kielty, the popular and beloved parish priest, extended a hearty welcome to all with whom he came in contact, as also did the committee who had the picnic in charge.

On the platform were many prominent men of the district, several of whom delivered stirring addresses.

The ladies, as usual, provided abundance of good things, which were heartily partaken of and thoroughly enjoyed. An interesting program of sports, in which good prizes were competed for, added to the interest of the occasion. The Douro picnic of 1904 was certainly a record-breaker.

BUILDING NEW FOUNDRY

Mr. Green Getting Things into Shape to Build Again

Mr. G. W. Green is losing no time in his endeavor to replace his foundry, and that too, by a building one-third larger than that destroyed by the fire, which took place recently. Men are already at work preparing the foundation and making it larger. The new building, while larger, will also be entirely of brick. He is also building a large temporary shed in which to work while the new structure is being erected. This will be inside the new building which, when completed, will be up-to-date and better suited to the requirements for which it is designed, than the old one. A powerful new blast furnace is ready to be put in operation at the earliest possible moment.

The pump factory is still running, it having suffered little, if any, in the conflagration, which, fortunately for him was stopped before doing that part of the property much harm.

Mr. Green is a heavy loser by the fire, but he seems to be made of of the right kind of stuff, and is not letting his misfortune weigh unduly upon him, as is evidenced by this promptness in preparing to build larger; and we are sure the public will commend his action and accord him a patronage larger than he has yet had, as soon as he is in a position to handle it.

Injured by Trolley Wire

The many friends of Mr. Pennington Ferguson, of the fifth ward, will regret to learn that he met with a painful accident on Wednesday afternoon, while working on the trolley wire on George street. The wire parted, throwing him from the ladder on the cart on which he was standing, and falling backwards lighted on his left hip with such force as to break the bone therein. He was taken to the hospital in the ambulance. Drs. Brown and Scott waited on him and set the limb. He was also badly bruised, and, it is thought, injured internally. He is a married man and an employee of the Light and Power Company.

WILL NOT RUN

Rumor That the Street Cars will Run Civic Day Not True

As we said in our last edition, the street car company is making excellent progress with the work. Yesterday the tracks on George street were uncovered, and at the present rate of speed, and with the continued exertions of the men at work, it will not be long before the whole tracks will be in shape for the running of cars. The rumor that cars would run on civic day, however, is not true. The manager says the new cars will not be here before the last week in July, otherwise the road would be in operation before that date. There will be eight open cars in use.

IGNORANCE

Blows out the gas and furnishes the newspapers with a jest and an obituary notice. "Didn't know it was loaded" may be an honest plea, but it never brought a victim back to life. Those who let a cough run on, in ignorance of the danger, find no escape from the consequences when the cough develops into lung trouble.

The best time to cure a cough is when it starts. Ordinarily, a few doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure a cough at the beginning. But even when the cough is deep-seated, the lungs bleed and the body is wasted by emaciation, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred effect a perfect and permanent cure.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"My husband had been coughing for years and people frankly told me that he would go into consumption," writes Mrs. John Shireman, of No. 565 29th Place, Chicago, Ill. "He had such terrible coughing spells we not only grew much alarmed but looked for the bursting of a blood-vessel or a hemorrhage at most any time. My husband's recovery was remarkable. In three days after he began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery he was up around, and in two more days he went to work. Two bottles cured him."

The Enemy was Defeated and Retreated Toward Shintailing—Many Casualities Reported

Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, via Fusan, Corea, June 24.—The Russians are still occupying the towns on the main road in front of Geb. Kuroki's army with a considerable force of men.

Russians from Samimak attacked the Japanese outposts in force yesterday, apparently for the purpose of testing their strength. The Russian force consisted of two regiments of cavalry, one of infantry and one battery of artillery. The enemy were defeated and retreated toward Shintailing. They are supposed to have sustained considerable loss. On the Japanese side Major Kubota was killed and nine men were wounded.

Tokio, June 24.—It is believed that the places made vacant at headquarters by the appointment of Field Marshal Oyama as Commander-in-Chief of forces in Manchuria and his selection of Gen. Kodama as his Chief of Staff will be filled temporarily. This shows that the changes were not connected with the recent Japanese losses as was at first suspected, but that they are an indication of a larger field of operations. The report of the occupation of Liao-Yang by the Japanese is not credited here. It is thought that the report originated with some cavalry raid. Port Arthur is being heavily fortified on the land side. The press believes that a big battle has occurred at Tuchintsz, 14 miles from Port Arthur. The Mail thinks that the position can be turned from Shipington, at the end of June, and that Port Arthur will not be attacked before the middle of July.

It is reported that the Russian cruiser Novik is harassing the Japanese on the Pingtou Promontory.

MAY MEAN CIVIL WAR

Trouble in Australia Over Chinese Labour Problem

London, June 25.—In Australia there is a bitter dispute between the commonwealth government and the state government of South Australia, which some of the politicians concerned describe as the "germ of civil war."

Previous to the establishment of the commonwealth it was the practice of the state government to furnish Chinese persons desirous of revisiting their native country and proceeding beyond the confines of the state in which they lived, letters of exemption from the local laws prohibiting the entrance of Chinese emigrants into the state. The other day the steamer Chinglu arrived at Port Darwin with nine Chinese carrying letters of exemption granted by the South Australian government prior to the inauguration of the coming commonwealth, but the customs officers refused to recognize the validity of the documents and telegraphed to Melbourne for instructions.

Mr. Hughes, the new Labor Minister of Exterior Affairs, sustained the local officials and ordered the Chinese to be deported. But there Mr. Jenkins the South Australian Premier, stepped in and sending state police forcibly brought the Chinese ashore. The court of the colony now has the matter in hand, but the bitterness is growing, and there is much talk about states rights on the one side, while the labor party advocates the abolition of all state governments and boundaries.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL

HE REPORT ON THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS

Hon. J. R. Stratton Addresses the Council — County School Inspector Reports

At Wednesday's meeting of the Council, Mr. T. M. Hunter presented the following report of the committee on the Warden's address, recommending as follows:

The committee of the Warden's address beg leave to report as follows:

1. That Mr. Hunter be chairman of this committee.

2. That the matters referred to in paragraph 4 of the address be referred to the Committee on Appointments.

3. That paragraph 5 be referred to the Roads and Bridges committee.

4. That paragraph 6 be referred to the County Property committee.

5. That paragraph 7 be referred to the Joint committee.

6. That paragraph 8 be referred to the Joint committee.

7. That paragraph 9 be referred to the Committee on Petitions.

8. That paragraph 10 be referred to the Finance committee.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Moore moved, seconded by Mr. Moloney, that a grant of $50 be made to improve the ninth line of Dummer, providing the Provincial Government expend $200 and the Township of Dummer $50 on the said line.—Carried.

The representative of the Office Specialty Company addressed the Council with reference to supplies, but this matter remained over for further consideration.

Upon going into committee the Councillors made an inspection of the County buildings to ascertain what repairs were necessary.

Hon. J. R. Stratton addressed the Council in committee. The matter with reference to the case of aged indigents, the proposal being, should the County not provide a suitable building the Provincial Government will undertake their care and the County will defray expenses. The provisions respecting juvenile offenders were also discussed, it being explained that the Councils will be responsible to a greater extent than heretofore for their keep by the Province.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown, Inspector of Schools, this morning presented his report to the committee having that department in charge.

DIVISION NOT FAIR

Government Grants to Agricultural Societies to be Altered

It will be of interest to many in Peterborough and elsewhere to learn that, owing to dissatisfaction expressed in regard to the present method of distributing the Ontario government grant to agricultural societies, Mr. H. B. Cowan, superintendent of that department, has been investigating the work being done by the various societies in the province. Some glaring discrepancies have been discovered. One society receiving a grant of $380 paid out $2,410 for agricultural purposes, while another society receiving a grant of $800 paid out only $1,488. A third society receiving a grant of $660 distributed only $680 for agricultural exhibits. A still more glaring inconsistency is afforded in the case of Nottawasaga Township Fair, which received a government grant of $80, but paid out $1,019 for agricultural purposes, while a leading district society in eastern Ontario receiving a grant of $800 paid out only $1,125 for agricultural prizes. Many of the township societies which are receiving considerably smaller grants than the district societies are, it has been discovered, doing much better work.

This information, it is felt, strongly supports the stand taken by the officers of some of the township societies who are advocating that the government grant should be distributed to the societies in proportion to what is actually spent on agricultural work.

A THRILLING ACCIDENT

Marvellous Escape of a Trenton Driving Party From Death

Trenton, June 24.—A fearful accident took place on the Frankford road. A Trenton party, of George Hamilton, wife and daughter Annie, F. E. Crouter and wife, Walter Young, wife and daughter Violet, were out driving. They had gone up the east side to Frankfort and were coming home on the west side, enjoying the fine scenery of the river. All at once the drawbolt broke and the team of horses were loosed from the rig. The rig went headlong towards the river and jumped off the perpendicular bank 27 feet through the mid-air to the deep water below, all happening before the could gather their thoughts together. The carriage turned a complete somersault and all found themselves floundering in the water. Mr. Crouter managed to grab a cedar bush with one foot on the rock and managed to get Mr. Hamilton's hand. Mr. Young saw his wife come to the surface and then his baby Violet came up in front of him, taking them to shore. Next Mrs. Hamilton, who was unconscious, was caught by the hair of the head and rescued. Mrs. Crouter was somehow fastened in the rig under the water, but managed to free herself and was soon rescued. Little Annie Hamilton, four years old, floated down the river with the rig. She was apparently dead and was brought too with difficulty.

The party climed theb ank with difficulty, and it was found that Mrs. Hamilton was more severely hurt than any of the rest. She was left at a nearby neighbors over night, and brought to her home on a stretcher the following day. A boat was sent up Monday to secure the rig and while there the bank was measured and found to be 27 feet high. The water also was found to be very deep and this fact probably saved the lives of the party.

THE BIG STRIKE IN NOVA SCOTIA

The Dominion Iron and Steel Company Strike

MR. PLUMMER'S STATEMENT

Vice President Refuses to Have any Negotiations with the Union—a Fight to Finish

Sydney, C.B., June 25.—For the past two days the Sydney Board of Trade has been endeavoring to bring about an adjustment of the labor difficulty existing between the Dominion Iron and Steel Company and their employes. Yesterday they interviewed Mr. Plummer and to them he submitted a statement which is in effect as follows:

That as the company in his opinion was paying full current rates no increase was justifiable. The rate for laborers is $1.30 and $1.35 per day, the latter being paid to men who have learned the ways of the plant, and being practically open to all steady and industrious workers. The rate for these men last autumn before the cut was $1.40 per day. Comparing laborers and mechanics of all classes Mr. Plummer states that the company's rates are higher than at any place in Nova Scotia outside of Cape Breton or in New Brunswick. Ninety per cent. of the employes, or more, are doing work similar to that done at a dozen places in Nova Scotia, and their wages can be easily compared. The few men who are specialists with no posts in Canada to be compared with are generally paid the same wages as in the United States. In reply to a statement as to the number of low priced men to be employed on the plant, Mr. Plummer said that more than half of the total number of men on pay rolls received $1.50 per day and upwards, and that of these nearly one-half received $2.00 per day and over.

OPERATION OF THE PLANT.

As regards the operation of the plant and the company's policy on this point, it was learned that no definite plans for the closing of the works had been reached. Manufacturing operations had necessarily ceased for want of labor, but the management is satisfied that there are plenty of men willing and anxious to resume work as soon as they are free to do so and that is as soon as the civic authorities take effective steps for the maintenance of law and order. In any case the re-opening of the works would have to go on gradually, so that at best some time must elapse before they are in full swing again. If there is much further loss it may necessitate some of the works shutting down in the winter, but that, if properly arranged for can be done without disadvantage to the company.

The company's position towards the unions themselves would, however be modified. Hereafter the management will receive only committees of the company's own employes in connection with any question arising on the plant. Inquiry was made as to date on which the rail mill will be ready and it was learned that while much valuable time was being lost, it might still be completed early in the new year.

MOFFAT WOULD NOT TALK.

On Mr. Plummer's statement being shown to Mr Moffat, grand secretary of the Provincial Workmen's Association, he declined to discuss it, stating that a meeting of the grand sub-council would be called at once to take it under advisement. Mr. Moffat gave a correspondent to understand that the men could not recede from their position as the company desires clearly to ignore the union, which the men will not tolerate under any condition whatever.

THE STAFF REDUCED.

Fifty per cent. of the employes of the machine shop of the Dominion Coal Company received notice yesterday that their services will be no longer required. The shops employ about 300 men. As a result of the reduction the night shift is dispensed with and the day force reduced one-half. The only explanation given is that the company feels the need of economizing in view of the present heavy cost of mining coal and the cut of dividends.

HEIR TO A FORTUNE

A Port Hope man Drops into Nearly a cool Million

Mr. Henry Hacker, ship builder, of Port Hope, has been advised by the executors that he is the heir to a large fortune in Marmehuch, Eng., through the death of his grandfather some 74 years ago.

At a meeting of those concerned in Port Hope it was decided to take immediate action, and it became necessary. Mr. A. E. Hacker will be sent to England in August to represent his father who is at the present time confined to his bed through the effects of a paralytic stroke. It is estimated that the amount will be about $900,000. Those interested in the matter are his six children Mrs. Wm. Ray, Port Hope; Mrs. Caleb Roney, Port Hope, William Hacker, Midland; Fred C. Hacker, Rochester, N.Y.; Albert E. Hacker, Toronto; Mrs. John Stephenson, Port Hope; Charles Merrifield, Port Hope; James Spry, Manitoulin Island; John Merrifield and James Merrifield, both of whom live somewhere in the United States.

RUSSIA'S BAD GENERALSHIP

Southward Move Regarded as a Tragic Folly

St. Petersburg, June 25.—"We can win this war if we can beat our enemies in the Czar's Council chamber." A correspondent is able to state that these and the following sentences are substantially the words uttered by a member of the general staff at the meeting of that body on Monday. "Unless Kuropatkin's original plan of retreat be promptly and energetically carried out the Russian army in Manchuria will be overwhelmed within a month provided Providence does not fight on its side. The Stakelberg movement is tragic folly. The Japanese are slowly drawing the Russians to their doom. Stakelberg should be abandoned to his fate and the remainder of the Russian forces hurried northward."

HAVE WE NATURAL GAS?

Indications are That This is a Gas Belt

Natural gas in small quantities has been discovered in Eldon township and the Watchman-Warder of Lindsay, publishes some particulars. Our contemporary says:

It is an old story, this story of natural gas in Eldon township. Some years ago when it was first found, there was a good deal of excitement about it, and a meeting to see about organizing a company to develop it was called. But like quite a few other meetings in this town to consider big projects it began and ended in the meeting.

But a good many people knew nothing of the matter then, and others have forgotten about it, so it will be no harm to publish what one of the men on whose farm a vein of gas was struck said about it the other day. He was Mr. Gilbert McEachern of the third concession of Eldon who was a juryman at last week's court.

"The first about this gas," said Mr. McEachern, "was heard 12 or 13 years ago, and I guess Mr. Arch. McFarlane, who lives across the road from me on lot 17, was digging a well. At 16 feet down and 6 feet in the rock a heavy vein of gas was struck. It was lit and burned for six weeks.

Three or four years later gas was struck at 26 feet in a well being dug in the rock, on the farm of Mr Angus McEachern, who lives about 1 1-4 miles north of Mr McEachern. It burned for quite a while.

After that I put off one blast in the rock at the bottom of my well, and uncovered quite a flow of gas.

Last summer Mr. John McFarlane struck a smaller vein in about 4 feet of rock. It burned for a while. All these veins are choked now by water, for the gas will not force its way at all readily through more than 6 or 7 feet of water. When here is less than that you can light the gas, and as the water rises you can notice the flame has a swirling motion as though from the gas coming through the water against pressure. The lower the water gets the stronger is the smell of gas and it smells like the smoke of a locomotive. You can notice the odor in the water all the time a little. There is now 10 feet of water in my well. I am satisfied there is plenty of gas in that neighborhood and that if capital could be got to work it, it would pay well.

Further Details of Arrest of the Canadian as Spy in Guernsey

London, June 25—In the cable of Tuesday regarding the arrest of a Canadian as a spy in the Channel Islands the name of Mrs. Moss was incorrectly given in place of that of Mrs. F. Morton Morse, of Winnipeg. Stanley Morse, her son, was accused at Guernsey of photographing the secret batteries. The sergeant who arrested him stated that he had been watching Morse for an hour. Morse denied the faintest idea of the existence of any secret batteries. He was detained a short time and then allowed to return to his hotel, where he had scarcely arrived before the sergeant, accompanied by a policeman, came and again arrested him, and brought him before Colonel Campbell, the Lieutenant-Governor.

His mother at once offered to cable Sir Daniel McMillan, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, or Sir Wilfrid Laurier, or Sir Charles Tupper, or several others in Canada, but Governor Campbell never even replied and would not listen to the son's release until the mother would sign a bond to put up £10 bail that the son would not leave the island until the case was investigated.

Mrs. Morse, speaking to the Associated Press was most indignant at the brutal treatment of her son. The lad is fourteen years of age. Governor Campbell was most discourteous and exceedingly rough in his treatment of herself. She intends to demand an apology from the Governor of Guernsey, through the Canadian Government.

SIR HENRY SWORN IN.

When Sir Henri Taschereau was today being sworn in a Privy Councillor, the Lord Chancellor asked him if he were a Roman Catholic. On Sir Henri replying with an affirmative, the Chancellor said there was a special form for Roman Catholics as well as Protestants who were being sworn in as members of the Privy Council.

King Edward, on Sir Henri Taschereau kneeling to kiss his hand, said: "Rise. Congratulations. Your name is well known to me."

A NEW COUNCILLOR COLLAPSED

It was feared that there was to be a repetition of Sir John Thompson's unfortunate death, as Justice Bruce, who was being sworn in, collapsed and had to be carried to a chair, but he recovered sufficiently to be sworn. King Edward graciously advancing to where Justice Bruce was seated and performing the ceremony.

Sir John Thompson, it will be remembered, was taken ill while at Windsor Castle, when in England, to take the oath of office as Privy Councillor, and died in the Royal Palace.

NEITHER WILL WIN VICTORY

Must be Christians or Both Will be Destroyed

CZAR HEARS PROPHESY

Superstitions Russian Ruler is Told Both Armies will be annihilated

St. Petersburg, June 25.—Baron Benningen, a retired colonel, was received by the czar to explain to him his "prophetic alphabet," by means of which he explains the Biblical prophets, particularly Daniel. He consulted the colonel at the earnest solicitation of his mother.

The colonel made the following prophesies and "proved them" in his own original way.

"Unless the Russians become Christians in fact as well as in name they cannot hope to win in the present struggle, neither can the Japs win unless they embrace Christianity."

"What then will happen?" asked the Czar.

"The armies and navies of both Russia and Japan will be annihilated by the Lord's orders. Terrific storms, unsanitary conditions, rain, heat and cold will make an end of them," replied the colonel.

According to the same prophet the Catholic world, or the states devoted to Catholicism, will go under in 1923 when "Popery will be abolished for all times. Catholicism will be wiped out by the Messiah himself, who will come to establish his empire."

OBITUARY

Miss A. M. Pollock, of Ashburnham, Dies at Nichol's Hospital

On Thursday Miss Agnes May Pollock died at the hospital named above, the disease being scarlet fever, and her age only 18 years. She had been suffering only two weeks. Deceased was the daughter of Mr John Pollock, of fifth ward, and is spoken of as a remarkably clever girl, and a general favorite of those who knew her. She attended St. Paul's church and Sabbath school. Her parents have the sympathy of the community in this, their second bereavement in about six months.

The funeral, which was private, took place yesterday afternoon to Little Lake cemetery.

St. Paul's Church

At last evening preparatory service in St. Paul's church, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's church, preached. His sermon, based on the story of Cornelius, found in Acts X., was a most helpful one, and was listened to with interest by a large congregation.

Seventeen new members were then received into the church and given the right hand of fellowship.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed tomorrow at the morning service, when Rev. Dr. Torrance will preach.

Rev. J. A. Wilson will preach at the evening service.

Elections in the Fall

Toronto, April 24. — A gentleman who was present at the meeting of the Peterborough Baptist Churches, now in session at Belleville, and who arrived in the city today, stated that at yesterday morning's meeting, during a discussion on the temperance question, Rev. Mr. Bratton, of Peterborough, declared that he was told a few days ago by Hon. J. R. Stratton that it was the intention of the Ross Government to go to the country next fall in the interests of prohibition.

—Rev. J. G. Lewis (of Mark street Methodist church) and wife, leave on Tuesday for a trip to the old land beyond the sea. They expect to be absent for a couple of months.

FOOD FACTS

What an M.D. Learned

A prominent physician of Rome, Georgia, went through a food experience which he makes public.

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients that the food is a wonderful rebuilder and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients always gain just as I did in strength and weight very rapidly.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely and go to the mountains of this state but two months there did not improve me; in fact I was not quite as well as when I left home. My food absolutely refused to sustain me and it became plain that I must change, then I began the use of Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without the least fatigue and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial 10 days on Grape-Nuts when the regular food does not seem to sustain the body will work miracles. "There's a reason."

MAKES MEN SOUND AND STRONG

Detroit Specialist Discovers Something Entirely New for the Cure of Men's Diseases in Their Own Homes.

YOU PAY ONLY IF CURED.

Expects No Money Unless He Cures You—Method and Full Particulars Sent Free—Write for It This Very Day.

A Detroit specialist who has 14 certificates and diplomas from medical colleges and state boards of medical examiners, has perfected a particular method of curing the diseases of men in their own homes, so that there may be no doubt in the mind of any man that he can be cured and

DR. S. GOLDBERG,
The Possessor of 14 Diplomas and Certificates, Who Wants No Money That He Does Not Earn.

the ability to do it he says. Dr. Goldberg, the discoverer, will send the method and full directions to all men who write him, free of charge. He wants to hear from those men who have suffered so that they have been unable to get cured, from nervous troubles, sexual troubles, weaknesses of the sexual organs, varicocele, blood poison, kidney troubles, rheumatism, stricture, impotency, etc. His combined method is said to cure all the diseases named, and he claims that he can restore the organs to their natural size and vigor. Any man who is afflicted with any of the above diseases, should write him at once, for he is sure to help you. The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make a statement and another thing to live up to it, so he has made it a rule not to ask for opinion until he has cured you, and while many are afraid to write for fear of being humbugged, he is in fact the most honorable of specialists, for he will not even accept your name before cured, and he constantly says to his patients that they are not expected to pay until they are entirely satisfied that they are cured. Dr. Goldberg is a regular graduate physician, and has been in practice for 25 years, and has a reputation to maintain, and he is not likely to jeopardize it by any crooked work. He has written a book which he will send free to any man who writes him, which tells all about his method of treating men, and it is a book that every man should read, whether he is sick or well, married or single, young or old, because it contains information that is valuable to all men. Write him today, for he will answer you promptly, and the book will be sent you by return mail, free, in a plain envelope. Address Dr. S. Goldberg, 1040 Gratiot Ave., Detroit, Mich.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB

HOMEWARD BOUND.

At 5 o'clock the President's call was sounded, and in a few moments all were on board for home. On the way down sport of all kinds was indulged in. Bro. Loch bid 40 without a king, and Bro. McKee went in the hole on a bid of 6, startled and amused the crowd as the first buss. In the second rig Bro. Clemens let fost his mouth organ, which had been in the family for 25 years, and Bro. Stepoff Kelly fell overboard. The mouth organ was not found but Stepoff was, and he was pulled in the rig again, none the worse for his mishap.

THE BANQUET.

On arriving at Peterborough the crowd to a man proceeded to the Hall of Wisdom, where a magnificent banquet was in readiness. Several long tables were loaded with the following luxuries:

Pickles. Mustard.
Bread. Bread.
Mustard. Pickles.
Mustard.
Pickles. Bread.
More Mustard.
Onions. Pickles.
More Cheese.
Cheese More Onions

The dessert included seven distinct dishes, while cold water, warm water and buttermilk liquidated the throats of the thirsty ones.

After the tables had been cleared of everything that could be eaten, the president arose, amid much applause and proceeded to deliver his 28th annual oration. In his right hand he held the gavel of the club, while his left hand grasped a beautiful bouquet of yellow, white and red roses, from the garden of Bro. Mason.

"It is with the deepest emotion that I rise to say a few words to you on this stupendous occasion," began the President, as he surveyed the vast sea of faces before him. "You are crowded together to hold our annual election and select from among you men who are to control the destinies of this great club for another year. I am told that several members have been pulling wires to secure the honored chair which I have held since our last election. While I have no objection to passing over this great honor to a worthy successor, at the same time I desire to say that I have, during my long term of office, conducted the affairs of this great club as wisely as I know how, and if again elected I will continue to do so. Most of you are acquainted with the history of this wonderful organization. Exactly a quarter of a century and one year ago on Saturday last six men and a dog met on the market square and organized the Lime Juice Club. At the next meeting there were eleven men and five dogs, and it has been going on in this way ever since, until now, we possess a membership of 3212 saying nothing at all about dogs. During the the last year which this club was in active operation, we added over 200 members to our list, absorbed 21 other societies, established flourishing branches at Lakefield, Stoneville and other places, expelled 71 members for bad behaviour, paid out $8.07 for relief, added 219 almanacs to our library and we are now running as happily and as smoothly as the Town Council. We have joined hands with the great authors, astronomers and philosophers, are O.K. with the learned professors and stand in with all the crowned heads of Europe. We have met this evening to elect officers. Bro Frank Fairen will now pass the bean box.

THE RESULT.

At the first ballot Sir Richard was re-elected President by the following vote:

Sir Richard McBride	3,209
Whitehorn Weir	1
Hon. S. Gerlin	1
Jamfed Jones	1
Cripes Mulcahey	9

On motion of Cripes Mulcahey the election was made unanimous and the President took the honor in a well chosen speech 27 feet long.

1st Vice-President—Bro Annias Smith.

2nd Vice-President—Prof Givedam Stabs.

Secretary—Sir Isaac Walpole.
Treasurer—Fortypercent Moore.
Librarian—Threeply Smith.
Keeper of the Password — Deacon Quiet.

Committees were appointed on Judiciary, Agriculture, Fisheries, Lighthouses, Earthquakes, School Sites, Cyclones, Pomology, Silence and Repose and Temperance.

THE CLOSE.

The President stated that meetings would be conducted with fair regularity hereafter, after which the balance of the business was placed in the refrigerator and the President, in closing said:

"Before going out let me say that should any of the brethren desire to see the President previous to his departure from town they can call at The Times Bookstore, where I intend to spend a day looking over the fine assortment of books and novelties to be found there. In going to our homes let us remember that the man who walks in the middle of the road can't be slugged with a sand-bag from an alley. While we part as friends, and while each should carry home a fraternal feeling, the person who walks off with my plug hat will be made to wish he had never been born. Let us now adduct."

CLYDESDALE.

The farmers are busy getting ready for haying.

Mr. William Nugent, the popular agent for the Massey-Harris Co., was in Clydesdale on Tuesday last on business. William is making things hum for the company.

Mr. C. McGreggor, agent for the Deering Co., of Chicago, was in this vicinity last week.

Mr. Nugent says that he has been a long time trying to satisfy the boys of Clydesdale, but he feels quite sure that if they are not satisfied that the young ladies are, as he said Michael a dandy red geered buggy and Michael is the boy that will not get it soiled with mud.

Mr. Michael Cleary gave a party last Friday night, and it was something gorgeous. Michael did all in his power to entertain his friends.

Mr. Peter Gayley is now erecting a fine new barn.

Mr John O'Brien and Robert Hynes have returned home from Wilberforce where they were visiting friends for the last week.

Clydesdale has now hired for the summer a new mail carrier. He is a professor at the business, as Dunk is a very steady man.

Referee Henry Wilcombe, of the Mahoney Gayley boxing bout, says he hopes it will soon be pulled off.

Mr. H. Cleary has returned home from the Northwest, and his many friends welcome him back again.

Mr. John Beggs had a sad accident happen to him last Sunday evening or Monday morning rather. On his way home from the high bridge in turning some off the short corners, he punctured his wheel.

The Best Tonic is Ferrozone—Read o the Marvel it Performed For Three Sisters in Lawrencetown—It Can Do The Same For You

Speaking for herself and sisters, Miss Dorothea Boardman writes; "I am anxious to make known the great benefit that I and my sisters derived from Ferrozone. A short time ago I was tired out and depressed, and felt as if some severe illness was hanging over me. I was so nervous that I found it hard to keep up with my work. Noticing that many Canadian women were being built up by Ferrozone I sent for a supply, and took it regularly for a month. So great was the improvement that my sisters also took Ferrozone. Not one of us had a spark of color in our cheeks, but Ferrozone soon made our complexions ruddy. We soon had good appetites, slept better, and were helped a lot by Ferrozone. We still use Ferrozone, because we find it keeps our systems in a strong, healthy condition. It is certainly a wonderful tonic, and a fine remedy for weak women. Ferrozone has been worth its weight in gold in our family."

To take Ferrozone means you get more strength; means a reserve of energy, and protection against weakness and sickness. Ferrozone is a food medicine, that supplies the body with everything needed to build up the brain, blood and nerve tissues. If its health you seek, Ferrozone will bring it quickly. It is a food tonic that every woman should use. Refuse a substitute and see that you get the genuine Ferrozone. Price 50c, per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all Druggists or N. C. THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a numbea of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district, The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern machinery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein, about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men of integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

PROPERTIES SITUATED NEAR SILVERTON, SAN JUAN COUNTY, COLORADO. Properties consist of three groups; namely,—

THE PROSPECT BASIN AND MAMMOTH TUNNEL GROUP of 30 claims and Tunnel site aggregating 570 acres of mineral ground all held by location, and free from any conflict as to title; also in same location, three mill sites and one lode claim, total 25 acres all now being patented.

THE LEAD CARBONATE GROUP, adjoining the Gold King, of 78¾ acres all of mineral territory; this group is patented.

THE STONY PASS GROUP, 110 acres in Stony Gulch, surveyed for patent which will shortly be applied for; no adverses; title perfectly clear.

Total area Mineral territory	758¼	acres.
" " Mill and building sites	55	"
" " Timber properties	90	"
Total	903¼	acres

This was the total acreage held at organization of the Stony Pass Mining Company in December 1902. Since that date 230 acres additional have been located in Prospect Basin and surveyed with view of applying for patent at an early day.

Complete Saw Mill plant located in Cement Creek, capacity 20,000 feet per day; Lumber on hand in mill yards and at the Hercules shaft 500,000 feet. Round logs ready for the mill 300,000 feet. Cost to Company approximately $5,400, market value lumber alone $5,100.

TIMBER RESERVES.

Estimated timber, on timber and mineral lands owned by Company, 5,000,000 feet. Contiguous territory controlled by Government from which timber can be had for cutting providing same is used for mineral purposes 40,000,000 feet.

Total cost of development to date, present management,	$53,000.00
" " " " former owners	18,000.00
" " surface improvements, buildings, saw mill plant, horses, wagons, ore cars, track, tools, etc.	17,000.00
" " Machinery paid for and to be installed	6,000.00
	$99,000.00

Above items do not include moneys expended for additional properties since Company was organized, which approximate $26,000.00.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built.

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock, the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3.50 to $4.00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developements. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HARRISON.

LOT'S STRATEGY

By SUSAN BROWN ROBBINS

Copyright, 1903, by the S. S. McClure Company

"I don't know what it is," said Lot despairingly.

"Imagination," returned his sister shortly.

Lot turned on her. "Look here, Maria Bemis," he said almost fiercely. "You pride yourself on your faculty for seeing things. You've been here three days, and haven't you seen that there was something come between us since you were here before and that she has stopped caring anything about me?" His voice broke at the last words, and he turned away from her.

Maria looked at his back, and there was an expression on her face of mingled pity, contempt and amusement.

"I've been here three days, Lot," she said quietly, "and I've seen that you are a pair of foolish children. But before I go on I want to ask you if you have got over caring for her."

Lot looked at her with indignation too strong for words.

"I didn't think you had," said his sister in a tone of relief. "If you had, it would be a serious state of affairs; but, as you haven't, I don't see any difficulties."

"You must admit that she isn't happy," he said at length.

"Yes."

"But, don't you see, it must be me, because she doesn't see anybody else, hardly."

She settled herself more comfortably on the grain chest and began to speak deliberately. "Don't you know that when two people, I don't care who they are, live on a lonely farm and don't see anybody but each other for weeks at a time—don't you know that they are bound to get morbid and imagine all sorts of things about themselves and each other? That is why so many farmers' wives go insane."

"But what can I do?" Lot asked, a look of terror in his face. "I've tried to get her to go to places with me, but I can't."

"I'll tell you," said Maria decisively. "The first nice day take her out over the farm and spend the day. I'll see to things while you are gone, and I'll put up a lunch for you. Show her all you are doing and plan to do. Take her to the pretty places and, most of all, make love to her as though your life depended on it."

"I don't believe she'd go. I couldn't persuade her. You've no idea how set she is."

Maria looked at her brother scornfully. "Perhaps you never heard of such a thing as strategy."

She turned away and walked out of the barn.

For a long time he stood looking at his Grandfather Stetson's old covered wagon. It had been considered an elegant affair in its day, but now it was seldom taken out except when some of the children came home at Thanksgiving or for short visits.

He took out his jackknife and opened it, felt of the edge, then got into the wagon and knelt down on the seat. Very carefully, and following the thread in the cloth, he cut a slit two inches long in the back of the seat. He picked at the cotton batting stuffing with the point of his knife. Then he let the flap go back in place, the cotton batting showing a little all along the cut. "That looks very natural," he muttered.

The next morning Lot spoke to his sister when Eunice was in another room. "Just as soon as the dew gets off some," he said, and she nodded after breakfast she carried to the barn a large covered basket, a demijohn of with a look of comprehension. Soon cold tea, a shawl and her sister-in-law's sunbonnet. These Lot helped her stow away under the back seat.

At 9 o'clock Lot came into the house. "I'm going to start off with the old covered wagon in a little while," he said, "and I find there's a tear or a cut in the back of the seat. Do you suppose you could mend it?"

Eunice went to get her workbasket. She found a piece of green cloth and pulled some ravelings from it; then she went out and got into the covered wagon and set quietly and patiently to work.

Lot watched her furtively from the barn. When he thought she was nearly half through he began harnessing with feverish haste. What if she should get through too soon? She looked around as he backed the horse into the shafts.

"I'm not quite through yet, Lot," she said mildly.

"Don't hurry," he answered. He waited with the reins in his hand until she had taken the last stitch; then he jumped in, sat down beside her and spoke to the horse. Eunice half started to her feet, but he laid his hand gently on her arm, and she sank back again.

"We are going to ride over the farm," he said quietly.

He drove on, talking rapidly about his plans, recalling incidents of the haymaking and speaking of the getting in of the ensilage.

Eunice was silent, and in spite of his lively chatter Lot was anxious.

In the middle of the pasture Lot stopped the horse and glanced about. Some of the cows were feeding near, and they lifted their heads to look with big, inquiring eyes.

"Pretty good looking cattle, I call them," he said proudly. He paused. His face was quiet, white and agitated, and he did not dare look at his wife.

"I always thought an awful lot of Buttercup," said Eunice in her sweet, gentle voice. "I liked her looks so well that I learned her to drink and took all the care of her myself."

"Yes," he said, "I remember, and it was a good thing that you did take charge of her. She's made a fine cow." His voice grew curiously husky, and he spoke almost sharply to the horse, "Get up, Nell."

As they went slowly through the pasture the cows one by one dropped their noses to their feeding again. Eunice gazed about her eagerly, a new light in her face. "Oh," she sighed contentedly, "it is a lovely day."

The cart path was very rough, and the wagon bounced and pitched along, the overhanging bushes and young trees brushing against its top and sides. Eunice laughed like a child and now and then gave an involuntary little scream.

Lot laughed too. "I guess I'll have to put my arm around you," he said. And he drew her close, driving with his free hand.

"Isn't this fun?" she laughed. "And it won't hurt the wagon, either. How did you happen to think of such a nice idea?"

"Why didn't I think of it years ago?" he returned evasively. "I ought to have, with the poor little wife kept at home with a weak ankle."

"I have wanted to see the farm awfully," she said, nestling up to him as his arm went around her again, "but I didn't see how I could, and I never expected to."

Suddenly she impulsively threw her arms about his neck and buried her face on his shoulder with a little sob.

"It's awful silly," she murmured, "for folks as old as we are to act so spoony, but I—thought—I'd got a notion that you'd got all over caring anything about me, and I'm so glad to find it isn't so."

As for Lot, he held his wife close, and in his heart was a great joy.

The average man will die for want of air in five minutes; for want of water in a week; for want of sleep in ten days.

Take a good book slowly. You see much finer country in a mover's wagon than you do from a car window.

Russians Expect Great Things From His Assuming the Offensive

Liao Yang, June 22.—For the first time since the beginning of the war General Kuropatkin has taken personal direction of the operations and in consequence of his having assumed the offensive results very different from those following recent events are anticipated.

The tactics of the Japanese are admired here, but their strategy is criticised, especially with regard to the battle of Vafangow, June 14, which may truthfully be called an artillery engagement. During that battle the infantry extended over the field further than the eye could reach, the division covering six miles.

In spite of the fact that up to the present the happenings have caused uneasiness, the possibilities of the southern situation are thoroughly appreciated.

The naval attaches have abandoned their plan to visit Port Arthur and are going to Vladivostock. The military attaches have left for the southward in anticipation of important developments.

THOMAS PATTERSON & CO.

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

CRIPPLE CREEK ENTERPRISE GOLD MINING COMPANY

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

THE RUSSIANS PARALIZED THROUGH DISSENTIONS

The Trouble Between Alexieff and Kouropatkin is Daily Increasing

St. Petersburg, June 24—In spite of the Czar's efforts to harmonize his councillors, the strife between the parties of Admiral Alexieff and General Kuropatkin has broken out afresh. The civil element has renewed its attempt to dominate the military situation and confusion prevails in Manchuria. By order of Kuropatkin two divisions of infantry were to be despatched to Liao Yang. When they reached Harbin, Admiral Alexieff, however stopped the troops and sent them into camp. Some days elapsed before the Commander-in-Chief ascertained what had happened. He protested to the Czar and a violent quarrel ensued.

Kuropatkin's friends in St Petersburg charged Alexieff with deliberately sacrificing the national welfare to his private grudge.

This accusation was resented by the court supporters of Alexieff and personal encounters were narrowly avoided. The complaints of the general staff against Alexieff's rule are endless. It is alleged that the Viceroy's contractors and engineers, while engaged in work in connection with the railways were guilty of great corruption. The masonry and bridges over numerous rivers has been found so bad that reconstruction has been necessary. Under the supervision of Prince Hilkoff, Minister of Ways and Communications some bridges have been destroyed and temporary wooden structures put in their places. It is charged that the contractor to whom Alexieff gave the order for transport on Lake Baikal at the rate of 200 rubles ($103), an engine and eight-five rubles ($43.87), a carriage had the service performed at the rate of thirty rubles ($15.40 and seven, $3.60 a carriage.

Information is lacking as to the truth or falsity of these charges.

However there is not the least doubt that the dispute raging around them paralyzes the Russians in the presence of what even the dullest intellects are beginning to realize is a great national peril.

MORE CHINESE FAIRY TALES.

Tokio June 22—The Japanese captured a junk leaving Port Arthur yesterday, June 21, and the Chinamen on board say that a few days ago two Russian torpedo boat destroyers and the steamer Shin Taiping struck mines at the entrance to the harbor and sank. One hundred and forty lives were lost, according to their accounts.

TROUBLE WITH THE CORRESPONDENTS.

General Headquarters in the Field, via Seoul, June 20.—There has been much dissatisfaction among newspaper correspondents over their status with the Japanese army, resulting in several protests to the staff. Finally, a written statement of their grievances was presented by the entire body of correspondents here. The statement complains of the censorship of telegrams at Seoul and at Nagasaki, which the headquarters' censor has already approved. It also complains of the strict enforcement of the rules framed by the General Staff at Tokio, which prevents correspondents in the field from sending details of what Tokio correspondents are often permitted to describe. The statement further requests that some freedom be granted correspondents in the matter of moving about and observing the army and its operations. The policy of the staff has been to suppress all information regarding the numbers and organizations which could give the enemy a clue to the size or character of the army opposing them. The Russian officers captured at the battle of the Yalu have displayed so much information of importance regarding the composition of this army, that the Japanese officers consider that their policy of strict secrecy has been vindicated.

Lieut Albert Euger, an American artillery officer, who was traveling on leave, attempted to visit headquarters of the Japanese army for the purpose of observation. Notwithstanding his credentials, he was escorted back to Antung from a half-way station.

Mukden, June 21.—Major-General Pflug, chief of the military staff of Viceroy Alexieff, announces that on July 20 he will suspend the foreign correspondents whose papers have failed to send the Viceroy two copies of each issue containing their contributions. The suspension will continue until the copies are received.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

I desire to call the attention of investors to the

Smuggler Gold Mining Co.'s Proposition

of which I am the authorized agent

Investments in mining stocks where they can be purchased cheaply whose property contains merit and whose directors are men of unquestionable honor and integrity, and especially when sufficient work has been done to guarantee a producing mine and the leads have been demonstrated to be permanent, offer the greatest opportunity for large returns from modern investments.

The shrewdest capitalists of England and America are giving more attention to mining properties and putting more money into them than at any time in the past history of the world.

The Smuggler Group consists of five full sized claims, to-wit:—The Smuggler, Gangon, Black Jack, Star and Bed Rock, located in the Greenhorn District of Eastern Oregon. Surrounding mines are Potosi, Pride of Pendleton, Bonanza and Rockefeller, developing work to the extent of 1,000 feet of tunnelling, drifts and crosscuts have been made, exposing hundreds of tons of high grade ore, averaging from $25 to $45 per ton, based on smelter returns and for the purpose of equipping the mines a limited number of shares of Treasury Stock will be sold at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.00.

UNDER THREE FLAGS DEMONTS HONORED

TERCENTENARY CELEBRATION BEGINS AT ANNAPOLIS

Annapolis, N.S., June 22.—Tuesday was the greatest day in the history of the little town of Annapolis. The first of many ter-centary celebrations in connection with the history of America has begun under most auspicious circumstances.

The Dominion Government vessels Constance and Curlew, lie close to the town in the Annapolis basin, and farther down are the French warship Troude, and the United States vessels Topeka and Detroit. Still farther away is the Ariadne, which could not venture into shallow water. The celebration is thus under the benison of three flags, an incident almost without parallel in the history of North America.

A GATHERING OF IMPORTANCE.

The visitors to the little town numbered nearly ten thousand. They come from all over the continent, and include representatives of the French and United States Governments, the admiral of the British Atlantic squadron, the commander of the garrison, and Lieut.-Governor and representatives of numerous United States and Canadian historical societies.

The program was carried out exactly as announced, the Hon Mr. Longley presiding. The morning events took place at the old fort with a guard of honor from three nations.

The Governor, the foreign representatives, the Archbishop, and the Hon A Turgeon were the speakers.

In the afternoon there was a trip down the river to Goat Island, opposite the place at which Demonts erected his first fort, where speeches were delivered by the Hon. Chas Langelier, of Quebec; Mr. Lord, of Massachusetts; Rev. Mr. Gaynor, of St. John, and Judge Savary, the local historian.

AN EVENING MEETING.

In the evening a large meeting was held in the Academy of Music at which most interesting addresses were given by Mr. Charles Francis Adams, of Boston; Professor Thwates, of Wisconsin; the presidents of three Nova Scotia Universities, and Mr. J. A. Cooper, president of the Canadian Press Association, representing Ontario. The note of the evening was struck by Mr. Adams, who declared that here the history of a region and the conflict of two nations began. The fact that no women were included in Demonts' settlement until 1634 might have made the pilgrim fathers' colony the first real settlement but it did not detract from the greatness of the work of Demonts and Champlain.

SIX CRUISERS WAITING

Argentine—Russian Negotiations Hang Fire on Ethical Grounds

St. Petersburg, June 24.—It is now definitely established that the negotiations for the purchase by Russia of six Argentine cruisers had almost reached a successful conclusio when Argentine raised the question as to under what flag they would be transferred, she being unwilling to sell direct to a belligerent.

The medium through which the negotiations were conducted suggested that they be transferred to Venezuela, Costa Rica or Bulgaria, which would turn them over to Russia, but President Ross rejected the proposal, insisting that a bona fide maritime power should be the purchaser. Then Turkey began negotiations through the Argentine legation at Paris. The result of these negotiations is not known.

Commander Moneta has arrived here on his way to the far east to observe the operations for the Argentine navy.

General Reynolds, of the Argentine army, who has been ordered to join General Kuropatkin, is ill in Sweden.

GREAT DISTRESS IN CZAR'S REALM

Thousands of Unemployed Men Slowly Starving

AS RESULT OF THE WAR

This Large Army is Increasing at the Rate of Three Thousand a Day

Warsaw, June 24.—One of the first consequences of the Russo-Japanese war is the serious crippling of trade in Siberia, European Russia and the Caucusus and Poland.

The unskilled laboring element in Russia has been the first to feel these consequences. Workmen are being gradually thrown out of employment and left with their families to subsist anyhow. The harvesting may afford a percentage of the unemployed an opportunity of earning a little, though the relief can only be temporary and, in view of the wretched wages paid in the agricultural districts, materially insignificant.

Even the state railways have been compelled to discharge squads of loaders owing to the shrinkage of the ordinary goods traffic. During the last four months the shrinkage has been close on 11 per cent., and is increasing.

An idea of the extent to which the traffic between Russian inland railway centres and the Russian ports of export has decreased in consequence of the war may be gleaned from the fact that close on 200,000 tons less have been railed over the Russian railway systems in May this year than in May last year, practically 25 per cent. The aggregate quantity of goods railed from various parts of the empire to the western land frontiers of Russia is less for May than for May last year by nearly 40 per cent.

On the railway lines of European Russia and Poland alone it is computed that 60,000 men have been discharged during the last four months. The number of laborers and artisans throughout the empire thrown into idleness during the same period is estimated at from 300,000 to 400,000, the bulk of whom entertain little hope of finding remunerative employment until the end of the war. This army of unemployed is steadily increasing at the rate of at least 3,000 a day.

Without employment and without prospect of obtaining it for months, these laborers are stranded. There are no poor law guardians in Russia. The man out of work must as a rule starve or beg. He is not allowed to beg, consequently he is not infrequently driven to join the barefoot brigade and master the art of living by his wits and the deftness of his fingers.

The police forces in the larger centres are being strengthened to deal with the situation, but it is perfectly clear that the situation cannot materially improve as long as the number of unemployed increases at the present ratio.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals — the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 355 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Toronto, December 10, 1903.

The Monarch Consolidated Gold & Copper Mining and Smelting Company of BOULDER, COLORADO

Solicits the co-operation of reputable men in providing means for the thorough and rapid development of two large gold and copper mining estates, which are second to none in intrinsic value, and to this end extends every opportunity for determination as to whether statements made by the company are true or false.

The proposition when developed will pay no less than 50 per cent. per annum on the investment, and it behooves anyone who wishes to better his financial condition, to give immediate attention to this.

Full particulars in every detail will be given to all to whom such a proposition may appeal, but please do not ask for them unless y eally are interested, because on wastes your own time and ourselves.

Capital $1,000,000, 500,000 Shares in Treasury

Property includes two great mining estates—one gold, the other copper—both containing wide, deep, proven veins of high and low grade ore.

Development work has been systematically carried on, with results that more than justify every claim made by the company, and unquestionably proves the destiny of the property to equal that of the greatest successful mining companies of the world.

Above Statement Can be Easily Verified

The following two facts alone will give anyone familiar with mining a rough idea of the great value of the property.

The Copper King Group contains one vein 20 feet wide, 3 feet of which runs from $10 to $100 per ton, and the Copper owns 9 000 feet on th s vein.

Ore running from $18 to $60 per ton is continually being shipped from the gold property, and 24 samples taken from widely different portions of the vein system averaged $33 25 per ton.

FACILITIES—The Company owns 1,720 acres of placer and timber land, water power of 500 (minimum) horse power. No expensive shaft work necessary. Ore easily treated on Company's property, thus saving freight and smelter charges.

DIVIDENDS—To begin earning and paying large dividends it is only necessary to erect two 50 ton mills, one on each property. To obtain funds for this purpose a limited amount of stock is offered at ROCKFELLER'S BIG MONEY.

New York, June 24.—The John D the Tooms on George street, aid of the sufferers from the Slocum disaster. It was learned that a contribution was received which was not registered, but which places the fund upon a foundation of solid rock. It leaked out that a telephone message had been received from the offices of the Standard Oil Company that the great fortune of the richest man in the world was at its disposal to be drawn upon for deficiency in the fund which might remain after other donations had ceased to come in.

This renders easy and practicable the plan of the committee to resolve itself into a permanent organization for the future maintenance of the children who have been left orphans and the dependents who have been left without support. It was decided at the meeting of the committee of St. Mark's Lutheran church yesterday afternoon that a permanent organization should be effected, that incorporation papers should be taken out and that a legal name should be adopted in order that the committee might become legal guardians of the children and dependents deprived of their support by the disaster.

It was decided that when the immediate necessities of the sufferers have all been met and the exact dimensions of the fund definitely ascertained an appropriation shall be made for each orphan and dependent, to be kept in trust for that child or dependent as long as he or she may need it.

It was announced that $5,000 had been pledged to undertakers for funeral expenses and $500 expended for had been largely cleared away.

Slabs and feeders of gold ore are coming in freely in the drift.

HELD IN REVERENCE.

SEQUOYAH OF THE CHEROKEES THE GREATEST CHIEF.

Life Work of the Wonderful Red Man Devoted to the Interests of That Tribe—A Statue in Prospect.

The effort on the part of several prominent Cherokee Indians to erect a statue in the capitol square at Tahlequah, I. T., to the memory of Sequoyah has renewed interest in this wonderful Indian, says the Kansas City Journal He is unquestionably the greatest Indian this nation ever produced, and is so revered by the full-blood Cherokees, but as these do not form the most considerable part of the tribe, and the mixed bloods control affairs in the national council, bills for a monument to perpetuate his memory in marble have heretofore failed A number of prominent men have been interested in the project this time, however, and it is hoped the bill will pass No one doubts that President Roosevelt will sign the bill making it possible to erect the monument at once. Athough Sequoyah is the especial favorite of the full-blooded Cherokees, he was not one of their members His life work, however, was devoted to their interests. This work was the formulating of an alphabet which consists of 85 characters. So simple is it that it has been learned by students in from three to four days, and it is grounded on such thorough principles that when learned by one knowing the spoken language no difficulty is experienced in reading It has been pronounced one of the most complete alphabets in existence, and for it "Sequoyah has been dubbed "the American Cadmus."

Sequoyah was born in 1770, in Georgia, where the Cherokee tribe was then living His mother was a full-blooded Cherokee and his father a German trader, known as George Geist or Guess In 1831, with other members of the tribe, Sequoyah moved to the Indian territory and lived on a little farm in a district known by his name, some 12 miles north of Muldrow There it was that he, though wholly uneducated, fashioned the letters for his alphabet, which will doubtless live as a study long after the last Indian has passed away He was a farmer and counted well-to-do, as he owned cattle, hogs and horses A personal description of him, secured several years ago from Mouston Beng, of Fort Gibson, who has since died, shows that Sequoyah was a slender man, with fine features and a pleasant expression—He was lame in one arm, due to a white swelling he was afflicted with when a boy When he traveled abroad he rode a white mule In 1842, in company with his son and another Indian, he started on a trip west to try to find a band of Cherokees which had gone there years before.

The party traveled in a cart, drawn by a yoke of oxen, but had horses with them. Somewhere in the northern part of Mexico Sequoyah became separated from his companions, and they were compelled to return without him. He was never heard of again, and it is supposed perished from want. At the time of his disappearance he wore a large silver medal, presented to him by congress in recognition of his services toward the uplifting of the Indians

This written language he invented has been of great use to people dealing with the Indians. Soon after it was made public the Bible and many other books were translated into Cherokee, and a paper known as the Cherokee Advocate started. This newspaper is still in existence. One-half of it is printed in English and the other in Cherokee. The office is located at Tahlequah, capital of the Cherokee nation.

AN ARCTIC HEALTH RESORT

Swedish Government Will Establish One Far North of the Polar Circle.

A curious health resort is about to be established in Lapland, way beyond the polar circle, according to news received from Stockholm, Sweden. The intention of the government is to erect a sanitarium on the shores of Lake Torne, a long and beautiful sheet of water at Wassijauve, the end of the Ofote railroad. The latter, by the way, is in itself a curious institution in that in a distance of 121 miles it boasts of only one solitary station. This is not anywhere near any human habitation, but right on the line between Sweden and Norway, and it was erected only for the requirements of the customs office.

The sanitarium would be an ideal one for people with weak nerves who need absolute rest. Aside from the small settlement of Wassijauve the country is absolutely void of any signs of human existence, except for a few Laplanders who, with their herds of reindeer, pass through once in awhile.

Guests at the arctic sanitarium will have for their only object of interest, aside from the scenery, a scientific station which has been erected by the government out of funds subscribed privately by scientists and laymen interested in the object of the station. The observations and investigations to be conducted here will be various. In summer biological, geological, botanical, entomological and other researches will be made, while at all seasons meteorological, magnetic and other observations are to be made. The station is a solidly built blockhouse containing seven rooms, and it is proposed to build the sanitarium in the same way.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,600 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1900.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Toronto, December 10, 1903.

Consumption Can Be Cured

A Powerful and Effective Destroyer o Disease Germs Discovered Which Cures Consumption.

The ravages of consumption which for years have terrorized the modern world will no longer continue to cut off our population by thousands. Science has at last produced a remedy which not only can be readily applied to the lungs, but also kills every trace of bacilli in the throat, bronchial tubes, and air passages of all the breathing organs.

The name of this marvellous antiseptic about which the doctors are talking so much is Catarrhozone, the ozonated air cure. The vapor is more soothing than the air of pine woods, and its healing properties are without limit.

Through a skilfully devised inhaler the sufferer is enabled to breathe this fragrant medicated vapor into the most minute air cells of the lungs. It is so destructive to microbe life that the tubercular germs are rapidly killed and prevented from ever returning. Congestion and inflammation are relieved, coughing stops, all disagreeable symptoms are quickly cured by Catarrhozone.

So simple is Catarrhozone that anyone can use it. So certain to cure lung and throat troubles that it is prescribed by not less than twenty thousand doctors in United States and Canada. One well known authority who has made a life long study of consumption, has the following to say: "Catarrhozone is certainly a true specific for white plague. I find that its healing vapor readily spreads all through all the breathing organs passing over probably not less than one thousand square feet of mucous surface at a single inhilation. It is a perfect germicide and destroys tubercular germs with wonderful certainty. Catarrhozone is entitled to rank among the great medical discoveries of the age."

No matter how often you have been disappointed with other remedies you must not be discouraged. In Catarrhozone you will find new hope. What it has done before it can do again. Your case is not worse than others it has cured. Therefore if properly used you can also be cured by Catarrhozone. Two months treatment $1.00. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont. Refuse any substitute for Catarrhozone—only the genuine can cure.

THE LIME JUICE ....CLUB....

A Long way after the Lime Kiln Club

SIR RICHARD McBRIDE. President

After an interval of inactivity and collapse, extending over a period of several years, the Lime Juice Club is once again a going concern. The president, who has been travelling in Europe in foreign lands, arrived home some weeks ago, and at once was waited upon by hundreds of the old members who had been associated with the club in days gone by, and no quarter was given until he promised to "go again." It is needless to say that when the fiat finally went forth calling the meeting for last night, there was much enthusiasm among the old members. Mr. Croft and that he felt like a two-year-old when the joyful tidings reached him, and Bro. Snowden fell over a dog and two chairs in his haste to get to the telephone to inform the mayor. Stegulf Kelly was seen heading for the north, evidently to notify the members living in that section, including the Lakefield Brethren. In a short time Hon. N. Gosin, Jamfed Jones, Cy-es Mukahey, Sir Isaac Walpole, Sundown Hartley, Hailstone Wilson and several others were summoned, and arrangements completed for holding the 26th annual meeting. Notices were at once sent out and preparations made for the great opening, which took place last night.

On this occasion, as on all others on which the club takes a hand, the Hall of Wisdom was crowded to the doors. In the visitors' gallery were noticed His Worship, the Mayor, Aldermen Best, McWilliams, Adams, Batten and Mowers. Harry LeBrun, Bob McKee, D Davidson, Robert Fair, W. E. Loch, W. Hunton and many others.

DELEGATES ARRIVE

Delegates from all parts of Canada and the United States began to arrive on Thursday morning, and when the club was called to order every province in the Dominion, and many countries in Europe were represented. The largest delegation came from Lindsay, while Bobraygeon had the smallest. Among the representatives were seven generals, two marquises eighteen lords one hundred and two knights, one hundred and twenty-six honorables and three hundred and eleven mayors and reeves. A reception committee of twenty-six active members in good standing were constantly at the railway stations, stage and steamboat landings, and as fast as the visitors arrived they were escorted to the Hall of Wisdom and treated to a dish of iced tea.

THE ANNUAL PICNIC.

The annual picnic took place yesterday to Chemong Park, which had been kindly placed at the disposal of the club by Mr. George H. Brown. The party packed themselves in busses and rigs of every description, which had been chartered for the occasion, and a start was made for the park about 9 o'clock. Such had been the vigilance on the part of the Committee on Silence and Repose that nothing was lacking to make the trip thoroughly enjoyable. Bro. Cripps Mahaney and Anvil McCann monopolized attention and were the admiration of the first carriage by their duets on the mouth organ, while the Lindsay brass band was employed to furnish other music and frighten the the natives who might be lounging around on the roadsides.

AT THE PARK

Arriving at the park an address of welcome was presented to the President on behalf of the Mud Lake Indians by Bros. Brown and Harrison, and was responded to on behalf of the club by Bro. Billy Brooks in a speech 27 feet long, five water, warm water, buttermilk, lemonade, lake water, Croft's ginger beer and Calcutta lager was furnished in abundance while dancing was kept up at the pavilion in a manner that threatened dislocation of many ankle joints. The fancy step dancing of Bro. Danny Simons and Archie Moore in which the former excelled all previous records, helped to contribute to the general harmony. During the day, although no provision had been made for this kind of sport, nine dog fights occurred at convenient intervals while a wrestling match between Limehouse Jackson and Ginger Ale Leahy, of Lakefield, in which Giggerale's heels flew around with such vigor that three dogs and a delegate from Bobraygeon were knocked into the lake.

Climbing the greasy pole, jumping matches, foot races, and boxing contests added to the pleasure of the occasion. A pair of boxing gloves furnished opportunity for Razor Potvin and Hardware Bottum of Bobraygeon to limber up a little, and during this performance Razor was knocked into the middle of next week and did not recover consciousness until over a gallon of Croft's ginger beer was wasted down his neck. The following is the official programme:

Twoforty Elmhirst, Keene, catching a greasy pig for a quarter—a picture of the new Collegiate Institute building, with $30,000 site thrown in, by Bro. Roy.

Bro. Danny Simons, champion ankle-twister of the club—a history of the sugar beet industry in Peterborough with foot notes by the editor of the Review. This document can also be used for a dishcloth.

Smokestack Grills, Lakefield — a knuckle-duster, worth 30 cents.

Gingerale Kennedy, Keene — a champion jumper—large onion grown by Bro. Arthur Blade.

Deputation Waits on the County Council

Headed by the Mayor, They Ask a Grant—A Program Arranged

The day having been definitely set for the important event of opening the lift locks, a deputation from the Town Council and Board of Trade waited upon the County Council, at the sitting yesterday, in order to interest that body in the matter and seek its co-operation and assistance in the getting up and carrying out of a suitable program on the occasion. The deputation consisted of Mayor Roger, Aldermen Best, Rush and McWilliams, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, Town Clerk, Mr. D Hughes, Charles Presidents of the Board of Trade, Mr. R B. Rogers, Superintending Engineer of the Trent Canal.

The Mayor explained that it was proposed to open the lock on the 9th of next month and that many members of Parliament as well as ministers of the Crown would be present. They would arrive here on a special train on Saturday morning. Both the Council of the Town as well as the Board of Trade attached great importance to such an event and the public were equally interested. It would be an opportunity of giving these gentlemen, as well as the Party in power a realization of the importance of the work which has been going on for some time. The date was close and the time short to prepare a suitable and appropriate program, and united effort should be put forth actively and immediately. He suggested that after the opening ceremony an excursion be run to Lakefield and Lindsay, on the canal, and in this way showing the distinguished visitors as much of the route as possible, with a drive around town afterwards to the different points of interest and the manufactories, and wound up his remarks by asking that body's aid and co-operation in getting up a suitable demonstration.

Mr. R B. Rogers, the Superintending Engineer, was the next speaker, and endorsed the Mayor's remarks as to its importance as well as the program outlined by him, at least so far as the excursion was concerned. In reply to a question by Mr. Hunter, he said the crowd that would attend the opening might be entertained by this excursion.

Mr. Hughes-Charles was of the opinion that the opening of the lift lock meant a good deal for both the town and county, and all should unite to make the occasion a great success and a thorough demonstration to men in authority as to the importance of the waterway which the event would inaugurate. The County should appoint a committee to co-operate with the Council and Board of Trade and the arrangements carried on in a generous way.

Ald. Best was the next speaker. He stated that the Government representative required information and that a joint committee could arrange this better than any one else. The canal must become the medium for the transportation of the products of both the west and surrounding country.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong pointed out that the interests of the town and country were identical, and when the canal was opened to its outlet it could not fail to be of great benefit to the people of the county, in giving its products a preference.

Mr. McWilliams considered it a chance to convince politicians in the House as to the importance of the canal and overcome the antagonism which existed in certain places.

Ald. Rush thought the occasion an important one, and knew of many outsiders who wanted to come and see the lock and take a trip over the canal.

Mayor Roger added that Lindsay might send a deputation. He had been in communication with the Mayor on the subject. The town had been at some expense in showing strangers the lock, but on a special occasion like this the county should be asked to co-operate.

It was moved by Mr. Fitzgerald, and seconded by Mr. Maloney, that the matter be referred to the Finance committee with power to act, which motion was carried.

Warden Peck expressed pleasure at receiving the visitors. He had been deeply impressed with the importance of the canal, and would do all he could to assist the aims of the deputation.

Russian Fleet Outwitted by Jap Vigilance

Togo Again Spoils Russian Naval Plans—Port Arthur Fleet Contemplated a Dash to the South but were Outwitted by Japanese Vigilance—Togo's Torpedo Squadron Under Cover of Darkness, Sank One Russian Battleship and Damaged Another as well as a Cruiser—Big Land Battle Believed to be Imminent.

Tokio June 26.—Admiral Togo reports that on Thursday last, June 23, his patrol boat discovered the battleship Peresviet and seven other vessels accompanied by nine torpedoboat destroyers, near the entrance of Port Arthur harbor.

They warned him, wirelessly and he immediately advanced his entire fleet, except those engaged upon special duty.

The admiral then discovered that the Russian fleet, which consisted of six battleships, five cruisers and fourteen destroyers, evidently planned a dash southward by sundown.

The Russians stopped outside the entrance of the harbor, and after nightfall a fleet of Japanese torpedo boat destroyers resolutely attacked the Russian ships, and succeeded in torpedoing and sinking a battleship of the Peresviet type, and disabled the battleship Sevastopol.

A cruiser of the Diana type was observed being towed into the harbor on Friday morning and it was evident she had sustained serious damage.

The Japanese ships sustained little damage.

The torpedo boat destroyer Shirakumo was hit by a shell which fell in the cabin, and had three men killed and three others wounded.

The Chidori, a vessel of the same class, was hit behind the engine-room but no casualties resulted therefrom.

Torpedo boats 64 and 66 were slightly damaged.

Big Land Battle Imminent.

St. Petersburg, June 26.—An unnamed Russian general is quoted in The Viedomosti to-day as declaring that this is the eve of a great battle, adding that General Kuropatkin is moving to meet General Kuroki, whom he will dispose of before General Oku arrives.

Berlin, June 25.—Col. Gaedke, the correspondent of Tageblatt in the far east telegraphs from the Russian headquarters, saying that on June 22 the Japanese occupied Kai Chou, and that a decisive battle of the united armies of Generals Oku and Kuroki, with the Russian main army, is expected shortly.

Japanese Nearing Port Arthur.

Ta Teh Kiao, (between Kai Chou and Hai Chong), Liao Tung Peninsula, June 23.—(delayed in transmission)—The Japanese forces are 12 miles from Port Arthur, the whole main population of which, from the age of 15 upwards, is under arms. The women are assisting in the work of completing the defences. Civilian cyclists occasionally establish communication with the outside world.

Russians Are Disheartened.

New Chwang, June 26, via messenger to Kou-antze.—The Russians seem unable to reform their plans, which have been upset by General Kuroki and are losing interest and heart in the struggle. The local censor is not passing any communications. The secret police are extra diligent, and it is extremely hazardous to attempt to send out uncensored despatches.

Rumors Which Are Likely Untrue.

New Chwang is filled with rumors of more fighting to the southward The reports come from native sources. A few Russian officers, who talk guardedly, say the rumors are untrue, but that General Kuropatkin intends to make a decisive stand at Kai Chou, where many mines have been laid and trenches constructed. The field telegraph between Kai Chou and New Chwang, which was finished Wednesday, was cut in three places last night and five miles of wire carried away. It is supposed to have been the work of Chinese in the pay of the Japanese. This is regarded as evidence that the Russians cannot hope for the friendship of the Manchurians.

The Chunchuses Are Active.

Large bands of robbers are giving the Russian outposts much trouble northeast of New Chwang. The Japanese, it is said, have supplied the robbers with 1,000 modern rifles and much ammunition.

French correspondents from Mukden report that the Japanese up to last Monday had made no demonstrations near Liao Yang. These correspondents are now with the Russian forces south of Ilete, but American and British correspondents are not permitted to see the fighting.

Viceroy Alexieff has issued a proclamation to the effect that all traffic on the Liao River south of Mukden must stop and that foodstuffs must be delivered to the Russians. According to native reports the Russians are losing thousands of horses from glanders.

Are "Equal to the Best."

Foreign military attaches, who witnessed the fighting at Feng Wang Chen, declare that the Japanese artillery is superb and that the Japanese army is equal to the best of European troops.

LORD MILNER ASKED TO REPORT

On South African Railway Under Sir Percy Girouard

THE COLONIAL OFFICE VIEW

Is That Work of Construction Was Too Rapid for Colony's Progress

London, June 25.—The Canadian Associated Press learns in connection with the resignation of Sir Percy Girouard as railway commissioner in the Transvaal and Orange River Colony, and the circumstances attending it, that instructions have been despatched by the British Government to Lord Milner to prepare a special report on the working and development of the Transvaal and Orange Colony railways. The belief is expressed in Colonial Office quarters that the construction work undertaken has been too rapid in view of the comparatively slow progress of the new Colonies.

London, June 24.—Messrs. Brun, Herbert and Edwin Montague, writing in The Westminster Gazette, hope that the statement of Premier Balfour be sent verbatim to Canada in order that those Canadian manufacturers who are at present so eagerly supporting Mr. Chamberlain's policy, may learn that whereas they now find themselves suffering from British protection, they can raise their tariffs without so much as drawing a protest from Great Britain.

No Palma Trophy Competition

London, June 24.—The National Rifle Association of the United States has intimated that whenever arrangements are made by the British National Rifle Association for another international match they will send a team. The Council of the British N. R. A. has conferred informally and an understanding has been arrived at that it is impossible to make a match for the Palma trophy this year.

It is poor economy to try to save a few cents on a can of baking powder. Cheap baking powder means cheap food; and cheap food means poor food every time.

One can of Cleveland's Baking Powder, owing to its superior strength and purity, will last as long as two cans of "cheap" baking powder and will make better, richer and more nourishing food.

There is true economy in buying Cleveland's.

OPENING OF THE LIFT LOCK

Single Fare on the Railways for rhe Great Event

The Grand Trunk Has Already Assured the Mayor of the Co's Acquiescence

Saturday, the 9th day of July should be a red letter day in Peterborough. Such an event as the opening of the lift lock only occurs once or twice in any town or city's history, and judging from the activity of the mayor, and other prominent officials of the town, no stone will be left unturned to make it a day long to be remembered in Peterborough and the vicinity. The lock is the largest in the world and the event will be one of no ordinary interest to the people, as it is one of great importance to the section of the country through which the canal runs. The following letter received by the mayor on Saturday, speaks for itself.

Grand Trunk Railway System
District Passenger Agent's Office,
Toronto, Ont., June 24, 1904.

G. M. Roger, Esq.,
Mayor, Peterborough.

Dear Sir,—Opening of lift-lock July 9, 1904—Referring to your letter of the 23rd instant, we are agreeable to authorizing rate of single fare for the above, from all points where single fare to Peterborough does not exceed $2.50. Tickets will be good going on trains arriving Peterborough p.m. of July 8th, all trains July 9th, valid to return on or before July 11th.

I presume you will have this arrangement advertised and given as much publicity as possible so that we will be warranted in placing this rate in effect.

Yours truly,
J. D. McDonald,
D. P. A.

The mayor has stated that he may go to Ottawa to ascertain the plans of the Ministers, where the programme can be more easily arranged. It is not the intention to proclaim the day a holiday as it is thought the town would look brighter and better to visitors, with the stores open and many would come to town to conduct business with pleasure.

We understand that Mr. R. B. Roger, the superintendent of the work, has, on behalf of the Government, chartered the steamer City of Peterborough for the day.

The programme is likely to embrace a drive around town in the morning, the ceremony later and an excursion to Lindsay and return, to wind up the day. Full particulars in later issue.

CAN NOT GO TO BARRIE

57th Regiment Have Met with Another Disappointment

The officers of the 57th Regiment have met with another disappointment in regard to the annual outing of the corps and cannot go to Barrie, for the same reason that they could not go to Perth, viz: shortage of transportation facilities on the part of the G. T. R. This is regretted by the officers and men alike, as a pleasant time was being looked forward to in that go-ahead town. The officers are not, however, discouraged and other plans are under consideration, which will, no doubt, be satisfactorily carried out. Announcement later.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

William Mellis Had His Leg Broken in Two Places

On Saturday evening about half-past eight o'clock a runaway occurred on George street, the driver, a gentleman named Mellis, being thrown out, with the result that he had one of his limbs broken in two places. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment, and it will be some time before he will be able to be around again. After being thrown out the animal continued to run north until it reached the corner of Brock and George streets, where it was stopped. The walks on both sides of the streets were crowded at the time, and many rigs had narrow escapes from being run into. Mr. Mellis is a machinist at the Cordage Works, and was driving around town in a livery rig when the animal bolted.

LINDSAY STABBING AFFRAY

Disagreement Between Two Brothers-in-law Ends Badly

Lindsay Post: A serious stabbing affray took place last night opposite the G.T.R. station about 9.30. M. M. Myles who runs the grocery business in McWilliams' terrace, was the victim.

It seems that Mr. J. P. Wells, painter, who is a brother-in-law of Myles, owed the latter a sum of money for some time past, and had received the bill. He appeared at Mr. Myles' store, the worse of liquor, and denied that he owed any money. Wells loitered about the store, using bad language and finally Myles gave him a shove, following which Wells struck at Myles with the open blade of a large jack knife, the point of which was very sharp. The knife entered the right leg below the hip, and made a deep and long gash as it was withdrawn.

Dr. Herriman was called and dressed the wound. He pronounced it to be not dangerous unless blood poisoning sets in. Wells was arrested about 10.30 by Constable Reeves and Crawford, and was brought before P. M. Jackson this morning. He was remanded until June 30th.

C.G.E. CO'S BIG CONTRACT

To Furnish Equipment to Toronto and Niagara Falls Power Co

The Canadian General Electric Company has received the contract for the equipment to develop electrical energy to supply Toronto and other places. This is good news and the friends of the company here will rejoice at their success in this matter. The contract is a big one, and there is no more competent firm in the Dominion or elsewhere. A despatch to the News from New York, dated June 24th, says:

The Toronto & Niagara Falls Power Company, of which Col. H. M. Pellatt, of Toronto, is president, has just awarded a large contract for equipment to be installed in its power house to be constructed on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, from where energy will be derived to transmit electrical currents to Toronto and intervening towns. The contract calls for six generators of 7,500 kilowatts capacity each, of 45,000 kilowatts in all. The Canadian General Electric Company secured the contract.

IT'S COFFEE

Dr. Chamberlin's Experiments Explains a Point

Dr. Chamberlin's experiments show that coffee contains more uric acid than any other food product in general use. Uric acid is the chief cause of rheumatism.

For several years the Postum Cereal Co. has been receiving letters from people who testified that their rheumatism quickly disappeared when they quit coffee and drank Postum and Dr. Chamberlin's experiments explain these cases. A late writer says:

"I was stricken with inflammatory rheumatism about three years ago and while sick drank neither tea nor coffee. When I got up again I wished to drink coffee but it tasted so dreadfully bitter it showed my system had revolted against its use and when I forced some down it made me nervous and sleepless.

"One day while calling on our minister's wife she served some Postum but I didn't know what it was and it favored coffee so in looks I said to her:

"Thank you but I'll have to refuse the coffee." She answered

"My dear, this is Postum Cereal, it looks and tastes like coffee, but it has absolutely none of the ill-effects of coffee. It is a food drink. Won't you try some?

"So I tried Postum, and instead of hurting me it worked wonders for me and I've been drinking it ever since, even my husband has been weaned away from his coffee. I just follow the directions on the package and it makes a clear, black food coffee with a rich taste and since I have been drinking it I have had no return of my rheumatic troubles. We both enjoy splendid health now all the time." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

It is a fact that more rheumatics are coffee drinkers but anyone troubled with rheumatism who will leave off coffee and give Postum a trial will find a change from the old rheumatic symptoms within a week, yet never miss the coffee after the first few days.

Of course, "there's a reason."

Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

On Saturday afternoon the Hastings lacrosse team ran an excursion to town from that place, it being the occasion of their return game with the T. A. S. in the E. V. L. series, the latter team having played at Hastings the previous Saturday when the game resulted in a tie. Quite a large crowd accompanied the team arriving in town about 1 o'clock, per steamer Sovereign, and returned shortly after the game. It was a great day for lacrosse but the spectators were given but a fair exhibition of the national game. On many previous occasions the T. A. S. have excelled themselves and played to better advantage, but on Saturday failed to get themselves pulled together. They were expected to win by a larger score and had the material to do so, but the score of 3—2 seemed to be their limit and they appeared quite satisfied. The visitors too were quite confident and made a creditable showing. In the last half they played a defence game to prevent the T. A. S. from running up a score. Their defence at times played well. Clapper, at point, put up a splendid game and was ably assisted and clean player. Scriver and Rice also did very good work. Jimmy Welsh at centre showed up well but had to retire in the beginning of the second half, being affected with the heat. It is said Jimmy is not headed. Dodds made a good start securing the first goal for Hastings but after that "he was only middling," as was many of the other players on both teams.

For the T. A. S. Meagher and Donovan showed up well. The later player is fast developing into a very strong defence man as evidenced in his work on Saturday. Crowley and Gorham also played a fair game. Parnell, McCabe and McCoy were the pick of the home.

The visitors were the first to score Dodds putting the ball through by a clean shot on the net. Then followed two for the T. A. S. McCoy scoring the first on a pass from McCabe, and McCabe scored on a pass from behind the flags from Parnell. This was all the scoring in the first quarter, although McCoy missed a good opportunity on a pretty piece of combination from Donovan on the defence to Meagher, Crowley, McCabe to McCoy.

In the second quarter Hastings started off with another in 3 1-2 minutes, McCarthy puncturing the net. The T. A. S. adding one to their number, McCabe scoring on a drop in on the net by McCoy. This ended the scoring.

The following men were ruled off for slight offences: Welch, Whaley, Parnell, Gorham, 2; Clapper, Rice, 2; Augley and Scriver.

The following players represented the different teams:

Hastings.		Peterborough.
Scriber	Goal.	Mahoney
Clapper	Point.	O'Connor
Coughlin	Cover Point.	Donovan
Rice	First Defence.	Meagher
Scriver	Second Defence.	Whaley

THE DOMINION ELECTION TO TAKE PLACE IN THE AUTUMN

An Early Warning Will be by the Government to Its Supporters, Says Mr. German M.P. for Welland at the Annual Meeting of the Liberal Association.

Niagara Falls, June 25.—The annual meeting of the Liberal Association of the County of Welland was made interesting by a speech of Mr. W. M. German, M.P., on Dominion political issues and a debate between Mr. J. E. Grove, M.P.P., and Mr. J. E. Dean on the railway assessment question.

Mr. German said the late G.O.C. had been insubordinate and had been dismissed just as the employe of any other Government department would be dismissed for similar offence. He paid a high tribute to the Earl of Dundonald as a soldier, and expressed regret that he was leaving Canada under such circumstances.

Mr. Dean advocated public ownership of more railways and higher tax-ation of others. Referring to the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement, he said it was greatly superior to the Canadian Pacific agreement, but he considered it far from perfect.

Mr. German expects a general election early in the autumn and that a definite announcement will be made by the Government to its supporters within a week or two. The Ontario Legislature, he thinks, will be dissolved sometime next year.

The County Conservative Association did not nominate a candidate, and it is probable that the party will support Mr. Walter Upper, the Independent Farmers' candidate, for the House of Commons. Mr. W. M. German has been already chosen by the Liberals.

FIRST SERIOUS CLASH AT SYDNEY

Union Picket Men and Italians Have Fierce Fight

SEVERAL WERE WOUNDED

Union men Went to Interview the Italians and met With Warm Reception

Sydney, N.S., June 27.—A clash that might have had serious results occurred between some of the Italian non-union laborers of the steel company and the Provincial Workingmen's Association. A picket stationed at No. 1 gate fifteen of the Italians came out of their shacks and were about to pass through the gate when the picket men endeavored to explain the strike situation to them, asking the men if they were willing to assist the union in their efforts to secure a better rate of wages. With this the Italians swung round and went back to their shacks and supplemented by twenty or twenty-five more returned to the gate with razors, knives, stilettoes, hatchets and those without weapons carried stones of various sizes. The picket men again approached in the same manner as before, whereupon the Italians began to attack the men. For several minutes the murderous weapons sought the vital parts in the bodies of the picket men who retreated as best they could.

With the assistance, however, of the special and regular police officers on duty at the plant, some of the Italians were disarmed and they finally retired to their shacks. In the assault Joseph McEachren was badly cut about the head and face with a blow from a dinner pail in the hands of one of the Italians. Archie Wells would certainly have been killed had he not noticed an axe descending upon his head in time. He stepped to one side, the axe cutting part of his hand off. Fred Tuckett, another picket man, was cut on the back of the head with a stone. He was unconscious for a few moments from the effect of the blow. There were only eight or ten picket men on duty, scarcely one of them escaping without some bruises or cuts. The Italians were recently imported to the plant by the company.

RUSSIAN GENERAL'S STRONG REPORT

Tells Russians the Japanese Cannot Envelop His Position

DOES NOT QUIET ALL FEAR

A Russian Force Beaten off in a Fight near Feng Wang Cheng

St. Petersburg, June 27.—Kuropatkin has sent a reassuring message to the Czar relative to the Russian communications. He declares that the Japanese are not strong enough in the north-east to overcome his reinforced left wing and that the approaches to Liao Yang are securely held for the time being by Russian troops. He adds that every precaution has been taken to prevent the consummation of the enveloping movement on the part of the enemy. The contents of Kuropatkin's despatch have been communicated to the general staff but do not quiet all fears on the subject of the Russian line of retreat.

Some authorities hold that the Japanese are able when they desire to move much more swiftly than Kuropatkin supposes, and that unless the Russian commander-in-chief displays more alertness and energy than has yet been witnessed on the Russian side, his army will be surrounded and forced to surrender.

Kuropatkin gives a most flattering account of the morale of all arms in the Czar's service.

Tokio, June 26.—Four thousand Russians, including infantry, cavalry and artillery, attacked Ai Yang Pien Men, about fifty miles northeast of Feng Wang Cheng, last Tuesday. The Russians were repulsed and retreated toward Shinkailing. The Russians lost five killed and twenty wounded. The Japanese loss is not given.

Chefoo, June 27.—Heavy firing was heard in the direction of Port Arthur during several hours last night and this morning.

ECHOES OF THE GREAT BIBLE CENTENARY

Only now is it possible to realize how far reaching was the celebration of the centenary of the British and Foreign Bible Society.—A bird's-eye view of the world, gives remarkable evidence of the way in which the Christian nations recognized their debt to the Bible and united to return thanks for this—one of God's greatest gifts to man; while, incidentally, fresh light is thrown on the wide-spread nature of the Society's operations. Not only were congratulatory messages received from the Czar, the German Emperor, the President of the United States, the King of Sweden and the King of Denmark but on the day that the Archbishop of Canterbury preached at that memorable service in St. Paul's Cathedral, while the Queen and other members of the Royal family joined in the Thanksgiving service for the Centenary of the Bible Society, Bible Sunday was being observed all over the world by peoples of the most diverse race and language.

In Washington, the President of the United States attached a special service in St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church. In the Cathedral at Stockholm, the Archbishop of Upsala preached and thanked God for the blessed work accomplished by the Bible Society in spreading the Gospel not only in Sweden, but also in so many other countries. All the members of the Royal family then in Sweden were present at this service. In India, March 6th was kept as Bible Sunday in all parts of the great peninsula. The Viceroy attended a special service at the Cathedral in Calcutta; while the chaplain at Simla made a suggestion—which has been partially supported—that his congregation should undertake to defray the cost of the production of a Gospel in one of the Indian languages into which as yet no word of the Scriptures has been translated. At Melbourne the Governor-General of Australia attended service on Bible Sunday at St. Paul's Cathedral.

But this festival was not only kept by the English speaking races. The Bible Society is British and it is also foreign—a fact which was curiously emphasized in its Centenary meetings. The swarthy natives of Uganda were as active in organizing thanksgiving services as their white brethren in India and the ability to do so by Hamu Mukasa who accompanied the Katikiro to England for King Edward's coronation. At Singapore every church and mission observed Bible Sunday.

From Antigua, Barbadoes, Trinidad, Ceylon and South Africa records are now to hand of hearty services in which the native congregation bore a generous part. In Fiji, so short a while ago a reign of terror, Bible Sunday was a great feature of its year. At Axim on the Gold Coast and at Lagos, native congregations contributed generously to the Centenary Fund. At Fredericton, New Brunswick a mass meeting filled the opera house. In Georgetown, British Guiana a crowded and enthusiastic centenary meeting was held in the town hall, when His Excellency, the Governor presided and gave his recollections of a similar meeting commemorating the society's jubilee, which he had attended as a boy in an English country town. Great numbers were unable to gain admission that before an overflow meeting, attended by about 500 people, was conducted outside in the open air. At a large centenary meeting at Kingston, Jamaica, a letter enclosing a donation was read from the Governor, in which His Excellency remarked "I know what a great and valuable work the British and Foreign Bible Society has done and are doing, and in other circumstances I should have felt it a privilege and honor to have presided over a meeting to celebrate its centenary." In Johannesburg, Lord Milner addressed a centenary meeting and most eloquently urged the claims of the society. Even on the high seas the day was not forgotten. Services were held on Bible Sunday on several mail steamers when collections were taken in aid of the Centenary Fund.

GIFTS IN THE TREASURY.

At a well known mission near Bombay, the children's offerings alone reached Rs. 419 and some blind girls at the mission went without food in order that it might be sold and the money given to provide Scriptures for their blind. At this same mission, the collection on March 7th contained not only coins, but many offerings in kind, including flour, bread, eggs, chickens, kids, rice, wheat, carry-powder, green vegetables, cloth, etc. At the Moravian Mission Station at Witte Kiel Hoech, South Africa, the native Christians collected £1 11s., and it is pathetic to read how these converts rose up one after another and testified to their gratitude for the Scriptures. The teachers and children of the C.M.S. Orphanage at Nazareth forwarded £4 as a centenary birthday offering. A few members of the Somaliland Field Force sent £15 "A collection made prior to March 6th (Bible Sunday), as by that day we shall be again on track after the Mullah."

CLYDESDALE.

The farmers are busy getting ready for haying.

Mr. William Nugent, the popular agent for the Massey-Harris Co., was in Clydesdale on Tuesday last on business. William is making things hum for the company.

Mr. C. McGreggor, agent for the Deering Co., of Chicago, was in this vicinity last week.

Mr. Nugent says that he has been a long time trying to satisfy the boys of Clydesdale, but he feels quite sure that if they are not satisfied that the young ladies are, as he sold Michael a dandy red geared buggy and Michael is the boy that will not get it soiled with mud.

Mr. Michael Cleary gave a party last Friday night, and it was something gorgeous. Michael did all in his power to entertain his friends.

Mr. Peter Gayley is now erecting a fine new barn.

Mr. John O'Brien and Robert Hynes have returned home from Wilberforce where they were visiting friends for the last week.

Your Children Are Run Down

They Are Liable to Get Fever or Pneumonia. Keep Your Little Ones Strong and Healthy with Ferrozone.

Parents can't afford to neglect the health of their children, for if disease fastens itself on the child of tender years it may be the beginning of a long train of serious sickness. Ferrozone is a remedy that mothers can rely on, and every child will be benefitted by using it. Mrs. Henrietta Laflame of Quebec, writes; "Last year my daughter, aged sixteen, was run down and looked very poorly. She was worrying about her exams, and she didn't feel strong enough to study very hard. I got some Ferrozone and it made a wonderful change in Marie. Ferrozone gave her strength and toned her up splendidly. I am very grateful to Ferrozone and know that children would be much stronger if treated with Ferrozone."

CHILDREN GRO W STRONG ON FERROZONE

Mrs. James E. Devine of Frankford, says Ferrozone has no equal for strengthening children, and writes; "When my little daughter was weak and miserable I gave her one Ferrozone tablet at meals. She improved at once, and before taking Ferrozone a week gained in strength, and enjoyed a splendid appetite. I never used any tonic that gave such quick and permanent results as Ferrozone."

Every child can be made stronger by Ferrozone which acts on the blood and strengthens the entire system. Ferrozone is the sort of tonic that builds up strong healthy frames; it gives a child energy and spirit, and drives away weakness. Every mother should give her children Ferrozone, and give up all obsolete treatments like bitters and cod liver oil, which are hard on a child's stomach. Just one Ferrozone tablet at meals, easy and pleasant to take. Results are sure when you use Ferrozone. Refuse any substitute and insist on having Ferrozone which alone can build up and cure quickly. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Clydesdale has now hired for the summer a new mail carrier. He is a professor at the business, as Punk is a very kindly man.

Referee Henry Wilcocks, of the Mahoney Gayley boxing bout, says he hopes it will soon be pulled off.

Mr. H. Cleary has returned home from the Northwest, and his many friends welcome him back again.

Mr. John Beggs had a sad accident happen to him last Sunday evening or Monday morning rather. On his way home from the high bridge in raining some off the short corners, he punctured his wheel.

OPENING OF THE CANAL

Deputation Waits on the County Council

Headed by the Mayor, They Ask a Grant—A Program Arranged

The day having been definitely set for the important event of opening the lift locks, a deputation from the Town Council and Board of Trade waited upon the County Council, at the sitting yesterday, in order to interest that body in the matter and seek its co-operation and assistance in the getting up and carrying out of a suitable program on the occasion. The deputation consisted of Mayor Roger, Aldermen Best, Rush, and McWilliams, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, Town Clerk, Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, President of the Board of Trade, Mr. R. B. Rogers, Superintending Engineer of the Trent Canal.

The Mayor explained that it was proposed to open the lock on the 9th of next month and that many members of Parliament as well as ministers of the Crown would be present. They would arrive here on a special train on Saturday morning. Both the Council of the Town as well as the Board of Trade attached great importance to such an event and the public were equally interested. It would be an opportunity of giving these gentlemen, as well as the Party in power a realization of the importance of the work which has been going on for some time. The date was close and the time short to prepare a suitable and appropriate program, and united effort should be put forth actively and immediately. He suggested that after the opening ceremony an excursion be run to Lakefield and Lindsay, on the canal, and in this way showing the distinguished visitors as much of the route as possible, with a drive around town afterwards to the different points of interest and the manufactories, and wound up his remarks by asking that body's aid and co-operation in getting up a suitable demonstration.

Mr. R. B. Rogers, the Superintending Engineer, was the next speaker, and endorsed the Mayor's remarks as to its importance as well as the program outlined by him, at least so far as the excursion was concerned. In reply to a question by Mr. Hunter, he said the crowd that would attend the opening might be entertained by the excursion.

Mr. Hughes-Charles was of the opinion that the opening of the lift lock meant a good deal for both the town and county, and all should unite to make the occasion a great success and a thorough demonstration to men in authority as to the importance of the waterway which the event would inaugurate. The County should appoint a committee to co-operate with the Council and Board of Trade and the arrangements carried on in a generous way.

Ald. Best was the next speaker. He stated that the Government representative required information and that a joint committee could arrange this better than any one else. The canal must become the medium for the transportation of the products of both the west and surrounding country.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong pointed out that the interests of the town and country were identical, and when the canal was opened to its outlet it could not fail to be of great benefit to the people of the county, in giving its products a preference.

Mr. McWilliams considered it a chance to convince politicians in the House as to the importance of the canal and overcome the antagonism which existed in certain places.

Ald. Rush thought the occasion an important one, and knew of many outsiders who wanted to come and see the lock and take a trip over the canal.

Mayor Roger added that Lindsay might send a deputation. He had been in communication with the Mayor on the subject. The town had been at some expense in showing strangers the lock, but on a special occasion like this the county should be asked to co-operate.

It was moved by Mr. Fitzgerald, and seconded by Mr. Maloney, that the matter be referred to the Finance committee with power to act, which motion was carried.

Warden Peck expressed pleasure at receiving the visitors. He had been deeply impressed with the importance of the canal, and would do all he could to assist the aims of the deputation.

A THRILLING ACCIDENT

Marvellous Escape of a Trenton Driving Party From Death

Trenton, June 24.—A fearful accident took place on the Frankford road. A Trenton party, of George Hamilton, wife and daughter Annie, F. E. Crouter and wife, Walter Young, wife and daughter Violet, were out driving. They had gone up the east side to Frankfort and were coming home on the west side, enjoying the fine scenery of the river. All at once the drawbolt broke and the team of horses were loosed from the rig. The rig went headlong towards the river and jumped off the perpendicular bank 27 feet through the mid-air to the deep water below, all happening before the could gather their thoughts together. The carriage turned a complete somersault and all found themselves floundering in the water. Mr. Crouter managed to grab a cedar bush with one foot on the rock and managed to get Mr. Hamilton's hand. Mr. Young saw his wife come to the surface and then his baby Violet came up in front of him, taking them to shore. Next Mrs. Hamilton, who was unconscious, was caught by the hair of the head and revived. Mrs. Crouter was somehow fastened in the rig under the water, but managed to free herself and was soon rescued. Little Annie Hamilton, four years old floated down the river with the rig. She was apparently dead and was brought too with difficulty.

The party climed the bank with difficulty, and it was found that Mrs. Hamilton was more severely hurt than any of the rest. She was left for a nearby neighbors over night, and brought to her home on a stretcher the following day. A boat was sent up Monday to secure the rig and while there the bank was measured and found to be 27 feet high. The water also was found to be very deep and this fact probably saved the lives of the party.

Lindsay's Boy a Terrible Sufferer

On Thursday night a lad named Fred Carlin, while in a state of intoxication had an exceedingly narrow escape from death. It appears the young fellow was employed in the cookery of the L., B. & P. Railway construction train, now stationed near town. Carlin came to town that night and started to return about midnight. About 12.30 a Grand Trunk double-header train in charge of Conductor Hayden and Drivers Tutten and Lytle pulled out of Lindsay yard for Belleville, and some time after it had passed Carlin made his appearance at the C.P.R. camp in a pitiable condition, and aroused the men by his cries for aid. Both of his hands were horribly mangled, his head was gashed in several places, and blood was pouring from him in streams. Luckily steam had not gone down in the locomotive, and Conductor Jas. Hott and the engine man brought Carlin to the King street crossing and from that point assisted him to Dr. Shier's office, where morphine was administered to ease his pain. A hack was then secured and Carlin was conveyed to Ross Hospital, where Drs. Shier and Gilleapsie amputated several of the fingers of both hands and sewed up gashes in his head. His hands may be saved, but the medical men are not overly sanguine.

Hastings Star: The new steamer "Sovereign" made its first trip to Hastings on Friday last. It remained here for about an hour and a half and during that time was visited by a large number. Everybody spoke very highly of the boat and bespeak for it a large share of the work. It will be here again on Saturday to convey the lacrosse boys excursion to Peterborough.

High Class Investment

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company. The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a numbea of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district. The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern machinery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company is building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men of integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built.

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will add materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock, the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3.50 to $4.00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developments. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HARRISON,

THE BIG STRIKE IN NOVA SCOTIA

The Dominion Iron and Steel Company Strike

MR. PLUMMER'S STATEMENT

Vice President Refuses to Have any Negotiations with the Union- a Fight to Finish

Sydney, C.B., June 25—For the past two days the Sydney Board of Trade has been endeavoring to bring about an adjustment of the labor difficulty existing between the Dominion Iron and Steel Company and their employes. Yesterday they interviewed Mr. Plummer and to them he submitted a statement which is in effect as follows:

That as the company in his opinion was paying full current rates no increase was justifiable. The rate for laborers is $1.30 and $1.35 per day, the latter being paid to men who have learned the ways of the plant, and being practically open to all steady and industrious workers. The rate for these men last autumn before the cut was $1.40 per day. Comparing laborers and mechanics of all classes Mr. Plummer states that the company's rates are higher than at any place in Nova Scotia outside of Cape Breton or in New Brunswick. Ninety per cent. of the employes, he says, are doing work similar to that done at a dozen places in Nova Scotia, and their wages can be easily compared. The few men who are specialists with no posts in Canada to be compared with are generally paid the same wages as in the United States. In reply to a statement as to the number of low priced men to be employed on the plant, Mr. Plummer said that more than half of the total number of men on pay rolls received $1.50 per day and upwards, and that of these nearly one-half received $2.00 per day and over.

OPERATION OF THE PLANT.

As regards the operation of the plant and the company's policy on this point, it was learned that no definite plans for the closing of the works had been reached. Manufacturing operations had necessarily ceased for want of labor, but the management is satisfied that there are plenty of men willing and anxious to resume work as soon as they are free to do so and that is as soon as the civic authorities take effective steps for the maintenance of law and order. In any case the re-opening of the works would have to go on gradually, so that at best some time must elapse before they are in full swing again. If there is much further loss, it may necessitate some of the works shutting down in the winter, but that, if properly arranged for can be done without disadvantage to the company.

The company's position towards the unions themselves would, however be modified. Hereafter the management will receive only committees of the company's own employes in connection with any question arising on the plant. Inquiry was made as to date on which the rail mill will be ready and it was learned that while much valuable time was being lost, it might still be completed early in the new year.

MOFFAT WOULD NOT TALK.

On Mr Plummer's statement being shown to Mr Moffat, grand secretary of the Provincial Workmen's Association, he declined to discuss it, stating that a meeting of the grand sub-council would be called at once to take it under advisement. Mr Moffat gave a correspondent to understand that the men could not recede from their position as the company desires, clearly to ignore the union, which the men will not tolerate under any condition whatever.

THE STAFF REDUCED.

Fifty per cent. of the employes of the machine shop of the Dominion Coal Company received notice yesterday that their services will be no longer required. The shops employ about 300 men. As a result of the reduction the night shift is dispensed with and the day force reduced one-half. The only explanation given is that the company feels the need of economizing in view of the present heavy cost of mining coal and the cut of dividends.

SIR TASCHEREAU TOOK THE OATH

He was Sworn in as Privy Privy Councillor To-day

CONGRATULATED BY KING

Further Details of Arrest of the Canadian as Spy in Guernsey

London, June 25—In the cable of Tuesday regarding the arrest of a Canadian as a spy in the Channel Islands the name of Mrs. Moss was incorrectly given in place of that of Mrs. F. Morton Morse, of Winnipeg. Stanley Morse, her son, was accused at Guernsey of photographing the secret batteries. The sergeant who arrested him stated that he had been watching Morse for an hour. Morse denied the faintest idea of the existence of any secret batteries. He was detained a short time and then allowed to return to his hotel, where he had scarcely arrived before the sergeant, accompanied by a policeman, came and again arrested him, and brought him before Colonel Campbell, the Lieutenant-Governor.

His mother at once offered to cable Sir Daniel McMillan, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, or Sir Wilfrid Laurier, or Sir Charles Tupper, or several others in Canada, but Governor Campbell never even replied and would not listen to the son's release until the mother would sign a bond to put up £10 bail that the son would not leave the island until the case was investigated.

Mrs. Morse, speaking to the Associated Press, was most indignant at the brutal treatment of her son. The lad is fourteen years of age. Governor Campbell was most discourteous and exceedingly rough in his treatment of herself. She intends to demand an apology from the Governor of Guernsey, through the Canadian Government.

SIR HENRY SWORN IN.

When Sir Henri Taschereau was today being sworn in a Privy Councillor, the Lord Chancellor asked him if he were a Roman Catholic. On Sir Henri replying with an affirmative, the Chancellor said there was a special form for Roman Catholics as well as Protestants who were being sworn in as members of the Privy Council.

King Edward, on Sir Henri Taschereau kneeling to kiss his hand, said, "Rise. Congratulations. Your name is well known to me."

A NEW COUNCILLOR COLLAPSED

It was feared that there was to be a repetition of Sir John Thompson's unfortunate death, as Justice Bruce, who was being sworn in, collapsed and had to be carried to a chair, but he recovered sufficiently to be sworn, King Edward graciously advancing to where Justice Bruce was seated and performing the ceremony.

Sir John Thompson, it will be remembered, was taken ill while at Windsor Castle, when in England, to take the oath of office as Privy Councillor, and died in the Royal Palace.

Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, via Fusan, Corea, June 24.—The Russians are still occupying the towns on the main road in front of Gen. Kuroki's army with a considerable force of men.

Russians from Samimak attacked the Japanese outposts in force yesterday, apparently for the purpose of testing their strength. The Russian force consisted of two regiments of cavalry, one of infantry and one battery of artillery. The enemy were defeated and retreated toward Shintailing. They are supposed to have sustained considerable loss. On the Japanese side Major Kubota was killed and nine men were wounded.

Tokio, June 24.—It is believed that the places made vacant at headquarters by the appointment of Field Marshal Oyama as Commander-in-Chief of forces in Manchuria and his selection of Gen. Kodama as his Chief of Staff will be filled temporarily. This shows that the changes were not connected with the recent Japanese losses as was at first suspected, but that they are an indication of a larger field of operations. The report of the occupation of Liao-Yang by the Japanese is not credited here. It is thought that the report originated with some cavalry raid. Port Arthur is being heavily fortified on the land side. The press believes that a big battle has occurred at Tuchintsz, 14 miles from Port Arthur. The Mail thinks that the position can be turned from Shpington at the end of June, and that Port Arthur will not be attacked before the middle of July.

It is reported that the Russian cruiser Novik is harassing the Japanese on the Pingtou Promontory.

HAVE WE NATURAL GAS?

Indications are That This is a Gas Region

Natural gas in small quantities has been discovered in Eldon township and the Watchman-Warder of Lindsay, publishes some particulars. Our contemporary says

It is an old story, this story of natural gas in Eldon township. Some years ago when it was first found, there was a good deal of excitement about it, and a meeting to see about organizing a company to develop it was called. But like quite a few other meetings in this town to consider big projects it began and ended in the meeting.

But a good many people knew nothing of the matter then, and others have forgotten about it, so it will be no harm to publish what one of the men on whose farm a vein of gas was struck said about it the other day. He was Mr. Gilbert McEachern of the third concession of Eldon who was a juryman at last week's court.

'The first about this gas," said Mr. McEachern, "was heard 12 or 13 years ago, and I guess Mr. Arch McFarlane, who lives across the road from me on lot 17, was digging a well. At 16 feet down and 6 feet in the rock a heavy vein of gas was struck. It was lit and burned for six weeks.

Three or four years later gas was struck at 26 feet in a well being dug in the rock, on the farm of Mr Angus McEachern, who lives about 1 3-4 miles north of Mr McEachern It burned for quite a while.

After that I put off one blast in the rock at the bottom of my well, and uncovered quite a flow of gas.

Last summer Mr. John McFarlane struck a smaller vein in about 4 feet of rock. It burned for a while. All these veins are choked now by water, for the gas will not force its way at all readily through more than 6 or 7 feet of water. When here is less than that you can light the gas, and as the water rises you can notice the flame has a swirling motion as though from the gas coming through the water against pressure. The lower the water gets the stronger is the smell of gas and it smells like the smoke of a locomotive. You can notice the odor in the water all the time a little. There is now 10 feet of water in my well. I am satisfied there is plenty of gas in that neighborhood, and that if capital could be got to work it, it would pay well.

Mr. Henry Hacker, ship builder, of Port Hope, has been advised by the executors that he is the heir to a large fortune in Marmchurch, Eng., through the death of his grandfather some 74 years ago.

At a meeting of those concerned in Port Hope it was decided to take immediate action, and, if necessary, Mr. A. E. Hacker will be sent to England in August to represent his father who is at the present time confined to his bed through the effects of a paralytic stroke. It is estimated that the amount will be about $900,000. Those interested in the matter are his six children Mrs. Wm. Ray, Port Hope; Mrs. Caleb Roney, Port Hope; William Hacker, Midland; Fred C. ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

I desire to call the attention of investors to the

Smuggler Gold Mining Co.'s Proposition

of which I am the authorized agent

Investments in mining stocks where they can be purchased cheaply whose property contains merit and whose directors are men of unquestionable honor and integrity, and especially when sufficient work has been done to guarantee a producing mine and the leads have been demonstrated to be permanent, offer the greatest opportunity for large returns from modern investments.

The shrewdest capitalists of England and America are giving more attention to mining properties and putting more money into them than at any time in the past history of the world.

The Smuggler Group consists of five full sized claims; to-wit:—The Smuggler, Gangon, Black Jack, Star and Red Rock, located in the Greenhorn District of Eastern Oregon. Surrounding mines are Potosi, Pride of Pendleton, Bonanza and Rockefeller, developing work to the extent of 1,000 feet of tunnelling, drifts and crosscuts have been made, exposing hundreds of tons of high grade ore, averaging from $25 to $45 per ton, based on smelter returns, and for the purpose of equipping the mines a limited number of shares of Treasury Stock will be sold at 25 cents per share, the par value of which is $1.00.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 688 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

MALABAR

By Frank H. Sweet

Copyright, 1903, by the S. S. McClure Company

"Do you think Malabar will run?"

The girl did not reply, but her lips began to tremble. The face of the man bending toward her grew dark, but it was the darkness of despair, not of purpose.

"Perhaps if he knew what you have told me." He hesitated. "Malabar is brave and strong and noble. He would not stoop to a small deed."

"I promised him with the new year that he should run for me at the green corn dance. I—I did not know then," looking piteously into the gloomy, delicate face above her. "Malabar would not stoop to a small deed—no. But this is not small. He has let it be known that he will run for me. He would not turn from his purpose a hair's breadth—not if he saw something in front that would crush him. And—and it is right for a great warrior, Ankona, but it is hard."

"We will fly, White Egret, into the deepest fastnesses of the Everglades!" he cried hoarsely. "There are places where even Malabar's relentless arms would be powerless."

But White Egret only looked at him with sorrowful eyes.

"We are Seminoles, Ankona," she rebuked gently. "You know our laws. You would be the last one to break them."

His arm fell back impotent. Yes; he would be the last one to break them.

"Perhaps Malabar will not be proof against the black drink this time," he suggested. "He has killed, and it will be made strong. Others have died. But, no, no! Malabar is a great chief and a better man for the tribe than I. He has tasted the black drink before and will not die."

"You say well, Ankona," broke in a stern, powerful voice, and a figure, dark, towering and implacable, stepped from the gathering shadows. "I shall not fall before the black draft. It would not be a fit ending for a warrior."

White Egret threw back her head and regarded him steadily. Ankona bowed his head.

"You heard all?" he questioned in a strained voice.

"All," calmly. "It was childish prattle. I shall run for the White Egret, for have I not said it, and has she not made her promise? It is only when we forget our promises that we become weak and childish. Ankona is young yet and should be humored. I will let him run the race with me and will give him one-third the distance start as due to his weakness. Now go!"

They went, with a single despairing glance toward each other. Ankona's face was bloodless and set—bloodless with pride crushed, set with foreknowledge of utter inability to cope with this man of iron will and strength. Better be crushed than allowed to exist by sufferance.

Other forms were appearing from the forest—warriors in full headdress and leggings, carrying the guns they had purchased from white traders; squaws with camp equipage, medicine men stalking solemnly and mysteriously, with eyes beat upon the ground; children and dogs, some from the camp on White River bay, some from Okeechobee, some from the shifting camp among the keys—all coming for the great annual green corn dance, where tribal laws were to be made, marriages celebrated and criminals punished.

These criminals were now moving unwatched, unnoticed, in many cases unknown even among the others. Whatever crime they had committed during the year had gone unpunished at the time, but now tribal honor brought them here to expiate their misdeeds. On the morrow they would be placed in closely shut tents and almost suffocated with steam made by pouring water upon hot stones. After that they would drink of the black draft. If they died, they were guilty. On the other hand, if they were strong enough to survive, their innocence would be clearly established. Later the racing for wives would take place.

Malabar was known to every one—revered, feared, honored. All knew that he was to race for a wife and that before the race he was to drink the dreaded black draft. Ordinarily they would have scoffed at such absurdity. If a man drank and lived, it would be a notable proof of strength, but to drink and live and then race for a wife. As to his crime, it was only what any of them would have done if brave enough. He had killed a man! True, but he had been provoked. He must be punished, for that was the law, but they did not wish him harm.

And they all knew Ankona, the gentle one, the dreamer and story maker, and, though none of them revered or feared him, they all had a tender place for him in their hearts. If he could race with White Egret and win her, they would be glad. But Malabar came first, for White Egret herself had made it so.

Malabar was the first who presented himself for punishment. While he was in the closed tent the tribe stood about silent, with eyes furtively watching the point whence the condemned would walk forth innocent or be brought forth guilty.

At length the tent flap was raised, and he staggered out. For a moment he stood there in the sunlight, his hand to his head, swaying blindly. Then they saw him throw his shoulders back with a mighty effort, as one whose will was strong enough to cast off the weight of all things. Slowly he turned away from them and strode into the forest to be by himself. That, too, was Malabar's way.

Not until the maidens were brought forth did Malabar reappear.

"I will race for my squaw at once," he called in a voice that all could hear, "before the White Egret grows weak through waiting, and I shall give her one-half the distance start because she is a woman. Ankona will also enter the race with me, and I will give him one-third the distance because he is but half a man. Let them be placed."

The spectators stared and gasped. Ankona, his rival, to enter the race and to be given one-third the distance, and White Egret, the fleet footed, to be given one-half! No one could win a race thus handicapped. And yet was it not Malabar?

He swept them with his glance.

"I shall win," he said confidently, "because I will have it so."

Ankona had been watching him with baleful eyes. For an instant he drew back as though to spurn the concession. Then, as he saw White Egret being led forward to her place, he hurried to his own position.

And for a brief space after the signal was given and they were speeding on with straining muscles he had a wild, insane belief that he would win.

But only for a brief space. Then came that steady, accelerating, implacable rush behind, drawing nearer and nearer, then opposite, then passing. When three-fourths of the distance had been covered, Malabar was four march paces ahead. Suddenly he turned. White Egret was almost within his reach.

"Stop, Ankona!" Malabar called. "Have I not won?"

Ankona did not answer.

"Have I not won?" sternly.

"Yes, Malabar, you have won," Ankona answered, and his voice was full of a great despair.

"It is well. Now you may go on and catch the girl. Malabar will have no squaw who does not come to him willingly."

And he turned proudly from the race and strode back into the forest.

Encouragement.

She—Yes, I just love dogs! He—Then I'd like to be a dog. She—Never mind; you'll grow.

Russians Expect Great Things From His Assuming the Offensive

Liao Yang, June 22.—For the first time since the beginning of the war General Kuropatkin has taken personal direction of the operations and in consequence of his having assumed the offensive results very different from those following recent events are anticipated.

The tactics of the Japanese are admired here, but their strategy is criticised, especially with regard to the battle of Vafangow, June 14, which most fruitlessly, he called an artillery engagement. During that battle the infantry extended over the field further than the eye could reach, one division covering six miles.

In spite of the fact that up to the present the happenings have caused uneasiness, the possibilities of the southern situation are thoroughly appreciated.

The naval attaches have abandoned their plan to visit Port Arthur and are going to Vladivostock. The military attaches have left for the south ward in anticipation of important developments.

A RARE CHANCE

FOR CANADIAN INVESTORS

THOMAS PATTERSON & CO.

BROKERS, PETERBOROUGH

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

CRIPPLE CREEK ENTERPRISE GOLD MINING COMPANY

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

6. Do you know, that we can prove in black and white that our ore can be treated for $1.25 a ton and save 95 per cent. of its value.
7. Do you know that our neighbors produced last year $5,000,000.
8. Do you know that by their experience we profit, and can in one year be listed among them as a paying property.

MAY MEAN CIVIL WAR

Trouble in Australia Over Chinese Labour Problem

London, June 25.—In Australia there is a bitter dispute between the commonwealth government and the state government of South Australia, which some of the politicians concerned declare as the germ of civil war.

Previous to the establishment of the commonwealth it was the practice of the state government to furnish Chinese persons desirous of revisiting their native country and proceeding beyond the confines of the state in which they lived, letters of exemption from the local laws prohibiting the entrance of Chinese emigrants into the state. The other day the steamer Changlu arrived at Port Darwin with nine Chinese carrying letters of exemption granted by the South Australian government prior to the inauguration of the coming commonwealth, but the customs officers refused to recognize the validity of the documents and telegraphed to Melbourne for instructions.

Mr Hughes, the new Labor Minister of External Affairs, sustained the local officials and ordered the Chinese to be deported. But there Mr. Jenkins the South Australian Premier, stepped in and sending state police forcibly brought the Chinese ashore The court of the colony now has the matter in hand, but the bitterness is growing, and there is much talk about states rights on the one side, while the labor party advocates the abolition of all state governments and boundaries.

DIVISION NOT FAIR

Government Grants to Agricultural Societies to be Altered

It will be of interest to many in Peterborough and elsewhere to learn that, owing to dissatisfaction expressed in regard to the present method of distributing the Ontario government grant to agricultural societies, Mr. H. B. Cowan, superintendent of that department, has been investigating the work being done by the various societies in the province Some glaring discrepancies have been discovered. One society receiving a grant of $380 paid out $2,410 for agricultural purposes, while another society receiving a grant of $800 paid out only $1,488. A third society receiving a grant of $600 distributed only $640 for agricultural exhibits. A still more glaring inconsistency is afforded in the case of Nottawasaga Township Fair, which received a government grant of $80, but paid out $1,019 for agricultural purposes, while a leading district society in eastern Ontario receiving a grant of $800 paid out only $1,125 for agricultural prizes. Many of the township societies which are receiving considerably smaller grants than the district societies are, it has been discovered, doing much better work.

This information, it is felt, strongly supports the stand taken by the officers of some of the township societies who are advocating that the government grant should be distributed to the societies in proportion to what is actually spent on agricultural work.

ISLAND OF SAKHALIN.

WHERE EXILES TO RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT ARE CONFINED.

Chance for Japanese to Liberate Convicts Who Have Plotted Against the Czar—The Siberian System.

Japanese naval victories have already demoralised Russia's exile system, and they soon might deal it a staggering blow by throwing open its chief Siberian prison. After sinking a few more Muscovite ships Japan would be able to land troops on the convict island of Sakhalin, just north of the Japanese archipelago, and release the 40,000 men and women imprisoned there, says the New York Tribune of recent date. Once free, the murderers, traitors, nihilists and revolutionists who compose the population would be able at last to avenge themselves to some small degree upon the government which has doomed them to a living death.

The convict island is situated at the northern end of the Japan sea, like the keystone of an arch. Southwest is the Asiatic coast of the Russian-Siberian province of Amoor and the seaport of Vladivostok. Southeast, across a narrow strait, lies the Japanese island of Yezo. Although 600 miles long, Sakhalin is so narrow that it has the shape of a pickerel on the map. In area it is equal to the state of South Carolina; in climate it may be likened to southern Greenland or northern Norway. If dug up and laid down on the Atlantic coast, between the same parallels of latitude, it would stretch from Bangor, Me., to central Labrador.

To this cold, inhospitable, remote part of the earth Russia banishes her worst enemies of state. When a peasant commits an atrocious murder the penalty is Sakhalin. When a bank teller embezzles a fortune he is doomed to exile in Sakhalin. Should some high official prove a traitor to his government, he exchanges his splendid St. Petersburg drawing rooms for the log huts of Sakhalin.

There was a secret military conference between Russia and France a little more than a year ago, when the two powers agreed on a mode of attack on Germany should either nation go to war with the kaiser. Not long afterward it was discovered that Germany by some mysterious means had learned the stratagem. Col. Grimm, a trusted Russian officer, was suspected of treachery, and in the face of indisputable evidence he confessed himself a traitor. It was estimated that the changes in fortifications made necessary by his treachery cost the Russian government $5,500,000. Yet he was not hanged or shot. His fate was worse. He was banished to Sakhalin.

Since Russia has completed the continental railroad across her Asiatic domain she has sought to change the character of Siberia from a penal colony to a great industrial province. She has endeavored to wipe out the wretched associations which haunt the name of Siberia because of its past, and which has stunted its growth. As long as Russia continued to found penal settlements within this region, to which were condemned murderers as well as refined men and women banished thither because of their political views, voluntary immigration into Siberia from the congested parts of Russia amounted to little or nothing. For the reason that the convict settlements were adjacent to towns, a Russian citizen of good standing had no desire to emigrate to such a community, where his family must needs associate with the outcasts of society.

Accordingly, Russia in recent years has been sending her chief offenders to the far distant island of Sakhalin. The war, however, has put a stop to further deportation of convicts to the island. If Russia attempts to send her convicts by ship, as was once her custom, from the Black sea port of Odessa, the Japanese warships will hold them up somewhere along the Pacific coast. If she sends them by railroad to Vladivostok, the mikado's ships are likely to capture them after they have been put on board ships for the island.

Russia began sending exiles to Siberia in the middle of the seventeenth century, instead of branding them with hot irons, impaling them on hooks, cutting out their tongues or amputating their limbs, as she had done before. In the middle of the eighteenth century the Muscovites abolished capital punishment, and, instead of executing their worst criminals, they banished them to Asiatic Russia. They populated vast tracts with sparsely scattered colonies of convicts. Between the years 1823 and 1827 nearly 800,000 men and women were torn from their homes in Europe and driven in faraway Siberian settlements.

—Arrangements have been completed with the railways for dingleface from all points to Peterborough on the 12th of July. Tickets will be good on the afternoon of the 11th to the 13th.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,800 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 325 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,494 to 2,694, a decrease of 799, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20.000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Consumption Can Be Cured

A Powerful and Effective Destroyer o Disease Germs Discovered Which Cures Consumption.

The ravages of consumption which for years have terrorized the modern world will no longer continue to cut off our population by thousands. Science has at last produced a remedy which not only can be readily applied to the lungs, but also kills every trace of bacilli in the throat, bronchial tubes, and air passages of all the breathing organs.

The name of this marvellous antiseptic about which the doctors are talking so much is Catarrhozone, the combined air cure. The vapor is more soothing than the air of pine woods, and its healing properties are without limit.

Through a skilfully devised inhaler the sufferer is enabled to breathe this fragrant medicated vapor into the most minute air cells of the lungs. It is so destructive to microbe life that the tubercular germs are rapidly killed and prevented from ever returning. Congestion and inflammation are relieved, coughing stops, all disagreeable symptoms are quickly cured by Catarrhozone.

So simple is Catarrhozone that anyone can use it. So certain to cure lung and throat troubles that it is prescribed by not less than twenty thousand doctors in United States and Canada. One well known authority who has made a life long study of consumption, has the following to say; "Catarrhozone is certainly a true specific for white plague. I find that its healing vapor readily spreads all through all the breathing organs passing over probably not less than one thousand square feet of mucous surface at a single inhalation. It is a perfect germicide and destroys tubercular germs with wonderful certainty. Catarrhozone is entitled to rank among this great medical discoveries of the age."

No matter how often you have been disappointed with other remedies you must not be discouraged. In Catarrhozone you will find new hope. What it has done before it can do again. Your case is not worse than others it has cured. Therefore if properly used you can also be cured by Catarrhozone. Two months treatment $1.00. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont. Refuse any substitute for Catarrhozone—only the genuine can cure.

Died in Michigan

The remains of the late Mr. Chamley, of Dummer, who died in Michigan, was brought here on the C. P. R. train on Saturday and taken to his late residence, in the above named township. Deceased left last fall to visit his son in Michigan, and while there was taken ill and died. He was in the neighborhood of 75 years of age.

Saturday's Market

The market on Saturday was smaller than usual, the farmers, no doubt, being busy at this particular time of the year. There were quite a number of barries, considering the sparse attendance, but fowl were scarce. Potatoes were cheaper than usual. Eggs brought 10 per dozen. Butter 18c per pound. Strawberries three boxes for a quarter dollar. Chickens 75 cents per pair and potatoes 65 cents per bag.

St. John's Garden Party

This event, which is to take place this evening, the 27th inst., should be one of enjoyment to the people of St. John's and their friends. The band of the 57th will play a choice selection of music and refreshments will be provided. The party is to take place on the beautiful church grounds, which will be fittingly decorated for the occasion. Admission to the grounds 10 cents. Refreshments extra.

Samuel Seabrook Dead

The young son of Mr. Samuel Seabrook, on the boundary-line between Smith and Monaghan Townships passed to the silent majority on Friday night, after an extended illness. Deceased was in the neighborhood of 17 years of age, and his sufferings partook of the nature of nervous trouble. The funeral will take place this afternoon. Interment at the Little Lake Cemetery.

More Houses Needed

The demand for good medium-priced houses is pretty brisk at present. One agent remarked yesterday, "I have only four on my list and one is a very high-priced house." Another real estate man said, "There has been quite an improvement of late. We have fewer houses on our list now than on May 1st." Other agents stated that considering the number of people staying at the summer resorts there were not many vacant residences for this time of the year.

Arrested for Theft

Some time ago Chief of Police Rousel received a notification from the authorities at Toronto, saying a warrant was out for a man named Lethangue alias Perry, for stealing $125 from a roommate, and intimating that from something found in the room they had reason to believe he hailed from Peterborough. Yesterday the party was arrested and is now in custody awaiting the coming of an officer who will be here to-day, to take him back to Toronto for trial.

FLOWER SUNDAY IN GEORGE ST. CHURCH

Handsome Floral Decorations and Large Attendance

Retiring Pastor Presented with an Address by the Scholars of the Sabbath School

Yesterday was Flower Sunday in the George Street Methodist Church and right royally was it observed, both as regards the profusion of flowers and the number in attendance. The altar was, we might say, one mass of flowers and a large cross erected behind the pulpit, was completely covered by bouquets brought by members of the Sabbath school for the occasion. In fact there were flowers and foliage almost without end, all placed so as to produce the most pleasing effect whilst every available seat was occupied by interested members and adherents of the church. It was Mr. Wilson's last Sunday morning service as pastor, and if the attendance is a true indication of his popularity—and doubtless it is—his people is parting with him with very great regret.

The services were shorter than usual but were none the less impressive on that account, the responsive reading of the lesson and the repeating of the creed and Lord's Prayer being heartily entered into by all, while the singing, which included the Hymns "Oh Worship the King," "Stand Up for Jesus" and "Bind Us Together With Love," called forth a volume of sweet sound not often heard in the churches of the land.

Before commencing his remarks—which were addressed more particularly to the members of the Sunday school—one of the juniors, on behalf of that organization, read the following address to the pastor.

Rev. J. P. Wilson

Dear Pastor,—As this is the last session of the Sunday school of this church, which you will attend as its pastor, the members of the school—officers, teachers and pupils—desire to thank you for the great interest you have shown in the work of the school. You have shared the work of the officers and teachers, being always ready and willing to do everything you could to relieve their anxieties or to lighten their burdens. Your timely and wise counsel and your active assistance, have made their duties lighter and their labors more successful. You have always shown a kind and kindly interest in the pupils from the oldest to the youngest and in this way have made the school brighter for us and it has done us more good. We like to see the pastor in the school for while the Sunday school is one of the regular church services at the morning or evening services you seem to belong to the older people rather than to us but at the afternoon services which is better adapted for children, you are more especially ours. We have been greatly pleased to see you Sunday after Sunday with very few exceptions with us in the afternoon and taking part in the school, and while we thank you from our hearts for this we are sorry that the time has come when you must leave us and give your time and attention to another school. But while we cannot in the future share with others your time and attention, we believe we will still retain a share of your interest and love and we will always remember you with gratitude, pray for the welfare of yourself, Mrs. Wilson and your family and welcome you heartily whenever you can come to see us.

Rev. Mr. Wilson replied briefly, thanking the members of the school and assured them that it was a surprise to him as he had not expected anything of the kind, and disclaimed any credit on his part, as he had only done his duty to them and sometimes not even done that. He was not sentimental, and while appreciating the remarks of his young friends and the school, he felt that he had not done as much as he ought or might have done.

This was Sunday School day. They had something like 1,000 persons in the work. It was a glorious work and one in which there was now engaged about twenty-six millions. He referred to the cross covered with flowers, but it had been covered with glory by Christ's death, whom God has highly exalted. He then went on to draw lessons from the presence of the flowers. They were beautiful and clean and boys and girls should be equally so, and should be clean and pure in their habits and not like some boys he had noticed one evening lately at the C. P. R. station, all of whom were smoking cigarettes. He also tried to dispel the thought that Jesus never smiled by instancing God's gifts to men and women, amongst which were the flowers and sunshine, and these represented God's smiles and are all given to show his love for us, and it was a great mistake to be afraid of our heavenly father. No one was afraid of their earthly parents. He next went on to show how the flowers grew and the juicy bulk which was doing the work at the root, boys or girls didn't know how they grew, but all did grow if they followed the laws of health. He next spoke of beauty in which the flowers were decked, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of them. He liked to see clean and pure children. Edison had made a talking doll, but what were talking dolls to nice bright, pure children! He showed the effect of being cross and ill-natured by referring to a boy whose attention had been called to his disagreeable look, while in temper and showed that neither our earthly nor our heavenly parents ever forget their kindness to us, but sin makes us afraid of them, Adam hid when he did wrong, so do we, but God is ever kind and just to forgive us our sins if we only ask his forgiveness. It is God who gives every good and perfect gift and that even the flowers only be of use and have lessons to impart as some of them had done, in the case of Mungo Park by imbuing him with fresh courage when lost in the desert of Africa. He then took leave of the school, his words being "God bless you."

They are Pleased

Several readers of The Times called at the office on Saturday to say how pleased they were to see that the Lime Juice Club is again to the fore. Our Junior Reporter, who attends to this department, desires the public to understand that the record of the proceedings at the Hall of Wisdom will be faithfully reported in the columns of this great family journal, regardless of the consequences. The president has agreed to protect this staff from damages in the way of libel suits and from all personal physical chastisements whatsoever.

TEARFUL OR CHEERFUL?

Whether a woman is tearful or cheerful depends not on what she has materially, but what she is physically. Many an indulgent husband is driven almost to despair by the tearful outburst of a wife who has "everything she wants." He wants to know what's the matter. But the wife can't tell. She only knows that she is depressed and despondent.

Such a condition is usually related to some form of womanly disease.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN
WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhœa, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Mrs. Alice Adams, of Laboratory, Washington Co., Pa., says: "With many thanks I write to let you know how I am. I can say by God's help and your help I am well. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I can do all my work. I can't praise your medicine too highly. I will recommend your medicines as long as I live. If any one wishes I will give them my address."

Success of Canadian Girl

It is no small compliment that has been bestowed upon Miss Zella May Irwin, in the appointment received by her as superintendent of the McAllister Hospital in Waukegan, Illinois, but one for which she is in every way competent. Miss Irwin, who is a daughter of Mr. Thos. C. Irwin, of Stewart street, is a gold medalist graduate of the Hamilton City Hospital, and at the termination of her course there, came home and spent some time with her parents and friends. Some time ago she went to Chicago, where she was engaged at professional nursing. She was strongly recommended for her present position and entered upon her duties there some two weeks ago. Miss Irwin's many friends here will be pleased to hear of her well deserved promotion.

A BRAVE CANADIAN FOUGHT FOR JAPS

A Montrealer Seriously Wounded at Yalu River-- He Rescued a Companion

Montreal, June 25.—The Star publishes the following letter from Mr. W. J. Dahlton, which is dated Antung, May 6:

"I have been through my first battle, and my sensations for the greater part of the time beggar description. I am in a hospital but expect to be out again in a week or ten days, so that you may judge that I was not very seriously wounded. I forgot to tell you that I was unfortunate enough to be hit twice, and owe the fact of my being alive at all to my friend Ferguson, who, by the way, is a Canadian from the same place as yourself, Montreal, but he has served with the American forces, having been with the Ass or Battery, of New York, in the Philippines. Now, I don't propose to bore you with an account of the whole fight, as you have probably read more than I could tell you about it, but will confine myself to what happened to the battery I was with. After undergoing our share of the previous four days work we crossed the Yalu the night of April 30th, and took up position in the early morning, and, at daylight proceeded to shell with the other batteries, the Russian position, but without being able to draw their fire. After a few minutes of this, as we got no response, our infantry line started to advance across the open to the river. They advanced in short dashes and had got nearly across when the Russians opened fire. The effect was terrible. We could see great gaps all along the line. It stopped them for a minute, but only a minute, and on they went again. After the infantry crossed we went on up the bank of the river and took up another position. After the fight has lasted some time, I don't know how long, as I had lost all track of time, an order came for the right half of our battery—to which Ferguson was attached, and I got permission to accompany—to take up a position away off to the right on a plateau, and dislodge a party of Russians who had taken up a position on the side of a hill covered with bushes and were doing some damage to our troops by a flanking fire which they were maintaining.

"Well, I don't know whether our captain (a little Jap named Asuka) had misunderstood his orders, or whether we moved too fast for our support, but when we got there and came into action, we found ourselves absolutely unsupported and practically isolated. However, that did not seem to bother our captain, as we immediately started to shell their position. We had barely started when we found that we were within rifle range and also within range of a battery of field guns. However, the Japs are nothing if not plucky, so we stuck to it. It was then that I regretted having come. But as I was there I had to stay.

BURSTING SHELLS.

"Almost their first two shells burst among the caissons, killing or wounding nearly all the horses. Our fire seemed to be very effective as we could see the shells bursting right over their position, and their fire was slackening. In the meantime we were losing heavily, as we were altogether exposed to both the rifle and shell fire. Then one of their shells burst right under a gun putting it completely out of action, killing or wounding all the men about it. A minute or two after that I was hit by a rifle bullet through the left shoulder. Then we had another gun partially disabled and the men were still going down fast.

FERGUSON WAS HIT.

"Ferguson came over to bandage my shoulder and while doing it was himself hit in the calf of the leg by a bullet, but went on with the bandaging, merely saying: 'That's one for me,' and had just finished when a shout from one of the men drew our attention to a troop of Cossacks who were coming at us, a few hundred yards away. Then as there was not more than fifteen of us left standing, we got the order to take cover, viz., run. I had just time to run when another bullet struck me in the hip and brought me up sharp. Ferguson not knowing that I was hit again, and, evidently thinking that I did not want to leave the guns, called to me: 'Come on, no heroics about staying with the guns.' When I told him that I was hit again, he came back and with his help I managed to hobble some distance, but soon gave out. I told him to go on and never mind me, and he told me not to be 'a-d—d ass,' and lifted me up and tried to carry me, but as I am not very light and his own legs must have been bothering him, he soon had to put me down again.

CHASED BY COSSACKS.

"The Cossacks had divided up and were almost up to us, and we could see that they did not intend to take any prisoners, when a sharp volley knocked one of them over and our support was coming up at last, but the other two came right on. Ferguson fired a couple of shots at them from his revolver without any apparent effect, and fired the next one point blank in the leading horse's face and then went down horse and rider on top of him. Then I must have fainted, what with the strain of the last few moments and the pain from my wounds, I must have collapsed all at once, for the next thing that I remember I was in the field hospital.

THE LOSS WAS HEAVY.

"I have been told since that from the time we opened fire on the plateau, until our supports arrived, not twenty minutes had elapsed, but it seemed to me like hours.

FERGUSON BADLY HURT.

"I have been making inquiries about Ferguson this morning, and the doctors tells me that he is getting along nicely, but it would be months before he would be fit for service again, and as he has been told so, he has asked to be retired, and will leave for home as soon as he can be moved, which the doctor says will be in about a fortnight. His worst injury is his back, which was hurt by the horse falling on him, and has caused partial paralysis of the legs, besides which he has a broken wrist, a wound in the leg, and a cut in the side, that he must have got from the Cossack as he fell. I expect to be able to get about a bit in a couple of days and will be able to see him myself.

"I am told that during the twenty-minutes we lost eight killed and fifteen wounded."

AN AUTUMN ELECTION

The Ross Ministry may Test the Country on the Prohibition Issue

The Toronto News says: A gentleman who was present at the meeting of the Peterborough Baptist churches, in session last week at Belleville, and who arrived in the city to-day, stated that at yesterday morning's meeting, during a discussion on the temperance question, Rev. Mr. Bustow, of Peterborough, declared that he was told a few days ago by Hon. J. R. Stratton that it was the intention of the Ross Government to go to the country next fall in the interests of prohibition.

A MONTREAL SENSATION

French Priest Says People are Leaving Catholic Church

Montreal, June 25.—At Notre Dame Cathedral a sensation was created by the sermon preached by the Rev. Abbe Brosseau, whose utterances are accepted as coming from the heads of the Roman Catholic church in the Province of Quebec. Abbe Brosseau told his congregation that a crisis had arrived in the relations of the French-Canadian people and their clergy which must be faced now. He said there was a tendency among the people to break away from the influence of the church. This condition would have to be met by the creation of greater harmony between the clergy and people, and it was with that object that the Archbishop was now working. In these days of material and intellectual development and social progress the people had come to the view that the priesthood was not keeping pace with them.

Rival Armies Eager for Decisive Fight.

Pressing to on to Battle Before the Rains Set in—Kouropatkin and Kuroki are Each Advancing, and May Even Now be Engaged—Severe Fighting is Reported to be in Progress Near the Village of Ton Chen.

Ta Tche Kiao (between Kai Chou and Hai Cheng, Liao Tung Peninsula) June 28.—A great battle seems to be impending. A portion of the Russian army has assumed the offensive against the Japanese forces, commanded by General Oku, and it is reported that General Kuroki is moving along the Russian left flank against Hai Cheng.

According to a high placed personage, General Kuroki's army is strong enough to take the offensive, and he presumably is anxious for a decisive action before the rains begin.

HAS THE BATTLE BEGUN?

Sharp firing was heard in the hills yesterday at daybreak and severe fighting is reported to be in progress near the village of Ton Chen. An officer who galloped in yesterday evening reported that the Russians were gaining the upper hand and driving back the enemy. This, however, has not yet been confirmed.

WENT SINGING TO THE FIGHT.

All day yesterday Russian troops were hurrying southward from Ta Tche Kiao and as night fell battalions were continuously moving out briskly to the accompaniment of their battle songs. Clouds of dust hung over the marching columns, and the chorus of the infantry singers was occasionally interrupted by the rattle and clank of guns drawn at a smart trot and followed by galloping squadrons of cavalry. It was a stirring spectacle to see the Russian army eagerly hastening, singing into battle. The old battle hymns, last heard in the Balkans, resounded among the hills and villages, as with bayonets glittering in the setting sun, the regimental colors were borne majestically forward. For hours after darkness fell over the scene one could hear the rattle of moving guns, the creaking of commissariat wagons and the tread of marching men, while occasionally, in place of the war songs of the soldiers, homely melodies recounting the joys of village life, which carried the minds of the men back to their distant homes in Russia echoed through the air.

As this despatch is filed news has reached here that General Kuroki is marching upon Hai Cheng.

There are very many military attaches and newspapers correspondents here.

NEWS FROM JAPANESE SIDE.

General Kuroki's headquarters in the field, via Fusan, June 27.—(Delayed in transmission)—A party of eighteen correspondents and military attaches has been conducted on a tour of the main Japanese works beyond headquarters. That the greatest care has been taken in building them, the attaches remarked, temporary defences having been constructed with more pains than most European armies would take under similar circumstances.

At Liao Yang, where it was hitherto thought the first meeting between the armies in force would occur, the Russians have guns in position mounted on the city wall, and trenches on the plains south of the city extending over an area of 180 degrees. These trenches are so constructed that they can be flooded during the rainy season. Recent rains indicate the beginning of the wet season, when military movements upon a large scale will be greatly handicapped, and perhaps rendered impossible for months or more.

The Japanese are completing arrangements for transporting whereby facilities for the supply of the army will be assured regardless of weather conditions.

RUSSIA EXPECTS BIG THINGS.

St. Petersburg, June 27—Not since the war began has such an air of excitement pervaded the War Office and Admiralty as to-day. The news received during the next few days is expected to largely determine the fate of the present campaign on land and sea. The spirits of the Russians have appreciably risen at the prospect that after all the sortie of the squadron of Rear Admiral Withoft (in command of the naval forces at Port Arthur), while it may have resulted in the loss of some of the Russian ships has been successful. A despatch from Che Foo this morning says that a Chinese junk reports having seen two big Japanese warships and several torpedo boats damaged on Friday near Port Arthur. This strengthens the belief here that a great sea fight has occurred, and that the Japanese who alone are able through wireless telegraphy to be in constant communication with their base, are withholding the news. If the Vladivostok squadron is at sea with the purpose of affecting a juncture, as is generally believed, with the Port Arthur squadron, its appearance on the scene could easily turn the scale in favor of the Russians.

Some unusually well informed personages at the War Office, are bold enough to say, in a report received this morning by the Bourse Gazette, of the hasty retirement of General Oku, evidence that the Japanese fleet has suffered a reverse and that the communication of this intelligence to Oku, with the accompanying threat that his base at Pitsewo may be attacked, compelled his withdrawal.

KUROPATKIN IS IN COMMAND.

All direct news from the east side indicates an immense and decisive battle near Ta Tche Kiao. According to reliable advice, General Kuropatkin is there personally in command. The presence of the military attaches and newspaper correspondents is also significant. Kuropatkin's purpose seems to be to try to prevent the juncture of General Oku's and General Kuroki's armies. The outposts are in touch all along the line.

If Kuroki has met Kuropatkin's offensive move southward against Oku by an advance on Hai Cheng, ad advices from Ta Tche Kiao say, the Russian commander-in-chief seems to be seriously endangered unless he retires or is strong enough to prevent [illegible] enemy. Kuroki was only 14 miles from the Russian army yesterday, according to a despatch from the front, and the three armies are so close together that a decisive battle appears to be inevitable.

SIBERIANS SAVED THE DAY.

London, June 27.—Officers arriving at New Chwang from the front say that the battle fought on Thursday at Simen Ting, about 40 miles east of Kaiping, was the hardest blow the Russians have yet received. The Muscovites lost, according to these accounts, 16,000 in killed and wounded, missing and prisoners. That the Russian retreat did not turn into a rout was due to the dolled bravery of the men of the Ninth East Siberian Rifle Brigade, under General Koudratovitch, who covered the flying troops, contesting every inch of the way.

BRIDGENORTH'S BIG FIRE

Mr. W. D. Kelly's Saw Mill Destroyed Yesterday

Very Serious Loss to the Community and to Bridgenorth Village Will to be Rebuilt.

It is with much regret that we are called upon to chronicle a serious fire in Bridgenorth, and which besides the loss occasioned by the blaze, will throw a number of men out of employment for the time being. The property destroyed is the large sawmill of that village, which was owned by Mr. W. D. Kelly. The fire started about one o'clock, it is supposed from the engine, and the flames spread with great rapidity. A bucket brigade was formed, as the mill was situated near the river. The hundred or so of willing hands had plenty of water, and a gallant fight was made to get it under control, and more than two hours elapsed before they had so far succeeded as to confine it to the building in which it started. Peterborough was telephoned for to go to the assistance of the village, which at one time seemed to be in engine being out of repair the department was unable to render any assistance. However about three o'clock, it was noticed that the work of the men was having its effect and the threatened danger was passed. Had the wind been blowing hard at the time much more damage would have undoubtedly been done. It is a serious loss to both Mr. Kelly and the village, as it was the busiest time of the year, and will have the effect of laying off several hands for some time.

The fire occurred at a time when the men were just returning from the mid-day meal and no time was lost in getting to work in the endeavor to stay its progress, and all worked with a will. The mill is said to have been excellently equipped, about $2,000 worth of new material have been installed recently. This is the third time Mr. Kelly has suffered loss in the same way, and the whole people of the village will sympathize with him all the more on that account.

There was little fire protection at the mill hence the resort to pails. It is regretted that the town could render no assistance.

A later report says that the dwelling of one of the men, Joseph Young, situated near the mill, was also consumed.

The mill was only partially covered by insurance.

We understand it is Mr. Kelly's intention to rebuild as soon as possible.

MR JOHN BERTRAM ILL

Tour of Transportation Commission Has Been Suspended

The members of the Transportation Commission intend leaving Toronto on Saturday for Fort William, Port Arthur and Winnipeg, but their visits have had to be postponed on account of the illness of the Chairman, Mr John Bertram, who has been confined to his house for five or six days with some form of indigestion, caused by overwork.

This prevents the enquiry from being carried on. It is to be hoped that Mr. Bertram's illness will be of short duration and that the Transportation Commission can before long continue. Mr. Bertram's physicians state that while his illness is not dangerous, complete rest for a short time is absolutely necessary.

PETERBOROUGH BOY ROBBED

Wells & Emmerson's Shop at Port Arthur Entered by Thieves

The Emmerson referred to in the following despatch is Mr. J. T. Emmerson, a former resident of Peterborough.

Port Arthur, June 26. — A burglary effected an entrance to Wells & Emmerson's hardware store last night and stole between thirty and forty dollars in cash, a revolver, cartridges and other articles. Entrance was gained by a rear window. The task was made comparatively easy by reason of their being no lights after 1 o'clock, the power plant being shut down at that hour to make repairs.

THE JIM LEWIS CLUB

Valuable Pointer as to How to Get a Quorum

The Times is in receipt of the annual report of the President of the Jim Lewis Club, kindly sent by Mr. E. M. Taylor, of St. Louis, who has many friends and acquaintances in Peterborough. The report says.

"I have had great difficulty in obtaining a quorum of the committee whose duty it is to determine where and when the annual outing or fish fry shall take place. Several attempts were made and each proved a failure. Our very worthy terra chaplain, Edward M. Taylor, suggested in a recent letter as follows:

"'I am informed that you have not been able to obtain a quorum. Now Mr. President, I have repeatedly urged you to have all committee meetings held in a saloon, and then you can always be absolutely sure of having a quorum.

This came to us as a ray of sunshine; we adopted his suggestion, and to our utter surprise, it was a complete success, thanks to Brother Taylor.

Amongst the officers, besides President, Secretary and Treasurer, are the following: E. M. Taylor, Chaplain; John O'Barrett, Cork Extractor; J. J. Reycraft, M.D., Resuscitator; C. B. Stevenson, Truthful Narrator; George E. Reycraft, Official Liar; James B. Hayden, Punster; A. Miller, Cater to the Press; W. H. McCurdy, Fish Stringer; M. W. Jack, Worm Feeder; J. A. Monroe, Bait Inspector; B. F. Givens, Grasshopper Catcher; John Wertz, Frog Catcher; James H. Sprague, Water Agitator, and W. J. Robie, Wind Shifter.

Before the meeting adjourned the Club Bearer rendered "De Clickin' ob de Reel," which we cannot resist presenting to you because it is music to the ears of all the followers of "Sir Izaak," and calls into kindly remembrance the name of Eugene Field.

MISTCHENKO SAYS HE ATTACKED JAP'S ADVANCE

Oku Withdrawing -- Attempt to Join Gen Kuroki's Force Has Been Abandoned

St. Petersburg, June 27—Major-General Mistchenko, commander of the Eastern Cossack Brigade, according to the reports received at the War Office, dated Friday, attacked the Japanese advance posts on the Siuyen Tatchekiao Road, resulting in a sharp engagement, in which artillery was brought up, and the Japanese forward movement was arrested. On this road the Cossacks lost seven men killed and three officers and eleven men wounded.

The position of General Kuroki's men on the Siuyen Kaichau Road is unchanged. General Oku's army continues to advance from Seauchen, travelling six miles per day, and marching in order of battle, evidently expecting momentarily an attack from the Russians.

A Russian correspondent with Major-General Mistchenko's division says:

On the night of June 23rd the Cossacks were unable to remove seven wounded men, and they were all slaughtered before the eyes of their comrades. The Japanese afterwards indulged in mutilations. The important engagement expected south of Hai Cheng have been delayed, thanks to General Mistchenko's successful operations. General Rennenkampff has reoccupied Siamastza. The Japanese are keeping a large force at Kwandiansian. The Russian losses of two divisions at the battle of Vafangow total 2,786 men."

MET TO SAY FAREWELL

Members of Congregation and Friends Have Good Words to Say of Rev. Mr. Wilson

Presented Him with a Purse of Money--He Spoke Feelingly of His Regret at Leaving and Complimented the Press of the Town on Its Ability and High Moral Tone.

The social meeting in connection with the George Street Methodist church was in the lecture room on that charge last evening to say farewell to their pastor, the Rev. J. P. Wilson, who leaves for his new field of labor at Belleville, on Thursday, and to give him a kindly send off.

The attendance was large, and many earnest and appreciative words were uttered as to the good work done by him during the four years which he had been their pastor, and all seemed to regret his departure from their midst. The proceedings were somewhat delayed, owing to the absence of Mr. Dimble, who was expected to take the initiative in conducting the meeting, but who was unfortunately prevented from being present. The interval was not, however, by any means tedious as several hymns were sung, as well as a couple of solos, and an occasion for a few minutes visiting and general conversation.

Mr. Ayres then took charge and the proceedings were commenced, when the Rev Mr. Wilson was invited to the platform, and in a few brief, but feeling remarks presented with a purse of money on behalf of the congregation, both Messrs. Ayres and Jameson, who made the presentation, speaking feelingly and enthusiastically, assuring him the gift was not given because of its value but as a parting token of their good wishes towards and as an appreciation of the work he had done amongst them. They would gladly keep him if they could, but when some of the former ministers left they had thought they would never get another whom they could think as much of, but others had come and gone and others and still others, and they always thought the same, but they are good fellows generally, and if the new man is backed up by the congregation and was doing the Master's work he would be liked. They never knew a better man than Mr. Wilson. Now he was going away and they could only wish him God speed and trust that the Lord would prosper him in his work in his new field. The church board some time ago passed a resolution. That resolution was a just and true one, and they regretted that they did not have it with them so that he could read it to those present. Some resolutions were only matters of form. The one referred to was not one of that kind, and four years is not a long time and Mr. Wilson may come back, and they wanted him to know that if he did he would come back among friends.

Mr. Wilson replied to the address fittingly, though he said he hardly knew what to say as he was not used to this kind of thing. Such events compensated the minister to some extent for the wandering life they led in the ministry. It was no easy thing to sever ties which were firmly bound, especially when getting on in years, and he thanked them for the kindness they had ever shown him in Peterborough. Mrs. Wilson was the one who would feel the parting most. Her associations were formed and it was hard to transplant old trees. He spoke of his family, how they had grown up in the four years, until his son was now taller than he is. His little girl is little no longer. And he had seen others in the congregation do likewise. Mr. Wilson said a high compliment to the press of Peterborough; referred to the excellent reports of the late conference and said they were as good as many of the reports in city papers of similar events. The members of the fourth estate deserved well of the people of the town and he regretted that he overlooked them in his Sunday evening sermon. They had always treated him kindly and he would ever have a warm corner in his heart for the papers. They are clean and pure, and tend to further the interests of morality. He was sorry to leave Peterborough, but the time had come, when, as the boys express it, we must get a "move on." I have given you the best I have, and you have given the best you had to me, I can only say I was happy to meet, sorry to part and will be glad to meet again. The four years spent in Peterborough had been the happiest of his life.

Rev. Mr. Lewis gave a short address. He declares that Rev. Mr Wilson was the most popular man in town. Everybody seemed to like him and bethought he knew the secret of his popularity and his success, and he attributed both to the prayers of his people, who, before he came, prayed that the Lord might send them a man filled with the Holy Spirit and a burning desire to further the interest of the Master's cause.

Several members of the congregation spoke along the same lines.

Several of the clergy, of other denominations were present to give him a parting handshake and wish him success in his new field, as did all present before quitting the building.

GEORGE M'WILLIAMS DEAD

He was Highly Respected and His Demise is Greatly Regretted

The Times regrets to have to report the death of George McWilliams, which sad event occurred at his home in Ashburnham yesterday morning, after a somewhat lengthy illness. Deceased was a young man of many excellent qualities and was very popular with all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, and they were numbered by the hundreds, if not by the thousands, as he was a native of the town, being the youngest son of Mr. John A. McWilliams, of the Fifth Ward. He chose the printing trade as his profession and early in life commenced to work at the business. He was a member of the Examiner office for some time and later went to Dakota where he was in the grain business with a brother, who is now manager of the Canadian Elevator Company, of Winnipeg, but returned to his home here and again joined the Examiner staff and remained there until stricken down with lung trouble, to which he finally succumbed.

Deceased was a member of Court Peterborough, No. 29, Canadian Order of Foresters. Besides his parents his death will be mourned by [illegible] brothers W. H., of Winnipeg, and John, of Regina, N.W.T., as well as four sisters, viz Mrs Robert Carter, of Lakefield; Mrs. Wm. Carthey, of town; Mrs. Constantine, of New York; and Miss M. F. McWilliams, at home.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

At a special meeting of Court Peterborough, No. 29, C. O. F., last evening the following members were appointed to act as pall-bearers for their late brother: Bros. Wm Batten, A. Martin, H. Fuller, R. Glover, Geo. Paxman and W. Hooper.

RESOLUTION OF REGRET

Passed At Special Meeting of Ministerial Association

At a special meeting of the Ministerial Association held yesterday morning the following resolution of regret was passed in view of the approaching departure from our town of the Rev. J. Bastow, of the Murray Street Baptist Church, and Rev. J. P. Wilson, of the George Street Methodist Church:

"That the Peterborough Ministerial Association in session assembled hereby expresses its deep regret at the approaching departure of the Revs. Jonathan Bastow, M. A., and J. P. Wilson, former Presidents of the Association.

"We recognize with appreciation their valuable works for the cause of Christianity in the town, which we feel will loose two good citizens.

"They leave Peterborough with the best wishes of the Association for their future success and happiness in their new fields."

The different ministers present then spoke in appreciative terms of the two gentlemen referred to, and regretted their departure from our midst.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, the President, presented the resolution, and Revs. Bastow and Wilson responded in a most feeling manner.

The best wishes of the Association will follow these ministers to their new fields of labor.

The next regular meeting of the Association will be held on Monday, Sept. 19.

LORD DUNDONALD

The question involved in the dismissal of Lord Dundonald is one rather of manners than of militia. Are we Canadians to rise up in our wrath and unceremoniously kick out of our back-door such men as Dundonald? If so the era of British connection may be said to be nearing its finish. Apart altogether from the merits of the row between Dundonald and the Government, the manners displayed by Fisher and those who backed him up are more truly typical of the ancient Saxons or the South Sea Islanders than of a country which from dawn till dark never ceases boasting of its civilization and good taste. As the last stage of this unfortunate occurrence seems to be considerably worse than the first, some journals (e.g. The Toronto Star) are descending to the most ribald and revolting ridicule of Lord Dundonald, showing thereby the utmost limit of discourtesy to a man who is a brave and faithful soldier, a man of acknowledged ability, and above all a man whom we invited to come to Canada to report upon our militia. We are aware that the moral and political atmosphere of this whole Dominion has become foul and correspondingly unhealthy, but we protest against allowing the utter degradation of the whole system of government to a level with the lowest in our midst. We are an independent journal, and can, therefore, freely express our opinion, and that opinion is that the House at Ottawa at the earliest opportunity ought to pass a resolution of apology to the distinguished soldier and military representative of the Mother Country recently dismissed. It is inconceivable that our friends across the sea will put up with such common brutality and bad manners.

—Rev. W. J. Joliffe preached an eloquent and impressive discourse to the Masonic fraternity on Friday night last, in their lodge room.

The Peterborough District Gets Attention Conditions of Local Industries

Mr. W. J. Johnston, Peterborough correspondent of the Labor Gazette, writes that paper as follows.

With the exception of bricklayers the demand for all classes of workmen was exceptionally active during May. Considerable extra concrete work is being put in on the lift lock here to prevent all leakage, about eighty laborers have been employed on the work throughout the month. The new brickyards have not yet started to turn out bricks but will begin shipping about the second week in June. Trade was exceptionally active and the railways report a good freight business. The banks report all paper well met. There were no changes in the rates of wages or hours of labor and no unrest in the labor market. Fire destroyed the leading carriage shop in the city during May, which at the time was working on large orders. Temporary premises have been obtained while the old building is being rebuilt.

LOCAL INDUSTRIES

Agriculture—Seeding is about completed throughout the district. Spring was a little late in opening, but most of the farmers report having their work all done in fairly good time. Farm help is reported very scarce in this district.

Lumbering—Activity is now general and lumber dealers find a ready sale for their lumber. Prices range from $3 to $5 per M. higher than last year.

Manufacturing.—Manufacturing establishments of all kinds are crowded with work and are reported as being unable to keep up his orders. The Canada General Electric Works, the Cordage Works, Wm. Hamilton Works and J. J. Turner Works are among the busiest firms in town.

Railroad Construction.—The C. P. R. and G. T. R. companies are very busy this month in putting new ballast on their roads. Operations have begun on the new electric street railway, and it will be in running order by September 1st.

Other Industries.—One hundred houses are now under construction in Peterborough and all outside trades are rushed with work. Four cash and door factories are very busy, being rushed with orders. The corporation of Peterborough is putting down six miles of concrete walks, and also several permanent roadways, which is giving work to a large number of men.

CONDITION OF PARTICULAR TRADES.

Building Trades.—Masons are exceptionally busy, and carpenters and joiners are rushed with work. Lathers and plasterers, principally the former, are very busy. The demand for painters and paperhangers is for about double the number of men who are in the business. Plumbers, steamfitters, stonecutters and builders' laborers are all fairly well employed.

Metal, Engineering and Shipbuilding Trades.—Iron moulders are fairly busy. Iron workers and helpers are active. Coremakers' work is principally done by moulders, there being only two coremakers here. Machinists, electrical workers and linemen are very busy. Brass workers in all branches are crowded with work. Blacksmiths and sheet metal workers report conditions very active. Bicycle workers are kept busy, and horseshoers are moderately busy. Jewellers report trade very good.

Woodworking and Furnishing Trades.—Woodworkers of all kinds and upholsterers are busy. Varnishers are active. Carriage and wagon makers are working to their fullest capacity. Pattern-makers and wood carvers in the piano works are very busy. Coopers are very active.

Printing and Allied Trades.—Printers and pressmen report a good steady month.

Clothing Trades.—Journeymen tailors and garment workers are very active, the former find it difficult to keep up with the work and are working overtime in some cases. Boot and shoe workers are very busy.

Food and Tobacco Preparation.—Bakers and confectioners, butchers and meat cutters are very busy. Ice cutters and drivers are very active. Cigarmakers report a steady trade, principally export.

Leather Trade.—Leather workers are fairly well employed.

Miscellaneous.—Barbers report a steady business. Two broom makers are doing a good local and export trade. Retail shop clerks are very active. Delivery and hotel employees are quite actively engaged. Laundry workers are all very busy.

Transport.—Railroad employees report work on the average, with all fairly well employed. Steamboat traffic is just beginning with one or two small steamboats running irregular trips. Cab drivers and carters report business fairly active. Teamsters and expressmen are well employed.

Unskilled labor is fairly well employed.

THE AUTOMATIC TELEPHONE

Arbitration re Application for Patent Not Interfered with

Ottawa Citizen. Interferences by judicial order with arbitration proceedings involving the Canadian patent rights in an automatic telephone exchange the coming device that is destined to solve the question of cheaper telephones was only prevented yesterday by the readiness of the bailiff entrusted with serving the document upon the arbitrators.

Some time ago Mr. Lorimer, of Piqua, Ohio, applied for a patent in Canada upon an automatic exchange. Mr. Lorimer is a Canadian by birth, and it is his invention that has been adopted by the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, the concern which sought to build an experimental exchange in Ottawa last year, but was refused by the city council. Mr. Lorimer's application was opposed by three or four other Americans, who all claimed priority of invention. Finally it was agreed among the disputants to submit the issue to the decision of three arbitrators by whose finding the deputy commissioners of patents was to be guided. The arbitrators, Mr. Henry Aylen, K. C., Rev. Dr. O'Boyle, of Ottawa University, and Mr. Crellin, expert at the Carbide Works, met recently in the library of the patents branch of the agricultural department, and after hearing the statement of Mr. Lorimer proceeded to deliberate upon their decisions behind closed doors. While the deliberations were in progress a bailiff with an injunction issued by Judge O'Meara to restrain them from filing a decision arrived in the Langevin block. It took him some time to find the library, and when he had finally located the arbitrators and proceeded to serve his papers he was told the decision had but five minutes before been sent downstairs to the deputy minister of agriculture. It is said the decision is in Mr. Lorimer's favor.

Bismarck and Disraeli.

At a dinner given in London in 1861 by Baron Brunnow to the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar Herr von Bismarck, who was one of the guests, had a long conversation with Mr. Disraeli, then leader of the opposition. He then said that he should shortly be obliged to undertake the direction of the Prussian government; that his first duty would be to reorganize the army; that he would then take the first best pretext to declare war against Austria, to dissolve the Germanic diet, to overpower the middle and smaller states and to give a national unity to Germany under the leadership of Prussia.

"I am come here," he said, "to say this to the queen's ministers." Mr. Disraeli's remark on this extraordinary programme, which was later literally fulfilled, was: "Take care of that man. He means what he says."—"Reminiscences of Lord Augustus Loftus."

Faded Women Need Richer Blood

It Stamps the Glow of Robust Health on Cheeks and Lips. How Blood is Made Rich and Red Enough to Beautify the Complexion.

A bright rosy complexion can easily be acquired. All that is necessary is to purify the blood and supply it with an increased number of red corpuscles. The simplest method of doing it is to introduce more iron into the system, which is always lacking where the complexion is pallid or sallow.

Iron in a concentrated form, specially adapted for internal use is contained in its most efficient state in Ferrozone, which is noted for marvellous blood building properties. No matter how weak or poor the blood may be, Ferrozone will enrich and nourish it. The immediate result is a better color, which will improve steadily under Ferrozone.

Every girl that takes pride in her complexion would find Ferrozone of greater value than cosmetics or face powders. Its influence is lasting, whereas artificial beautifiers are but a temporary aid. Thousands that have used Ferrozone are glad to endorse it strongly because it certainly is the best remedy for pimples blotches, skin eruptions and poor complexion than money can buy.

Miss Minnie E. Stirling, of Lancaster, writes, "I can recommend Ferrozone to everyone who needs something to clear up their complexion. Before using Ferrozone my skin was sallow, and had a very unhealthy color. After the first box of Ferrozone there was a great improvement and when I had used three boxes I felt much better and had a satisfactory color in my cheeks."

Mrs. C. T. Warwick, of Bradford, says: "My daughter was greatly benefitted by using Ferrozone. She used to have a sickly color and never looked as if she was strong. After using two boxes of Ferrozone she felt better and her color was wonderfully improved. This encouraged her to continue Ferrozone and in a few weeks she looked like a different person and had a clear rosy complexion. Ferrozone accomplished wonders for my daughter."

Ferrozone is just what most girls and women need. It builds up their system, improves their looks, and makes them feel what buoyant good health really means. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all druggists. Beware of substitutes and get Ferrozone when you ask for it. Mailed to your address by N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

The Names of Tea.

We talk glibly about Pekoe, Bohea, etc., but few people have any idea of what these names signify.

"Pekoe" in the dialect of Canton means "white hair," for the tea which bears this name is made from the youngest of leaves, so young that the white down is still on them.

"Boocheong" in the same dialect is a quite unpoetic name; it merely signifies "small kind."

"Flourishing spring" is the meaning of "Hyson."

"Congo" signifies "labor." Much trouble and toil are expended in its preparation at Amoy, and these are commemorated in its name.

"Bohea" is called after a range of hills.

Be What You Are.

Associate reverently and as much as you can with your loftiest thoughts. Man's noblest gift to man is his sincerity, for it embraces his integrity also. The finest uses of things are the accidental. Routine is a ground to stand on, a wall to retreat to. Be resolutely and faithfully what you are, be humbly what you aspire to be. Disappointment will make us conversant with the noblest part of our nature. We render men the best assistance by letting them see how rare a thing it is to need any assistance.

Weeds.

A weed is a plant that grows in abundance out of desired limits. Any plant may become a weed by escaping from cultivation. Many plants that with us are highly esteemed in other countries grow as weeds, while, on the other hand, our weeds are in other countries sometimes highly prized. The correct use of the word depends altogether on circumstances.

A Waste.

"The train I was on this morning," said little Elsie's papa, "struck a poor cow and cut her head right off."

"My gracious!" exclaimed the little girl. "I suppose the milk poured right out all over the ground."

Carefulness in Toilet.

Nothing is a more positive sign of a careless woman than torn gloves and untidy shoes, waistbands that sever connections or collars that part company with the shirt waist. Try not to be one of them. You defeat your own ends and neither look well nor feel comfortable. Dress carefully and aim at plainness and neatness rather than a more showy style of costume.

Dandruff What is it? The beginning of gray hair, falling hair, baldness. Extremely untidy, and annoying, too. The remedy? Ayer's Hair Vigor. It keeps the scalp healthy, stops falling of the hair.

PROPERTIES SITUATED NEAR SILVERTON, SAN JUAN COUNTY, COLORADO. Properties consist of three groups; namely,—

THE PROSPECT BASIN AND MAMMOTH TUNNEL GROUP of 30 claims and Tunnel site aggregating 570 acres of mineral ground all held by location, and free from any conflict as to title; also 10 same location, three mill sites and one lode claim, total 25 acres all now being patented.

THE LEAD CARBONATE GROUP, adjoining the Gold King, of 78½ acres all of mineral territory; this group is patented.

THE STONY PASS GROUP, 110 acres in Stony Gulch, surveyed for patent which will shortly be applied for; no adverses; title perfectly clear.

Total area Mineral territory	758½ acres
" " Mill and building sites	55 "
" " Timber properties	90 "
Total	903½ acres

This was the total acreage held at organization of the Stony Pass Mining Company in December 1902. Since that date 230 acres additional have been located in Prospect Basin and surveyed with view of applying for patent at an early day.

Complete Saw Mill plant located in Cement Creek, capacity 30,000 feet per day; Lumber on hand in mill yards and at the Hercules shaft 500,000 feet. Round logs ready for the mill 300,000 feet. Cost to Company approximately $5,400, market value lumber alone $5,100.

TIMBER RESERVES.

Estimated timber, on timber and mineral lands owned by Company, 5,000,000 feet. Contiguous territory controlled by Government from which timber can be had or cutting providing same is used for mineral purposes 40,000,000 feet.

Total cost of development to date, present management,	$53,000.00
" " " " former owners	18,000.00
" " surface improvements, buildings, saw mill plant, horses, wagons, ore cars, track, tools, etc.	17,000.00
" " Machinery paid for and to be installed	6,000 00
	$99,000 00

Above items do not include moneys expended for additional properties since Company was organized, which approximate $26,000.00.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built.

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3 50 to $4 00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developments. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HARRISON.

TWO BIG CONTRACTS ARE AWARDED

Toronto and Niagara Power Co. Orders Generators

SIX OF LARGE POWER

The Canadian-Mexican Company Orders An Enormous Copper Cable

New York, June 24.—The Toronto & Niagara Falls Power Company, of which Col. H. M. Pellatt, of Toronto, is president, has just been awarded a large contract for equipment to be installed in its power house to be constructed on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, from where energy will be derived to submit electric current to Toronto and intervening towns. The contract calls for six generators of 7,500 kilowatts capacity each, or 45,000 kilowatts in all.

The Canadian General Electric Company secured the contract.

A BIG COPPER CABLE

The Mexican Light & Power Company, Limited, of Montreal, the $12,000,000 enterprise of which Mr James Ross, is president, Mr J. H. Plummer, of Toronto, vice-president, and Sir Geo A Drummond, vice-president of the Bank of Montreal, Mr. E. L. Wanklyn, formerly general manager of the Montreal Street Railways, and Mr. E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, are directors, has just placed the largest single order for copper cable ever let in the United States.

The order calls for no less than 1,500 miles of cable, weighing upwards of 2,000 tons. The cable is to be built upon the company's Necaxa power plant to Mexico city, and from there to the El Oro mining district, a total distance of some 125 miles. The line will be supported on steel towers in spans of 500 feet. The contract for the cable was let to the Ansonia Brass & Copper Company, of Ansonia, Conn.

The Mexican Company's construction operations are among the most extensive ever initiated on this side of the Atlantic. The capacity of the Necaxa plant will in the first instance be 45,000 horse-power. Eventually there will be installed additional machinery which will permit of the generating of 80,000 horse-power.

From an engineering standpoint the system will present many unique features. Some villages located in the vicinity of Necaxa have been purchased by the company. They will be flooded, and the largest dam in the world will be constructed on their sites. Fully $8,000,000, it is estimated, will be expended before the company begins to transmit the electric current.

RUSSIAN GENERAL'S STRONG REPORT

Tells Russians the Japanese Cannot Envelop His Position

St. Petersburg, June 27.—Kuropatkin has sent a reassuring message to the Czar relative to the Russian communications. He declares that the Japanese are not strong enough in the north-east to overcome his reinforced left wing and that the approaches to Liao Yang are securely held for the time being by Russian troops. He adds that every precaution has been taken to prevent the consummation of the enveloping movement on the part of the enemy. The contents of Kuropatkin's despatch have been communicated to the general staff but do not quiet all fears on the subject of the Russian line of retreat.

Some authorities hold that the Japanese are able when they desire to move much more swiftly than Kuropatkin supposes, and that unless the Russian commander-in-chief displays more alertness and energy than has yet been witnessed on the Russian side, his army will be surrounded and forced to surrender.

Kuropatkin gives a most flattering account of the morale of all arms in the Czar's service.

Tokio, June 26—Four thousand Russians, including infantry, cavalry and artillery, attacked Ai Yang Pien Men, about fifty miles northeast of Feng Wang Cheng, last Tuesday. The Russians were repulsed and retreated toward Shinkailing. The Russians lost five killed and twenty wounded. The Japanese loss is not given.

Chefoo, June 27.—Heavy firing was heard in the direction of Port Arthur during several hours last night and this morning.

LINDSAY STABBING AFFRAY

Disagreement Between Two Brothers-in-Law Ends Badly

Lindsay Post: A serious stabbing affray took place last night opposite the G.T.R. station about 9.30. Mr. M. Myles who runs the grocery business in McWilliams' terrace, was the victim. It seems that Mr. J. P. Wells, painter, who is a brother-in-law of Myles, had owned the latter a sum of money for some time past, and had received the bill. He appeared at Mr. Myles' store, the worse of liquor, and denied that he owed any money. Wells loitered about the store, using bad language and finally Myles gave him a shove, following which Wells struck at Myles with the open blade of a large jack knife, the point of which was very sharp. The knife entered the right leg below the hip, and made a deep and long gash as it was withdrawn.

Dr. Herriman was called and dressed the wound. He pronounced it to be not dangerous unless blood poisoning sets in. Wells was arrested about 10.30 by Constable Reeves and Crawford, and was brought before P. M. Jackson this morning. He was remanded until June 30th.

—Rev. Mr. Davidson and Rev. Mr. Langfeldt exchanged pulpits yesterday evening.

A RARE CHANCE

FOR CANADIAN INVESTORS

THOMAS PATTERSON & CO.

BROKERS, PETERBOROUGH

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

CRIPPLE CREEK ENTERPRISE GOLD MINING COMPANY

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non-assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

THE DOMINION ELECTION TO TAKE PLACE IN THE AUTUMN

An Early Warning Will be by the Government to Its Supporters, Says Mr. German M.P. for Welland at the Annual Meeting of the Liberal Association.

Niagara Falls, June 25—The annual meeting of the Liberal Association of the County of Welland was made interesting by a speech of Mr. W. M. German, M.P., on Dominion political issues and a debate between Mr. J. F. Gross M.P.P., and Mr. J. F. Beam on the railway assessment question.

Mr. German said the late G.O.C. had been insubordinate and had been dismissed just as the employe of any other Government department would be dismissed for similar offence. He paid a high tribute to the Earl of Dundonald as a soldier, and expressed regret that he was leaving Canada under such circumstances.

Mr. Beam advocated public ownership of more railways and higher taxation of others. Referring to the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement, he said it was greatly superior to the Canadian Pacific agreement, but he considered it far from perfect.

Mr. German expects a general election early in the autumn and that a definite announcement will be made by the Government to its supporters within a week or two. The Ontario Legislature, he thinks, will be dissolved sometime next year.

The County Conservative Association did not nominate a candidate, and it is probable that the party will support Mr. Walter Upper, the Independent Farmers' candidate, for the House of Commons. Mr. W. M. German has been already chosen by the Liberals.

OPENING OF THE LIFT LOCK

Single Fare on the Railways for the Great Event

The Grand Trunk Has Already Assured the Mayor of the Co's Acquiescence

Saturday, the 9th day of July should be a red letter day in Peterborough. Such an event as the opening of the lift lock only occurs once or twice in any town or city's history, and judging from the activity of the mayor, and other prominent officials of the town, no stone will be left unturned to make it a day long to be remembered in Peterborough and the vicinity. The lock is the largest in the world and the event will be one of no ordinary interest to the people, as it is one of great importance to the section of the country through which the canal runs. The following letter received by the mayor on Saturday, speaks for itself.

Grand Trunk Railway System.
District Passenger Agent's Office.
Toronto, Ont., June 24, 1904.

G. M. Roger, Esq.,
Mayor, Peterborough.

Dear Sir,—Opening of lift-lock July 9, 1904—Referring to your letter of the 23rd instant, we are agreeable to authorizing rate of single fare for the above, from all points where single fare to Peterborough does not exceed $2.50. Tickets will be good going on trains arriving Peterborough p.m. of July 8th, all trains July 9th, valid to return on or before July 11th.

I presume you will have this arrangement advertised and given as much publicity as possible so that we will be warranted in placing this rate in effect.

Yours truly,
J. D. McDonald,
D. P. A.

The mayor has stated that he may go to Ottawa to ascertain the plans of the Ministers, where the programme can be more easily arranged. It is not the intention to proclaim the day a holiday as it is thought the town would look brighter and better to visitors, with the stores open and many would come to town to combine business with pleasure.

We understand that Mr. R. H. Roger, the superintendent of the work, has, on behalf of the Government, chartered the steamer City of Peterborough for the day.

The programme is likely to embrace a drive around town in the morning, the ceremony later and an excursion to Lindsay and return, to wind up the day. Full particulars in later issue.

FIRST SERIOUS CLASH AT SYDNEY

Union Picket Men and Italians Have Fierce Fight

SEVERAL WERE WOUNDED

Union men Went to Interview the Italians and met With Warm Reception

Sydney, N.S., June 27—A clash that might have had serious results occurred between some of the Italian non-union laborers of the steel company and the Provincial Workingmen's Association. A picket stationed at No. 4 gate. Fifteen of the Italians came out of their shacks and were about to pass through the gate when the picket men endeavored to explain the strike situation to them, asking the men if they were willing to assist the union in their efforts to secure a better rate of wages. With this the Italians swung round and went back to their shacks and supplemented by twenty or twenty-five more returned to the gate with razors, knives, stilettoes, hatchets and those without weapons carried stones of various sizes. The picket men again appealed in the same manner as before, whereupon the Italians began to attack the men. For several minutes the murderous weapons sought the vital parts in the bodies of the picket men who retreated as best they could.

With the assistance, however, of the special and regular police officers on duty at the plant, some of the Italians were disarmed and they finally retired to their shacks. In the assault Joseph McEachren was badly cut about the head and face with a blow from a dinner pail in the hands of one of the Italians. Archie Wells would certainly have been killed had he not noticed an axe descending upon his head in time. He stepped to one side, the axe cutting part of his hand off. Fred Tuckett, another picket man, was cut on the back of the head with a stone. He was unconscious for a few moments from the effect of the blow. There were only eight or ten picket men on duty, scarcely one of them escaping without some bruises or cuts. The Italians were recently imported to the plant by the company.

—The full band of the 57th Regt. will give a good programme at the St. John's strawberry festival this evening.

A BUSINESS MAN'S LETTER.

Wm. Thomson, Esq., of Orillia, Vice-President Standard Chemical Company of Toronto, Tells of a Visit to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

GREATLY IMPRESSED WITH WORK BEING DONE.

Personally Raises Several Hundred Dollars to Help Lessen the Load of Debt.

There can be little doubt that the National Sanitarium Association is handicapped in its great work for Consumptives in the fact that its two institutions in Muskoka are far away from any large centre of population. Few people have an opportunity to see for themselves the magnificent work that is being done.

These hospitals are away from the public eye. Any, however, who do visit them, are united in their commendation of the splendid appointments of the place, and, best of all, of the real joy and hope that is being brought to many suffering ones.

We are glad to have the opportunity of publishing the following letter from Mr. Wm. Thomson, of Orillia, one of Canada's best known lumbermen, which tells what he has seen himself. It reads:

ORILLIA, Ont., November 2, 1903.

W. J. Gage, Esq.,
Chairman Executive Committee
National Sanitarium Association,
Toronto, Ont.

My Dear Mr. Gage,—

I have much pleasure in enclosing herewith cheque for One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) from the Tudhope Carriage Company of Orillia, a donation to the Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst. Please acknowledge this to the Tudhope Carriage Company in the usual way.

I have written to a number of my friends, to try and get them interested in this good work. I hope to be able to send you further donations. I have written my friends a personal letter, something similar to the following:

"Last week I paid a visit to the Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst. I met some of the management there, and promised to try and interest some of my friends in this work.

"I might say there were 49 patients there last week, all poor people, most of them without a dollar in the world, and suffering from the dreadful disease, Consumption. There are many sad stories, and I know I have thought a great deal about the work of the institution ever since my visit there. I do believe it is worthy of assistance, and we who have health and the necessaries of life should encourage this work along.

"I understand the expenses lately have been double the income, and unless the management meet with more encouragement, I am afraid the work will have to be curtailed. I know you have many calls, but I do wish you would give this matter a thought, and, if possible, assist. I have written to two or three confidentially, and hope to be able to collect some more for this work. Should you not feel like contributing a donation, remember this request, and your reply is just between you and me, and strictly confidential.

"I might mention, to show that I have confidence in the work, I have already given a donation of $100.00 and two row boats to the Free Hospital this year, and intend to give another $100.00 before the end of the year."

Sincerely yours,

Wm Thomson

Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., or Mr. W. J. Gage, Toronto, will receive and acknowledge any contributions made.

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a numbea of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays ftom ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district, The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern mach nery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill., There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men o integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale o stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

More Opinions Upon the Dundonald Incident

THE YANKEE HEAD TAX

No Palma Trophy Competition is Possible This Year more Birth day Honors

London, June 25.—The Saturday Review says Lord Dundonald's fulminations of emptiness in every part by jobby, last witnessed in Toronto, of making military efficiency subordinate to political influence. The political editing of this report, which especially vexed Lord Dundonald's sense of fitness, may be put down indirectly to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's personal dislike of warlike preparations.

The Army and Navy Gazette hopes that Lord Dundonald's action will have the effect he intended. He spoke perhaps indiscreetly, but the matter at issue is too serious to be affected by mere personal considerations.

The Broad Arrow says: "The Dundonald-Fisher incident makes us remember with gladness that on the other side of the Canadian border there stands not an enemy but a true valued friend. Like father, like son the colonials are as military bind as the people at home. We see in Canada's impossibility of carrying on military measures for the defence of the colony when the military force is treated by responsible politicians as a close corner for their friends."

The Yankee's New Head Tax

London, June 26.—An Ottawa cable appearing in yesterday's press, stating that all persons entering the United States for residence by Canadian railways, excepting Canadians, must pay a poll tax and adding that all British travellers coming to Canadian ports and intending to go to the United States should take warning. The latter portion of the cable is not understood by the steamship companies here. They ask does this apply to British tourists.

The Diocese of Qu'Appelle.

London, June 25.—Bishop Anson presiding at the annual meeting of the Qu'—pelle Diocese, held at Church House read statistics showing that in the 20 years since the consecration of the first bishop 51 churches had been built and over £76,000 raised in endowments. The Bishop of Rochester was impressed with the reality of church life in Qu'Appelle, and urged British aid. The Bishop of Calgary expressed gratification at the promised visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury. In every parish he had visited in England he had been besieged by enquiries after relatives who had emigrated to the Northwest.

The King and Salvation Army.

London, June 25.—At the third international congress of the Salvation Army last night in Albert Hall, General Booth presided, and welcomed the delegates in an extended address, concluding by saying "I have been granted permission to extend to you the warmest welcome in the name of King Edward who on Wednesday last empowered me to say that he had met with pleasure your leader; that he had learned of the Salvation movement with great interest; and that he regarded its success as being of importance to his empire." The mention of King Edward's name was greeted with great enthusiasm. General Booth spoke touchingly of the death of his daughter, Mrs. Booth-Tucker, wife of the head of the Salvation Army in the United States, who was killed in a railway accident in Missouri.

A Warning to the Unionists.

London, June 26.—The darkness in the utterances of Unionist members of the House of Commons, which at the same time threatened the Government's safety, has led Prime Minister Balfour to make a significant statement. It takes the form of a pointed answer to a question tabled by Sir John Lang, Liberal member for Dundee, urging the Government to appeal to the country. The answer states that unless the Government incurs such a defeat as will show that it has lost the confidence of the House or unless it fails to secure daily the support necessary to carry on Parliamentary business, it will not resign. In either of these cases it will seek relief from its responsibilities.

Penny Postage For Australia.

London June 26—Mr Hemmiker Heaton is pressing the Postmaster General to realize a penny postage scheme for Australia. The Postmaster General of Canada placed at Mr. Heaton's disposal some interesting statistics, showing how rapidly a recovery had been achieved in Canada following the adoption of penny postage.

A New British Cruiser.

London, June 26.—A new armored cruiser the Duke of Wellington, named by the express command of the King to perpetuate the memory in the navy of his brother, the late Duke of Saxe-Coburg, was launched Friday at Pembroke dockyard by Countess Cawdor. This vessel, which is one of a new type designed by Philip Watts, has engines capable of developing 23,000 horse power, and the maximum speed is 22.33 knots. She cost £1,131,882.

More Birthday Honors.

London, June 26.—Among the King's birthday honors are the following appointments to the Privy Council: Chas. Booth, president of the Royal Statistical Society, 1892-94, and author of various valuable researches into the life and labor of the London population, pauperism and other social problems.

Colonel William Stanley Kenyon-Slaney, late of the Grenadier Guards, and Conservative member of Parliament for the Patrick division of Lanarkshire, some time Parliamentary private secretary to Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain.

A knighthood has been conferred upon Professor James Dewar, famous for his scientific investigations, and as the first to obtain liquid and solid hydrogen. He was co-inventor with Sir Frederick Abel of cordite, the smokeless powder used by the British Government.

Mrs. Phil May, widow of the talented black and white artist of Punch, is granted a life pension of $375 in consideration of "the services to art of her husband and her straightened circumstances."

Tibetans Will Negotiate.

Simla June 26.—A telegram was received here yesterday announcing that the second principal Lama had been instructed to leave Lhassa, the capital of Tibet, to confer with Colonel Younghusband the political agent at the head of the British mission.

Defence and Tariff Reform.

London, June 26.—Mr. H. W. Wilson, lecturing in the Competitors' Club on national defence and tariff reform urged that a surtax on foreign imports be levied by the colonies and devoted to national defence. Thus, at the rate of 10 per cent., would give £5,000,000, but until the federation of the empire, the colonies could not be expected to contribute. If Britain should survive the immediate future the colonies as they grow might take part of the burden off her shoulders.

Wolfe and Gray's Elegy.

London, June 26.—Major Wood, writing to the Times in reply to Augustine Birrel, M.P., says he was very loth to leave out of "The Fight for Canada" so probable and picturesque a story as that of General Wolfe's recitation of Gray's elegy, and he was eager to welcome any proof restoring it to history.

A JUDGE'S CURIOUS SPEECH.

London, June 26.—Judge Bentout made the following statement at a Church of England Temperance Society meeting at Biglewade:

He had before him a returned South African soldier charged with an offence that was within an ace of manslaughter, who committed the crime while drunk, and to him he said "You committed this crime under the influence of drink. You were made drunk with the strong approval of the Legislature of this country, whose servant I am, and you were made drunk with the enthusiastic approval of the Christian Church that won't fight the Christian battle in this country as it ought to be fought, and I won't sentence you" and he was at large now.

The judge added that he expected the Lord Chancellor to take notice of his action.

KING LEAVES FOR GERMANY.

London, June 24.—King Edward left for Kiel last night, sailing from Port Victoria in the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, escorted by four cruisers and six torpedo boat destroyers. King Edward is accompanied by Prince Louis, of Battenberg, and Earl Selborne First Lord of the Admiralty, Viscount Churchill, of Wychwood, Lord-in-Waiting to his Majesty, and a number of equerries.

No Palma Trophy Competition.

London, June 24.—The National Rifle Association of the United States has intimated that whenever arrangements are made by the British National Rifle Association for another international match they will send a team. The Council of the British N. R. A. has conferred informally and an understanding has been arrived at that it is impossible to make a match for the Palma trophy this year.

C.G.E. CO'S BIG CONTRACT

To Furnish Equipment to Toronto and Niagara Falls Power Co

The Canadian General Electric Company has received the contract for the equipment to develop electrical energy to supply Toronto and other places. This is good news and the friends of the company here will rejoice at their success in this matter. The contract is a big one, and there is no more competent firm in the Dominion or elsewhere. A despatch to the News from New York dated June 24th, says:

The Toronto & Niagara Falls Power Company, of which Col. H. M. Pellatt, of Toronto, is president, has just awarded a large contract for equipment to be installed in its power house to be constructed on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, from where energy will be derived to transmit electrical currents to Toronto and intervening towns. The contract calls for six generators of 7,500 kilowatts capacity each, of 45,000 kilowatts in all). The Canadian General Electric Company secured the contract.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

4,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,600 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 225 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of these in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Toronto, December 10, 1903.

A BRAVE CANADIAN FIGHTS FOR JAPS

Montreal, June [illegible] the following letter from Mr. W. J. Lashton, which is dated Antung, May 6: "I have been through my first battle, and my sensations for the greater part of the time beggar description. I am in a hospital but expect to be out again in a week or ten days, so that you may judge that I was not very seriously wounded. I forgot to tell you that I was unfortunate enough to be hit twice, and owe the fact of my being alive at all to my friend Ferguson, who, by the way, is a Canadian from the same place as yourself, Montreal, but he has served with the American forces, having been with the Astor Battery, of New York, in the Philippines. Now, I don't propose to have you write an account of the whole fight, as you have already read more than I could relate, but happened to the Battery I was with. After undergoing four days of continuous fighting and marching, during which time we had been under fire almost constantly, we were ordered to take up a position on the left flank of the Russian army, which was hard pressed. We had been in action for about an hour when I received a bullet through the left thigh, which knocked me down, and I was unable to move. I was lying in the open, and the bullets were flying around me like hail, and I thought my last hour had come, when Ferguson, who was in the same battery, came to my assistance, and, although he was under a heavy fire, he carried me to the shelter of a small hill, where I was attended to by the doctor. I was then carried to the rear, and placed in a hospital train, which was filled with wounded. I was then brought to Liao Yang, where I was placed in a hospital, and remained there for about a week, when I was sent to Mukden, where I remained for about ten days, when I was sent to Harbin, and from there to Kharbarovsk, where I remained for about a month, when I was sent to Moscow, and from there to Petersburg, where I am now. I am getting along as well as can be expected, but I will be glad when I am able to get out of this hospital, as I am tired of lying around. I am getting my meals regularly, and am sleeping well, but the doctor says that I will not be able to walk for some time, as the bullet has broken the bone in my left leg. I am sorry that I cannot write more, but I am not able to sit up, and am writing this in bed. I will write you again when I get out of the hospital."

WENT SINGING TO THE FIGHT

All day yesterday Russian troops were hurrying southward from Tchu Kiao and as night fell battalions were continuously moving out briskly to the accompaniment of their battle songs. Clouds of dust hung over the marching columns, and the chorus of the infantry singers was occasionally interrupted by the rattle and clank of guns drawn at a smart trot and followed by galloping squadrons of cavalry. It was a stirring spectacle to see the Russian army eagerly hastening, singing into battle. The old battle hymn, last heard in the Balkans, resounded among the hills and villages, as with bayonets glittering in the setting sun, the regimental colors were borne majestically forward. For hours afterwards fell over the scene one could hear the rattle of moving guns and the tramp of cummissariat wagons [illegible]

The Pall Mall Gazette's View of the Pandonald Vote—Other Comment

London, June 28.—In discussing the debate in the Canadian House of Commons on the Lumsden-Fisher incident, the Pall Mall Gazette says: "It is much to be hoped that the Dandonald verdict will not encourage insubordinate methods in the Canadian militia, in the event of party disagreement, to the point of refusing to give rise, or threatening to resign, if the Government does not do as they wish. Such a course would be intolerable, and would be answered, not by the dismissal of the General, but by the acceptance of the resignation of the Ministers. MUSIC NOW

After the Coffee War was over

Many people select food or drink that keeps them ruddy of health, strength and courage to do big things, not knowing that strong bodies and sturdy brains require the right kind of food and must not be drugged by coffee. To illustrate the vicious effects of daily slugging the nerves with coffee the experience of a teacher of music may be given.

"While I was a coffee drinker, for many a night I lay awake suffering agonies feeling every nerve in my body would surely burst, and when I got up in the morning I was so tired and exhausted I had no inclination to begin the duties awaiting me and finally four years ago a terrible nervous prostration which the doctor pronounced catalepsy. I also suffered from gastritis.

The officer stated that the middle of next month. He indicated that the Russian fighting was progressing steadily. He said that the Russian fleet of June 23, intermittent firing was heard from behind the fortress all day, as the despatch boat cruised off the coast. The attack appeared especially heavy between 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, after which it ceased. The despatch boat found a mine adrift near the Miaotao Islands, on examination it proved to be a Russian electric contact mine. The Japanese mines are entirely different. Several bodies of Russian sailors came ashore on the Islands within the past few days. It is supposed they came from the battleship that was sunk in the naval fight last Thursday. The bodies were decently buried.

SLOCUM DISASTER CAUSED BY GREED

Pastor Has of Stricker Church Preaches Strong Sermon

New York, June 29.—"Why, my beloved, has this thing come to us? We know it, and we cannot deny it. It was due to negligence, carelessness and greed and that the worship of mammon which looks only for profit and spends all the strength he could put into his voice, Rev. George F. Haas made this declaration in his afflicted congregation in Sixth street. The little church was crowded to the doors with friends and relatives of unfortunates who were lost in the Slocum disaster, and more than once throughout the sermon the pastor's voice was drowned by sobs that came from every side. "It was not God who did this, but man. Continuing, the minister said: "It was due to the officers who did not do their duty and to their careless and incompetent agents. We, too, are to blame. Had we not always been silent, but lifted our voices and cried out against this negligence and greed, things would have been different. We are all more or less to blame for it all."

DIED OF BROKEN HEART.

In the death on Saturday of the Rev. Dr. Edward Frederick Meldahn, one of the best known Lutheran clergymen in this country, another name was added to the list of victims of the Slocum disaster. Grief for twenty members of his own flock who went on the excursion and never returned and his compassion for the heart troubles of St. Mark's church, no doubt affected Dr. Meldahn that he died of a broken heart.

Consumption Can Be Cured

A Powerful and Effective Destroyer o Disease Germs Discovered Which Cures Consumption.

The ravages of consumption which for years have terrorized the modern world will no longer continue to cut off our population by thousands. Science has at last produced a remedy which not only can be readily applied to the lungs, but also kills every trace of bacilli in the throat, bronchial tubes, and air passages of all the breathing organs.

The name of this marvellous antiseptic about which the doctors are talking so much is Catarrhozone, the resonated air cure. The vapor is more soothing than the air of pine woods, and its healing properties are without limit.

Through a skilfully devised inhaler the sufferer is enabled to breathe this fragrant medicated vapor into the most minute air cells of the lungs. It is so destructive to microbe life that the tubercular germs are rapidly killed and prevented from ever returning. Congestion and inflammation are relieved, coughing stops, all disagreeable symptoms are quickly cured by Catarrhozone.

So simple is Catarrhozone that anyone can use it. So certain to cure lung and throat troubles that it is prescribed by not less than twenty thousand doctors in United States and Canada. One well known authority who has made a life long study of consumption, has the following to say; "Catarrhozone is certainly a true specific for white plague. I find that its healing vapor readily spreads all through all the breathing organs, passing over probably not less than one thousand square feet of mucous surface at a single inhalation. It is a perfect germicide and destroys tubercular germs with wonderful certainty. Catarrhozone is entitled to rank among the great medical discoveries of the age."

No matter how often you have been disappointed with other remedies you must not be discouraged. In Catarrhozone you will find new hope. What it has done before it can do again. Your case is not worse than others it has cured. Therefore if properly used you can also be cured by Catarrhozone. Two months' treatment $1.00. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont. Refuse any substitute for Catarrhozone—only the genuine can cure.

GOOD LIVING

Quite often results in bad health, because what is termed "good living" is usually the gratification of the palate without reference to the nutrition of the body. When the good liver is a business man and rises from a full meal to plunge at once into work requiring mental effort the result is almost sure to be disastrous, because digestion draws upon the same nervous forces which are employed in thought. In time the stomach becomes diseased, the processes of digestion and nutrition are imperfectly performed and there is a physical breakdown.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates the effete poisonous matter which originates in the system as a consequence of imperfect digestion. It gives sound health to the whole body.

"I wish to say to the world that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has proved a great blessing to me," writes Mrs. Ellen E. Bacon, of Shutesbury, Franklin Co., Mass. "Prior to September, 1897, I had designed for my stomach trouble for several years, going through a course of treatment without any real benefit. In September, 1896, I had very sick spells and grew worse; could eat but little. I commenced in September, 1897, to take Dr. Pierce's medicines, and in a short time I could eat and work. I have gained twenty pounds in two months."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Entries for the Matinee Races July 1st, must be made with the Secretary, Robert Munro by 10 o'clock, to-night.

A $20,000 YACHT

Mr. Wm. Mackenzie's new Yacht Shipped to Lindsay

Mr. William Mackenzie's new steel yacht was shipped by the builders, the Polson Iron Works, to Lindsay yesterday and will be launched during the week and sent up to Mr. Mackenzie's summer residence on the Kawartha Lakes. The new yacht is a pretty boat, despite her peculiar stern, which is generally referred to by the workmen as "that knuckle." She is fitted with triple expansion engines, 5 1-2, 8 1-2, and 14 by 8 and Yarrow boilers. Her indicated horse power is 100 and she will develop 12 miles an hour. The yacht is fitted with Pullman berths in Pullman car style, and accommodation which will enable Mr. Mackenzie and his family to make long trips in her. She is 81 feet long 12 feet 6 inches beam, and draws but three feet nine inches of water. She is almost twice as large as Mr. Mackenzie's former boat, the Rambler, which was just an afternoon launch and not designed for overnight trips.

GOOD LUCK

For the man Who Lost $60,000 a Year

A business man who had to retire in his prime had to give up an income of more than $50,000 a year on account of nervous stomach trouble tells how he gained back health and strength simply by a little care in selecting his food.

"Three years ago after trying spent a very goodly sum trying to save my teeth, I was obliged to have all of them extracted for it seemed I would lose my mind from such supersensitive nerves that prevented the proper mastication of food and gave rise to numerous stomach troubles which refused to yield to the best medical treatment. I got badly run down and was compelled to retire from active business when I should have been in my prime and at a time when my income exceeded $50,000 per annum.

"I delayed having artificial teeth made for 11 months in order that the jaws should have ample time to heal. I found myself almost literally starving to death having lost from 160 to 138 pounds and scarcely able to crawl about. One food after another was tried and all failed until I got into a desperately low state—in fact my death was really reported in one of the city papers.

"But I was better than a dead man even then and one day during the temporary absence of the nurses I felt so hungry I managed to go to the pantry for something to eat. I saw a yellow box on the shelf directly in front of me and as it was the nearest I picked it up and read what was printed on it about Grape-Nuts food. That interested me. The only milk or cream I could find was some evaporated cream, so I softened the Grape-Nuts with warm water and then poured on the cream and sugar, and slowly ate it with more or less fear. Imagine my surprise for the first time since I had lost my teeth I did not go wild with the terrible griping and pangs of indigestion. You may be sure I stuck fast to Grape-Nuts from that time.

"To cut my tale short I have gained back to 150 pounds, almost my old weight, am greatly improved in health. For fifteen months I did not use ten pounds of any food but Grape-Nuts. I lost all desire for tea and coffee.

"For twenty-three months now I have lived almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts and I think the wonderful good it has done me has been largely responsible for its widespread use here in Los Angeles where my case is famous." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Another Bad Boy in Court

A little lad of nine years of age was in the police court on Saturday, charged with breaking into a gentleman's office with another youngster. The chief produced his rawhide and the sight of it had the effect of making the boy promise to be very good in future. Several complaints have been made to the police lately, that there are several youngsters in town who absent themselves from school and collect themselves in such a way as to be a nuisance in their neighborhood, and cause their friends much annoyance since the arrest and warning given. The boy's mother was in court with him and seemed much worried by the waywardness of the youngster.

THE GREATEST BATTLE OF THE WAR IS NOW BELIEVED TO BE PROGRESSING

Russian General at last Makes a Stand and big Fight is now Believed to be on

Considerably over 250,000 Men Engaged in the Death Struggle

The Fate of the Nations of the East now Trembling in the Balance

London, June 29.—The Post's special says that the greatest battle of the war is now on between General Kuropatkin and the two great Japanese armies. The result is not yet known, or is it likely to be for some days. For some time the Russians have been taking the offensive. General Oku's army has passed the mountain barrier protecting the right flank and rear of Kuropatkin's forces in the pass es and between Kauping and Motien. The Russian position has thus been rendered strategically untenable, and it is expected to be made actually untenable in the course of the battle unless the Russians resist the advance of the Japanese more vigorously than hitherto. In the event General Kuroki will be relieved of the necessity of attacking frontally the main strongholds of the Muscovite between King Huan Cheng and the railway.

How is it with the Japanese army? The very form of that question gives the answer. A few weeks ago we would have spoken of the Japanese armies, not army. Kuroki held the northernmost position. Oku was before Port Arthur. Nodzu, or some other general was in command of the third army in an intermediate position, ready to support either Oku or Kuroki.

Today that is all changed. The three armies are welded into one. Knit together by telegraph wires, commanded by Marshal Oyama, who was hurried to the front, they are ready to be used as one weapon under the control of one brain.

It is possible that such a situation as this passes the wildest hopes of the Japanese. Their earlier expectation seems to have been to fight at Mukden if the Russians would await them there. Every mile that the battle ground is nearer the sea-coast is an important point gained by Japan.

If Kuropatkin is overwhelmed Port Arthur and Vladivostok become the prey for the Japanese whenever they choose to take them. It would be wrong to think, however, that this would end the war. However far backward Russia retreats she can still find a spot in which she can collect armies anew and prepare for future aggression in her own good time.

RUSSIANS FORCED TO RETIRE AFTER A SIX HOURS' FIGHT--THE JAPANESE ADVANCE

Takushan Division of the Japanese Army Completely Defeated Five Battalions of Russians—The Russians Fell Back in the Direction of Si-Mu Cheng--The Japs Casualities Aggregated About 100 Killed and Wounded.

Tokio, June 29.—After a hot fight, which lasted for six hours Monday morning (June 27), the Takushan division of the Japanese army completely defeated five battalions of Russian infantry, which, supported by two regiments of cavalry and sixteen guns, occupied Fen Shui Ling, 27 miles northwest of Siu Yen. The Russians finally fell back in the direction of Si Mu Cheng.

The Japanese casualties aggregated about 100 killed and wounded. Major Oba was killed during the battle.

CONFIRMED BY MESSAGE.

London, June 29.—A despatch received at the Japanese legation from Tokio says the Takushan army occupied Fen Shui Ling, thirteen miles northwest of Siu Yen, on June 27, after six hours of hard fighting. The Japanese losses are estimated at 100. The Russian force, which consisted of five battalions of infantry and two regiments of cavalry with sixteen guns fled in disorder towards Si Mu Cheng.

BALFOUR MINISTRY WILL NOT RESIGN

Despite Defeats in by-Elections Majority is big

CHAMBERLAIN'S CAMPAIGN

He will Resume on July 14 with Speech in Albert Hall- Enrland and Germany

London, June 28.—The electoral tide still runs against the Ministry. This week the tenth bye-election since the first of January was held in the dock yard town of Devonport, where it might have been expected that the Government candidate. Instead of this, duced the working men to favor the Government candidate. Instead of this, the Ministerial candidate was displaced by the Radical by one thousand majority.

Indeed, as the tide is now running, it seems impossible to be sure of the return of the Ministerialists anywhere outside of Mr. Chamberlain's close preserve of Birmingham. There alone has a Unionist candidate survived a contested election since the New Year. Where there were previously six Unionists and four Liberals, there are now one Unionist and nine Liberals; and in seven cases out of the ten the Liberals have done better than they ever did before from 1835 onwards.

"Will the Government resign?" A Scottish Liberal member put that question to Mr. Balfour last night. He smiling used the occasion to stir up the laggard Ministerialists to attend Parliament more assiduously, lest the Government, despite their normal majority of 140, be caught upon a snap division. Barring such accidents, the Ministers have no apparent intention of dissolving Parliament until next spring at the earliest, or probably next autumn, after another session. In this matter Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain unquestionably are working together, for Mr. Chamberlain is persuaded that he will be able to give the final movement a great fillip during the campaign which he will resume with the great Albert Hall demonstration on July 14.

KING'S VISIT TO KIEL.

The King's visit to Kiel as a English politicians to wondering and talking about the possibilities of an Anglo-German rapprochement. The Spectator seems to have so far recovered from its attack of nerves that it refrains to-day from reiterating its warning to King Edward to keep clear of German barbed wire entanglements. No serious politicians except any formal agreement as the result of the King's visit, but they do hope in the Manchester Guardian's phrase, "that the visit may accumulate a fund of good feeling, on which the friends of peace may draw." Both counties need a sedative after the incessant bickering and nagging of the last few years.

The trouble is that the causes of Anglo-German rivalry tend to increase not to lessen. There is every reason to expect that Chancellor von Buelow tends to urge the raising of the German tariff whenever it is possible, without grave injury to Germany's own interests, on the principle that if tariff bargaining with Great Britain is to be expected as a result of the fatal four-Chamberlain policy. Germany had better have a wide margin of tariff for purposes of concessions. All this means more Anglo-German friction. The other main cause of English coolness towards Germany is the belief that the ambitions of the latter, as a naval power, are directed mainly against England. The naval imperialists here unquestionably have Germany in their mind in their present agitation, for yet higher naval votes.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain made a speech this week which seems to show that the Balfour ministry is astutely putting an increase rather than a decrease in the naval expenditure.

On the other hand, now that Russia is crippled for the next quarter of a century and mutual interests makes France and England friends, it is being urged upon the ministry that there should be a redistribution of squadrons, concentrating greater strength in the North Sea, and that the present strength of the Mediterranean squadron has become a political anachronism.

ENCOURAGE COLONISTS.

It is also urged, as a wise policy, that the British colonies shall be encouraged to bear the responsibility for their naval defence, as they did long ago for the land defence. In this way Great Britain could effect a concentration of her naval forces and adjust herself to new political conditions in Europe, with a possible decrease of naval expenditure.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The Spectator makes this comment on the Republican Chicago pronouncement: "The people are to be taxed so that foreign competition may be kept out of the home market. That is Chamberlainism and popularity. The plan is a curious evidence that the American people, for all their shrewdness, are very bad arithmeticians. The fact is the most noteworthy because the agricultural interests, which is the strongest in the Union, is scarcely protected at all."

CANADA'S DUTY TO THE EMPIRE

Is Unfulfilled While the Militia is Plaything of Politics

BUT AN EMPTY VICTORY

The Pall Mall Gazette's View of the Dundonald Vote— Other Comment

London, June 29. — Discussing the debate in the Canadian House of Commons on the Dundonald-Fisher incidents, the St. James' Gazette says: "It is not too much to hope that the question Lord Dundonald raised by such unfortunately indiscreet methods is to be allowed to drop in the whirlpool of party discussion, for the incident which was bound to give rise. The question of Canada's power to protect herself must be answered; not only as a matter of Imperial duty, but for the personal safety of the colony. And the people of Canada may yet find reason when bitterness of the moment has been to some extent assuaged to be grateful for the alarm which has gone off so noisily and suddenly in their ears. But nothing can compensate us for the loss to which the interferences in the speech of Lord Dundonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier have subjected both Mother Country and Colony."

MILITARY WEAKNESS.

The Morning Post referring to Lord Dundonald's retirement, says: "The Canadian Government has not yet grasped the fact that as long as Canada's defensive force is a plaything for politicians, its duty to the Canadian people and the Empire remains unfulfilled.

"Canada's invariable reply to any suggestion that she should contribute to the increasing cost of Imperial defence is that she is prepared to defend her own frontiers without the aid of the Mother Land. Lord Dundonald's evidence shows this is incorrect. Throughout the Empire, it is believed that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's anti-militarism prevents Canada from ceasing to be a source of military weakness to the Empire."

AN EMPTY VICTORY.

Regarding the vote at the close of the debate, the Pall Mall Gazette says: "The impient Canadian Premier will not require to be told that this is but an empty victory. If any proof were required that Lord Dundonald had touched the ministers "on the raw," it is to be found in the bitterness of Sir Frederick Borden's counter attack and the desperate theatrical shifts he has been driven to in constructing a case against the discharged commander."

THE BIG ELEPHANTS LOOSE

With Pageantry and Fireworks Behind Them

Curiosity and anticipation at home and the same incentives brought by excursion trains from every section indicate an unusual ot and in-pouring within a radius of fifty miles or more indicate an unusual ot and in-pouring of people who take in the widely-heralded and undoubtedly rarely big and attractive street parade of the great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows. Besides the standard gay, glittering and spectacular pageant offering characteristic of the bigger circuses, there are announced uncommon pompous and historical additions, among which the Oriental and military sections will command unusual attention and striking innovations. The former is a regally sumptuous and rich reproduction of the recent gorgeous State Durbar at Delhi, in which the native princes, potentates and other notabilities of all India received and did homage to the British Viceroy, making the occasion one of indescribably ostentatious and lavish display of priceless jewels and costumes. The show in question has the huge elephants, superb horses, costly trappings, people and paraphernalia requisite to appropriately perpetuate the event. In the military section of the parade will be found matter of unusual and striking historical interest; our country's martial progress, from Bunker Hill to Santiago, being illustrated and symbolized by the appearance of representatives armed and costumed exactly as were the heroes who fought under Washington, Scott, Taylor, Lee, Grant and Miles. After the morning parade a free display of Japanese daylight fireworks will be given on the show grounds, during which, discharged from thundering mortars, will float, sail and dive skyward the huge and most strangely grotesque similitudes of fabulous monsters, dragons, sprites and Arabian Nights' fantasies, accompanied by prismatic rainbows and wonderful wreaths of smoke.

MUSIC NOW

After the Coffee War was Over

Many people select food or drink that keeps them robbed of the health, strength and courage to do big things, not knowing that strong bodies and sturdy brains require the right kind of food and must not be drugged by coffee. To illustrate the vicious effects of daily drugging the nerves with coffee the experience of a teacher of music may be given.

"While I was a coffee drinker, for many a night I lay awake suffering agonies, feeling every nerve in my body would surely burst, and when I got up in the morning I was so tired and exhausted I had no inclination to begin the duties awaiting me and finally four years ago a terrible operation so completely shattered my nerves I couldn't go back to my music. I tried but it proved too great a tax and I had nervous prostration which the doctor pronounced catalepsy. I also suffered from gastritis.

"Then I came to Eureka Springs to my parents where I was surprised to learn they no longer drank coffee but served a delicious hot drink they called Postum instead. Even Father had abandoned coffee and said he now depended on his hot Postum to give him strength to carry him through the day and felt so much better than when using ordinary coffee.

"So I began using Postum, too, and strange to relate I began to regain my strength so fast that at the end of two months I was completely cured and as well as ever, without even a fear of a return of the dreadful nervous spells, while my gastritis was also gone and my stomach was strong.

"Since Postum displaced coffee in my diet my sleep is sound and refreshing and I arise with the joyful anticipation of entering upon the day's work, while I can look back each night and honestly say I have done my work far better than when I was a slave to coffee, and that, added to prime health, again makes life worth while.

"Coffee had me badly at sea and drifting upon the rocks but Postum put me on solid ground again and I'm going to stay there." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

IGNORANT OF PROGRESS OF WAR AT PORT ARTHUR

Letters Received at Chefoo from Port Arthur Give an Idea of the Conditions Prevailing in the Besieged City.

Chefoo, June 28.—Letters received here to-day from Port Arthur, dated June 23, gives no news, but convey an idea of the conditions prevailing in the besieged city. One writer says the civilians though knowing something of what is occurring, are ignorant of the progress of the war. Little information leaks out. Most of the non-combatants have caves in the hills or underground cells, where they spend the nights in safety. Bands play occasionally in the parks and the prices of food are slightly higher. The Chinese are suffering severely in many ways as a result of the fighting. The food on the junks is provided by the Government, to enable the Chinese to leave Port Arthur. The Red Cross nurses, in the absence of regular work, have established eating houses for the needy. Some of the Chinese are still working on the new shipbuilding works.

A RUSSIAN CRUISER WRECKED.

London, June 28.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio says it is reported that another Russian battleship has been discovered stranded off Tiger Rock. It is presumed the was wrecked while returning to Port Arthur after the recent naval engagements.

KAISER TOASTS KING EDWARD

Aim of Fleet and Army is Maintenance of Peace

PRAISES QUEEN VICTORIA

King is Repiy Thanks His Majesty for Reference to His Work for Universal Amity

Kiel, June 27.—At a banquet given aboard the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern last night, the Kaiser, in toasting the health of King Edward, welcomed his visit aboard a German warship when, as the ruler of a great maritime nation, he had come to partake in the sport of yachting.

The German fleet, Emperor William said, was the youngest creation among the world's fleets, and was an evidence of the renaissance of German naval power, due to the resurrection of the German Empire by William the First. Its aim, like that of the German army, was the maintenance of peace, which everybody knew was King Edward's constant endeavor as it was his own. The Kaiser concluded with a laudatory reference to the memory of Queen Victoria.

King Edward in reply, thanked the Emperor for his friendly words. He said he was glad to be able to pay a visit at a time when he was usually busy at home. He was glad of the occasion for seeing how yachting had developed in Germany, and renewing the friendly relations of the two houses. He declared that he was deeply moved at the Kaiser's reference to his (King Edward's) efforts to preserve peace, and concluded by saying "May our two flags in the distant future, even as now, float together in upholding peace, not only in the interests of our own, but of other nations."

King Edward and Emperor William attended divine service yesterday on board the German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, and afterwards took lunch on board the Empress' yacht Iduna, which did not take part in the regatta. Later King Edward, accompanied by Prince Henry and other members of the Royal party, paid an informal visit to the Royal Yacht Club. Among those present at the luncheon were the Emperor and the Empress, King Edward, Count von Buelow and the Marquis of Ormonde. The Emperor and the Empress dined this evening with King Edward on board the Victoria and Albert.

HAVE FIXED THE DATE

Jap Officer Says Port Arthur will fall in July

Che Foo, June 29.—While cruising off Port Arthur Saturday morning despatch boat with our correspondent on board, heard continuous firing from 3 to 6 a.m. It was concluded that the Japanese were making another reconnaissance. At 2 o'clock the same afternoon a Japanese cruiser, four destroyers, and four torpedo boats approached from the east, but retired about 6 p.m., without action.

One of the destroyers had recently been in action, as two of its funnels were patched and knocked out of line. The cruiser sent a boat to board and search the despatch boat. The officer stated that the fall of Port Arthur was expected about the middle of next month. He indicated that the more fighting was progressing steadily. He said that the Russian cruisers, Askold and Diana, were injured in the fight of June 23. Intermittant firing was heard from behind the fortress all Sunday, as the despatch boat cruised off the coast. The attack appeared especially heavy between 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, after which it ceased. The despatch boat found a mine adrift near the Miaotao Islands. On examination it proved to be a Russian electric contact mine. The Japanese mines are entirely different. Several bodies of Russian sailors came ashore on the Islands within that last few days. It is supposed they came from the battleshipp that was sunk in the naval fight last Thursday. The bodies were decently buried.

MOROCCO RIPE FOR REBELLION

Sultan's Western Ideas Have Angered His Subject

CHILDISH WHIMSICALITIES

Army Equipments Sold to Pay for Extravagances-Automobiles but No Roads- Other Follies

London, June 28.—An English correspondent's description of the character of Moulai, the Sultan of Morocco, sufficiently explains the feelings of his subjects which, according to European residents, must result in a general revolution that is already almost ablaze.

The Moors naturally hate and scorn his western proclivities, with which he outrages every Mussulman idea. While earning their hatred he has not commanded fear or respect.

On the other hand he has worn out the patience of European friends by countless childish whimsicalities, for Moulai's leanings are toward the follies and not the wisdom of the west. His army is a worthless rabble, though regiment after regiment has been raised, equipped and drilled by British officers, only to be disbanded and the horses and equipments sold below cost to provide money for his idiotic extravagances.

Some of these will indicate the rest. He has twenty automobiles, but there is no road in Morocco fit even for a bicycle, of which he has scores made of aluminum, which the slightest obstacle crumples like tin.

He has a gold and diamond-studded camera and a stock of photographic paper worth £400 with which he takes four snapshots a month. A never-ending procession of packing cases arrives from Europe with trumpery, gewgaws musical boxes, mechanical toys, cameras, gramophones and watches. Withal he has no great vices and is singularly healthy minded for an Oriental preferring his stable to a seraglio. He is not at all blood-thirsty.

SLOCUM DISASTER CAUSED BY GREED

Pastor Has of Stricker Church Preaches Strong Sermon

New York, June 29.—"Why, my beloved, has this thing come to us? We know it, and we cannot deny it. It was due to negligence, carelessness and greed—and that the worship of mammon which looks only for profit and sends thousands of souls into eternity." With all the strength he could put into his voice, Rev. George C. F. Haas made this declaration in his sermon Sunday morning before his afflicted congregation in St. Mark's Lutheran church in Sixth street. The little church was crowded to the doors with church was crowded to the doors with friends and relatives of unfortunates who were lost in the Slocum disaster, and more than once throughout the sermon the pastor's voice was drowned by sobs that came from every side.

Continuing, the minister said: "It was not God who did this, but man. It was due to the officers who did not do their duty and to their careless and incompetent agents. We, too, are to blame. Had we not always been silent, but lifted our voices and cried out against this negligence and greed, things would have been different. We are all more or less to blame for it all."

DIED OF BROKEN HEART.

In the death on Saturday of the Rev. Dr. Edward Frederick Meldenius, one of the best known Lutheran clergymen in this country, another name was added to the list of victims of the Slocum disaster. Grief for twenty members of his own flock who went on the excursion and never returned and his compassion for the bereft families of St. Mark's church, so affected Dr. Meldenius that he died of a broken heart.

Detroit Specialist Discovers Something Entirely New for the Cure of Man's Diseases in Their Own Homes.

A Detroit specialist who has 14 certificates and diplomas from medical colleges and state boards of medical examiners, has perfected a startling method of curing the diseases of men in their own homes, so that there may be no doubt in the mind of any man that he can look the world and the ability to do as he says. Dr. Goldberg, the discoverer, and one of the ablest specialists in the country, has made a special study for years of all men who need medical assistance, and has had unusual opportunities for doing so, owing to large practice among men in all parts of the country. His treatment, which is entirely new, is a combination of several well-known remedies, each of which has a specific effect upon some particular part of the system, and when all are combined they form a perfect tonic, blood purifier, nerve vitalizer, brain developer, kidney, etc.

The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make such statements as these, and another thing entirely to prove them, and for this reason he has decided to make the following unusual offer: He will send free to any man who writes for it, a complete statement of his discovery, with numerous testimonials from prominent men who have been cured by it, and will also send a legal contract, signed by himself and backed by a $100,000 bank, agreeing to cure the man who writes, after all other specialists have failed, or refund every penny paid him in fees. He will also send a complete list of all the references he has given during the past year, so that any man can write to any of them and learn for himself what the doctor has done. He does not want any man's money unless he cures him, and he is willing to take his chances of collecting his fee after the patient is cured. He has been curing men by this method for the past year, and has now reached the point where he feels that he must let the world know of his discovery, so that men suffering from any of the diseases peculiar to men may write him and learn how they may be cured in their own homes. Those who write him will receive by return mail, in a plain envelope, his complete book, with numerous testimonials and references, and full particulars of his new method of treatment. Write him to-day, as he means what he says, and will not keep this offer open long.

The report was adopted.

By-laws were passed confirming reports.

After the close of business, Mr Hunter expressed his appreciation of the care which each committee had taken to keep down expenditure. Although we had lost Ashburnham, and thus over a thousand dollars of revenue, we were still able to pay all liabilities without increasing the county rate. He was pleased with the way in which the new clerk and treasurer had entered upon his duties and with the success he had made of the work of the sessional clerk.

Mr. E. M. Elliott made a neat reply in acknowledging the compliment, drawing attention to the great assistance that had been given by Mr. Peck, the Warden.

Mr. Peck replied that anything he had done was from a sense of duty to assist in carrying on the affairs of the county to the best advantage.

Moved by Mr. Fitzgerald, seconded by Mr Moore, that this council adjourn to meet the 23rd day of November or earlier if called by the Warden.—Carried.

Faded Women Need Richer Blood

It Stamps the Glow of Robust Health on Cheeks and Lips. How Blood is Made Rich and Red Enough to Beautify the Complexion.

A bright rosy complexion can easily be acquired. All that is necessary is to purify the blood and supply it with an increased number of red corpuscles. The simplest method of doing it is to introduce more iron into the system, which is always lacking where the complexion is pallid or sallow.

Iron in a concentrated form, specially adapted for internal use is contained in its most efficient state in Ferrosone, which is noted for marvellous blood building properties. No matter how weak or poor the blood may be, Ferrosone will enrich and nourish it. The immediate result is a better color, which will improve steadily under Ferrosone.

Every girl that takes pride in her complexion would find Ferrosone a greater value than cosmetics or face powders. Its influence is lasting, whereas artificial beautifiers are but a temporary aid. Thousands that have used Ferrosone are glad to endorse it strongly because it certainly is the best remedy for pimples blotches, skin eruptions and poor complexion than money can buy.

Miss Minnie E. Stirling, of Lancaster, writes, "I can recommend Ferrosone to everyone who needs something to clear up their complexion. Before using Ferrosone my skin was sallow, and had a very unhealthy color. After the first box of Ferrosone there was a great improvement and when I had used three boxes I felt much better and had a satisfactory color in my cheeks."

Mrs. C. T. Warwick, of Bradford, says: "My daughter was greatly benefitted by using Ferrosone. She used to have a sickly color and never looked as if she was strong. After using two boxes of Ferrosone she felt better and her color was wonderfully improved. This encouraged her to continue Ferrosone and in a few weeks she looked like a different person and had a clear rosy complexion. Ferrosone accomplished wonders for my daughter."

Ferrosone is just what most girls and women need. It builds up their system, improves their looks, and makes them feel what buoyant good health really means. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all druggists. Beware of substitutes and get Ferrosone when you ask for it. Mailed to your address by N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

PROPERTIES SITUATED NEAR SILVERTON, SAN JUAN COUNTY, COLORADO. Properties consist of three groups; namely,—

THE PROSPECT BASIN AND MAMMOTH TUNNEL GROUP of 30 claims and Tunnel site aggregating 670 acres of mineral ground all held by location, and free from any conflict as to title; also in same location, three mill sites and one lode claim, total 25 acres all now being patented.

THE LEAD CARBONATE GROUP, adjoining the Gold King, of 78¾ acres all of mineral territory; this group is patented.

THE STONY PASS GROUP, 110 acres in Stony Gulch, surveyed for patent which will shortly be applied for; no adverses; title perfectly clear.

Total area Mineral territory	758½ acres
" " Mill and building sites	55 "
" " Timber properties	90 "
Total	903½ acres

This was the total acreage held at organization of the Stony Pass Mining Company in December 1902. Since that date 230 acres additional have been located in Prospect Basin and surveyed with view of applying for patent at an early day.

Complete Saw Mill plant located in Cement Creek, capacity 20,000 feet per day; Lumber on hand in mill yards and at the Hercules shaft 500,000 feet. Round logs ready for the mill 300,000 feet. Cost to Company approximately $5,400, market value lumber alone $5,100.

TIMBER RESERVES.

Estimated timber, on timber and mineral lands owned by Company, 5,000,000 feet. Contiguous territory controlled by Government from which timber can be had or cutting providing same is used for mineral purposes 40,000,000 feet.

Total cost of development to date, present management	$53,000.00
" " " " " former owners	18,000.00
" " surface improvements, buildings, saw mill plant, horses, wagons, ore cars, track, tools, etc.	17,000.00
" " Machinery paid for and to be installed	6,000.00
	$99,000.00

Above items do not include moneys expended for additional properties since Company was organized, which approximate $26,000.00.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are allspurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built.

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3.50 to $4.00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developements. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co. within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HARRISON.

A BRAVE CANADIAN FIGHTS FOR JAPS

Montreal, June 28.—The Star publishes the following letter from Mr. W. J. Kathlan, which is dated Antung, May 5.

"I have been through my first battle, and my sensations for the greater part of the time beggar description. I am in a hospital but expect to be out again in a week or ten days, so that you may judge that I was not very seriously wounded. I forgot to tell you that I was unfortunate enough to be hit twice, and I owe the fact of my being alive at all to my friend Ferguson, who, by the way, is a Canadian from the same place as yourself, Montreal, but he has served with the American forces, having been with the Astor Battery, of New York, in the Philippines. Now, I don't propose to bore you with an account of the whole fight, as you have probably read more than I could tell you about it, but will confine myself to what happened to the battery I was with. After undergoing our share of the previous four days work we crossed the Yalu the night of April 30th, and took up position in the early morning, and, at daylight proceeded to shell, with the other batteries, the Russian position, but without being able to draw their fire. After a few minutes of this, as we got no response, our infantry line started to advance across the open to the river. They advanced in short dashes and had got nearly across when the Russians opened fire. The effect was terrible. We could see great gaps all along the line. It stopped them for a minute, but only a minute, and on they went again. After the infantry crossed we went on up the bank of the river and took up another position. After the fight has lasted some time, I don't know how long, as I had lost all track of time, an order came for the right half of our battery—to which Ferguson was attached, and I got permission to accompany—to take up a position away off to the right on a plateau, and dislodge a party of Russians who had taken up a position on the side of a hill covered with bushes and were doing some damage to our troops by a flanking fire which they were maintaining.

"Well, I don't know whether our captain (a little Jap named Asuka) had misunderstood his orders, or whether we moved too fast for our support, but when we got there and came into action, we found ourselves absolutely unsupported and practically isolated. However, that did not seem to bother our captain, as we immediately started to shell their position. We had barely started when we found that we were within rifle range and also within range of a battery of field guns. However, the Japs are nothing if not plucky, so we stuck to it. It was then that I regretted having come. But as I was there I had to stay.

"Almost their first two shells burst among the caissons, killing or wounding nearly all the horses. Our fire seemed to be very effective as we could see the shells bursting right over their position, and their fire was slackening. In the meantime we were losing heavily, as we were altogether exposed to both the rifle and shell fire. Then one of their shells burst right under a gun putting it completely out of action, killing or wounding all the men about it. A minute or two after that I was hit by a rifle bullet through the left shoulder. Then we had another gun partially disabled and the men were still going down fast.

FERGUSON WAS HIT.

"Ferguson came over to bandage my shoulder and while doing it was himself hit in the calf of the leg by a bullet, but went on with the bandaging, merely saying: 'That's one for me,' and had just finished when a shout from one of the men drew our attention to a troop of Cossacks who were coming at us, a few hundred yards away. Then as there was not more than fifteen of us left standing, we got the order to take cover, viz., run. I had just time to run when another bullet struck me in the hip and brought me up sharp. Ferguson not knowing that I was hit again, and, evidently thinking what I did not want to leave the guns, called to me, 'Come on, no heroics about staying with the guns.' When I told him that I was hit again, he came back and with his help I managed to hobble some distance, but soon gave out. I told him to go on and never mind me, and he told me not to be 'a d—d ass,' and lifted me up and tried to carry me, but as I am not very light and his own legs must have been bothering him, he soon had to put me down again.

CHASED BY COSSACKS.

"The Cossacks had divided up and were almost up to us, and we could see that they did not intend to take any prisoners, when a sharp volley knocked one of them over and our support was coming up at last, but the other two came right on. Ferguson fired a couple of shots at them from his revolver without any apparent effect, and fired the next one point blank in the leading horse's face and then went down horse and rider on top of him. Then I must have fainted, what with the strain of the last few moments and the pain from my wounds. I must have collapsed all at once, for the next thing that I remember I was in the field hospital.

THE LOSS WAS HEAVY.

"I have been told since that from the time we opened fire on the plateau, until our supports arrived, not twenty minutes had elapsed, but it seemed to me like hours.

FERGUSON BADLY HURT.

"I have been making inquiries about Ferguson this morning, and the doctors tell me that he is getting along nicely, but it would be months before he would be fit for service again, and as he has been told so, he has asked to be retired, and will leave for home as soon as he can be moved, which the doctor says will be in about a fortnight. His worst injury is his back, which was hurt by the horse falling on him, and has caused partial paralysis of the legs, besides which he has a broken wrist, a wound in the leg, and a cut in the side, that he must have got from the Cossack as he fell. I expect to be able to get about a bit in a couple of days and will be able to see him myself.

"I am told that during the twenty-minutes we lost eight killed and fifteen wounded."

RIVAL ARMIES EAGER FOR DECISIVE FIGHT

Ta Tche Kiao (between Kai Chou and Hai Cheng Liao Tung Peninsula) against Hai Cheng.

According to a high placed personage, General Kuroki's army is strong enough to take the offensive, and he presumably is anxious for a decisive action before the rains begin.

HAS THE BATTLE BEGUN?

Sharp firing was heard in the hills yesterday at daybreak and severe fighting is reported to be in progress near the village of Ton Chen. An officer who galloped in yesterday evening reported that the Russians were gaining the upper hand and driving back the enemy. This, however, has not yet been confirmed.

WENT SINGING TO THE FIGHT

All day yesterday Russian troops were hurrying southward from Ta Tche Kiao and as night fell battalions were continuously moving out briskly to the accompaniment of their battle songs. Clouds of dust hung over the marching columns, and the chorus of the infantry singers was consistently interrupted by the rattle and clank of guns drawn at a smart trot and followed by galloping squadrons of cavalry. It was a stirring spectacle to see the Russian army eagerly hastening, singing into battle. The old battle hymns, last heard in the Balkans, resounded among the hills and villages, as with bayonets glittering in the setting sun, the regimental colors were borne majestically forward. For hours after darkness fell over the scene one could hear the rattle of moving guns, the creaking of commissariat wagons and the tread of marching men, while occasionally, in place of the war songs of the soldiers, homely melodies recounting the joys of village life, which carried the minds of the men back to their distant homes in Russia, echoed through the air.

As this despatch is filed news has reached here that General Kuroki is marching upon Hai Cheng.

There are very many military attaches and newspapers correspondents here.

NEWS FROM JAPANESE SIDE.

General Kuroki's headquarters in the field, via Fusan, June 27—(Delayed in transmission)—A party of eighteen correspondents and military attaches has been conducted on a tour of the main Japanese works beyond headquarters. That the greatest care has been taken in building them, the attaches remarked, temporary defences having been constructed with more pains than most European armies would take under similar circumstances.

At Liao Yang, where it was hitherto thought the first meeting between the armies in force would occur, the Russians have guns in position mounted on the city wall, and trenched on the plains south of the city extending over an area of 180 degrees. These trenches are so constructed that they can be flooded during the rainy season. Recent rains indicate the beginning of the wet season, when military movements upon a large scale will be greatly handicapped, and perhaps rendered impossible for months or more.

The Japanese are completing arrangements for transporting whereby facilities for the supply of the army will be assured regardless of weather conditions.

RUSSIA EXPECTS BIG THINGS.

St Petersburg, June 27—Not since the war began has such an air of excitement pervaded the War Office and Admiralty as to-day. The news received during the next few days is expected to largely determine the fate of the present campaign on land and sea. The spirits of the Russians have appreciably risen at the prospect that after all the sortie of the squadron of Rear Admiral Withoft (in command of the naval forces at Port Arthur), while it may have resulted in the loss of some of the Russian ships has been successful. A despatch from Che Foo this morning says that a Chinese junk reports having seen two big Japanese warships and several torpedo boats damaged on Friday near Port Arthur. This strengthens the belief here that a great sea fight has occurred, and that the Japanese who alone are able through wireless telegraphy to be in constant communication with their base, are withholding the news. If the Vladivostok squadron is at sea with the purpose of affecting a juncture, as is generally believed, with the Port Arthur squadron, its appearance on the scene could easily turn the scale in favor of the Russians.

Some unusually well informed personages at the War Office are bold enough to see, in a report received this morning by the Bourse Gazette, of the hasty retirement of General Oku, evidence that the Japanese fleet has suffered a reverse and that the communication of this intelligence to Oku with the accompanying threat that his base at Pitsewo may be attacked, compelled his withdrawal.

KUROPATKIN IS IN COMMAND.

All direct news from the land side indicates an immense and decisive battle near Ta Tche Kiao. According to reliable advice, General Kuropatkin is there personally in command. The presence of the military attaches and newspaper correspondents is also significant. Kuropatkin's purpose seems to be to try to prevent the juncture of General Oku's and General Kuroki's armies. The outposts are in touch all along the line.

If Kuroki has met Kuropatkin's offensive move southward against Oku by an advance on Hai Cheng, ad advices from Ta Tche Kiao say, the Russian commander-in-chief seems to be seriously endangered unless he retires or is strong enough to present two faces to the enemy. Kuroki was only 14 miles from the Russian army yesterday, according to a despatch from the front, and the three armies are so close together that a decisive battle appears to be inevitable.

SIBERIANS SAVED THE DAY.

London, June 27.—Officers arriving at New Chwang from the front say that the battle fought on Thursday at Simen Ting, about 40 miles east of Kaiping, was the hardest blow the Russians have yet received. The Muscovites lost, according to these accounts, 16,000 in killed and wounded, missing and prisoners. That the Russian retreat did not turn into a rout was due to the dolled bravery of the men of the Ninth East Siberian Rifle Brigade, under General Koudratovitch, who covered the flying troops, contesting every inch of the way.

RESOLUTION OF REGRET

Passed At Special Meeting of Ministerial Association

At a special meeting of the Ministerial Association held yesterday morning the following resolution of regret was passed in view of the approaching departure from our town of the Rev. J. Bastow, of the Murray Street Baptist Church, and Rev. J. P. Wilson, of the George Street Methodist Church:

"That the Peterborough Ministerial Association in session assembled hereby expresses its deep regret at the approaching departure of the Revs. Jonathan Bastow, M. A., and J. P. Wilson, former Presidents of the Association.

"We recognize with appreciation their valuable works for the cause of Christianity in the town, which we feel will loose two good citizens.

"They leave Peterborough with the best wishes of the Association for their future success and happiness in their new fields."

The different ministers present then spoke in appreciative terms of the two gentlemen referred to, and regretted their departure from our midst.

A BUSINESS MAN'S LETTER.

Wm. Thomson, Esq., of Orillia, Vice-President Standard Chemical Company of Toronto, Tells of a Visit to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

GREATLY IMPRESSED WITH WORK BEING DONE.

Personally Raises Several Hundred Dollars to Help Lessen the Load of Debt.

There can be little doubt that the National Sanitarium Association is handicapped in its great work for Consumptives in the fact that its two institutions in Muskoka are far away from any large centre of population. Few people have an opportunity to see for themselves the magnificent work that is being done.

These hospitals are away from the public eye. Any, however, who do visit them, are united in their commendation of the splendid appointments of the place, and, best of all, of the real joy and hope that is being brought to many suffering ones.

We are glad to have the opportunity of publishing the following letter from Mr. Wm. Thomson, of Orillia, one of Canada's best known lumbermen, which tells what he has seen himself. It reads:

ORILLIA, Ont., November 2, 1903.

W. J. Gage, Esq.,
Chairman Executive Committee
National Sanitarium Association,
Toronto, Ont.

My Dear Mr. Gage,—

I have much pleasure in enclosing herewith cheque for One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) from the Tudhope Carriage Company of Orillia, a donation to the Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst. Please acknowledge this to the Tudhope Carriage Company in the usual way.

I have written to a number of my friends, to try and get them interested in this good work. I hope to be able to send you further donations. I have written my friends a personal letter, something similar to the following:

"Last week I paid a visit to the Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst. I met some of the management there, and promised to try and interest some of my friends in this work.

"I might say there were 49 patients there last week, all poor people, most of them without a dollar in the world, and suffering from the dreadful disease, Consumption. There are many sad stories, and I know I have thought a great deal about the work of the institution ever since my visit there. I do believe it is worthy of assistance, and we who have health and the necessaries of life should encourage this work along.

"I understand the expenses lately have been double the income, and unless the management meet with more encouragement, I am afraid the work will have to be curtailed. I know you have many calls, but I do wish you would give this matter a thought, and, if possible, assist. I have written to two or three confidentially, and hope to be able to collect some more for this work. Should you not feel like contributing a donation, remember this request, and your reply is just between you and me, and strictly confidential.

"I might mention, to show that I have confidence in the work, I have already given a donation of $100.00 and two row boats to the Free Hospital this year, and intend to give another $100.00 before the end of the year."

Sincerely yours,

Wm Thomson

Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., or Mr. W. J. Gage, Toronto, will receive and acknowledge any contributions made.

Beware of the Lawyers.

They have a way of settling lawsuits in India that it would be well to copy here, according to the Springfield Republican. When a dispute arises over the ownership of land two holes are dug near together and the two opposing lawyers nicely planted up to their waists. The first one to become bitten by a bug or becomes so exhausted that he has to be exhumed loses the case for his client. This does away with unnecessary talking and adds an interesting element of chance to the game.

The Dress of Hindoo Women.

There has been no change in Indian women's dress for 4,000 years. All wear the sari, a single piece of stuff a yard and a quarter wide, ten, twenty, thirty yards long. It is arranged on the body and forms skirt, garment, veil, first plaited with the hand in accordion folds in front, wound round and round, and the richest end, if embroidered or woven with gold, finally brought over the head. It may be of simple cotton cloth; of silk, plain in design, woven with golden threads, solid with embroidery, strung with pearls, or of kincob, the royal cloth of gold. Some cost thousands of rupees. No pin, hook, button or string, the garment is formed on the architecture of the body, and takes its expression and nobility from its perfect harmony with the lines of the human form. And Indian women, whether of high or low class, have jewels everywhere; have sleeping gems and day gems, as we have day and night shirts.—Everybody's.

The Oak.

England won her supremacy on the seas with her ships of British oak, a wood that is renowned for strength and durability. When the Spanish armada set sail for England its commander had express orders from the king of Spain to burn or otherwise destroy every oak in the forest of Dean, then the great source of shipbuilding supplies. But, as blunt old Drake prophesied, Philip's beard was singed instead. Admiral Nelson declared that without "heart of oak" the British navy and empire would soon come to an end.

The oak is beautiful at all seasons. From the time it opens its delicate green buds, close pressed in their resinous overcoat, and emerging flame tipped with bronze or crimson, until they come again an acorn bearing spray is most artistic, and the ruddy hue of the tree in autumn combines well in nature's color scheme.

One Sided Sport.

A London paper tells a story of a certain shortsighted sportsman. He was asked one morning by a fellow sojourner in a small hotel on the shores of Loch Carron what sport he had had. "Just seen a seal," he said. "Shot at it three times and missed it each time." At dinner, an hour later, he sat next to a man with a bandage round his head. "Accident?" he inquired. "Accident!" was the indignant response. "Attempted murder, you mean. I was having a bath about an hour ago when some lunatic fired at me three times from the shore and shot part of my ear off." "Wonder who it could have been!" murmured the sportsman, and then he changed the conversation.

A Story of Storey.

An English paper tells a little anecdote of the distinguished painter Storey in his capacity of teacher of perspective at the Royal academy. On one occasion Mr. Storey accepted an invitation to dine with the wealthy—and Philistine—father of one of his pupils. Over the undeniable port the by no means doting parent inquired how his son was getting on, and, although the kindliest of men, Mr. Storey could not bring himself to say much that was favorable. "Humph!" grunted the man of money. "Well, I hope he will turn out an artist, for I am quite sure he's not fit to be anything else."

Presents in Japan.

The foreigner should beware of making presents to any Japanese girl unless he is bent upon matrimony. To present her with any sort of a gift, even though it be only a posy, will be regarded as a proposal of marriage, and to accept the present, though not a word of love or matrimony be passed, is a sign that she accepts you. Gallant Americans have got into serious trouble and found it necessary to leave the country at night to escape a binding engagement which they thoughtlessly incurred by giving to a maiden some trifle.

To Make a Soidlitz Powder.

To make a soidlitz powder mix together two drams of rochelle salts and two scruples of bicarbonate of soda; put these into a blue paper and put thirty-five grains of tartaric acid into a white paper. To use put each into different glasses and quarter fill with water, then pour both together and drink at once while in a state of effervescence.

To Make Red Ink.

Red ink is easily made by amateurs who follow this recipe: Get a one ounce bottle and see that it is perfectly clean and dry. Place in it one teaspoonful of aqua ammonia, gum arabic the size of two peas, and add six grains of carmine. Fill up the bottle with clear soft water, and after standing a little while it will be fit for use.

An Obstinate Family.

Cholmondley—I thought you intended to marry Miss Wealthington? Dolmondley—I thought so, too; but her family objected. Cholmondley—What did Miss Wealthington say? Dolmondley—Oh, she's one of the family, you know.

Things He Knew.

His Wife—Why don't you go to the doctor and find out just what you ought to eat and what you ought to avoid? Dyspeptic—Oh, I know all that now! I ought to eat everything I don't like and avoid everything I do.

Just the Reverse.

Stranger (to highlander in full uniform)—Sandy, are you cold with the kilt? Sandy—Na, man, but I'm nigh kilt wi' the cauld.

Mind is the beginning of civilization, but the ends and fruitage thereof are of the heart.

NEW YORK STREETS.

HOW SOME OF THE OLD ONES GAINED THEIR NAMES.

Trinity Church Had More to Do With Bestowing Them Than All Other Authorities Combined—The Reason Broadway Rilled Maiden Street.

The churchwardens of old Trinity church had more to do with naming the streets in the lower part of old New York than all other authorities combined. To be sure, the quaint burgomasters, before the first Trinity church was built, after hearing the pros and cons of landowners, found names for many streets significant of certain established facts, for streets and byways below Maiden lane on the easterly side of the Meere strnat, afterward changed to Great George street, in honor of King George, by the authorities of Trinity. Then our patriots ignored the name and called it Bloomingdale road and then the Broad way, simplified into Broadway.

The present Trinity church, at the head of Wall street, is the third edifice of that name, the two preceding structures erected upon the same ground having been burned, but the first was one of the first churches erected in this city, and Trinity has always been the wealthiest corporation, patronized by the richest and most influential families for ages. The churchwardens of this church had their own way about naming the streets from the church to what is now Twenty-third street, west of Broadway, along the Hudson river front, because they owned that immense property.

In the olden time Queen Anne of England owned what was known as the Queen's farm, which covered the land commencing at St. Paul's church and extending to what is now Twenty-third street, bounded by Broadway on the east and the Hudson river on the west.

Vestry street was so styled by Trinity because the church had a vestry in that street between Hudson and Greenwich streets. Church street was so called because it bounded the west side of St. Paul's churchyard. Rector street was honored by the residence of the rector of Trinity. Barclay and Vesey streets were named after two clergymen of the church.

Trinity's officers determined that the main artery of the city should run through its land, and, grounded in their belief in their ability to carry out their intention, Hudson street was laid out. St. John's park and many other improvements were offered as inducements to purchasers of land, and St. John's chapel was erected and finished in 1806, one of the handsomest pieces of church architecture in the city. Trinity counted without an expression of the majority of the people and failed in its endeavor.

The arrogance of the church fretted the good people, and more to spite the churchwardens than because Broadway was nearer the center of the city Broadway acquired the preference, and the glory of Hudson street departed, never to return.

It has been remarked that the streets laid out by Trinity on the farm are all perfectly straight, while many in the lower part of the city are wonderfully crooked. The explanation of this lies in the fact that scarcely a small hill existed on the farm, while below there crooked lanes and byways, to say nothing of cow paths, were turned into streets, which run in devious ways around hills, valleys and swamps. Many streets were named after the owners of property adjacent to or through which the ways were laid.

Moore street was originally the line of the first wharf erected in the city. Colonel Moore was formerly a large owner of the lots when first built upon. John street was named after John Harpending, who resided in Broadway, and John street when first laid out passed through his garden. Cortlandt, Dey and Beekman streets were carried through the property of the men after whom they were named. Ann street was named after Ann Beekman. Vandewater, Roosevelt, Rutgers, Gouverneur, Harrison, Lispenard, Bayard, De Lancey, Rivington and Willett streets were so designated because they passed through the property of people bearing these names.

Hester street was named after one of the Bayard family and Catharine after Catharine Rutgers. Henry street was named after a son of the Rutgers family, and Jacob street bounded the Jacob Leisler estate. Frankfort street was also a boundary of the same estate. Leisler was a native of Frankfurt. James street was named after a member of the De Lancey family, as was also Oliver street. Batavia lane was so called because the Roosevelt estate, through which this street was run, was called New Batavia.

Division street was originally the division line between the De Lancey and Rutgers farms. Leonard street was named after one of the Lispenards, and Orchard street was cut through the orchard of the De Lancey farm. Sheriff street was called after Sheriff Willett, through whose estate it was carried. Mangin and Goerck streets were named after the two city surveyors who laid out the river line.

The first mayor of New York after the Revolution, a true patriot, was James Duane, who was honored by the naming of Duane street after him.

Elm, Orange and Mulberry streets were laid out through public property in the vicinity of the Collect pond and owe their names to the peculiarities they suggest. Cherry street was originally run through "the road by the cherry trees" and named accordingly.

Rogues differ little. Each began as a disobedient son.—Chinese Proverb.

Getting Out of Debt.

"What was it your husband wanted to see me about?" inquired Mrs. Newlywed's papa.

"I think he wanted to borrow a couple of hundred dollars from you," she said. "He's so anxious to get out of debt."

Not Needed Below.

"This is a funny ship."

"How so?"

"They have no clock in the cabin."

"Oh, no! But they always keep a watch on the deck."

CRIPPLE CREEK ENTERPRISE GOLD MINING COMPANY

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operation to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. The whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a numbea of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district, The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern mach nery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is in about 700 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men o integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $65,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

RUSSIA EXPECTS GREAT VICTORY

Says the Japanese Have Made Tachnical Mistakes, Delaying General Battle Until Kouropatkin Has Received Sufficient Reinforcements to be able to meet them.

St. Petersburg, June 28—In face of persistent rumors since the beginning of the week of heavy Russian losses and even demoralization at Kaichau, the general staff maintains that the situation is satisfactory. In response to enquiries for more precise information the officers refer to an interview with Col. Moulin, the French military attache, published in the St. Petersburg Gazette. In this interview Col. Moulin says that Gen Kuropatkin is in a good position The Japanese according to this authority, have made grave tactical mistakes. They ought to have sought to have gained a real general engagement before dividing their army into two parts. They ought to have postponed sending an army to besiege Port Arthur until such an engagement had been fought Col. Moulin believes that Gen Kuropatkin aimed at making the Japanese take their present action. They can not now repair their fault, as the Russian army is receiving such reinforcements that it can willingly go to meet them. Col Moulin holds that the Japanese mobilization proceeds much too slowly. Given their position it ought to have been finished in one month, while it has not been finished in three months.

Other military officers withhold comments, Col Moulin is the only hopeful view published.

OKU WITHDRAWING.

Attempt to Join General Kuroki's Force Abandoned.

Liao Yang, June 28.—The second Japanese army under Gen. Oku, is withdrawing all along the line, having apparently abandoned the intention of effecting a juncture with Gen. Kuroki's army.

MOVE IS A PUZZLE

Speculation Rife as to the Object of the Withdrawal.

London, June 28—A despatch from Liao Yang sums up the military position as follows: The most imposing force with which the Russians are confronted is now drawn up at the head of the Liao Tung Peninsula The Japanese force consists of the united armies of Generals Kuroki and Oku. Each consists of at least six divisions. Facing them is General Kuropatkin's immense army The proximity of the rainy season renders a great battle unavoidable Though it is said that the Japanese are retiring from the direction of Kaichau, fighting between the advanced guards is constantly reported. The engagements are undecisive but they show that the Japanese are daily regularly advancing all along the line. The announcement that the Japanese are retiring seven miles toward unsuspecting pursuing commentators. It is suggested that they are taking time to make the fullest preparations in every way taking advantage of the confusion said to reign at Russian headquarters. This confusion is said to be due, among other reasons, to the fact that the Chinese brigands are tampering with the roads and railways The Japanese probably trust that their surprising retirement will increase the Russian confusion. It is possible that the raid of the Vladivostok squadron, coupled with the unexpected appearance of the Russian fleet outside of Port Arthur may have influenced the Japanese to postpone a decisive engagement.

KUROKI PUSHES ON.

Russians Flee, Leaving 60 Dead North of Santao River.

Tokio June 28—Gen. Kuroki reports skirmishes at Shakangen, northeast of Sinren, and at Suetichan, north of Fenghwan, capturing a sub lieutenant in each case. The Takushan army, Gen. Oguras, report that a detachment was attacked by Russian cavalry east of Tanchi and fifteen miles southeast of Tashichao at dawn on Thursday. At 8 in the evening the Japanese infantry and artillery dislodged two battalions of infantry and one battery from the heights north of the Santao River, commanding Tangchi, and occupied them. The Russians left 60 dead on the field and retreated to the northwest.

Officers arriving at New Chwang from the front say that the battle fought on Thursday at Simenting, about 40 miles east of Kaiping, was the hardest blow the Russians have yet received. The Muscovites lost, according to these accounts, 15,000 in killed and wounded, missing and prisoners. That the Russian retreat did not turn into a rout was due to the dogged bravery of the men of the Ninth East Siberian Rifle Brigade under Gen. Kondratovitch, who covered the flying troops, contesting every inch of the way.

A portion of the Japanese troops at Takushan were in two engagements on Thursday. They first surprised and routed a squadron of Cossacks posted at Haiemchiaya, ten miles northwest of Santa Okon, on the road to Tashichao, and next repulsed a force of Russians who occupied a hill north of Santa Okon.

JAPS AMBUSHED.

General Sakharoff Reports Numerous Small Engagements.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—In an official despatch to the Czar General Sakharoff reports that the advance of the Japanese on Caichju continues. The Frontier Guards ambushed a squadron with great loss to the Japanese in men and horses. Caichju has not been reached.

The Japanese, who were advancing on the Suyan road occupied Syandu, but were forced to evacuate it in disorder. The Russians had three officers wounded and seven men killed and fourteen wounded.

On June 25 a patrol at Ai Yan Yam drove the Japanese from a fortified position and then retired to Saimatsi.

The Japanese have evacuated Hougaigensan.

A despatch from Taschitao to the Listock, dated yesterday, says the Japanese attacked the Russians Friday along the whole front near Syandjau and south of the railway at Haitchou They were repulsed with great loss.

The following official despatch has been received from Gen. Sakharoff, it being a continuation of the despatch from the same commander which was issued by the Ministry of War yesterday: "On the morning of June 25 the enemy's advance guard, which was occupying the valley of the Kho River, ten miles southwest of Kaipang, fell back ten kilos to the south to a place near Siung Yuen Cheng During the day on June 24 a Japanese detachment, consisting of two companies of infantry and two squadrons of cavalry, approached the Village of Sindian, in the mountains, seven miles from Kaipang, in a southerly direction. Patrols of the enemy also appeared in the Khoulvanpin locality, 15 1-2 miles east of Kaiping and seven kilos northwest of Siampenling Pass. A detachment of the Japanese advance guard has occupied the Village of Tamiathoon, on the road north from Siuyen to Kaiping. Japanese patrols are also posted between Kriadaboon and Madiavana, on the road from Khanza. The Saikhotanou, Pandzinbey and Rantchanion Passes, on the road from Siuyen north to Kaiping, continue to be occupied by the enemy. There is no change in the locality from Siuyen to Hai Cheng. Our rigles had a skirmish on June 24 with a Japanese patrol, en route from Feng Wang Cheng to Hai Cheng, in the district of Sarganboon, 15m iles north west of Feng Wang Cheng. The enemy lost one killed. Towards evening June 24 I found that the Japanese were advancing from Sarganboon via Hai Chang Their advance, composed of two companies, has occupied the Village of Kangaipouza. A small body of the enemy has also occupied Tungopouza, eight miles northwest of Seljujan.

LIVED 136 YEARS

Veteran Claiming to be the Oldest in America Dies

Stamford Conn., June 28.— John if not the oldest, man in America, is dead at Fitcher's soldiers home at Norton Heights, Conn. John Bradley Bradley, who was one of the oldest or Andy Bradley, as he was known at the home, was almost remarkable man. He claimed 136 years and was proud of his longevity. The hospital authorities at Norton Heights calculated that Bradley was at least 106 years old.

He was born in Ireland, supposedly in County Derry, and came to this country when a young man. The outbreak of the Civil war found him in New Haven and he was then an old man. He was anxious to enlist and in order to give himself the appearance of youth dyed his hair black. He succeeded in enlisting in the sixth Connecticut, volunteers regiment Ten years or so he was admitted to the home.

Bradley's vitality was remarkable His longevitity was not the result of temperate habits. He always smoked and drank His death was due to a gradual wearing out of the machinery of life. He leaves no known relatives.

London, June 28.—The latest victim to the wiles of the dog fakir is King Edward. Not long ago His Majesty bought a dog to which he had taken a great fancy. When later on he went to the Royal Kennels to see his new pet, he was unable to recognise it. The elaborate results obtained by trimming, combing and cropping had disappeared and the dog stood revealed with all its bad points. There is a great deal of dissatisfaction among the fanciers at the increase in dog show faking, and the Kennel Club is shortly to be approached with a view of letting it become known when a dog is "faked."

The Inverlock House

Mr. Wm. Irwin, of the Inverlock House, Sunday Lake, accompanied by her son James, were in town yesterday and gave The Times a call. Mrs. Irwin says already there are several American tourists stopping at the Inverlock, and many more booked to arrive later on. The Inverlock is one of the most charming summer resorts in the district, it is beautifully situated on the shore of Sandy Lake, a short distance from Buckhorn, where the best of fishing and hunting abounds.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 50.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,600 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 225 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,694 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1899.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

Is what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 50.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of these in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

H. J. Loye

Consumption Can Be Cured

A Powerful and Effective Destroyer o Disease Germs Discovered Which Cures Consumption.

The ravages of consumption which for years have terrorized the modern world will no longer continue to cut off our population by thousands. Stuoco has at last produced a remedy which not only can be readily applied to the lungs, but also kills every trace of bacilli in the throat, bronchial tubes, and air passages of all the breathing organs.

The name of this marvellous antiseptic about which the doctors are talking so much is Catarrhozone, the atomized air cure. The vapor is more soothing than the air of pine woods, and its healing properties are without limit.

Through a skilfully devised inhaler the sufferer is enabled to breathe this fragrant medicated vapor into the most minute air cells of the lungs. It is so destructive to microbic life that the tubercular germs are rapidly killed and prevented from ever returning. Congestion and inflammation are relieved, coughing stops, all disagreeable symptoms are quickly cured by Catarrhozone.

So simple is Catarrhozone that anyone can use it. So certain to cure lung and throat troubles that it is prescribed by not less than twenty thousand doctors in United States and Canada. One well known authority who has made a life long study of consumption, has the following to say: "Catarrhozone is certainly a true specific for white plague. I find that its healing vapor readily spreads all through all the breathing organs passing over probably not less than one thousand square feet of mucous surface at a single inhalation. It is a perfect germicide and destroys tubercular germs with wonderful certainty. Catarrhozone is entitled to rank among the great medical discoveries of the age."

No matter how often you have been disappointed with other remedies you must not be discouraged. In Catarrhozone you will find new hope. What it has done before it can do again. Your case is not worse than others it has cured. Therefore if properly used you can also be cured by Catarrhozone. Two months treatment $1.00. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont. Refuse any substitute for Catarrhozone—only the genuine cures.

STAR OF THE EAST GOLD MINES

Preparing to Put Stamp Mills in

Mr E J Cowain, superintendent of the Star of the East Gold Mine, was in town on Monday, and says the company is preparing to put in a stamp mill. The shaft in the northern vein is down about 130 feet and the prospects are better the further it goes. The pipes for the conduit from McCausland Lake to the site of the stamp mill, to supply power, are in the ground, and Mr. Cowain is negotiating for the stamp mill machinery. He says there is enough quartz in the dump to keep a ten stamp mill busy for a long time, and that the pay streak near the foot of the vein, which assayed $180.00 at the surface, improves in quality, and is now as high as $196.00 to the ton.

IMPORTANT TO BICYCLISTS

The Law Regarding Riding on Sidewalk from Water Street Over Bridge and Through Auburn Property Defined

An information was laid by the Chief of Police against a citizen for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk constructed from the east side of Water street to the railway bridge and over it to the sidewalk on the Auburn Mill property east of the river. The case was taken up and dealt with yesterday in the police court. It was held that the sidewalk on this side of the river and that on the bridge could not be so utilized. The walk on the east side of the river has not been dedicated to the town for sidewalk, or other purposes, and is not strictly a public place, and no offence could be made out. Hereafter bicyclists using the sidewalk will know where to do so to escape a fine. None however, was imposed in the case under review and none was aimed at.

GETS HEAVY SENTENCE

David R. Connors Sent to the Central Prison for Twelve Months

The man "Dr." Connors, who is well known in Peterborough, received a heavy sentence, and for the best part of a year at least, will be unable to engage in any crooked work. The Hamilton Herald refers to him thusly:

David R. Connors, the corn doctor, who was found guilty of getting clothes from Henry Rader under false pretenses, and remanded until to-day for sentence, was sentenced to the Central Prison for one year. His Worship had a criminal record of the "Professor," which he began to read to Connors. As he called out the sentences he had served, he asked Connors if he wished to admit them, but he declined. Here is his record—1883 sentenced at Toronto, for house breaking at Belleville, three years in the penitentiary; November 6, 1886, ten years for house-breaking at Belleville; October 15 1894, safe-blowing at Peterborough, remanded for sentence, November 6, 1894, sentenced to five years at Toronto for burglary; October 11, 1899, theft at Ottawa, six months in the Central.

His last sentence makes 19 1-2 years that Connors has been sentenced to spend in prison, and he is only 48 years of age. He asked permission to go to the hospital this morning, as he said his rheumatism was very bad. His Worship told him that would be attended to in prison.

Ask a healthy woman what she would sell her health for and she would tell you that the choicest diamonds in the world could not buy it. What use for diamond rings to emphasize the shrunken fingers, or earrings to light up the cheeks hollowed by disease?

Health is the first requisite to womanly happiness. General ill-health in women has its origin in local womanly diseases. Cure the diseases of the delicate womanly organism and the general health is perfectly restored.

The remarkable benefits experienced from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are due to this medicine's perfect cures of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weaknesses.

"It affords me great pleasure to be able to say a few words in regard to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' writes Mrs. Flora Arn, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo. "I was tempted to try these medicines after seeing the effect upon my mother. At an early stage of married life I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

—Mrs. T. E. Bubly and daughter will leave to-day on the 5.10 train on an extended trip to Buffalo Syracuse Toronto, Niagara Falls and other places.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McGibbon, of Hawkesbury, who have been the guests of Mrs. J. A. McPherson, 79 Patterson street, returned home yesterday.

WAS KILLED IN MICHIGAN

SAD DISCOVERY OF MR. C. WILSON FOREMAN FOR RATHBURN CO.

Deceased Was a Shoemaker and Left Peterboro Falls About Fifteen Ans

Lindsay Post: On Monday of last week Mr G H. Wilson, publisher of The Post, received a letter from a party in Manistique, Mich., stating that a man named Matt Wilson had been shot at Corinne, in that vicinity, on June 10, and it was believed that relatives resided somewhere in the vicinity of Lindsay. Mr Wilson handed the letter to Mr. Geo Wilson, of Fenelon Falls, superintendent of the Rathbun Co.'s lumbering operations in this district, who happened to be in town that day, and as Mr. Wilson's brother Matt was in that vicinity when last heard from, the worst was feared, and he and Mr. Chris. Graney left next day for Corrine, reaching there Wednesday at noon.

They found ample evidence that the victim of the shooting was indeed Mr. Wilson's brother. The body had been embalmed and kept in the hope that relatives might put in an appearance, failing which the funeral had taken place that afternoon. Letters and other documents which had been preserved by friends of deceased proved his identity beyond doubt.

Some Lindsay citizens will no doubt remember the unfortunate man, he having learned the trade of shoemaker with the late James Connolly, of this town, about eighteen years ago. At all events Mr. Geo Wilson will have the sympathy of many Lindsay friends owing to his bereavement of a dear brother under such and circumstances.

The Manistique Daily News gives the following particulars of the sad event: A fatal case of shooting occurred at Corinne Friday shortly after 6 o'clock. The 8 o'clock train train brought the unfortunate victim of the affair to the Manistique hospital, where everything is being done to save his life, but there is little or no hope of his recovery.

It has been the custom of a crowd of young men at Corinne to gather at supper to "put the shoe." Near this gathering place there lived an elderly shoemaker by the name of Thomas Dineen, whom the boys of the village have tormented more or less for some time past. It happened on the evening in question that the shot accidentally slipped and crashed into the door of the old man's home, causing him to appear immediately with a shot gun and an aroused temper. Without warning he fired, and as a result Matt Wilson, a young lumberman, 35 years of age, was fatally wounded. The distance was only 15 feet and the charge must have been buckshot as there were seven holes in his side, damaging the spine so that the limbs were paralyzed.

When the patient arrived at the hospital, Dr Cole had hopes of being able to save him, but by 9 o'clock it was not expected he would live an hour. Life was too nearly extinct to permit of the use of chloroform and efforts to raise his pulse was unavailing. Matt Wilson is unmarried and is known throughout the neighborhood as an industrious fellow. He had planned during the day to leave Corinne on the 6 o'clock train for Munising, but for some cause failed to carry out his plan.

THE LAWYERS' EXCURSION

A Very Successful Affair Yesterday Afternoon

Baseball Game at Jubilee Point Between Lawyers and Doctors, with the Lawyers Up.

The Barristers held their annual excursion down the river to Gores Landing yesterday afternoon on the steamer Sovereign. She made a fast trip down the river to Jubilee Point with about seventy-five gentlemen on board. At this place a landing was made and a game of baseball was played between the lawyers and the doctors.

Talk about your league games—why Manager Whitcroft's aggregation wouldn't be in it for an infinitesimal part of a second. The teams lined up as follows.

Lawyers.		Doctors
Hatton	Pitcher,	Lynch
Kerr	Catcher,	Bradd
LePlante	First Base,	Morgan
Davidson	Second Base.	King
Peck	Third Base.	Brown
McWilliams	Short Stop.	McNulty
Haultain	Left Field.	Ames
Sherry	Centre Field	Scott
Dumble	Right Field.	McCullough

In the first innings the doctors succeeded in administering a coat of whitewash to the lawyers, and miserable diets, ran up a score of eight runs in their half of the innings. The erratic umpiring of Mr. A. H. Stratton may have had something to do with the large score — although every man seemed to be able to line up Hatton's curves for at least one base and some for two bags. The lawyers went in for their second innings and made six runs, leaving the doctors ahead with one inning to spare.

The doctors had a little advantage over their opponents, as they had a stock of arnica and cordials with which to brace themselves up. If anything the lawyers seemed to be the best at purloining bases and things—it was more natural to them and seemed to come handy, as if they had been used to such things all their lives.

After the game a quick run was made to Gores Landing, where mine host Harris, of the Rice Lake Hotel, was waiting with a boat of young ladies ready to satisfy the pangs of a very hungry crowd, and he succeeded admirably. Everyone was filled up and everyone was satisfied.

A start was made for home about 8 o'clock, the party arriving shortly after midnight.

JAPS CAPTURE THREE OF THE OUT-POSTS FORTS AT PORT ARTHUR

An All Day Fight Crowned by Success for the Attacking Army, Who Lost Heavily in the Assault --Port Arthur Begins to Fall.

Tokio, June 30.—It is unofficially reported that the Chik Wan Shan Chit An Shan and So Cho Shan forts southeast of and part of the Port Arthur defence were captured on Sunday, after an all day fight, beginning with an artillery duel

So Cho Shan, it is added, was first captured and the other forts fell soon afterwards.

The Russians retreated west, leaving forty dead or wounded.

The composition of the Japanese forces has not been ascertained, beyond the fact that it is said to have consisted of all branches of the service.

The Japanese lost three officers and a hundred men killed or wounded and captured two guns and a quantity of ammunition.

The officials here do not confirm the report.

MISTAKE KILLS BROTHER

Thinks He is Burglar Trying to Enter House and Shoots Him

Rantoul, Ill., June 29.—Charles Funkhouser, about 30 years old, was shot by his brother Homer, who thought he was a burglar. He lived ten hours.

The young man, leaving town at a late hour, determined to spend the night at Homer's. He knocked at the doors and receiving no response removed a window screen. His brother heard the noise and called twice before shooting, but received no reply.

MAN OF 80 WITH NINE WIVES

Aged Kalamazoo Resident Under Arrest for Bigamy for Second Time

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 29.—David Seeley, 80 years of age, is under arrest, charged with bigamy, it being alleged that he has nine wives living.

The charge as made by Mrs. Julia A. Blanchard, of this city, whom Seeley married last April. His first wife lives, it is claimed, in Otsego, near here, and will be brought to this city to testify against him. He has wives living in Chicago, Cincinnati and Indianapolis, so the officers say.

Six years ago he married Lucy Lillian, of this city, and a short time later was sent to the Michigan penitentiary at Jackson for four years on a bigamy charge. In the two years he has been free, it is alleged, he has married five times.

AUSTRIAN LOAN DIFFICULT

New Naval Programme May not be Carried out

London, June 30.—How the Austro-Hungarian Government proposes to deal with the financial question raised by the huge military estimates is a question much discussed just now in European political circles. Faith in its ability to redeem the loan in twenty-five years is reported by a correspondent of The Times to be small among politicians and nonentities among financiers. So the debt is likely to become one of those permanent additions state burdens which the government is not entitled to make by means of the emergency paragraph.

The Austrian Cabinet now governs solely by this authority, and only a clear understanding between Germans and Czechs can prevent obstruction and secure parliamentary sanction for the loan.

The high rate of interest offered by the Russian and Japanese Governments and the slow but steady return of German industrial prosperity are offering many tempting opportunities to investors, and it is thought that the Austrian military loan would not be taken up greedily, even if it had full legislative sanction behind it.

PAYMENT OF FREIGHT CHARGES

Circulars Issued by G.T.R. and C.P.R. Respecting Pre-payment

The G.T.R. and C.P.R. have issued a circular to their agents pointing out that it has become the practice of shippers to make notations on their shipping bills instructing the railway agent that they desire to prepay part of the freight charges in order to equalize the rate from the point of shipment with the rate from a point nearer the destination. For instance, a Toronto merchant shipping to Quebec may have agreed with the purchaser that he will pay the difference between the rate from Montreal to Quebec.

The circular states that the companies have no objection to taking partial prepayment of freight charges, but that they cannot be expected to calculate for the shipment exactly what part of the charges they desire to repay. This is a matter for the shippers to decide, and the responsibility of determining the amounts should not be placed upon the company's agents.

SOUTH AFRICAN RAILWAYS

Accomplishers Hardly Needed in Cape Colony

London, June 30.—One of the topics that have been the subject of animated debate recently in the Inter-Colonial Council at Pretoria is the advisability of giving the government a guarantee to light railroads urgently needed by the colony. On the one side it was argued that if the guarantee was not given the roads would not be built by private enterprise, and, on the other, that the credit of the council ought not to be pledged more deeply than it is already.

Lord Milner said that he was not in favor of giving a guarantee for any and every line suggested, but would offer one in cases where a line was urgently required that the government could not build it. He pointed out the change which the country had undergone during the last two years and the impetus now given to agriculture as compared with stock raising and grazing. He thought they took too short a view of the financial depression. The light lines likely to be wanted could all be built for $7,000,000, and a government guarantee, even of 4 per cent., would only be $280,000. If railway construction were put off agriculture would suffer.

HENRI BOURASSA ASSAILS CLERGY

Declares They Fawn Upon the Rich and Forget the Poor

REPROVED BY BRUCHESI

The Archbishop Takes Emphatic Objection to Mr. Bourassa's Strictures

Montreal, June 29.—Vigorous strictures of the French-Canadian clergy, by Mr. Henri Bourassa, characterized the convention of the Young Men's French-Canadian Association's congress, which held its closing session yesterday evening.

Archbishop Bruchesi made a vehement reply to the criticism of the member for Labelle.

The sessions of the Congress were held in the hall of St. Mary's College. His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi, assisted at the three sessions of the society. Mr. Joseph Versailles presided.

At the opening of the Congress a letter was read from Cardinal Merry, del Val, papal Secretary of State, wherein the Holy Father sent the Apostolic blessing to the society.

Yesterday evening, Mr. Henri Bourassa, M.P., for Labelle, addressed the convention. In the course of his address Mr. Bourassa drew a contrast between the people of today and those of fifty years ago. All classes of society came in for a share of his criticism.

Mr. Bourassa scored the clergy of today for catering so assiduously to the rich and powerful, forgetting the lowly and the meek. He claimed that the donations of the rich are ostentatiously displayed by the clergy, and the widow's mite is ignored and forgotten. He prayed that the cures might forget the dross of this world and work for souls.

His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi followed, and took emphatic exception to Mr. Bourassa's strictures on the clergy. He showed that they were doing in the church for the poor and the orphan and in the line of higher education. He cited the Laval University to which the Gentlemen of St. Sulpice contributed $75,000 and the land, of which no special mention was made in the University buildings.

WORSE THAN BATTLE

More Casualties in the United States on the Glorious Fourth Than in a Great Fight

Philadelphia, June 28.—Dr. Benjamin Lee, secretary of the Board of Health, has sent to the authorities of every town in the state statistics intended as a warning against the use of the toy pistol on the Fourth of July. It is asserted that on the last Fourth of July there was sacrificed on the altar of lawless and spurious patriotism a greater number of victims than has been slain in any of the battles in the Far East, or than were drowned or burned in the recent tragedy in the harbor of New York. The doctor submits the following table of the joint work of the toy pistol and cannon cracker throughout the country on the last national holiday: Died of lockjaw, 406; died of other injuries, 40; totally blinded, 16; lost one eye, 75; arms and legs lost, 54; lost fingers, 176; injured who recovered 3,983; total casualties, 4,349.

SERMONS AT $1 AN HOUR

Utah Minister Makes novel Offer to Bring Infidels to Church

Provo, Utah, June 29.—Infidels have been given an opportunity to earn $1 an hour by sitting in church and listening to Rev. Thomas Henry Scrugg of the First Baptist church. Mr. Scrugg has publicly offered to pay an infidel who attends his Sunday services at this rate. The offer becomes effective June 26. Those who desire to take advantage of it must present themselves to Mr. Scrugg, register and submit to an examination to prove they believe in infidel doctrine and use a time when they will be in church. Mr. Scrugg says the purpose of his offer is to induce infidels to study Christian teachings.

THE SMALLPOX OUTBREAK

Dr. Cameron Wilson Has Charge of This District

Dr. Cameron Wilson, son of Rev. J. P. Wilson, who was recently appointed medical inspector of the Temagami District, is now at work. The smallpox outbreak has attained considerable proportion but is of a mild type. No deaths have yet occurred, and the majority of the afflicted recover very rapidly, some indeed scarcely, if at all being confined to bed.

In the matter of the steamer Meteor of the Lumsden line, reported to be in quarantine as a result of an outbreak of disease among members of the crew the doctor states that that vessel has been thoroughly disinfected under the direction and supervision of the Provincial Inspector, in manner by a fresh crew, and is again making her usual trips from Temiskaming Station to New Liskeard and return. Great credit is given to the manager and officials of the Lumsden Steamboat Line for the prompt manner in which they arranged for quarantine of persons infected, and for the manner in which they seconded the measures adopted by the Provincial authorities.

BOARD OF TRADE ACTIVE

At Work to Help Make the Opening of Lift Lock a Success

Those connected with the Board of Trade in Peterborough are active in their endeavor to make the opening of the Lift Lock, not only a success so far as the opening is concerned, but in the bringing of the canal's opening to the notice of other Boards of Trade, in both the western part of Ontario and Quebec, the following notices having been issued and sent out as far as Hamilton on the one side and Montreal on the other:

"Re Hydraulic Lift Lock on Trent Canal at Peterborough:

"Thereby beg to notify you that Saturday, 9th of July, 1904, has been decided on by Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, as the day on which the above is to be opened. The Ministers will organize a party of Parliamentarians to visit our town and participate in the opening ceremonies. As this is an interesting national event I thought that you and the officers and members of your Board of Trade might wish to be present. I would also state that I am informed that all railways will give special rates to Peterborough on 9th of July

"Yours truly,
T. C. Quartermaine
Secretary."

THE BLACK WATCH

Arrangements for the Visit to Canada of the Famous Regiment's Band

The Black Watch Brass and Pipe Bands, under command of Major Rose and the musical leadership of Bandmaster Murray will leave their quarters in Edinburgh Castle on August 1st by steamer, sailing from Liverpool to Montreal, where they will arrive on August 7th, proceeding then to Toronto for the Canada National Exposition. They will make a four weeks' tour of the country, beginning Sept. 14th, under the direction of Mr. Stewart Houston. During this short period they will make a record tour of the country, traversing some six thousand miles, or an average of two hundred and twenty miles per day, in addition to two concerts every week day. In order to accomplish this feat Mr. Houston has arranged that the Band should travel by special train, living in special sleeping cars, as in many towns which they visit the hotel accommodation is not sufficient in view of the large number of excursionists who will be coming in every place where the band plays. The first week of the tour will be devoted to Western Ontario, the second week to Winnipeg and the West, the third week to Eastern Ontario, including Ottawa and Montreal. The fourth week will find the Highlanders in the Maritime Provinces, their last concert being given at Moncton on Saturday evening, Oct. 8th, and immediately after the concert they will take the train to catch the ocean liner at Rimouski the following morning. "The Auld Forty-two," as the 42nd Royal Highlanders of Black Watch are sometimes affectionately called in song and story, have unquestionably the greatest fighting record of the British Army. Formed in 1729, first seeing foreign service at Fontenoy in 1745, they have been prominent in every great campaign for the past century and a half. There is no doubt that a splendid welcome will await their magnificent musicians and pipers wherever the kilt and the red heckle will be seen. The date of the Bands' visit has been fixed here for Sept. 20th, under the auspices of The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

Successful Garden Party

There was a very successful garden party held at Springville, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church of that place on Tuesday night. An interesting programme was presented and refreshments were served. Four bus loads of young people from Peterborough attended the event and had a most enjoyable time. Those taking part in the programme from town were Miss Alberta White, Miss Jean Bellingham and Mr. Walter Stocker.

BRITISHERS ARE INTENSELY GRATIFIED

London, June 30.—Intense gratification prevails among naval leaguers because of the firmer basis Togo has given the maritime supremacy of Japan. The navy leaguers are not only students of naval warfare, but ardent politicians. They regard any weakness Japan develops as a barrier that shields Great Britain on account of the great power of Russia. "Peace loving nations heave a sigh of relief," said a yeteran sea-fighter to a correspondent this morning. "The Muscovite has shown himself unable to go forward on the lines he has hitherto pursued. He lacks strength, not brute strength, perhaps, but intellectual strength. The irresolute sortie from Port Arthur is the saddest, pretentious naval manoeuvre on record. It indicates partial paralysis. That seems to be the malady from which the Russian command is suffering. Back of the leaders on the field and on the seas is a quarrelsome, incompetent Government, and a revolutionary population. Russia is doomed to imperial contraction to an indefinite extent. Every great nation in the world views her situation complacently, some avowedly, some secretly. When Russia emerges from its troubles it may wear a guise that will attract as much as its present system repels."

WAITING NEWS OF DECISIVE BATTLE OF THE CAMPAIGN

Whole City of St. Petersburg is Waiting with Breathless Interest News from the Opposing Armies in Southern Manchuria, Grappled in the Decisive Battle of the Campaign.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The whole city is awaiting with breathless interest from the opposing armies in Southern Manchuria, grappled in the decisive battle of the campaign, that those who fully appreciate the almost impassable country through which the Japanese columns are advancing, and the difficulty of moving large bodies of troops into position hardly expect the battle to begin in earnest inside of several days, although admitting that heavy fighting between the advance forces may now be in progress.

The papers, with the exception of the army organ and the Novoe Vremya, are unanimously of the opinion that a pitched battle is now certain. The former is silent on the subject which may be significant, especially as General Kuropatkin's movements are shrouded in mystery.

The Novoe Vremya says: "The time for strategy is past. We are now on the eve of tactics. Not knowing the exact position of our forces, we cannot state what Kuropatkin intends to do. It is possible he may consider it untimely and unprofitable to enter upon a decisive engagement of all his forces, in which event, while engaging the enemy who is pouring troops down upon him, he may retire northwards to meet his reinforcements.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—The sudden cessation of newspaper despatches from the theatre of the war tends to confirm the belief that the armies are about to engage. Most of the military critics take the view that a big battle is imminent, although the Novoe Vremya's expert thinks that a pitched battle now is more attractive to the Japanese generals than is General Kuropatkin, saying that the latter does not need precipitancy as Russian reinforcements continue to arrive, but if the Japanese want a battle they must hasten, as only a fortnight remains before the rains set in.

The army organ, whose comment was written before the arrival of Gen. Sakharoff's despatch last night, points out the difficult, mountainous country through which Gen. Kuroki's columns are moving, and finds in Gen. Oku's withdrawal southward either that the Japanese are trying to draw off part of Kuropatkin's army or their decision, in view of the near approach of the rainy season, to attempt their further advance. In the latter case the enemy would be able to hold the greater part of the Liao Tung peninsula until the resumption of active operations in August.

All the papers consider almost inexplicable the failure to receive further reports from Tokio of the sea fight off Port Arthur, and are reproducing with great prominence despatches from German papers to the effect that Admiral Togo in his official reports did not claim positively to have sunk a Russian battleship, or to have crippled two other vessels. General indignation is manifested over alleged mistranslation of the reports of Admiral Togo.

VLADIVOSTOK FLEET AGAIN.

Tokio June 28.—An unconfirmed report has been received here from the Island of Hokkaido that ships resembling the Russian Vladivostok squadron had appeared off there on June 27. Similar reports have been received from other places along the northern coast of Japan. The navy office does not give any credence to these reports.

TWO JAPANESE SPIES

Narva Russia, June 28.—Two Japanese masquerading as itinerant organ grinders and attired in Bulgarian costume, were arrested here yesterday. Their organ was searched, and was found to contain maps of the Baltic coast line and surveying instruments. The prisoners confessed. It is believed that one of them is a colonel on the Japanese general staff and that the other is his orderly. Both men were sent to St. Petersburg.

Narva is a Russian fortress and seaport, 100 miles by rail west of St. Petersburg, on the Narova River, 6 miles above its entrance into the Gulf of Finland.

Confidence in the Navy.

The Report That the Port Arthur Squadron Has Successfully Put to Sea Seems to Have Removed the Despondency--The Forcing of the Passes.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The tone in both public and official circles has greatly improved. The report that the Port Arthur squadron has successfully put to sea and that no ship has actually been sunk, seems to have removed the despondency, and developments on land and sea are looked forward to with increased cheerfulness. Confidence is manifested in the influence the navy will have upon the campaign and many people are inclined to attribute the Japanese precipitancy to get at Kuropatkin to the fact that the squadron at large threatens the Japanese army's sea communications.

THE FORCING OF THE PASSES.

Special despatches say it was Major-General Mistchenk's division which has been engaged in constant fighting in the vicinity of the mountain passes over which the Japanese are advancing. One despatch says the country is almost impassable, Mistchenko retiring only when the enemy appears in overwhelming numbers. The correspondent considers it doubtful whether General Kuroki will advance all three columns, as this would disunite his forces. He is more likely to push home his attack from Siu Yen upon Ta Tche Kiao, exclusive of General Oku. The correspondent figures that Kuroki has 70,000 troops, the Japanese commander being in personal command of 25,000 men at Dalin Pass.

There is no truth in the report that a portion of the second Pacific squadron will sail from Cronstadt today for the Far East.

A SUBMARINE DISASTER.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—Twenty-two sailors were drowned at the Baltic Works this morning during experiments with the torpedo boat Delfin, which had been converted into a submarine boat. Four officers and thirty men were on board when the signal was given to submerge the boat without first properly closing the manhole. The result was that the vessel sank.

A BOLD STAND

Against a Mighty Show Canvas Swindle

The Great Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Animal and Arenic Aggregation, which will pitch its big tents in Peterborough on Saturday, July 2, announces that, in justice to all purchasers of only a general admission ticket, its reserved seats occupy less than three-tenths of its seating capacity, and are confined to one broad side of the canvas, every seat in the immense space on teh other side being reserved for and open to all comers. Furthermore, that as enormous is the seating capacity of its huge hippodrome tent, it is very seldom necessary to utilize the end seats: while the occupancy of a reserved seat is purely a matter of personal preference—not of gouging craft and calculation. Here is a shining example for those mountebanks to follow, who ignore the plain fact that everybody—old or young, rich or poor, genteel or unsophisticated—that pays the advertised price to see any kind of entertainment is entitled to protection from imposition on the part of its management, and any disregard of that rule involves both fraud and disappointment. As many, to their cost and discomfort, know, it is a notorious and discreditable fact that some shows persistently, cowardly and outrageously violate it, and indirectly swindle their patrons wholesale, by adopting a reserve seat system which virtually deprives the purchaser of a 25 or 50-cent ticket, as the case may be, of more than the distant ghost of a chance to see and enjoy the performance, unless he can afford to and will stand for being fleeced out of as much

RUSSIA TO DRIVE BRITAIN FROM INDIA

Russia Prince Says That This Has Has Been Resolved Upon by Czar

New York, June 30.—The New York Independent has been interviewing Prince Hespere Oukahtomsky, who is on a visit to the United States. The Prince is a gentleman of the bedchamber of the Czar, and is supposed to be in the United States in connection with the purchase of war vessels from South American Republics. He has been talking freely of what Russia proposes to do after the little unpleasantness with Japan has been disposed of. "England," he says, "would now like to have better relations with Russia. She desired to come upon the scene smiling and philanthropic, blandly advising peace and holding out her hand to share with us the spoils of victory. His Royal Highness says that Russia positively declines to share with England the fruits of Russia's victory, which he says is bound to come, over Japan. On the contrary, he proposes as soon as Japan is crushed to proceed with "the long contemplated expedition to India." When England is driven out of India there will be a permanent peace. "Russia will then be without a rivan throughout all Asia, and the White Tsar will reign everywhere from sea to sea." Oukahtomsky is sadly disappointed in the Japs. He says: "Taken on the whole, the Japanese have not done as well as I expected they would when they began the war."

LATE MRS. DELANEY CAME TO HER DEATH BY ACCIDENT

And That the Grand Trunk Railway are in no Way to Blame

Such was the Finding of the Coroner's Jury at the Inquest on the Death of the Deceased Lady

That the late Mrs. Delaney came to her death by accident, and that the officials of the Grand Trunk Railway are in no way to blame. The jury think that the action of the government in increasing the rate of speed at unprotected crossings from 6 to 10 miles an hour, is not wise and favor the rate of speed as it was before the change. They also recommend that gates be placed at Park and Reid streets, in order to protect the public.

The inquest on the death of the late Mrs. John Delaney was resumed last night, before Coroner Grey, in the Council Chamber, as per adjournment, and the balance of the evidence taken, the parties examined being Messrs. Nathan Staply, Albert Duncan and Robert Baker, of town; and Roadmaster Linahan, Engineer Pirie, Conductor Little, Despatcher Percy and Operator Wallace, of the G. T. R.

Nathan Staply was the first witness and being duly sworn, said: Was in the country on June 10th, and on Park street when special came along. Saw lady struck. Heard whistle when train came around curve. Did not hear bell ring. Whistle blowing pretty much all the time. It was not blowing when she was struck. Train was going about 10 or 15 miles an hour. Lady was pitched off on east side. Saw trains pass at about same speed. Saw her until she was hit. Was not carried on engine, but was thrown. Whistle had sharp sound. Did not know whether brakes was applied or not. Train was slowing up. Albert Duncan sworn said: Am laborer. Was in front of Green's foundry. Saw accident. Cannot say heard whistle after it blew for boundary. Was on north side of foundry. She was carried along and appeared to be in front of engine. Went over to see her. Train going probably 25 or 30 miles an hour. Could swear it was 15 miles an hour. Lady was straight in front of train when struck. Think train was running faster than regular. Regular train runs about 10 miles an hour at this point.

Robert Baker sworn, said: Am laborer. Was working in front of Green's foundry on June 10th. On north side. Agree with what Duncan said. Heard whistle. Duncan drew my attention to train. Saw train after it struck deceased. Saw parasol where she was struck. Don't think she was carried any distance on engine. Heard bell after engine struck her. My attention first drawn by hearing somebody yell. Train running about same speed as noon train. Couldn't run as fast as train was going.

L. Wallace, operator at Peterborough sworn said: Regular train came in at 11.42 and special followed in about 20 minutes. Heard of accident shortly after it occurred. Would think there would be about 10 minutes between the two trains at the crossing.

Charles Percy, sworn, said: I am train despatcher. My headquarters are at Lindsay. Keep track of all trains. Regular left Omemee at 11.16 and arrived in Peterborough at 11.42. Special left Omemee at 11.25 and went to Ashburnham before coming here. Regular trains travel at about 20 miles an hour on the average. Was notified of accident about 1.30. Was not notified sooner because officials were on the train. Knew the facts. If a regular train office would have been notified at once and I would report to head office. The special left Lindsay before regular train, but went into a siding to examine some part of road. Twenty minutes allowed between passenger trains and 10 minutes between freights.

A Pirie, an engineer, was one the special when accident occurred. Was not in charge of the engine at time of accident. Road foreman Linahan was. He is my superior. Bell was ringing continually. Could see person crossing. Saw deceased approaching slowly. Deceased almost stopped when about fifty yards from train and I thought she would do so until we got past. View was obstructed by fence for a short distance. When I saw her again she was almost in front of train. I yelled "Stop, stop, for God's sake stop." Don't know whether she heard. Was thrown 20 or 25 feet. Whistle was blowing. Train running about 10 miles an hour. Don't think the man running the engine could have seen lady from his side of cab. Engineer was accustomed to the road. It was not customary to run fast when officials were inspecting the road. Thought there would be 10 minutes between the trains. Train could not stop in time to save her. If train had been running slower she would have had more time to get out of the way. Lady was thrown, not dragged. Don't think she was thrown forty feet. Some part of the run the train might have made as high as forty miles an hour, but as we neared crossing would not be more than 9 or 10.

Jas. Linahan, sworn, said: Was on the special train. Was running engine at time. Took charge of engine at Lindsay. Had experience. Part of my duty to test workings of engine. Must report on every engine on my division. Was on right hand side of cab. Came around curve about 12 miles an hour. Whistled for Park street. Whistled so much he wondered if officials would not think he was whistling too much. He whistled at every whistling post. Heard yells when within about 12 feet of crossing. They were from the engineer and were, "Stop, stop," or something like it. He said we have struck a woman. Saw umbrella and her fall. Did not see her until struck. Orders to fireman was "when not otherwise engaged to keep sharp look out, and if engineer had not been there on watch, fireman might have been. Train ran probably 300 feet after lady was struck until it was stopped. Not going over ten miles when accident happened. Could have stopped with emergency brake in about 120 feet if properly charged and applied.

Mr. Little deposed: Am conductor of special train. Was standing in car door and saw deceased 18 or 20 feet away. She started to run across track. Were going about ten miles an hour at the time. Heard about but did not know from whom. Whistle was blown. Don't know about bell. Helped carry lady home. Lady had umbrella over her head when he saw her and was walking where the teams drive, when she started to run across the track.

Nathan Staply, recalled, said: Woman was on the roadway eight or ten feet from sidewalk. Did not notice her stop or hesitate before crossing.

Jury man Lynch was called and questioned as to deceased's hearing, but could not say.

Jury man Ball was then called and questioned on the same subject. He thought her hearing would be about normal for a person of her age.

This closed the taking of evidence, and the witnesses, counsel and spectators left the room, when the jury proceeded to consider the verdict. The gist of which is given above.

AN INTERESTING WEDDING

Nuptials of Miss Ada Bradshaw and Mr. Norman Everett Peel

At 7.30 yesterday morning, the residence of Mrs. James Bradshaw, 318 Charlotte street, was the scene of a very interesting wedding, when her second daughter, Miss Ada, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Norman Everett Peel, book and stationery dealer of London, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Bastow, pastor of Murray Street Baptist church, in the presence of only the immediate friends.

The bride was handsomely gowned in blue voile, trimmed with white lace. She was attended by her sister, Miss Emma Bradshaw, who was similarly attired. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Harry Peel, of London, Ont.

The bride received a large number of valuable presents, which in a small degree indicates the esteem in which she is held by her many friends. The presents included a set of silver knives, forks and spoons from the choir of the Murray Street Church, of which the bride was a most faithful member; a china tea set, from the Sabbath school teachers and officers and a water and berry set from the Mission Band.

The happy young couple have the very best wishes of all for happiness and prosperity in their new life. Mr. and Mrs. Peel will reside at 150 Maple street, London, Ont.

Visited Hamburg

Hamburg, June 29.—King Edward paid his promised visit to Hamburg to-day and met with a most cordial reception from the authorities and big crowds of the inhabitants. The senators, chief naval and military authorities and civil functionaries awaited his Majesty at the railway station, where the King was formally welcomed by the Burgomaster and Senators. He subsequently boarded a steamer and made a tour of the harbor, which was elaborately decorated, all the ships' buildings and quays being adorned with flags.

A PHILOSOPHIC ANARCHIST

This book assumes to treat the problem of human society from a purely economic point of view. The author's creed is one of absolute liberty, freedom of every individual from the "despotism" of government, perfectly free competition and hence the disappearance of all the division we now know as nationalities—a sort of visionary brotherhood of the whole human family, without soldier or policemen, apparently without any kind of rule by law or courts and the disappearance of everything like force in any form.

One of his notions is that only the industrially expansion of the last century enables people to bear the taxation growing out of the interference of force. He agrees with the socialists in holding that labor bears all burdens, only the socialists lays the blame on capital and he charges it to the state as the representative of war or force among men. He would have all functions of government performed by voluntary contracts among men, but would totally eliminate all means of enforcing them, the reductio ad absurdum of what is called "philosophic anarchism."

Clearly the misfortune in this author's case is that he is only a man. He ought to have been a god. His theory is nothing short of a re-creation of humanity, the common vice of unbalanced thinkers.

UNCLE HIRAM AND THE FROG

Here's just a little tale I'd like to spin to you
Just a little bit of common, homely rhyme;
It's to show you that a man
Who will hustle all he can,
Is the fellow who will get there every time.

Once two frogs within the waters of a pond,
Croaked and sang the dreamy summer hours away;
They were happy as could be,
And from care and worry free,
And they kicked and dived and splashed this livelong day.

On a farm there lived old Uncle Hiram Stout,
Uncle Hi was called a most peculiar man.
And the neighbors used to tell
Stories of him, which I—well,
Here's a sample of the way these stories ran.

He would feed his chickens sawdust for corn meal;
Oh, a most penurious old skinflint was he!
And he was so awful tight
He would stop his clock at night
Just to keep the thing from wearing out, you see.

Uncle Hiram used to take his milk to town,
And the people wondered why it was so blue,
But they found it out one day
In a most peculiar way.
And the gossips say the story's really true.

Uncle Hiram had to daily pass the pond
Where the froggies winked and blinked the hours away;
And this most peculiar man
Often filled his old milk can
With a pail or two of water, so they say.

Now it happened Uncle Hiram's sight was dim.
He was absent-minded, so the stories go;
And 'tis thereby hangs my little tale
Of woe.

On this morning when he jogged along to town,
At the pond he stopped, as was his daily plan.
And he scooped both froggies up
Unseen, in his battered cup.
And ker-plunk! they dropped a-squirming in the can!

And one frog gave up, and to the bottom sank,
But the other frog he kicked and splashed through all,
And he churned that can of milk
Just about as fine as silk,
Into one great, solid, golden butter ball!

And when Uncle Hiram opened up the can,
Blinking at him, on the butter ball there sat
The frog who kicked away,
But the other froggie lay,
At the bottom, dead as the proverbial rat!

So, you see, my friend, it pays you in this life,
As I've told you in this little homely rhyme,
When you fall into the swim,
Kick and splash with nerve and vim,
And you'll be the chap who'll get there every time.

A book called "The Society of Tomorrow" a translation from the Italian of G. De Molinari, has lately been published in New York which is a good example of the inconsistent modes of thinking common among those inclined to be anarchistic. Their thinking apparatus is usually superior in activity to that of the average man, as also is that of a large percentage of lunatics, but, like theirs, it usually lacks balance.

THE BIG ELEPHANTS LOOSE

With Pageantry and Fireworks Behind Them

Curiosity and anticipation at home and the same incentives brought by excursion trains from every section indicate an unusual ebb and in-pouring within a radius of fifty miles or more indicate an unusual ebb and in-pouring of people who take in the widely-heralded and undoubtedly savory big and attractive street parade of the great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers United Shows. Besides the standard gay, glittering and spectacular pageant offering characteristic of the bigger circuses, there are announced the common pompous and historical additions, among which the Oriental and military sections will command unusual attention and striking imitation. The former is a regally mastodonic and rich reproduction of the recent gorgeous State Durbar at Delhi, in which the native princes potentates and other notabilities of all India received and did homage to the British Viceroy, making the occasion one of indescribably ostentatious and lavish display of priceless jewels and costumes. The show in question has the huge elephants superb horses costly trappings, people and paraphernalia requisite to appropriately perpetuate the event. In the military section of the parade will be found matter of unusual and striking historical interest; our country's martial progress, from Bunker Hill to Santiago, being illustrated and symbolized by the appearance of representatives almost and costumed exactly as were the heroes who fought under Washington, Scott, Taylor, Lee, Grant and Miles. After the morning parade a free display of Japanese daylight fireworks will be given on the show grounds, during which, discharged from thundering mortars, will float, sail and dive skyward the huge and most strangely grotesque similitudes of fabulous monsters—dragons, sprites and Arabian Nights' fantasies, accompanied by pyrotechnic rainbows and wonderful wreaths of smoke.

Rheumatism Conquered!

DRIVEN FROM THE SYSTEM BY ELIMINATING POISONOUS URATES IN THE BLOOD

Stubborn Cases Quickly Relieved, Chronic Sufferers Absolutely Cured by an Internal Remedy

This disease originates in the blood ts the poisons in the blood that cause the pain. Get rid of these poisons and you cure the pain Doesn't that seem logical.

These poisons are composed largely of uric acid which dissolves and quickly passes out of the system if Ferrozone is employed, it being a complete and perfect solvent for all the poisons that give rise to rheumatic pain. No case is too chronic no person too old to be forever released from the agonies of rheumatism if Ferrozone is used; it cures after all other treatments proved use. You may have been disappointed with other remedies. But don't let this defer you from using Ferrozone. It's not like the ordinary "cure"—it possesses peculiar qualities not found in any other remedy.

FERROZONE CURES RHEUMATISM

Mr. Edgar F. Richmond, an old and well known resident of Winchester says; "My endorsement of Ferrozone is cheerfully given for I know that I am speaking for a sure cure for rheumatism. Ferrozone cured me so the pain didn't come back again. I honestly believe that no medicine on the face of the globe can do as much for rheumatism as Ferrozone."

Mrs. D. J. Thurston, of Burton, P. O., writes; "As a long sufferer from rheumatism I can say that Ferrozone is the most satisfactory remedy that I used. Quite frequently would get a bad attack and be laid up in bed. Ferrozone removed every trace of the disease and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone is beyond all question the proper remedy to use in rheumatism. There is none better. Beware of substitutes and don't allow a druggist to palm off something he may say is just as good. Insist on having Ferrozone, use it as directed and you will be cured. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all druggists or by mail, from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Industrial Economy.

A locomotive engineer on an eastern railroad said one day to his two firemen, "Suppose you fellows work as if you, and not the company, were paying the coal bills." During six months, merely by careful firing, the men caused a saving in coal, over the average consumption of the engine, equal to almost four times the amount of wages paid the men for that period. The engine was the same; the men worked differently.

He Had a Way With Him.

Jane Seymour was boasting to Anne Boleyn.

"Henry has just asked me for my hand," she remarked.

"That's nothing," retorted the queen, "he has just asked me for my head."

Subsequent events showed both ladies granted the request.

His Sense of Feeling.

"Are you sure that mule is blind?"

"Yes, sah—in his eyes he is, but you des orter see him feel for you wid his heels."

The Oldest Herbarium.

The oldest herbarium in the world is in the Egyptologist museum at Cairo, and consists of an inconspicuous collection of dried portions of plants. These portions of plants and flowers were taken from wreaths and garlands in the coffins with mummies, where they were placed by the ancient Egyptians as death offerings, and from edible plants which were set in earthen vessels on the floor of the sepulcher as the furniture of the last resting place of their beloved ones.

Many of these floral remains are so well preserved that, after being treated with warm water, they can be handled like modern herbarium specimens. The colors, too, are preserved in a remarkable way. The most important matter in connection with these plants is their age. The remains of funeral food are found in tombs as far back as 3,000 years before Christ.

Draping an Arched Doorway.

An unusual treatment of an arched doorway was noticed in a house recently. Often a pole is placed above the highest point in the arch, from which a lambrequin or curtain falls straight, an arrangement which, of course, destroys the arched effect. In this doorway, however, the arch was preserved in a simple and effective way. A curved frame of soft wood about three inches wide was made to fit the arch, its shape and appearance suggesting an elongated skirt hanger. This was first covered with a piece of the lambrequin material, shirred on, with a short, fringed sconpiece of the same festooned from one side to the other in graceful fashion. The whole thing was then hung up on three hooks placed for the purpose on the wall at the point at either end of the arch.—Table Talk.

The Tibetans.

The Tibetans are not beautiful. How could they be when, by their own confession, the national ancestry runs back to the king of the monkeys and a hobgoblin? Bonvalot says of them, "The very bears are better looking." The type is midway between the Eskimo and the Chinese. Broad, flat noses, without visible bridge; no eyebrows, wide mouths, full lips, oily skins, hair as coarse and straight as horsehair, and short, square, ungainly figures—these are the elements of the unpleasing picture.

Talking English.

Here is a story that comes from London and illustrates the peculiarities of the American boy: The youngster was at the Hotel Cecil, and he listened intently to a group of English folks. Suddenly he looked up at his mother. "Say, ma, do these people talk English?" "Certainly they do, my child. What a question!" "Then we don't," said the cub.

MUCH VACANT LAND YET.

Dangers of an Overcrowded Population Are Still Remote.

The material development of the country is quietly progressing at a remarkable rate in one direction which is not given much popular attention. More than 22,824,299 acres of the public lands were turned over to private individuals last year. This means that an area almost equal to that of the state of Indiana has within that time been added to the productive regions of the United States. Most of these newly opened lands were homesteaded by farmers, as will be seen from the following figures: There were 84,365 patents of all classes issued within the year. Of this number 47,654 are classed as agricultural, 4,904 as Indian allotments, 1,104 as mineral patents, 200 as coal patents, 276 as private land claims, 127 as railroad patents and 40 as swamp land patents. The total sum which the government got by way of fees and commissions for issuing these patents was $11,024,744. Under a recent law the most of the receipts from the sale of public lands will henceforth be set aside for reclaiming arid lands by irrigation.

In the public domain there are still unappropriated 280,979,207 acres of surveyed lands and 591,976,169 acres of unsurveyed lands, or a total of more than 970,955,000 acres. A great many tracts in this immense area of course will always remain uncultivated and unsettled, but it has been estimated that when the contemplated system of irrigation shall be put into working order so much good land will be opened that a population as large as the whole nation's present population could find room there to thrive prosperously and contentedly.

Rapid strides are now being made in the developing of the public domain. The excitement and uproar of former pioneer days are absent in this work, but the process is marked and very effective. The passenger traffic on western railroads is evidence of this fact. Agreeable reflections arise in contemplating that the United States still owns so much arable public land. The dangers of an overcrowded population by immigration or natural increase are still remote. The census for many years to come will not show an excess of people above what the west will need in settling up its vacant lands.—Kansas City Journal.

A PRETTY BOOM.

The Way Little Florence Fixed It Up to Look "Bu'ful."

Little Florence was in great glee. She said she had made the room look "bu'ful" for mother's friends that afternoon. She climbed into the great chair by the fireplace to admire her work. Over each picture she had placed a large green leaf, and there in front of the mirror, in the vase Uncle Jack brought from Venice last year, was a whole bunch of leaves. The room looked like a garden, and her own bright face was like a blossom above the green leaves in her hand.

But mother cannot find her little girl. Florence is not where she should be.

"Ah, at last I have found you, dear!" says mother. "What are you doing, Florence?"

"Just resting. I'm so tired from reaching up to the pictures! Isn't the room bu'ful? And, oh, mother, I'm so tired! Please, may I have my nap?"

The little head was bobbing over, and mother could not be cross with her darling, even though the leaves that brighten the room were from the best palm. The poor lady only sighed for her plant and tried to explain to Santy Claus when she woke.

PROPERTIES SITUATED NEAR SILVERTON, SAN JUAN COUNTY, COLORADO. Properties consist of three groups; namely,—

THE PROSPECT BASIN AND MAMMOTH TUNNEL GROUP of 30 claims and Tunnel site aggregating 570 acres of mineral ground all held by location, and free from any conflict as to title; also in same location, three mill sites and one lode claim, total 25 acres all now being patented.

THE LEAD CARBONATE GROUP, adjoining the Gold King, of 78¾ acres all of mineral territory; this group is patented.

THE STONY PASS GROUP, 110 acres in Stony Gulch, surveyed for patent which will shortly be applied for; no adverses; title perfectly clear.

Total area Mineral territory..... .....758½ acres
" " Mill and building sites..... 55 "
" " Timber properties..... 90 "

Total 903½ acres

This was the total acreage held at organization of the Stony Pass Mining Company in December 1902. Since that date 230 acres additional have been located in Prospect Basin and surveyed with view of applying for patent at an early day.

Complete Saw Mill plant located in Cement Creek, capacity 30,000 feet per day; Lumber on hand in mill yards and at the Hercules shaft 400,000 feet. Round logs ready for the mill 300,000 feet. Cost to Company approximately $5,400, market value lumber alone $5,100.

TIMBER RESERVES.

Estimated timber, on timber and mineral lands owned by Company, 5,000,000 feet. Contiguous territory controlled by Government from which timber can be had for cutting providing same is used for mineral purposes 40,000,000 feet.

Total cost of development to date, present management, $53,000.00
" " " " former owners 18,000.00
" " surface improvements, buildings, saw mill plant, horses, wagons, ore cars, track, tools, etc. 17,000.00
" " Machinery paid for and to be installed 6,000.00

$99,000 00

Above items do not include moneys expended for additional properties since Company was organized, which approximate $26,000.00.

Plant of machinery for tunnel now being installed, and all will be in operation within 30 days.

The Hercules shaft will be equipped with machinery at an early date it being impossible to do so now owing to the heavy snows.

With the Hercules property equipped with a hoisting plant, (good for a depth of 1,000 feet) we will immediately sink the present shaft to a depth of 500 feet driving levels at each 100 feet to fully open the ore bodies now developed to the 145 foot point.

The Mammoth Tunnel is now in nearly 800 feet. We are confident that with the machinery in operation we will be enabled to drive the tunnel at least 200 feet per month; we are now about 600 feet from one of the main leads crossing the Tunnel. Our machinery should be in operation in about 30 days, which will put us in shape to drive ahead and cut the above mentioned lead by August 1st.

We have recently cut a number of small veins carrying high values in lead, copper and silver. These are all spurs to the vein ahead of the breast and a certain indication of the ore ahead of us.

With the Hercules developed to a depth of 500 feet and the Mammoth Tunnel through the vein and brought to the producing stage, we will be given an accurate basis for calculation as to the uniform output which may be attained for milling purposes, then mill will be built.

In the meantime only the high grade Smelting ores will be shipped the profits from which will aid us materially in further opening up the properties and building up a treasury reserve for future operations and mill construction. It is likely in view of present favorable conditions, that the sale of treasury stock will be discontinued after August 1st.

Stock is now selling at 60c a share. It will be but a short time when stock will be selling at $1.00 per share, and will do so on merit.

DIVIDENDS.

We are confident that dividends will be inaugurated early in 1905, and be continuous thereafter, and gradually increase in proportion as property developes to at least 30% per annum within two years from date of first dividend.

Considering the extent of the properties and intrinsic value underlying the stock the shares should, with that dividend in force, sell at from $3 50 to $4 00 per share.

With active development resumed on the Hercules and regular shipment of ore going to the Smelter, we will issue monthly reports to our stockholders. These should commence with the First of July.

The surface improvements on the several groups consist of 3 blacksmith shops, 2 stables, 2 large boarding houses and kitchens, coal sheds, shaft house, saw mill buildings, pipe lines, tunnel buildings, wagon roads, besides rails, railroad switch, bridges, etc.

With the equipment on the Hercules and the Mammoth Tunnel in working order, it will be unnecessary to expend finds for any other purpose but actual developments. By having our own horses and wagons, we have saved on haulage more than enough to pay for them. The Saw Mill plant, too, has paid for itself. Lumber at Silverton is worth from $18.00 to $20.00 per M., the cost to us by reason of having a mill is not over $10.00 per thousand feet.

In my next report to you it will be my pleasure to inform you that everything is in shape for a season of active operation and that shipments of ore have commenced.

Very truly yours,
A. A. BROWN.

The above is a copy of report issued early in April. Stock sells at 60c and will soon sell at $1.00 per share. The object is to build a Stamp Mill this year and Smelter as soon as enough ore is produced from these mines to run Mill and Smelter continuously. In no other form of production is capital assured of such large and certain profits as with Mining and Smelting combined under one management. It is likely that this will be accomplished by the Stony Pass Mining Co, within the next year. I will be happy to furnish you with all available information regarding these matters.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HARRISON,

Tokio, June 29.—After a hot fight, London, June 29.—The Post's special says that the greatest battle of the war is now on between General Kuropatkin and the two great Japanese armies. The result is not yet known, or is it likely to be for some days. For some time the Russians have been taking the offensive. General Oku's army has passed the mountain barrier protecting the right flank and rear of Kuropatkin's forces in the pass en and between Kauping and Motien. The Russian position has thus been rendered strategically untenable, and it is expected to be made actually untenable in the course of the battle unless the Russians resist the advance of the Japanese more vigorously than hitherto. In the event General Kuroki will be relieved of the necessity of attacking frontally the main strongholds of the Muscovite between Fing Huan Cheng and the railway.

How is it with the Japanese army? The very form of that question gives the answer. A few weeks ago we would have spoken of the Japanese armies, not army. Kuroki held the northernmost position, Oku was before Port Arthur, Nodzu, or some other general was in command of the third army in an intermediate position, ready to support either Oku or Kuroki.

Today that is all changed. The three armies are welded into one. Knit together by telegraph wires, commanded by Marshal Oyama, who was hurried to the front, they are ready to be used as one weapon under the control of one brain.

It is possible that such a situation as this passed the wildest hopes of the Japanese. Their earlier expectation seems to have been to fight at Mukden if the Russians would await them there. Every mile that the battle ground is nearer the sea-coast is an important point gained by Japan.

If Kuropatkin is overwhelmed Port Arthur and Vladivostok become the prey for the Japanese whenever they choose to take them. It would be wrong to think, however, that this would end the war. However far backward Russia retreats she can still find a spot in which she can collect armies anew and prepare for future aggression in her own good time.

Kiel, June 27.—At a banquet given aboard the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern last night, the Kaiser, in toasting the health of King Edward, referred to his first visit aboard a German warship when, as the ruler of a great maritime nation, he had come to partake in the sport of yachting.

The German fleet, Emperor William said, was the youngest creation among the world's fleets, and was an evidence of the renaissance of German naval power, due to the resurrection of the German Empire by William the First. Its aim, like that of the German army, was the maintenance of peace, which everybody knew was King Edward's constant endeavor as it was his own. The Kaiser concluded with a laudatory reference to the memory of Queen Victoria.

King Edward in reply, thanked the Emperor for his friendly words. He said he was glad to be able to pay a visit at a time when he was usually busy at home. He was glad of the occasion for seeing how yachting had developed in Germany, and renewing the friendly relations of the two houses. He declared that he was deeply moved at the Kaiser's reference to his (King Edward's) efforts to preserve peace, and concluded by saying:

"May our two flags in the distant future, even as now, float together in upholding peace, not only in the interests of our own, but of other nations."

King Edward and Emperor William attended divine service yesterday on board the German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, and afterwards took lunch on board the Empress' yacht Iduna, which did not take part in the regatta. Later King Edward, accompanied by Prince Henry and other members of the Royal party, paid an informal visit to the Royal Yacht Club. Among those present at the luncheon were the Emperor and the Empress, King Edward, Count Von Buelow and the Marquis of Ormonde. The Emperor and the Empress dined this evening with King Edward on board the Victoria and Albert.

Cheefoo, June 28.—Letters received here to-day from Port Arthur, dated June 23, gives no news, but convey an idea of the conditions prevailing in the besieged city. One writer says the civilians though knowing something of what is occurring, are ignorant of the progress of the war. Little information leaks out. Most of the non-combatants have caves in the hills or underground cells, where they spend the nights in safety. Bands play occasionally in the parks and the prices of food are slightly higher. The Chinese are suffering severely in many ways as a result of the fighting. The food on the junks is provided by the Government, to enable the Chinese to leave Port Arthur. The Red Cross nurses, in the absence of regular work, have established eating houses for the needy. Some of the Chinese are still working on the new shipbuilding works.

A RUSSIAN CRUISER WRECKED.

London, June 28.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio says it is reported that another Russian battleship has been discovered stranded off Tiger Rock. It is presumed she was wrecked while returning to Port Arthur after the recent naval engagements.

London, June 28.—An English correspondent's description of the character of Moulai, the Sultan of Morocco, sufficiently explains the feelings of his subjects which, according to European residents, must result in a general revolution that is already almost ablaze.

The Moors naturally hate and scorn his western proclivities, with which he outrages every Mussulman idea. While earning their hatred he has not commanded fear or respect.

On the other hand he has worn out the patience of European friends by countless childish whimsicalities, for Moulai's leanings are toward the follies and not the wisdom of the west. His army is a worthless rabble, though regiment after regiment has been raised, equipped and drilled by British officers, only to be disbanded and the horses and equipments sold below cost to provide money for his idiotic extravagances.

Some of these will indicate the rest. He has twenty automobiles, but there is no road in Morocco fit even for a bicycle, of which he has scores made of aluminum, which the slightest obstacle crumples like paper.

He has a gold and diamond-studded camera and a stock of photographic paper worth £400 with which he takes four snapshots a month. A never-ending procession of packing cases arrives from Europe with trumpery, gewgaws musical boxes, mechanical toys, cameras, graphophones and watches. Withal he has no great vices and is singularly healthy minded for an Oriental preferring his stable to a seraglio. He is not at all blood-thirsty.

New York, June 29.—"Why, my beloved, has this thing come to us? We know it, and we cannot deny it. It was due to negligence, carelessness and greed and that the worship of mammon which looks only for profit and sends thousands of souls into eternity." With all the strength he could put into his voice, Rev. George C. F. Haas made this declaration in his sermon Sunday morning before his afflicted congregation in St. Mark's Lutheran church in Sixth street. The little church was crowded to the doors with church was crowded to the doors with friends and relatives of unfortunates who were lost in the Slocum disaster, and more than once throughout the sermon the pastor's voice was drowned by sobs that came from every side.

Continuing the minister said: "It was not God who did this, but man. It was due to the officers who did not do their duty and to their careless and incompetent agents. We, too, are to blame. Had we not always been silent but lifted our voices and cried out against this negligence and greed, things would have been different. We are all more or less to blame for it all."

DIED OF BROKEN HEART.

In the death on Saturday of the Rev. Dr. Edward Frederick Meldenke, one of the best known Lutheran clergymen in this country, another name was added to the list of victims of the Slocum disaster. Grief for twenty members of his own flock who went on the excursion and never returned and his compassion for the bereft families of St. Mark's church, so affected Dr. Meldenke that he died of a broken heart.

Che Foo, June 29.—While cruising off Port Arthur Saturday morning despatch boat with our correspondent on board, heard continuous firing from 3 to 6 a.m. It was concluded that the Japanese were making another reconnaissance. At 2 o'clock the same afternoon a Japanese cruiser, four destroyers, and four torpedo boats approached from the east, but retired about 6 p.m., without action.

One of the destroyers had recently been in action, as two of its funnels were patched and knocked out of line. The cruiser sent a boat to board and search the despatch boat. The officer stated that the fall of Port Arthur was expected about the middle of next month. He indicated that the more fighting was progressing steadily. He said that the Russian cruisers, Askold and Diana, were injured in the fight of June 23. Intermittent firing was heard from behind the fortress all Sunday, as the despatch boat cruised off the coast. The attack appeared especially heavy between 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, after which it ceased. The despatch boat found a mine adrift near the Miaotao Islands. On examination it proved to be a Russian electric contact mine. The Japanese mines are entirely different. Several bodies of Russian sailors came ashore on the Islands within the last few days. It is supposed they came from the battleship that was sunk in the naval fight last Thursday. The bodies were decently buried.

London, June 28.—The electoral tide still runs against the Ministry. This week the tenth bye-election since the first of January was held in the dockyard town of Devonport, where it might have been expected that the Government candidate. Instead of this, duced the working men to favor the Government candidate. Instead of this, the Ministerial candidate was displaced by the Radical by one thousand majority.

Indeed, as the tide is now running, it seems impossible to be sure of the return of the Ministerialists anywhere outside of Mr. Chamberlain's close preserve of Birmingham. There alone has a Unionist candidate survived a contested election since the New Year. Where there were previously six Unionists and four Liberals, there are now one Unionist and nine Liberals, and in seven cases out of the ten the Liberals have done better than they ever did before from 1885 onwards.

"Will the Government resign?" A Scottish Liberal member put that question to Mr. Balfour last night. He smiling used the occasion to stir up the laggard Ministerialists to attend Parliament more assiduously, lest the Government, despite their normal majority of 160, be caught upon a snap division. Barring such accidents, the Ministers have no apparent intention of dissolving Parliament until next spring at the earliest, or probably next autumn, after another session. In this matter Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain unquestionably are working together, for Mr. Chamberlain is persuaded that he will be able to give the fiscal movement a great fillip during the campaign which he will resume with the great Albert Hall demonstration on July 14.

KING'S VISIT TO KIEL.

The King's visit to Kiel sets English politicians to wondering and talking about the possibilities of an Anglo-German rapprochement. The spectator seems to have so far recovered from its attack of nerves that it refrains to-day from reiterating its warning to King Edward to keep clear of German barbed wire entanglements. No serious politicians except any formal agreement as the result of the Manchester Guardian's phrase, "that the visit may accumulate a fund of good feeling, on which the friends of peace may draw." Both countries need a relative after the incessant bickering and nagging of the last few years.

The trouble is that the causes of Anglo-German rivalry tend to increase not to lessen. There is every reason to expect that Chancellor von Buelow tends to urge the raising of the German tariff whenever it is possible, without grave injury to Germany's own interests, on the principle that if tariff bargaining with Great Britan is to be expected as a result of the Ball four-Chamberlain policy, Germany had better have a wide margin of tariff for purposes of concessions. All this means more Anglo-German friction. The other main cause of English coolness towards Germany is the belief that the ambitions of the latter, as a naval power, are directed mainly against England. The naval Imperialists here unquestionably have Germany in their mind in their present agitation, for yet higher naval votes.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain made a speech this week which seems to show that the Balfour ministry is anticipating an increase rather than a decrease in the naval expenditure.

On the other hand, now that Russia is crippled for the next quarter of a century and mutual interests makes France and England friends, it is being urged upon the ministry that there should be a redistribution of squadrons, concentrating greater strength in the North Sea, and that the present strength of the Mediterranean squadron has become a political anachronism.

It is also urged, as a wise policy, that the British colonies shall be encouraged to bear the responsibility for their naval defence, as they did long ago for the land defence. In this way Great Britain could effect a concentration of her naval forces and adjust herself to new political conditions in Europe, with a possible decrease of naval expenditure.

A BUSINESS MAN'S LETTER.

Wm. Thomson, Esq., of Orillia, Vice-President Standard Chemical Company of Toronto, Tells of a Visit to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

GREATLY IMPRESSED WITH WORK BEING DONE.

Personally Raises Several Hundred Dollars to Help Lessen the Load of Debt.

There can be little doubt that the National Sanitarium Association is handicapped in its great work for Consumptives in the fact that its two institutions in Muskoka are far away from any large centre of population. Few people have an opportunity to see for themselves the magnificent work that is being done.

These hospitals are away from the public eye. Any, however, who do visit them, are united in their commendation of the splendid appointments of the place, and, best of all, of the real joy and hope that is being brought to many suffering ones.

We are glad to have the opportunity of publishing the following letter from Mr. Wm. Thomson, of Orillia, one of Canada's best known lumbermen, which tells what he has seen himself. It reads:

ORILLIA, Ont., November 2, 1903.

W. J. Gage, Esq.,
Chairman Executive Committee
National Sanitarium Association,
Toronto, Ont.

My Dear Mr. Gage,—

I have much pleasure in enclosing herewith cheque for One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) from the Tudhope Carriage Company of Orillia, a donation to the Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst. Please acknowledge this to the Tudhope Carriage Company in the usual way.

I have written to a number of my friends, to try and get them interested in this good work. I hope to be able to send you further donations. I have written my friends a personal letter, something similar to the following:

"Last week I paid a visit to the Free Hospital for Consumptives at Gravenhurst. I met some of the management there, and promised to try and interest some of my friends in this work.

"I might say there were 49 patients there last week, all poor people, most of them without a dollar in the world, and suffering from the dreadful disease, Consumption. There are many sad stories, and I know I have thought a great deal about the work of the institution ever since my visit there. I do believe it is worthy of assistance, and we who have health and the necessaries of life should encourage this work along.

"I understand the expenses lately have been double the income, and unless the management meet with more encouragement, I am afraid the work will have to be curtailed. I know you have many [illegible], but I do wish you would give this matter a thought, and, if possible, assist. I have written to two or three confidentially, and hope to be able to collect some more for this work. Should you not feel like contributing a donation, remember this request, and your reply is just between you and me, and strictly confidential.

"I might mention, to show that I have confidence in the work, I have already given a donation of $100.00 and two row boats to the Free Hospital this year, and intend to give another $100.00 before the end of the year."

Sincerely yours,

Wm Thomson

Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., or Mr. W. J. Gage, Toronto, will receive and acknowledge any contributions made.

MOHAMMEDANS AND DOGS.

They Take Particular Pains Not to Come in Contact.

In Egypt dogs are never permitted to enter the dwelling of a Mohammedan, and if one is found in a mosque he is immediately put to death.

In consequence of this excommunication from the society which this animal seems so instinctively disposed to cultivate, Egyptian dogs live, for the most part, in the open air, feeding upon garbage and any other filth that chance throws in their way. Yet they are found to be faithful protectors of the property and even persons of the very men by whom they are thus despitefully treated, although, Sonini remarks, it is extremely curious to see the pains taken by a Mussulman and a dog when they happen to meet to avoid coming in contact with each other. Notwithstanding this state of persecution, dogs are remarkably numerous in the towns of Egypt. The species is a large one, about the size and make of the greyhound. As a proof of the Mohammedan prejudice against this useful animal, it is sufficient to state that they regard the terms Christian and dog as synonymous—both, of course, in the most opprobrious sense.

As a singular contrast for their dislike for dogs, the Egyptians have ever held cats in greatest veneration, and in ancient time even worshiped them. And historians tell us that Buhastis and Atribes, two towns in Egypt, the former a votary of cats and the latter of mice, contracted on that account so strong an antipathy to each other that the inhabitants were never known to intermarry, although only a few miles asunder. In some parts of India, too, we are told, they have a similar reverence for animals in, as the only crimes punished ... by there are the murder of a ma... a cat.

TRIALS OF DIPLOMATS.

They Were Many in the Early Days of American History.

There exists a popular tendency to overrate the delights and to underrate the hardships of the diplomatic life; but, however much opinions may differ on this point, there can be no doubt that the office of an American diplomatist in the days of the Revolution was no holiday pastime.

If he was not already in Europe, his journey to his post was beset with perils graver than those of the elements. In the eyes of the British law American revolutionists were simply "rebels," the reprobation of whose conduct was likely to be proportionate to their prominence and activity, and the seas were scoured by British cruisers, the dreaded embodiment of England's maritime supremacy. Deane went abroad secretly before independence was declared, but when his presence in France became known the British government asked that he be seized and delivered up into its custody. Franklin sailed for France on a small vessel of war belonging to congress, called the Reprisal. On the way over she took two prizes, and more than once, on descrying a suspicious sail, cleared for action. Had she been captured by the British, Franklin would have had an opportunity to test the truth of his remark to his associates in congress that they must "either hang together or hang separately." John Adams, on his first journey, took passage on an American vessel; on his second he embarked on the French frigate Sensible and landed at Ferrol, in Spain. Jay committed his fate to the American man-of-war Confederacy and, like Adams and Franklin reached his destination.

Write Notes to Themselves.

"Actors are great hands to write 'mash' notes to themselves," said a stage manager. "The leading young men, you see—the heroes that marry the beautiful girls—are supposed to attract to the theater myriads of young women. They draw big pay on this account; their friends talk seriously of the powerful, almost hypnotic, influences that they exert on romantic females. This power is the stock in trade of the actor who travels on his beauty instead of on his art, and he must always have tangible proof of it. So if the young women don't come up each mail with a bunch of authentic mash notes, he sees to it anyway that he gets mash notes all right. He times them so that they reach the theater during rehearsal. The manager every afternoon brings them to him—a half dozen pink and blue and cream envelopes, smelling of violet and orris. He takes them with a godlike, reads them, passes them around. Every one pretends to be amused at their silly contents, but the minute the actor's back is turned the murmur passes back and forth: 'They're fakes.' He wrote them himself. He spends two hours a day writing himself mash notes.' To tell the truth, this actor gets a number of authentic mash notes, but nobody believes it. It is thought that every note is a fake."—Washington Post.

"Barber, Barber, Shave a Pig."

In pig killing there is no more exciting moment than that of removing the bristles from the carcass. With such haste does the operation sometimes have to be accomplished that in a certain country family it was begun one day with a pair of fine brass candlesticks before the usual utensils could be found.

When Salmon P. Chase was at Kenyon college, which was then presided over by his uncle, Bishop Philander Chase, he encountered a similar difficulty and cut the knot with unhesitating decision. The bishop and most of the elders went away one morning, and young Salmon was ordered to kill and dress a pig while they were gone. He found no great trouble in catching and slaughtering a fat young "porker," and he had the tub of hot water all ready for scalding.

This process should have loosened the bristles, but either the water was too hot or the pig was kept soaking too long; at any rate, when the boy began scraping the bristles not one of them could be started. In pig killing phrase they were "set." What could he do?

Then he bethought him of his cousin's razors, a fine new pair, just suited to the use of their owner, a spruce young clergyman. He pilfered them and shaved the pig from top to snout.—Youth's Companion.

A FAMOUS SOCIETY.

Where London's Famous Preachers and Teachers Gathered.

The closing decades of the last century comprehended the palmy period of a distinguished little society in London which might have been described as a club for the teachers and preachers of their age, secular or religious. Such indeed was the Metaphysical society. Its organizing spirit had perhaps been James Knowles. If its most famous member were found in W. E. Gladstone its leading spirits, who took the most active part in its discussions, were Cardinal Manning and Richard Holt Hutton, the editor of the Spectator. James Martineau, Matthew Arnold and William George Ward, the erewhile mathematical tutor of Balliol, as well as the poet Browning, may sometimes have been of the company, but the chief figures were those already mentioned. In his earlier days Hutton, like so many reflective men of his day, was the disciple of F. D. Maurice. Then among his associates were J. M. Ludlow and Thomas Hughes, the author of "Tom Brown's School Days." Afterward R. H. Hutton's mental master would have been recognized by him in his brother member of the Metaphysical society, James Martineau.

The great incidents in its proceedings at this time were the high speculative arguments wherein different sides were taken by teachers of their generation so mutually opposed and so individually distinguished as Manning and Martineau, upon very rare occasions, it may be, by Gladstone, Browning and, I rather think, once or twice by Tennyson himself. The extraordinary magnetism exercised by Martineau over his personal following was perceptible in his manner with casual acquaintances. As such, it was realized very many years ago by the present writer when, as an exceedingly young man fresh from college, he was concerned in preparing some examination questions, in which his venerable seniors, Maurice and Martineau, with one of two more, were to have a voice.—T. H. S. Escott in Chambers'.

He Was Awful Homely.

One day while on a hunting expedition in the Alps Victor Emmanuel met an old woman gathering brambles. She inquired of the stranger whether it was true, as she had heard, that the king was in the neighborhood. If so, was there any chance of seeing him?

"Yes," said his majesty, "he is about. Would you like to see him?"

The old woman declared that few sights would give her more pleasure.

"Well, mother, I am the king."

She stared at him for a moment and broke into a grin.

"Get out with you, jester! Do you think a nice woman like the queen would marry a chap like you, with that hideous mug?"

The king was not offended. Perhaps the compliment to his wife mollified him. He gave the woman a piece of money, with which he was always free, and passed along.

Lightning Roasted Duck.

An extraordinary effect of lightning is reported from Lake Grandlieu, in the Nantes region. A violent tempest burst over the lake, with vivid lightning and thunder. A number of boats were on the lake, and while they were hurrying to bank there was a tremendous peal of thunder. Almost immediately there fell among the boats the dead bodies of a large flock of wild ducks, some of them roasted to a nicety, and some charred to a cinder. Roast duck cooked by lightning reads like a novelty, even in the freaks of meteorology. If it could only be adapted to the "quick lunch" system!

His Pet Superstition.

"Superstition seems to be connected in the minds of most people with women, ladders, rabbits' feet and horseshoes," said the young girl at the piano. "As a matter of fact, however, I know that men are fully as superstitious as the women of my acquaintance, and sometimes more so. One young man of my acquaintance, for instance, who has literary yearnings and who feels sure he could astonish the public with his brilliant stories if he could only get some editor to accept them, spends his summers in the country gathering inspiration, local color and—four leaf clovers. When winter comes he returns to his ballroom in the city, writes stories by the wholesale and dispatches with each consignment to the editors a four leaf clover. Sometimes the articles are accepted, and then the writer ascribes his success to the talisman. More often, however, they are returned, with the mascot in a more or less crumpled condition, and he spends what leisure hours he has in trying to figure out why it is those clovers don't work every time. Never for a moment does he ascribe failure to any faults in his manuscripts. Isn't that the limit in the way of superstition?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Puffy Eyes.

Puffy places under the eyes are usually due to some kidney disorder. Cold water should be taken freely, say a glassful half an hour before each meal and about two hours afterward. This treatment will not only cause the flabbiness to disappear, but will also render the complexion clear and the general health better.

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED CANADIAN FISCAL AGENTS OF THE

of Colorado, beg to inform their customers and investors generally that they have secured a block of stock of this Company, which they now offer for sale at 35 cents per share—par value $1.00.

This stock is bound to advance rapidly. All Shareholders are on an equal basis, no preferred stock. This is a proposition in all its details so simple that every shareholder will know at all times the value of his holdings. With the vast quantities of ore now in sight, and the facilities that will be put into operations to mine it, every dollar invested in this way may yield ten, twenty and a hundred fold. As has been chronicled in hundreds of instances in Cripple Creek, where persons have purchased stock in the early stages of a mine, the price at which the stock is offered is such a bargain that it cannot fail to be subscribed for at an early date, therefore investors should act quickly.

The shares are fully paid up and non-assessable (no individual liability). Each and every share represents a distinct and liberal portion of an enterprise which it is fully believed will produce millions of dollars.

The Cripple Creek Company is splendidly officered by men of high repute and with an expert knowledge of mining in all its details. The Company was organized to operate in Colorado, and properly incorporated under the laws of that State.

In the incorporation of the Company 500,000 shares of the capital stock were set aside for development purposes, and cannot be used in any other way.

We will be pleased to give full particulars to investors, and would say in conclusion. Buy now! Get in on the ground floor, as the stock will quickly advance.

High Class Investment

THE OREGON MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY

Offer to Canadian investors a limited amount of stock of the above company The property owned by the Company consists at the present time of about 500 acres, which are located in the Tarryall District and Park County, Colorado. This whole district has been known for years on account of its rich placer ground, and is now prominently before the public owing to the number of very good properties which have been opened up recently producing, principally, gold, and lately some that are producing Platinum. On the Oregon property there are a number of well known veins of low grade ore that will yield a profit by being located on the ground of the company. The company have recently opened up a fine vein in the Hawkeye group and this vein shows not only good values but an immense amount of ore which alone would make the property very valuable. Assays from ore taken from various parts of this property ranging from a few dollars to $373 per ton in gold. We have very little silver, lead or copper in the district. The company have a shaft 240 feet deep, with a good shaft house thoroughly well equipped with all modern machinery to develop same. They are now driving a tunnel which is at about 900 feet and which will cut the Hawkeye vein about 300 feet deeper than where it is opened at present. There is enough ore exposed on the property of this company to keep them busy for a number of years and the reason for selling stock at the present time is to secure funds to build a mill. The company will probably join with the Almaden Company in building this mill. There is water enough to furnish water power and over 100 acres of fine spruce and pine timber. The affairs of the company have always been managed in a business-like economical manner and there are no officers' salaries. The monies received from the sale of stock go direct into the property.

I can heartily recommend this stock as safe, as well as an unusually good investment, because of the immense amount of ore which the company have already opened up. It is not a mere prospect, but the property has been developed by expense of a considerable amount of money and time.

The company is splendidly officered by men of integrity and high standing. The company has not pushed the sale of stock the last year owing to a delay in getting title to the ground from the Government, but now that has been satisfactorily adjusted and work will be pushed to a finish.

The number of exceedingly rich strikes which have been made during the last few weeks in the various camps in the State of Colorado is the best evidence of the prosperity of the mining business. Almost every camp in the state has opened up rich bodies of ore, and Park County is well in the lead in that line.

There are only $25,000 of stock for sale, at $1.00 per share. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and the advantage to the investor of selling the stock at par, is that every share is fully paid up and non-assessable.

SENATORS TALK OF TEMPERANCE

Scott Act Amendment Likely to Become law

MR. DOMVILLE'S IDEA

Government's Should not Prohibit sale —So Long as Manufacture of Liquor is Allowed

Ottawa June 28—The bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act, commonly known as the Scott Act, was read a second time in the Senate yesterday on division of 21 to 8.

The bill would provide a more stringent enforcement of the Scott Act, by way of imprisonment for first and second offences, with or without hard labor, and without the option of fine, the punishment to be at the discretion of the magistrate.

COL. DOMVILLE PROTESTS.

Mr. Domville who is at present one of the leading figures in the Mutual Reserve investigation, and has been busy enough at that to fill the ordinary man's time, gave the Senate some advice on the Temperance Act. It struck him that if Parliament allowed the manufacture of liquor, it was unfair that the sale should be prohibited. In Ontario the Scott Act had not worked well. In this age of progress and free thought, with a Liberal party in power, he thought the Ontario Government could do something better than endeavor to compel its brothers to do as it thought right. He advocated stricter inspection of sale and the provision of good liquors. The bill would be unworkable. Either prohibit the manufacture, sale and consumption of liquor or let the Government make the liquor under a spiritual minister. Why not abolish the act altogether? He thought the Government should consider a bill which would let a man go to jail with hard labor for merely selling liquor.

THE SPEECHES IS PROVED.

The temper of the other Senators who spoke was notably in favor of the enforcement of the present law and of any amendment which would assist that enforcement. The Senators showed a notable allegiance to the general principle of local option, though their opinions differed as to the general principle of prohibitive legislation. The bill is the one which the present clerk of the House of Commons (Mr. Flint), endeavored for years to press to enactment. His successor, as representative of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, in the Commons, took the measure up and it now looks much like enactment.

TWO WAR WRITERS KILLED ON DUTY

E. F. Knight of London Morning Post was Shot

IN WAFANG TIEN FIGHT

H. J. Middleton of the Associated Press Succumbs to Enteric at Russians Headquarters

A minute or two after that I was hit Tien Tsun, June 28—It is reported that Mr. Edward F. Knight, the correspondent of the London Morning Post, with the Japanese army, was killed at Wafang Tien.

Several engagements between the Russian and Japanese forces have been reported as having occurred at or near Wafang Tien, that town being occupied by the Japanese on June 19 and it is possible that, if the report of Mr. Knight's death be true, he was killed in one of these battles. Spectators at one of the engagements state that they saw three horsemen upset on a hill, one of whom resembled either an American or British attache. This man fell from his horse when the Russians fired, and was evidently killed.

Mr. E. F. Knight was born on April 23, 1852, in Cumberland, and educated at Westminster and Aatus College, Cambridge. He travelled in South America, Turkey, South Africa and Central Asia, fought with the French as a volunteer in 1870; was called to the English bar in 1879; was a correspondent of the Times in the Hunza Nagar campaign in 1891 serving as an officer and winning a medal and mention in despatches. He did duty in Matabeleland in 1893-95; in the Soudan in 1896; in Greece in 1897; in the Soudan again in 1897-98, in Cuba in 1898; in Spain in 1899; and in South Africa in 1899-1900. He was severely wounded at the battle of Belmount, where he lost one of his arms. Mr. Knight visited Canada with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall when their Royal Highnesses made their tour of the Empire, and afterwards wrote a book, "With the Royal Tour." One of his works, "Where Three Empires Meet," is recognized as an authority upon Central Asian problems.

ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT DEAD

New Chwang, June 28.—H. J. Middleton, Associated Press correspondent with the Russian headquarters near Liao Yang in Manchuria, died on Sunday, from enteric fever.

Henry John Middleton, the first of the American war correspondents to lose his life at the front in the present conflict, was representing the Associated Press at General Kuropatkin's headquarters, near Liao Yang. He was taken sick with enteric dysentery less than a week ago, and only on Sunday a despatch was received from him in which he requested that a substitute be sent to relieve him. He was about thirty-three years of age, unmarried and born in London. Mr. Middleton was a vivid descriptive writer a linguist, a student, and one of the best posted men on international affairs. He became connected with the London Bureau of the Associated Press in 1892, and filled almost every position, except superintendent, in that office. While his career contained many remarkable journalistic feats which brought him praise, perhaps his most brilliant feat was in reporting for the Associated Press the Dreyfus trial at Rennes, where he made a name for himself in competition with such well known men as Julian Ralph and Harry Dan Stevens, whose admiration and respect he obtained at that time. Though unassisted, he often forwarded four and five columns a day of the interesting pictures and dramatic incidents of that great case. Mr. Middleton was Paris correspondent of the Associated Press for several years before being transferred in 1902 New York, where he acted as night cable editor. Upon the opening of the Pacific cable at San Francisco, Mr. Middleton was sent to inaugurate the cable department of the Associated Press in that city. With the imminence of the Russo-Japanese war he was among those drafted for that service by the Associated Press. Mrs. Hannah Middleton, his mother, resides in London.

ADMITS DEFEAT.

St. Petersburg, June 28—The Emperor has received the following despatch from General Kuropatkin, dated Liao Yang, June 27. "The Japanese attacked our forces occupying Motien, Fen Shui and Ta Pass, June 26. Our infantry and cavalry retreated, persuaded that the advancing divisions of the Japanese army, which were operating against each of the three passes, were stronger than our detachments. In the attack upon Ta Pass the Japanese Guards, besides other regiments, participated. The Japanese made a frontal and flank attack in considerable force on both sides of this position. The Japanese troops occupied Fen Shui and Mo Tien Passes during the morning of June 27.

"Our forces, which retreated from Fen Shui Pass, were attacked by small detachments of Japanese. They were however, easily repulsed.

"After pushing back our advance guard during the evening of June 26 from Vandiapatse (on the Siu Yen Hai Cheng road) to Ta Pass, the Japanese continued their advance this morning against our position in a defile. For some time the attack of the Japanese infantry brigade was repelled. Three battalions were engaged in the frontal attack. But being menaced by other troops engaged in a flanking movement, our forces retreated."

"Reconnoitering parties report that one portion of the southern Japanese army is moving northwestward with the intention of joining General Kuroki's force."

"At noon to-day our cavalry was hotly engaged near Sau Yu Chen.

THE GREAT WORK GOING ON IN MUSKOKA.

1,000 Patients Treated in the Two Muskoka Hospitals—the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Surprising Decrease of 25 Per Cent. in the Last Three Years in Deaths from Consumption.

Fifty-five Different Trades and Professions Represented by the Patients Admitted to the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Two Pavilions have had to be Closed Owing to Lack of Funds, and the Number of Patients Reduced from 75 to 60.

$25,000 Wanted this Year to Carry on this Great Work.

With a view of helping to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, we have pleasure in publishing the following letter, in which an appeal is made for funds.

Dear Friend,—

It again becomes necessary to make an urgent appeal for funds for the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

A very heavy debt is pressing upon the trustees.

In addition to this, funds must be provided for the maintenance of patients. Last month there was a deficiency of nearly $1,500 over and above receipts from all sources.

The Free Hospital for Consumptives was opened eighteen months ago. 336 patients have been admitted.

No patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

1,000 patients have been cared for in the two Muskoka Hospitals, the Sanatorium and the Free Hospital for Consumptives.

The majority of these have either been cured, or so helped that they have been enabled to again become bread-winners for the family.

The public are beginning to find evidence of our work.

Already there has been a decrease of nearly 25 per cent. in the death-rate from consumption in the Province of Ontario.

The last report of the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health shows that in the last three years the deaths from consumption in Ontario have decreased from 3,484 to 2,694, a decrease of 790, or nearly 25 per cent.

This is the more gratifying when we remember that for a number of years previously the same report showed a steadily increasing death-rate prior to 1900.

Who will doubt that the work of our two Hospitals in Muskoka, and the persistent educational campaign carried on, has not helped to secure this surprising result?

In what better way can your gifts bring so good a return?

We have no endowment, excepting the provision recently made by Canada Life, Confederation Life, and North American Life Insurance Companies for maintenance of 2 beds each for a year.

We can only rely on the philanthropy of our people and a knowledge of our needs.

Last year we asked $20,000 to reduce the debt and to pay for care of patients. We had a generous response, receiving $10,000, gifts coming from Halifax on the east and Yukon on the west. This year our needs are greater than ever. We will require $25,000.

The Bishop of Selkirk, Caribou Crossing, Yukon, sending $10.00, writes: "The trifling remittance I send is intended to express our sympathy for the sufferers in other parts, rather than to imply a special need for your institution here."

We are grateful for the large gift. We are grateful for the small gift; all gifts are helpful.

On account of our pressing needs, will you not make this your special charity?

During the year, for lack of funds, we had to close several pavilions, reducing the number of patients from 75 to 60.

The sorrowful part of our work is that nearly all of those in the Free Hospital are young men or women who were striving to make a place for themselves in the world. Many of them have wife, or child or husband anxiously watching the struggle for life.

Your gift will help to bring gladness to so many. Will you have the joy of giving?

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gage

Toronto, December 10, 1903.

Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., or Mr. W. J. Gage, Toronto, will receive and acknowledge any contributions made.

Lung, Throut and Catarrhal Troubles

A MARVELLOUS DISCOVERY THAT HAS DELIGHTED ALL CANADA BY ITS PROMPT CURES

The method that has proved successful through its enormous advantages of being pleasant and free from the danger of creating the drug habit employs dry air as the carrying agent.

By this method every part of the breathing apparatus is bathed by a medicated air. Germs which excite the trouble are immediately destroyed. Sore and tender spots are healed and the congested surfaces restored to normal condition.

This method of treatment is known as Catarrhozone, and has obtained a footing never attained by any other remedy for the many diseases affecting the respiratory tract.

Catarrhozone is fragrant, healing, balsamic, pleasant as the air of the pine woods and more active as a healing agent than anything hitherto discovered. It contains neither cocaine nor any of those irritating substances which really increase the congestion and add to the difficulty, instead of curing as Catarrhozone so quickly does.

MRS. HINY BROWN, of Tenecape, N.S., had lung trouble and catarrh. She took cough mixtures but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but after resorting without benefit to poultices and numerous other remedies, she tried Catarrhozone. "I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," she writes, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized it was going to cure. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold or catarrh can exist where Catarrhozone is used."

The complete Catarrhozone outfit contains a large bottle of inhalent, sufficient to keep recharging the inhaler for two months. It costs $1.00 and is guaranteed to cure; sample size 25c. Sold by all druggists or sent direct to your home by mail if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

WEDDED AT "CASTLE KNOCK"

An Interesting Society Event Celebrated Yesterday Afternoon

The Bride Was Miss Annie Camilla Dennistoun and the Groom Mr. Wilmot Gordon Hamilton

An event which has for some time enlisted the interest of social circles took place yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, at "Castle Knock," the residence of Mrs. Jas. F. Dennistoun, when Miss Annie Camilla, daughter of the late Jas. F. Dennistoun Q.C., was married to Mr. Wilmot Gordon Haultain, of Dawson City, third son of the late Lieut.-Col. Haultain, late registrar of the county of Peterborough.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, and the bridal party entered the beautifully-decorated drawing room while Miss Alice Roger played the Wedding March. The bridal party stood beneath a bank of flowers at the west end of the drawing room, while Rev. Dr. Torrance performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of invited guests.

The bride was attired in duchesse satin, trimmed with accordeon plaited net and lace and pearl ornament. A veil of old Limerick lace, which was lent by the groom's mother, was also worn. She also wore a pearl necklace and pendant, the gift of the groom. Her boquet was composed of white roses and lilies of the valley and a spray of real orange blossoms was also worn. The bridesmaids were Miss Georgia Dennistoun, sister of the bride and Miss Helen Haultain, sister of the bridegroom. They were gowned in white silk, the skirts of which had wide accordeon plaited frills, with trimmings of lace embroidered with gold and wide gold girdles. Their boquets were of pink roses and they wore gold safety pin brooches, with shamrocks and pearls, the gifts of the groom.

The groom was supported by his brother Hon. F. W. G. Haultain, Premier of the Northwest Territories, and Mr. G. F. Macdonald, of Toronto.

A dainty wedding dejeuner and refreshments were served, after the ceremony in a marquee on the lawn. Pink carnations were used to decorate the dining table.

Mrs. Dennistoun, mother of the bride, wore black moire with touches of black and white lace and Mrs. Haultain, mother of the bridegroom, wore black voile over silk with jet trimmings.

Among the guests from a distance were:—Mrs. Haultain, Miss Haultain and Miss Helen Haultain, of St. Hyacinthe, Que.; Mrs. F. M. Haultain, Toronto; Miss Dennistoun and Mrs. Develin, London, England; Mrs. G. M. Kirkpatrick, Halifax, N.S.; Miss Louise Kirkpatrick, Kingston. Mr. A. M. Russell, Mr. Charles Beck, Montreal; Mr. H. T. Beck, Mr. J. A. MacDonald, Mr. E. R. Peacock and Miss Ethel Baldwin, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Haultain left on the 5.10 C.P.R. express for Toronto. They will travel for three months after which they will go to Regina, N.W.T. which will probably be their future home. The bride's going-away gown was of green Chang Tung silk with string colored lace trimmings and hat to match.

The bride received a large number of handsome presents among them being a Temple edition of Shakespeare from the members of the Inner Circle of the Peterborough Reading Union, of which Mrs. Haultain has been the leader for some time. She also received a handsomely engraved address from St. Paul's Sunday School where she has been a most faithful and active worker. A wide circle of friends in Peterborough and vicinity wish Mr. and Mrs. Haultain many years of happiness and prosperity.

SADLY BEREAVED

Mr. W. E. Conway Host With Loss in the Death of Their Father

The father of the above named gentlemen died on Friday, June 24th, at his residence in Dundas, where he lived all his life. He was born there in 1840, and was consequently in the 54th year of his age. Mr. Conway was well known in town and made many friends while on visits to his sons.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, when, at the request of deceased his sons acted as pall-bearers. His wife two daughters and five sons are left to mourn his demise. The sons being Robert and James, of Hamilton; William and Herbert, of Peterborough, and Richard, of Dundas; the daughters are Mrs. McKay, of Columbus, Pa., and Miss John Ross, of Dundas.

THE BURLEIGH ROAD

Government to Build a First Class Highway

Yesterday Mr. Wm. Anderson, the popular representative for East Peterborough in the Local Legislature, accompanied by Mr. Loucsborough, the Government highway overseer, inspected the road from Burleigh Falls to Apsley. It has been decided to build a first class gravel road between these points, work to begin at the Burleigh Falls end.

The Ontario Government had already granted $900 for this purpose, which will probably be increased to $1,200. The municipality of Burleigh and Anstruther recently purchased a stone crusher, which will furnish material for the work.

The improvement of this road will be a great benefit, not only to the settler, but also to the general public as it will materially increase the volume of traffic over this leading highway.

RACES NOT TO TAKE PLACE

Committee Cancels the Dominion Day Sports

The Dominion Day races at the Driving Park will not take place as advertised. The reason for this is that there was not sufficient interest manifested to assure success, and rather than go on and have the affair a failure the committee thought it wise to cancel it. Many of the entries did not fill and in some there were no entries at all, the convenient and the fast races being among the latter.

Many will regret that they have been called off, as almost every one likes to see good races, and many had decided to remain at home on that day to take them in, in preference to going out of town.

The only race which filled was the 2.30 class and for this event there were five, the horses being: Denny Bell, Hinder, John R. Gentry, Minnie Kenrick and Expelled.

IN OLD AGE the question of health becomes mainly a question of nutrition. If the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are kept in a healthful condition there will be a well-nourished body, and little liability to disorders of the liver, bowels or such other disorders as may result from malnutrition and lack of exercise.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and also diseases of other organs which are caused by the diseased condition of the stomach. By enabling the perfect nutrition of the body it increases the vital power and promotes a vigorous old age.

"I was a sufferer from chronic diarrhea for five years," writes Mrs. Mary A. Airen, of Belfast, Waldo Co., Me., "I tried different remedies which would give me relief for a short time only. My trouble would return as bad as ever. I consulted you in July, 1901, and by your advice commenced using Dr. Pierce's remedies. I took two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three vials of the 'Pellets,' and some of the 'Extract of Smart-Weed,' as you advised. I have not had any return of my trouble since using your medicines. Am now seventy-two years old and I never had anything so relieve me so quick. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the greatest on earth. Should I ever have any return of my trouble shall use your medicines. My thanks to you for your advice and thanks to Almighty God for restoring me to health through your hands."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the best laxative for old people. They cure constipation and billousness.

A POPULAR RESORT

Mr. W. E. Brooks Has Improved Carleton House.

MR. W. E. BROOKS, the genial proprietor of the Carleton House, Young's Point, has greatly improved his hotel lately, preparatory to the big summer rush which may now be said to be just beginning. The hotel has been painted, repapered and enlarged. A bath room has been put in, as well as modern toilet rooms, the necessary water being forced to a large elevated tank by a large windmill, and then through the hotel.

Last year Mr. Brooks, with his accustomed enterprise, added a beautiful park, on the bank of the river, to the hotel. This park is one of nature's beauty spots, and afford a pleasant recreation ground for the guests.

Of course everybody knows that the fishing at Young's Point is superb. With courteous guides, and latest fishing tackle and boats, no better bass and maskilonge fishing is to be found in Canada than at this beautiful resort.

We are pleased to say that Mr. Brooks has booked a large number of guests already, and with the increased accommodation afforded, is sure to do a much larger business than ever before.
